To the Right Noble, and most worthily Accomplished,

FRANCIS GREGORY

of Barnby upon Dun in Yorkshire, Esq;

Honoured Sir!

NOt many Months since, it was my good fortune to shew unto you some part of this Treatise in loose sheets; upon the perusal of which, you were pleased to signifie your good-liking thereof. And the whole being now delivered from the Press, and come to a perfect Birth, I am humbly bold to present it unto your judicious Patronage; not questioning, but your Candour and Courtesie will prevail upon you, (more then any thing I can write) to acquit me of the Presumption.

Really, Sir! I do it not, as if I hereby thought to adde the least atome to your Worth; but, to set the better lustre upon my Labours; that their passage thorow the world may be the more currant; as having the stamp of your Generous Name upon them. Cujusq; ingenium non statim emerget, nisi materiæ, fautor, occasio commendatorq; contingat, (saith Pliny:) The Labour and Ingenuity of every person, doth not constantly take or prosper well, unless the matter or occasion be remarkable, or some Worthy Patron or Favourer happen to it. Plin. 2 Epist. lib. 6.

The Stranger-Traveller passeth the safer on his way, for having a Guard or Convoy : and I doubt not but this Book, for having the prefix of your worthy Name, will of the world receive the more unquestionable welcom. But notwithstanding, I desire not to make your Name a Subterfuge, the better to escape my self, and so leave you to answer for my Failings. Know therfore (worthy Sir!) it is only the better part of this Work, that I aim to make Yours.

Learned Sir! your exquisite skill in all Science, especially the Mathematicks, is sufficient to entitle you MECÆNAS to a Piece of far greater Worth and Learning, then this I present you with. But that is chiefly my Glory: for, if of any thing in this Undertaking I shall have occasion to boast, it will be onely in this, That the Pilot of my poor Vessel, is a Person, in whose Brest, both Learning and Judgment concentre. He alone that understands an Art, is the fittest both to protect & judge of it; according to Aristotle, Eth. lib. 1. cap. 3.

Ἐκεῖνος κρίνει καλῶς ἀγνώσκει.

(i.e.) Who knoweth Art, may truely judge thereof.

If you shall vouchsafe to accept this, as a Testimony of the honour I bear unto your Vertues, I shall account it to a tittle as honourable, as to have trodden in the path of the Learned Bullialdus, and elected twelve of the choicest persons in this Realm, for the protection hereof. And so I commit it to your Gentletuition, wishing you all seasonable felicities in this life, and the full fruition of what Happiness shall succeed it: and cordially subscribe my self (Sir)

Your most humble servant,

JOHN GADBURY.

To the Modest and Unprejudiced

READER.

ASTROLOGIE in times past was in such request, and so far honoured with the stamp of Publike Authority, that the greatest and most honourable Personages deemed it no disparagement to be accounted knowing therein. Nor was it less then an admirable encouragement to the most active Wits, that the most Eminent persons were not onely Patrons of, but the chiefest Presidents in, this Illustrious Learning. Among all the Scrutinies that the Brain of Man is busied about, the studie of the Stars may deservedly claim a principal place, for that it treateth of the choicest, and the most mysterious; and to be admired, of all Knowledge.

Vid. Henric. Rantz. Car. Excel. vir. in Arte Astrol.

I need not (to prove the Antiquity of this Learning) relate from Josephus that famous Antiquary, how that it was practised in the first ages of the world; and that the holy Patriarchs themselves were studious herein: nor yet to cite the authority of that Learned *Italian, who more then probably proves (and that from Scripture, and good Reason) that the Redeemer of the world [Blessed for ever!] did not onely allow of this Science, but was well acquainted therewith. These Truths are so conspicuous and formidable, that they need no support of Argument from any.

Joseph. Ant. li. 1. cap. 4. &c. Filii autem Seth disciplinam rerum cœlestium & ornatum earum primitus invenerunt.

* Guido Bonatus, Pars 1. cap. 16.

For the Original and Beginning of this Art, hear how the TRUTH hath forced it self from the pen of a known adversary at unawares, who in a Lecture in the Schools at Oxford proclaimed thus: —— Principio M. Cicero, quem nemo, nec nimis valde unquam, nec nimis sæpe laudaverit, hujus tam præclari muneris inventoris triplices refert, Assyrios, Chaldæos, Egyptios: etenim Assyrii propter planitiem magnitudinemq; Regionum quas incolebant, cum cœlum ex omni parte patens, atq; apertum intuerentur, trajectiones motusq; Stellarum observarunt quibus notatis, quid cuique significaretur, memo-

J. Chambers, Astronomiæ Encomium, P. 3 & 4. I shall leave the manner of his English to be considered by the intelligent Reader; with this Memento,

That when he readibi Lector, he was a friend but when he translated it an enemy; as readily appears, if the felicity and elegancie of the Latine be but compared with the poorness & barrenness of his Englisb.

memoriæ prodiderunt. Qua in Natione Chaldæi, diuturna obſervatione Syderum Scientiam putantur effeciſſe, ut prædici poſſit, quid cuiq; eventurum, & quo quiſq; fato Natus ſit. Eandem artem Egyptii non ex Artis, ſed ex Gentis vocabulo nominati, longinquitate temporum innumerabilibus pene ſeculis conſecuti putantur. Quod ſi temporis ratione primi inventores exiſtimandi ſunt, erunt hi quos modo perſenſui, Aſſyrii, omnium facile primi. Idem enim Cicero, quem quadam admiratione commotus ſæpius fortaſſe, quam neceſſe eſt nomino, auctor eſt quadringenta & ſeptuaginta millia annorum, in periclitandis, experiundiſq; pueris, quicunq; eſſent nati, Babylonios poſuiſſe. Ex quibus certe, ſi vera ſunt, ſatis conſtat, hujus diſciplinæ antiquitatem tantam eſſe, ut aſſeveranter id affirmare quis audeat, nihil ex omni memoria, nihil ex infinito ſæculorum ſerie extare vetuſtior. He puts it into this Engliſh: Now firſt and foremoſt, M. T. Cicero, whom a man can never praiſe either too often, or too much, fathereth this NOBLE ART upon three divers Nations; the Aſſyrians, Chaldeans, and Egyptians. For the Aſſyrians dwelling in a plain champion country, where heaven lay every way open to them, did obſerve the courſe and motion of the Stars; whereby they took upon them to tell mens Deſtinies. In which country alſo the Chaldeans, by obſervation of the Stars, are thought to have made an Art to tell things to come, and caſt mens Nativities. Long after theſe, came the Egyptians, who were ſo called, not of the art, but of their country. Wherefore, if we eſteem and weigh the firſt authors by time, the Aſſyrians muſt needs be firſt. For the ſame Cicero (whom for admiration and honours ſake I name perhaps oftner then needs) affirmeth, that the Babylonians had ſpent 47000 years in obſerving the NATIVITIES of children; and let none eſcape at their BIRTH. Which things if they be true, no doubt the ANTIQUITY of this SCIENCE muſt needs be ſuch, that ALL ANTIQUITY can hardly avouch any thing MORE ANCIENT.

He goeth yet further; and after he hath aſſerted the antiquity hereof, by Example proveth the Worth and Excellencie of it, in theſe words: Hunc ſequutus Seneca, virtutis probitatis ſingulare ſpecimen; Thalelem primum hanc Artem excoluiſſe teſtatur, unum ex ſeptem Greciæ Sapientibus, eum qui ut objurgatores ſuos convinceret, oſtenderetq; etiam Philoſophum, ſi ei commodum eſſet, pecuniam facere poſſe, omnem Oleam antequam florere cœpiſſet, in agro Mileſio cæmiſſe dicitur. I will give you his own Verſion here, as before. After Tully (ſaith he) comes Seneca, for vertue and wiſdom inferiour to none; and he maketh Thales to have been the firſt that gave light to this art, him that was one of the ſeven wiſe Greeks; who to convince his ADVERSARIES, and to prove that even a Philoſopher could thrive, if he liſt, bought up all the Olives in his country before they did bloſſom.

But notwithſtanding this (and much more) his praiſe and approbation of this Science, I account it no ways Miraculous that that he (as others) proved an Enemy thereunto, and conſequently turned his back upon the former Truths he had avouched. For the worthieſt thing in the world may be, and indeed is liable to the cenſure of an over-curious Critick: the bleſſed Goſpel it ſelf cannot eſcape this moſt prodigious Fate. Let's hear him yet a little further, how he Laureates this Learning, in his very entry upon his Lecture, thus: Quis enim tam frequens uſu conſuetudoq; dicendi? quæ verborum tanta, tam elaborata concinnitas, quod tantum eſt uſpiam flumen ingenii, ut cujuſlibet artis laudes, ne dum Aſtrologiæ omnium artium dominæ, plene poſſit cumulateq; complecti? (i. e.) For who (ſaith he) either for his own experience, or eloquence, or full tyde of wit, is able to ſet out the praiſe of any one art whatſoever? much more of Aſtrologie, the Miſtreſs and Monarch of all Arts and Sciences! And yet after all this, (and much more) he gives his Opinion, together with his Conſcience, a plain Go-by, and rails at large againſt that, which he had before (as you have heard) elevated up to the very heavens: and yet he would not be thought contradictious, or a perſon that (with the Satyr in the Fable) had blown hot and cold with a breath; to praiſe and diſpraiſe, and all in the ſame Lecture. But what man of Reaſon will grant him an Indulgentia for theſe ſo groſs and palpable contradictions?

See his Epiſtle thereunto.

Nevertheleſs, it is a dignity great enough to Aſtrologers, that the Truth of this art hath made ſo worthy an eſcape from the peſtilent Pens of the publike adverſary; which is ſufficient to inſtal her Worthy and Honourable, if ſhe wanted friends to plead her cauſe.

When I conſider the ſublimity of this Learning, it prevents my wonder at the contradictious cavils of the raſh Antagoniſts, whoſe dimmer eyes are unable to penetrate the Starry Spheres, and thence diſcern the Decrees of Heaven at ſo great a diſtance. And I may well account it beyond the current of common hope, to reclaim thoſe, whoſe hearts and conſciences are ſo Zealouſly adamantine, and their brains like Bulwarks treble-moated with Prejudice and Miſpriſion, by the beſt of arguments that the wit of man is able to form or frame.

Hic furor haud dubius, hæc eſt manifeſta phrenefis.
To hope to gain a vow'd Antagoniſt,
Is Madneſs; yea, and that moſt manifeſt.

It is as conſpicuous to me, as the ſun in his Meridian luſtre, that as all perſons are not born to one and the ſelf-ſame Fate; ſo they are not heirs to one and the ſelf-ſame Faith or Belief.

Denique, non omnes eadem mirantur amantq; ſaith Horace.
All men are not of one faith or deſire;
Nor do All all things love, which ſome admire.

The

The Lord Bacon lays the weight of this difference upon a cause above Man: ——In the traditions of Astrologie (saith he) the natures and dispositions of men are not without truth distinguished from the predominancies of the Planets; as, that some are by Nature made and proportioned for Contemplation, others for matters Civil, others for War, others for Advancement, others for Arts, others for a changeable course of life. This considered, I would not be accounted so injudicious a Begger, as to petition the antagonist to barter his Black Faith, for the embraces of this Brighter Truth. I know it is a Miracle alone, that can cause the Ethiop to change his skin, or the Leopard his spots.

The vessel (sure) will long retain the scent
Which unto it at first (of all) was lent.

There are a sort of late, whose Malice hath excited them to so strange a kinde of Madness, that they are not ashamed to say they have level'd their shot against the Host of heaven, and Astrologie. Silly souls! whose Errour and Ignorance is a sufficient object of my Pity; and accordingly I spare their names: yet this I dare maintain, that their Ignorant Hatred is such, unto the knowledge inclos'd in a common Almanack, that they know not how to set a Figure the very common and ordinary way. Yet these are the Champions and Goliahs that fight against the verity of Astrologie.

If they shall reply, and say, they quarrel not at the Verity, but Vanity of the art; they then are caught in their own snare: for in so doing, they do no more then Astrologers themselves. I agree, that many persons have practised (and possibly some still do practise) unlawful and unjust things, under pretence of this art: but will any wise man conclude the art the worse for this?

Abusus non tollit usum, is the Lawyer's Rule: The abuse of a thing ought not to abrogate or impeach the lawful use thereof.

Should I do well (think ye) to rail downright at Divinity, and conclude (yea, proclaim) it Imposturism, because some persons professing the same, (perhaps some that pass under the title πνευματικοι) make it a Nose of Wax, that turns every way, to serve the humour of that Interest which indulges them, more then the God they pretend to pray unto? Or because Hierocles the Stoick had so high an esteem of Apollonius Tyaneus, for his strange operati-

Operations by Telisms, that he put him into the Scale with Christ, nay, accounted him the better man of the two; Should I therefore think lightly or irreverently of my Saviour? God forbid! And certainly, for any man, in case he found an Artist to erre, (besides, it is no more then himself is often found to do) to lay the whole weight of his wrath and indignation upon the Art it self, is so prepostcrous and pestilent a piece of Prejudice, that none but a Bethelemite would be seen to own. Ars vera est; sed pauci Artifices reperiuntur: The Art is a true one; but there are few who practise or profess it, that thorowly understand it. Astrologers, while they keep themselves within the due Limits and Boundaries of their Art, are not to be blamed: he alone, that mingles Superstition and Errour therewith, deserveth to be censured.

And it was the work of General Councils, in their Judgements and Decrees, not to reprobate and damn the Science it self, but to destroy the Villanies and Vanities that sought for shelter under the Golden Wings thereof; as * One hath with great Judgement and Reason sufficiently proved. And it appears also most plainly, from the Censure it self, That the Astrologer, as an Astrologer, is no more concerned in the Curse, then any other person whatsoever. The words are these: —— Si quis animas & corpora humana fatalibus Stellis credit astringi, sicut Pagani & Priscillianus dixerunt, Anathema sit: If any man believes that the souls and bodies of men are bound to the Stars acting fatally upon them, as the Pagans and Priscillian have said, Let him be accursed. So that here is no condemning of the Astrologer (or any man else) for using Astrologie; but others together with him are Anathematized, if they shall maintain FATALITY, or a Fatal Necessity.

* James Gaffarel unheard-of Curiosities, cap. 7.

Concil. Braca-rense, cap. 9.

It is the well-using of any Art or Science, that makes the worth of it shine the more splendid and glorious. And the more honourable and excellent a thing is, the more dangerous will it prove, if abused. Optima corrupta pessima: The best things ill dealt with, are of the most unhappie consequence and import. Ergo, it follows, that Astrologie is not condemnable, but laudable; and so is the Astrologer too, while he keeps within the Limit and Line of his Art.

Nor hath this Science lost, but gained Credit with men of Learning and Judgement, in the many remarkable Verities that have been convincingly made good herein, to the shame of the Antagonists: some of which, I care not greatly if I relate. To begin then:——

That of the Learned Gauricus, unto Henry the second, King of France; whom he admonished by his Letters to forbear running at the Tilt in the One and fourtieth year of his age, (and this five years before) for that the Stars did then threaten a wound in his head, which would either cause Blindness or Death: and behold, behold, in the ſame year he was ſlain by the ſhiver of a Launce, which thorow the Vizard of his Helmet pierced into his head.

The Biſhop of Vienna in France aſſured Don Frederick, then ſerving the Duke of Burgundy, that he ſhould be King of Naples, twenty years before it happened: and this, when it could not come to him by Lineal Deſcent, ſith his elder brother Alphonſus, and his ſon Ferdinand, were then alive; who dying without Iſſue, the Kingdom came to Don Frederick, according to the Biſhop's prediction. Nay, the ſame Biſhop did likewiſe publiſh in Italy, long before it happened, that Charles Duke of Burgundy ſhould be overthrown in both the Battels which he fought againſt the Switzers. Neither were the fore-warnings of Spurina to Cæſar leſs memorable, or true; nor thoſe remarkable preſages of Scribonius and Thraſyllus, touching Tyberias.

Nay, Hiſtory maketh mention of two Puiſſant and Undaunted Champions, (though Heathen Emperours) who were ſo admirably skill'd in the Genethliacal part of Aſtrologie, (the principal Subject of this Book) that being not afraid to foreſee any evil of themſelves, predicted their own Ends. Take their Names and the Story together. The firſt was Adrian, whoſe knowledge was ſuch in this Science, that he was able to write a Diary (as he did) of all Accidents that ever befel him to the hour of his death. The other was Septimus Severus, who being excellently acquainted with this Learning, and conſidering his Nativity before his Expedition into England, he cauſed both his Nativity and this Prediction to be inſcribed in the roof of his Judicial Palace, as a Monument of his knowledge herein, that he ſhould never return again: according to which Prediction, he died at York, after he had ruled the Empire eighteen years.

See Sir Chriſt. Heydon's Def. of Aſtrol. cont. Chambers, Chap. 13.

And although theſe were Heathen Emperours, and ſo may be objected againſt, as not fit Preſidents for Chriſtians; yet hear what a Learned Divine of our own Nation, citing them, ſays: ——It is true (ſaith he) theſe were Heathen Emperours; yet was the Study of this Science not thought unworthy of Gods people, who thereby might learn to manifeſt Gods glory from his works in Nature.

Dr. R. Gell, in his Serm. intit. Ἀστρολογία Θεῦ, p. 35.

Franciſcus Junctinus, an Italian, of the City of Florence, and a moſt ingenious Artiſt, from ſome unhappie conſtellation in his own Nativity, foretold that himſelf ſhould die of ſome violent death; and upon the very day, (as he before had predicted) was knocked on the head by the Books in his Studie falling upon him. Nor is the Prediction of the learned Morinus, late of France, concerning his own death, leſs worthy to be remembred.

But above all, I may not forget to mention that moſt remarkable Prediction of Lucius Bellantius of Siena, concerning Picus Earl of Mirandula, (who, for his fiery Zeal in writing againſt this this Art, was called Flagellum Aſtrologorum, The ſcourge of Aſtrologers) which was this; That he ſhould not live paſt the thirty fourth year of Age, he having at that time a killing Direction happening in his Nativity, viz. Horſc. ad Corp. Mars. But Picus flattering himſelf with a falſe comfort, as if he could have wrangled away Death by writing againſt Aſtrologie; Loe! while he ſought to prove the Art vain, his own Death concurring exactly with the time foretold him, confirmed it to be true.

But I forbear many hundred Examples of this kind, leſt the watchful Antagoniſt (who lies in Ambuſcadoe, cloſe enough) ſhould miſtake me, and think that barely by the Events of things, I endeavour to prove the verity of this ART; and ſo render me as a perſon juſtly fallen under the cenſure of the Poet:

——————— Careat ſucceſſibus opto,
Quiſquis ab eventu facta notanda putat.

It is but juſt, that he have ill ſucceſs,
Who by th' event of things, pretends to gueſs.

The Poets themſelves are not ſilent herein, but loudly Ecchoe to the worth and verity of this Learning. As Virgil (who is eſteemed Princeps Poetarum, the chief of them) in his Georgicks at large. And Juvenal (not much his inferiour) very Rhetorically argues the Force and Power of the Cœleſtial Bodies, and (by example) proves that they (under God) are endued with Energie ſufficient to exalt and abaſe Men.

Si fortuna volet, fies de Rhetore Conſul; * Satyr. 7.
Si volet hæc eadem, fies de Conſule Rhetor.

Sydus, & occulti miranda potentia Fati?

Which his Learned Tranſlator, Sir R. Stapylton, thus renders:

If Fortune will, Poor Rhetoritian, ſhe
Can raiſe thee, and thou ſhalt a Conſul be;
And from a Conſul, if ſhe will, ſhe can Make thee againe a Rhetorician.
What was Ventidius? what Tully too?
But PROOFS of what the STARS and Fates could do.

But becauſe I would not tire the Eares of my Reader with a tedious Preface, I will forbear all other Teſtimonies: Onely give me leave to ſignifie unto the World, the Aſſiſtance I have received in the Compilement of this Treatiſe, and from whom: which, if I ſhould bury in ſilence, I might expect the black brand of Ingratitude to be annexed unto my Name for ever.

When I first of all adventured upon this Task, I made my intention known unto my truly-honoured Friend, Mr. William Lilly, who, upon the hearing thereof, very nobly, and like a true and faithful Propagator of Art and Learning, gave me many encouragements to perfect the thing I intended; and that I might not want the Sight or Assistance of the best Authours, both Arabian and Latine, he most civilly and freely offered me the Use of his Studie towards the Accomplishment hereof: without which signal Favour and Respect, it had been impossible for me to have framed it so perfect as thou now seest it. And I hereby return him my hearty thanks, as the only Testimony of a Grateful Heart, where a Richer Requital is wanting.

Nor let me be unmindful of the Civilities of my much-esteemed Friend, Capt. George Wharton, a Person whom I have made somewhat bold with, while I was about this Work; and not without success answerable to the trouble I gave him.

And while I am mentioning the Assistance I have received from Persons of Worth and Learning, let me not forget the kindness of my loving Unkle, Mr. Timothy Gadbury; who accidentally visiting me, and hearing me complain that the Work hung heavy upon my Hands, for that the Press had almost out-gone my Pen, he very courteously, and like a Friend, proffers his Assistance; and accordingly lent me his helping Hand, in some part of the Tables for Calculating the Planets places: for which respect, I do not onely return him thanks, but hereby promise him (God permitting) to requite the same in kind; he having at present engaged his Thoughts towards the composing an Ephemerides of the Planets Motions, for forty years; and this from the best Hypothesis yet discovered, commencing where the Learned Eickstadius Periods, viz. 1666. and that it may be universally useful, intends to publish the same in Latine.

In the Book it self (Good Reader) thou hast both the Theorick and Practick parts of the Art of Nativities; the Calculative as well as the Judiciary: so that thou needest not have recourse unto divers Authors; this Book (though briefly, yet satisfactorily and sufficiently) comprehending all things necessary hereunto.

And whereas divers Persons, for want of skill in Astronomy, are necessitated to take the Planets places upon trust from our Ephemeridist Masters, who are not so exact (since Keplers time) as in a Nativity is required; I have printed Astronomical Tables for the supplying that defect: and although I shall not boast so much of the Worth of these Tables, as some have done of theirs; yet, this I can aver, they come as near the truth in some of the Noble Tycho's Observations, (I have not proved all) as any Tables yet extant, be they either the Rudolphine, Richlean, Alphonsine, Danisk, Lodovicæan, &c.

The

The Tables were first calculated from the ὑποθεσις of the Learned Bullialdus, by Mr. Horrox, and published by Mr. Shackerly; but they being fitted to compleat Calculation, caused divers who made use of them, to erre; as Mr. Shackerly himself, in his Example of the Sun. Now, for the prevention of this Errour, I have altered them from this uncouth way, and fitted them for currant Calculation; and have enlarged them, and amended several Errous besides, as may easily appear to the ingenious Artist.

For the other Parts of this Book, I have consulted with very few Authors without naming them: but if at any time my Memory served me to remember the words of an Author, and not the place wherein readily to finde him, it is probable I then neglected the trouble of Quotation. But however, rather then do any person wrong, by assuming too much to my self, I will acknowledge with Macrobius, that, All is mine, and nothing is mine. And so I presume, I may pass free from the rigid Doom of Synesius, who says, It is a greater and more unpardonable Theft, to steal the Labours of dead Men, then their Garments. But if this his censure be true, it will readily result, that there are but few Authors honest. The wisest of men concluded, There was no new thing under the Sun. Nihil dictum, quod non dictum prius, saith Wecker, There is nothing can be said [or done] but what hath been said [or done] before us. Methodus sola Artificium Ostendit, follows. And the Method I own: but whether I have shewn my self an Artist therein, I leave to the Trumpet of Time to determine; for that usually proclaims the Worth or Weakness of all Books. I am able to presage thus much; Some there are that will accept my good will; and there are Others will conclude me undeserving enough.

His Doctrine of NATIVITIES.

IT was my resolution, when God should bless me with retirement, to have augmented my Introduction unto Nativities, with many verified Examples and choice Aphorisms of the best Authors: But in the mean time, this Author communicating unto me his private Intentions, and the Method he intended; I approved thereof; well knowing he was endued with such acquired Abilities, as might perform the same. Indeed, if I shall speak my own thoughts unto the Merit of his Book, which he stiles

The Doctrine of Nativities;

I must acknowledge it, The most accomplished Work of this Subject I ever yet beheld in any Language or Author. But words are accounted as Wind, if not made good with Truth; therefore give me leave to unfold its Excellencies.

Thou maist, by this his alone Book, if but moderately versed in the Mathematiques, calculate the Motions of the Planets; rectifie thy Nativity several ways; judge the natural Signification nification of every House: then by his Tables of Right and Oblique Ascentions, his Ascentional Differences, and Declinations, his Tables of Position, thou mayst both take the Circle of Position any Planet is in, and direct every Significator to his proper Promittor; judge the effects of every Direction; with much facility set every Annual Revolution; judge of a Revolutional Figure, &c. with many other material things too large for me to repeat. He is Copious in the whole Work, and in every Subject he handles, very curious; and yet hath not pestered his Book with unnecessary matter, but abundantly compleated it with most material and pertinent Aphorisms and choice Collections through each Page thereof. Knowing the Modesty of the Authour, and how little he esteemes the publick applause of Men, I silently pass by many other considerable matters therein contained.

And with much satisfaction to my self, am heartily glad to behold so learned a Production from an English Man; the essential Verity whereof, shall manifest into Posterity for many Ages, the high Worth and indefatigable Industry of the Author.

IN the Table following, you will finde all the fixed Stars of note neer the Ecliptique Line, placed according to their Latitude, upon the Cuſpe of every of the twelve Cæleſtial Houſes: which Stars, by reaſon of their vicinity to the ſeven Planets, or Erratique Stars, are more eminently to be conſidered then any of the others, who have far greater Latitude; as all Aſtrologers obſerve.

The Table it ſelf, differeth from other Tables of Houſes only in this: viz. whereas in other Tables, there are repreſented only the Cuſps of the ſix Oriental Houſes, here are ſet down the Cuſps of the ſix Occidental; as the right-hand-page of the Table, plainly ſheweth.

Now, to each of the Cuſps, belong a Column, ſtanding on the right-hand of them, containing the Stars aforeſaid, their Aſcentions, Deſcentions, Numbers, and Natures: which Column is thus to be underſtood: firſt, you have the Aſcention or Deſcention of the Star, as neer to the Degree of the Cuſp as conveniency will permit: ſecondly, there is annexed unto the Aſcention or Deſcention, his Number and Nature: which Number ſerves you to enter the following Table, entituled, A Catalogue of Stars neer the Ecliptique, &c. for to finde the Name thereof, the Magnitude, Latitude, Longitude, and Number in its Conſtellation.

Example.

Suppoſe it were deſired to know what Star doth mediate Heaven, with the beginning of Sagittary; I enter the Table of Houſes, under Sol in Sagittary, and againſt 0 deg. of Sagittary, in the tenth Houſe, I finde 0 deg. 25 min. and under it 92. Saturn, Mars; which tells me, that a Star of the nature of Saturn and Mars doth mediate Heaven, with 0 deg. 25 min. of Sagittary; and that it is the 92 in Number: now with 92 I enter the following Catalogue, and finde the Name thereof, to be the Northermoſt of the two in the Body of the Scorpion; the fourth Magitude; 1 deg. Latitude 42 min. North-number in his Conſtellation, 5. Longitude 0 deg. 3 min. Sagittary; you are to underſtand the like in the reſt.

Note, whereas you will finde in the last Column of this Table, (viz. that which shews the Number of the Stars in their Constellation) in several places, a Cypher placed; it tells you, that the Star against whom it stands, is a Star without form. And where you finde an N. in the Column of Magnitude, it tells you, that the Star to whom it relates, is a Nebulose or Cloudy Star, and hard to be seen. And the letters N. and S. in the Column of Latitude, shews you which Stars are on the North-side of the Ecliptique, and which on the South. This Table needeth no further Explanation.

CHAP. I.

What a Nativity is, and how to rectifie it.

A Nativity [termed of the Greek, γένεσις ἀπὸ τῦ γίγνεσθαι, as saith Suetonius] is the true time of the Birth, beginning, rising, or first appearance of any person: or, more vulgarly, that moment of time in which the Child makes its exit from the close prison of the Mother's womb; beginning then, to be a visible Member of the Creation; and to live and grow up therein: whence of the Latines 'tis called, Nativitas, (i.e.) the Nativity, or Birth-hour.

The true time of which, being hard to finde, (for Clocks often differ, Dyals may deceive, and men's Observations are commonly erronious) the Ancients, both Arabian and Latine Astrologers, have discovered several ways to rectifie the same. The ways are chiefly three: viz.

1. Per Trutinam Hermetis. Trutine of Hermes.
2. Per Animodar Ptolomi. Animodar of Ptolomy.
3. Per Accidentia Nati. Accidents of the Native.

First, by thy Trutine of Hermes; having the estimate time of the Birth brought to you, erect the Figure, and thereto rectifie the place of the ☽: then take the Distance of the ☽, from the Horoscope, if she be under the Earth; or from the West-Angles, if she be beneath the Earth: substracting the Signs and Degrees of the Angles, from the ☽, by adding twelve Signs to the ☽, if otherwise Substraction cannot be made.

Then with the Distance of Signs and Degrees, enter the following Table, (having regard to the ☽, be she either sub terra, or supra terram:) and against the Signs and Degrees you enter with, you will finde the certain number of days, in which the Child remained in its Mother's womb.

This having done, consider, first, whether the yeer of Birth be common or bissextile; and secondly, what day of the yeer, the Birth is; then thirdly, substract the number of days (by adding 365, or 366; if otherwise it cannot be done) the Child remained in the womb, from the number you finde against the Birth; and with the remainder, enter the Table of Months again, and under your yeer of Birth (be it common or bissextile) you will finde the Month, and day of the Month, when the Native was conceived.

Next, observe the place of ☽, the day of the Conception at noon; and if you finde her distant from the East-Angle of the estimate time of Birth, not above 13 deg. then the day found, is the day of Conception: but if she be more remote, you may imagine then, that either the good Aspects of the Fortunes, put the Birth forward, or the untoward Aspects of the Infortunes hath retarded it.

For the time of Conception, take the time from noon in the Table of Houses, adhering to the tenth House against the Degrees of the ☉, in the Sign he is at Conception: then take the time from noon, against the place of the ☽ at Birth, under the Ascendent: then substract the time agreeing to the ☉, from that corresponding with the ☽, (by adding 24 hours if need requires) the remainder is the hour and minute of Conception.

Secondly, by the Animodar of Ptolomy: having set your Figure unto the estimative time of the Nativity, consider the Degree of the new ☽ next preceding the Birth; or if it were a full ☽ that preceded, observe the Degree wherein that Light was, which hapned (at that time) to be above the Earth.

Then observe what Planet in your Figure, hath most essential Dignities in that Degree: and if the Planet be (in your Figure) neerer the medium Cœli then the Ascendent, make the Degrees of the medium Cœli, the same of your Planet: but if he be neerer the Ascendent, then make the Degrees of the Ascendent, the same with your Planet; and so vary your Figure of the estimative time, according as either of those Angles are rectified.

But if it should so happen, (as often it cannot) that two Planets have equal Dignities in the place of the Lunation aforesaid, then are you to accept of that Planet, which is posited neerest the Horoscope, to be the Lord of Animodar; and rectifying your Ascendent by him, you bring your supposed time, presently into the true.

Thirdly, by the Accidents of the Native: Here (as in the other) you set your Figure of the supposed time, by a Table of Houses fitted to the Latitude for the place of Birth; or by the Tables of Right and Oblique Ascentions. Then collect and gather from the Native, the time of as many remarkable accidents, as have hapned unto him; by which you will be guided to finde the proper Significators and Promittors of such accidents, be they either good or evil.

If they are accidents that have hapned to the Body, prove them by the Ascendent; if of Magistery or Preferment, correct the Nativity by the Mid-Heaven: and indeed, by rectifying either of those two Angles truly, the moment of Birth will be found out exactly.

Having corrected the supposed, and brought it unto the true time; erect then your Figure, after Regiomontanus (whose way I have here in this Book taught, and have inserted Tables also, that the Artist needs no other Book at all for this purpose) reducing, first, the place of ☉; for he is the Basis of the whole; and ought therefore to have have his place most certainly known: for one minutes error in ☉'s place, begets 24 minutes error in time.

Your Figure being once obtained, draw a Speculum or Glass, consisting of thirteen Columns; the first whereof to the left-hand, must contain the Degrees of the Signs, viz. this, the other twelve to serve for the twelve Signs; ♈ to be in the first, ♉ in the second; and so successively until you arrive at ♓. This done, place the Planets therein, and their Aspects both dexter and sinister, with their Antiscions, Contrantiscions, together with ☊☋, and Part of Fortune: also some of the eminent fixed Stars; cheifly those neer the Ecliptique.

Then, as Ptolomy commands, Dominatoris progressionem cum in medio Cœli positus est, per Sphæra Ascentiones; cum vero in Ascendente constitutus est, per Climatis Ascentione facito. Direct the Mid-Heaven to his Promittors, by the Tables of Right Ascentions; but the Ascendent, by the Oblique Ascentions, fitted to the Clymate, or place where the Birth happens: Cent. Aphor. 25. which is thus performed: Get first the Right Ascention of the medium Cœli, and then the Right Ascention of the Promittor; then substract the Right Ascention of the Mid-Heaven, from the Right Ascention of the Promittor, and the remainder is the Ark of Direction; which converted into time, tells you when the accident will happen. For the Ascendent, substract his Oblique Ascention, from the Oblique Ascention of the Promittor, and the remainder is the Ark of Direction.

But for ☉, ☽, and Part of Fortune, you must take their several Circles of Position (as I shall give an Example for, in my Tables of Direction) and direct them by their Oblique Ascentions, or Descentions, as are found thereby; and as they happen to be, either in the ascending or descending part of Heaven.

And that all manner of accidents may the better be found out, you may take the Circles of Position of the other five Planets, viz. ♄, ♃, ♂, ♀, ☿; and direct them also, to their several Promittors, &c.

These things performed, the most obscure accidents in the life of any person, (I mean in a natural way) may be brought to light, and exactly known and discovered; which many have undertaken; yet for want of Knowledge hereof, or sometimes through Lasiness, Covetousness, or something worse, have committed many prodigious and unpardonable errors, to the great scandal and disrepute, of so noble, necessary, and most praise-worthy a piece of Learning.

Chap. II.

Of the Names and Characters of the Signs, Planets, and Aspects.

FOr the ready initiation of the ingenious Student, I will first present him with the Characters of the Signs, Planets and Aspects; together with their Number and their Names, both in Greek and Latine; and they follow thus:

First, in the Zodiack, (which is a great Circle, cutting in the very middle, the Equinoctial in two parts, which are the very beginning of ♈ and ♎, the two prime Points of the same) is contained the twelve Signs; half of which, of Astronomers are termed Northern, and the other half, Southern. And each of these Signs, are divided into 30 deg. and each Degree into 60 min. each Minute into 60 seconds; and so to tenths if you please.

Northern

Northern Signs be,			Southern Signs are,
♈.	Κριὸς.	Aries.	♎.	Ζυγὸς.	Libra.
♉.	Ταῦρος.	Taurus.	♏.	Σκόρπιος.	Scorpius.
♊.	Δίδυμοι.	Gemini.	♐.	Τοξότης.	Sagittarius.
♋.	Καρκῖνος.	Cancer.	♑.	Αἰγόκερως.	Capricornus.
♌.	Λέων.	Leo.	♒.	Ὑδροχόος.	Aquarius.
♍.	Παρθένος.	Virgo.	♓.	Ἰχθῦς.	Pisces.

Secondly, in these twelve Signs there are moving constantly (according to Nature) seven Planets; which, by reason of their different motion from that of the eighth Sphere, in which the fixed Stars move, are called wandring or errant Stars; their Names and Characters follow, according to the order that Ptolomy observes in his System of the World.

1.	♄.	Φαίνων, ἢ κρονος.	Saturnus.	Cold and dry.
2.	♃.	Φαέθων, ἢ ζεὺς.	Jupiter.	Hot and moist.
3.	♂.	Πυρόεις, ἢ ἄρης.	Mars.	Hot and dry.
4.	☉.	Ἥλιος.	Sol.	Hot and dry.
5.	♀.	Ἀφροδίτη, ἢ φωσφόρος.	Venus.	Cold and moist.
6.	☿.	Ἑρμῆς, ἢ στίλβων.	Mercurius.	Convertible in Nature.
7.	☽.	Σελήνη.	Luna.	Cold and moist.

The Characters and Names of the two Noades, and the Part of Fortune.

1.	☊.	Caput Draconis.	Ἀναβιβάζων.
2.	☋.	Cauda Draconis.	Καταβιβάζων.
3.	⊕.	Κλῆρος τύχης.	i. e. Sors, or Pars Fortunæ.

Thirdly, these seven Planets moving in the twelve Signs, do make several Angles and Aspects, with each other; from whose influence, the Generation and Corruption of all Sublunaries are caused: and they are five especially.

1.	☌.	Σύνοδος.	Conjunctio, a Conjunction.
2.	⚹.	Ἑξάγωνος.	Sextilis, a Sextile.
3.	□.	Τετράγωνος.	Quadratus, a Quartile.
4.	△.	Τρίγωνος.	Trigonus, a Trine.
5.	☍.	Διάμετρος.	Oppositio, an Opposition.

How these Aspects are made.

A Conjunction is improperly called an Aspect, because it is when Planets are in one Sign, Degree, and Minute.

A Sextile, is sixty Degrees, or two Signs distant, (for every Sign is divided into thirty Degrees: it being the twelfth part of three hundred sixty, which is the Compass of the whole Circle or Zodiack) as ♂ in the beginning of ♈, and ☿ in the beginning of ♊, because ♊ is two Signs distant from ♈, as by and by shall be shown.

A Quartile is three Signs, or ninety Degrees distant; ninety Degrees being the fourth part of three hundred sixty, as ♂ in ♈, and ☿ in ♎, in equal degrees of them.

A Trine is four Signs distant, or 120 degrees; 120 degrees being the third part of 360, as ♂ in ♈, and ☿ in the same Degrees of ♌.

An Opposition is 6 Signs distant, or 180 degrees, which is half the Zodiacal Circle, as ♂ in ♈, and ☿ in ♎.

Here

Here follows a Table of their Radiations both Dexter and Sinister.

The Radiations of the Planets.

		☉				☽				☿
		⚹	□	△	☍	⚹	□	△	☍	⚹	□	△	☍
Dexter	♈	♒	♑	♐	♎	♌	♊	♉	♈	♒	♎	♍	♓
Sinister		♊	♋	♌	♑		♎	♍	♐	♓	♍	♎	♊
Dexter	♉	♓	♒	♑	♍	♍	♋	♊	♉	♑	♓	♎	♋
Sinister		♋	♌	♒	♏		♊	♎	♑	♎	♒	♓	♍
Dexter	♊	♈	♓	♒	♐	♎	♌	♋	♊	♓	♑	♏	♌
Sinister		♌	♍	♓	♏		♑	♒	♓	♒	♐	♊	♎
Dexter	♋	♉	♈	♎	♑	♏	♍	♌	♋	♍	♒	♐	♏
Sinister		♍	♎	♏	♒		♒	♓	♑	♓	♉	♋	♍

By this Table, you may perceive a Planet in ♈, casts his ⚹ dexter to ♒, and ⚹ sinister to ♊; his □ dexter to ♑, □ sinister to ♋; △ dexter to ♐, △ sinister to ♌; and his ☍ to ♎: and so observe in the rest.

The Signs also are divided into fiery, earthy, airy, watry, moveable, fixed, and bicorporeal.

Earthy, Airy, Fiery, Watry	Signs are	♉, ♍, ♑.	Cold and dry.
		♊, ♎, ♒.	Hot and moist.
		♈, ♌, ♐.	Hot and dry.
		♋, ♏, ♓.	Cold and moist.

Here, by the foregoing Table, you may observe that fiery Signs behold each other with a △, so do the rest of the Triplicities: they also behold the Airy with a ⚹; which shews the agreement of the Fire and Air, in the quality of Heat: although there be an absolute disagreement in regard of the Moisture of the Air; and so you will finde by the Table also, ♈ opposite to ♎, ♌ to ♒, ♐ to ♊: observe the like in the other three Triplicities.

Then the Signs are divided into moveable, common, and fixed.

♊, ♍, ♐, ♓, common

These, with relation to their fixed, common, or moveable qualities, behold each other by a □, as may be seen throughout the foregoing Table.

The Signs are also divided into Masculine and Feminine, agreeable to the Nature of the Constellations in each of them.

Masc. ♈, ♊, ♌, ♎, ♐, ♒.
Fœm. ♉, ♋, ♍, ♏, ♑, ♓.

The Nature of the Radiations or Aspects.

A Conjunction is good, with the good Planets; & contrà.

A Sextile is by all Astrologers deemed an Aspect of Friendship, though imperfect, agreeing to B. flat in Musical proportion; as that Learned Knight, Sir Christopher Heydon, in his Discourse of the ♂ of the two superior Planets, ♄ and ♃, hath excellently observed.

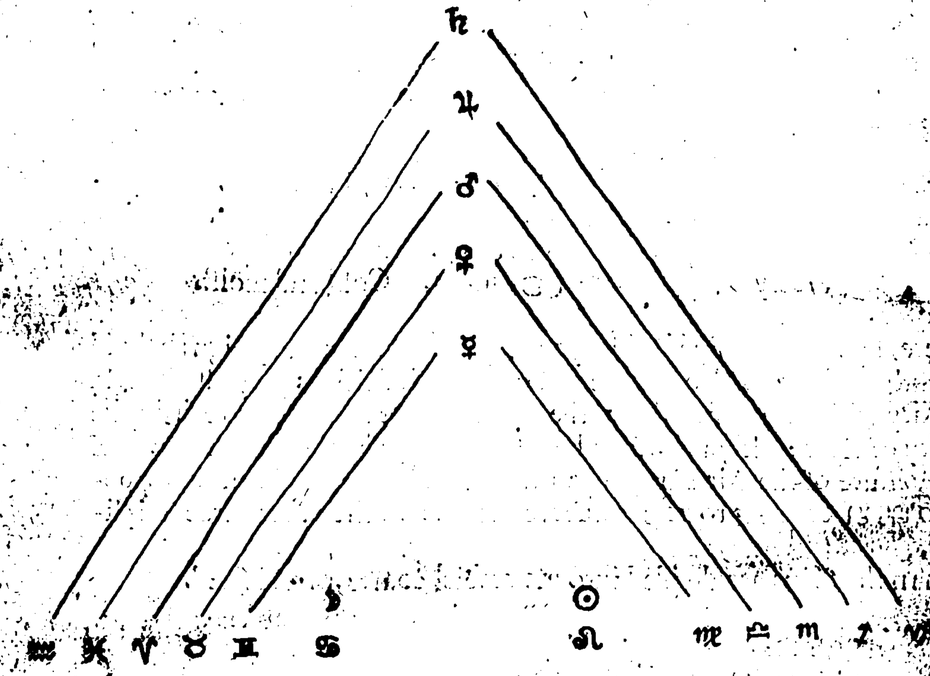

A Quartile is an Aſpect of imperfect enmity.

A Trine is a certain note of true concord, perfect amity, love and friendſhip.

An Oppoſition is the worſt of Aſpects, and is the producer of nothing but vexation, ſtrife, and trouble.

Of the Houſes, Exaltations, Triplicities, Terms and Faces of the Planets.

The ſeven Planets before mentioned, are found to delight in ſome parts of the Zodiack, more then in others; and therefore have Aſtrologers (not without Reaſon, and much Obſervation therein) diſtinguiſhed the twelve Signs into the Delights or Joys (vulgarly reputed Houſes) of the ſeven Planets: as may appear by the following Diagram.

Beſides the choice delights that the Planets by experience are found to have in theſe Signs thus attributed unto them for their Houſes; they are found to have leſs valuable Dignities in other parts of the Zodiack: as, to have Exaltations, Triplicities, Terms and Faces: Which, together with their Detriments and Falls, (which are always oppoſite to their Houſes and Exaltations,) I will exhibit in the following Table, becauſe it will beſit the Reader's advantage.

A Table of the Eſſential Dignities and Debilities of the Planets.

By this Table you may ſee, that ♈ is the Day-houſe of ♂, as the ☽ denotes; and ♉ is ☿ Night-houſe, as N. informs you. Likewiſe, ☉ is exalted in the 19 degree of ♈, ☽ in the 3 degree of ♉, &c. The ☉ and ♃ rule the Fiery Triplicity: ♀ and ☽, the Earthy; ♄ and ☿, the Airy; ♂, the watry. ♃ hath the firſt ſix degrees of ♈, for his Term; ♀ hath hers from the ſixth to the fourteenth, &c. ♂ hath the firſt Face in ♈; ☉ the ſecond; ☿ the third: ☿ hath alſo her Detriment there; and ♄ his Fall: becauſe it is the oppoſite to ♎, which is her Houſe, and ♄'s Exaltation. A Planet being in his Houſe, hath five Dignities allotted him: in his Exaltation, four: in his Triplicity, three: in his Term, two: in his Decanate or Face, one. And this ſhall ſuffice for the Explanation of the Table of Eſſential Dignities.

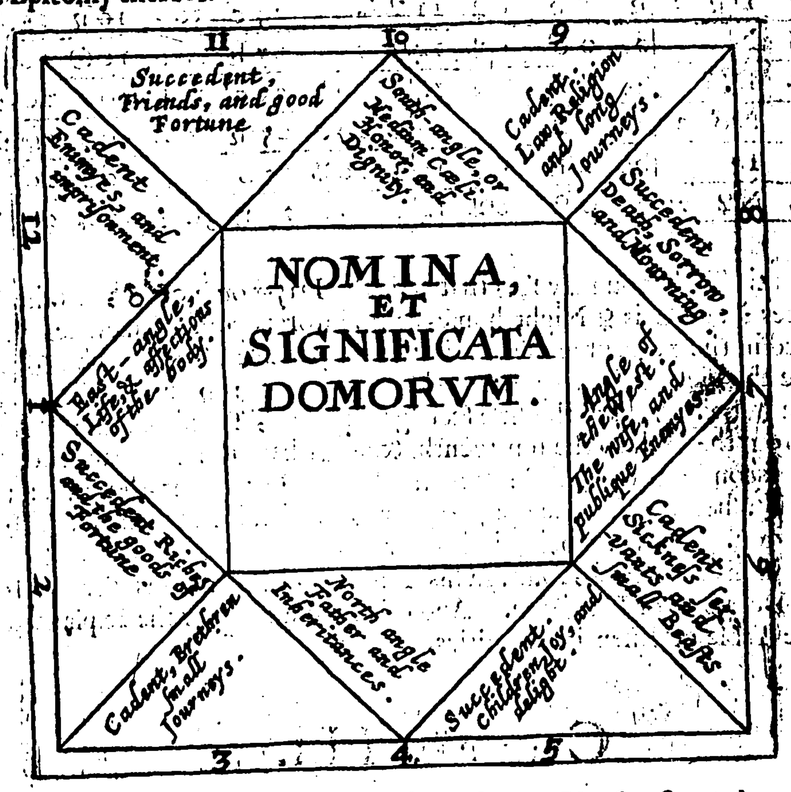

CHAP. III.

How to ſet a Figure of Heaven by the Table of Houſes beforegoing.

BEfore you can ſet a Scheme of Heaven, you muſt firſt conſider, and know, that the Equinoctial Circle is divided into twelve equal parts, meeting at the Interſections of the Mid-heaven and Aſcendent, (above being the prime Angles of the Figure. Now, the Aſcendent, which the Greeks call ὡροσκοπος, the Horoſcope, doth not only imply that De-

* Blundevil. gree of the Ecliptique, which ariseth above the * Horizon, in the inchoation of any thing that is sought after; but also, sometimes signifies the whole Figure of the Heavens, containing the twelve parts thereof, (or Houses) and doth show the very Secrets of Nature: so that there is nothing that chanceth to inferior Bodies; but its proper cause appeareth by the Horoscope in Heaven. And Astrologers, for the more curious demonstration of the same, have equally divided the Heavens as aforesaid, beginning from the Horoscope, which is the East-Angle; and so according to the succession of parts, until the whole Circle be finished.

Now there are four principal parts of the Zodiack; two of which do fall equally upon the Horizon; and the other two upon the Meridian, (as appeareth by the Globe) and these are called the Cardinal Points or Angles of the Figure, viz. the beginning of the first, the fourth, the seventh and the tenth Houses. And those that next follow any of these principal Angles, are called Succedents, or Succedent Houses; and such are the second, fifth, eighth, and eleventh Houses. And those that go next before any of the four principal Angles, are called Cadents, or cadent and falling Houses; and they are the twelfth, third, sixth, ninth; observe the Epitomy thereof.

For to erect your Figure by the Table of Houses foregoing, you must first observe your certain time of the day, and gain the Degree of the Sun's place in the Ephemeris, to the day proposed; and therewith enter the Table of Houses under the Sign you finde the ☉ in; and in the tenth House, against the Degree of the ☉ to the left-hand, you will finde certain Hours and Minutes; unto which, if you add the time of the day (reckoning, with Astronomers, your day from Noon to Noon) you set your Figure for; the Product (unless it exceed 24 Hours) is to guide you in the same Columns viz. under the Title Time from Noon, until you finde your Number; against which, in the Collateral Columns, you have the Cusps of the six Oriental Houses, viz. the Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Twelfth, Ascendent, Second, and Third: the other six Houses are always opposite, both in Signs, Degrees, and Minutes; as may be seen by the right-page of the Table. But if the Aggregate exceed 24 Hours, cast away 24 Hours, and the Number remaining, shall be your guide.

As for Example,

Suppose it be required to know how the Heavens are posited on January 14. 1659. at one Hour after Noon; I look into Argol's Ephemerides; and in the same yeer, against the 14 day of January, I finde the ☉'s place to be 4 deg. 37 min. of ♒: which, because it wants less then half a Degree of 5 deg. I take 5 deg. of ♒, for the ☉'s place. Now, with the ☉'s place thus found, I enter the Table of Houses under ☉ in ♒; and in the Column of the tenth House, against 5 deg. of ♒, (the ☉'s place) I finde 20 hours, 29 min. under the Title Time from Noon; unto which I add the time of the day: and the Product is 21 hours, 29 min. Now I seek for this Number in the same Column, and the neerest unto it, is 21 hours, 30 min. against which I finde the Cusps of the six Oriental Houses, thus:

I might have been more curious in equating for the odd minutes of the ☉; but I conceive it not purely necessary here, because this is only to enlighten vulgar capacities.

X. House.	♒ 20.	Opposit Houses have oppos. Sig.	IV. House.	♌ 20.
XI. House.	♓ 19.		V. House.	♍ 19.
XII. House.	♈ 13.		VI. House.	♎ 13.
I. House.	♊ 26. 5 min.		VII. House.	♐ 26. 5 min.
II. House.	♋ 18.		VIII. House.	♑ 18.
III. House.	♌ 3.		IX. House.	♒ 3.

Next I enquire the places of the Planets to the aforesaid time, and by the Ephemerides aforesaid, (without Reduction) they are thus:

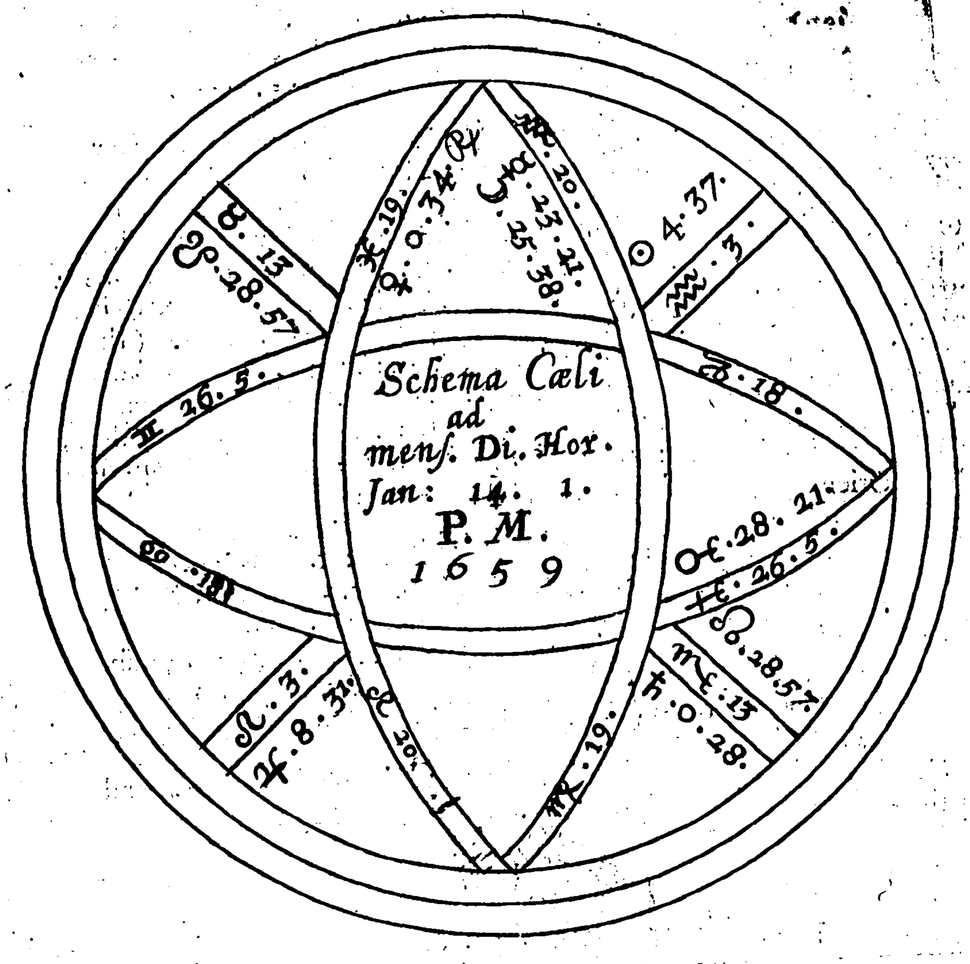

The places of the Planets.

♄	0. 28. ♍	☿	8. 31. ♌
♂	28. 21. ♐	☉	4. 37. ♒
℞ ♀	0. 34. ♓	♃	23. 21. ♒
☽	25. 38. ♒	☊	28. 57. ♍

The ☋ is always opposite to the ☊.

Now for to place these in the Figure rightly, you may observe this Rule: if your Planets place be less then the Cusp of your House, you must set him before the Cusp thereof; but if his Degrees be more then the Degrees of the Cusp of your House, then must you place him behinde the Cusp, as in the following Example.

Note,

Note, that if you set a Figure for three, four, five or six Hours, &c. after Noon, (if it be [only] for a Horary Question) the ☽ will require a Reduction in her place, by reason of the swiftness of her motion; and according to her mean motion, (which is 12 degrees in a day) is 30 min. an hour; and so by addition in the Afternoon, and substraction in the Forenoon, to, or from her place at Noon, you may gain her place truly enough, for all ordinary Matters or Questions. But for Nativities, you must be more exact, and erect your Figure by the Right and Oblique Ascentions of this Book: an Example of which (in a Nativity) I shall shew toward the later end of this Part, with the Calculation at large. And that the ingenious Artist may not want any thing requisite for such a Treatise, I have, in the foregoing Table of Houses, inserted most of the fixed Stars that are neer the Ecliptique, (as most useful in Nativities) by which he may as well direct his Significators to them, as unto the Bodies and Aspects of the Planets or Erratique Stars.

I might here also discover the use of an Ephemerides, and thereby shew how to reduce any Planet from his Noon-time, to any Intermediate hour and minute of the Day; but those being sufficiently handled by every Ephemeridist-Master, that writes of the Motions of the Planets, it would be adjudged superfluous, and nothing pertinent to my purpose here for to add them.

CHAP.

Chap. IV.

Of some things necessary to be known from the Signs and Degrees of the Zodiack.

YOur Figure being obtained, by the Rules of the former Chapter; learn in the next place to be well acquainted with the Natures, Qualities, and Significations of the Signs, Planets, and Twelve Houses of Heaven; and also in all the Terms of Art; for, by being readily versed in them, you will easily understand, and be acquainted with the whole Art of Astrology.

And having shewed you before, several Divisions of the Signs, as the Houses, Exaltations, Triplicities, Terms and Decanats of the Planets, &c. so here I will inform you of other their particular Attributes:

As, First, unto ♈, ♊, ♌, ♎, ♐, ♒; Heat: unto ♉, ♋, ♍, ♏, ♑, ♓, ♈; Coldness. The meaning whereof, is this: If in any Nativity, the Ascendent, his Lord, or ☽, be in Signs of Heat; the Native will be manly and vigorous, and choler will abound in him: but if in Signs of Coldness, he will be meek, womanish and effeminate: all which Qualities proceed from Phlegm.

Secondly, There are Signs which are called Quadrupeian, or four-footed; as ♈, ♉, ♌, ♐, ♑; because those Creatures from whence they are named, have four Feet: and in a Nativity, where either of them ascend, they import the Native to partake much of that Creatures Nature they represent; as if ♈, he is as hot and raging as the Ram; if ♉, furious as the Bull; if ♌, bold as the Lion; ♐, valiant as the Horseman: but if ♑, lecherous, as the Goat.

Thirdly, There are Signs signifying Humanity, as ♊, ♍, ♎, ♒, and the first part of ♐: and where in any Nativity, these Signs ascend, the Native is of disposition friendly, humane, affable, loving society; of excellent carriage and behaviour.

Fourthly, Some Signs are also prolifical or fruitful; as ♋, ♍, ♓: and others steril or barren; as ♊, ♌, ♍. And if the Ascendent in a Nativity, his Lord, the ☽, the Cusp of the Fifth, (for that is the house of Issue or Children) and his Lord, be all (or the greater part of them) in Signs prolifical; the Native will be very fruitful, and have many Children. But if in barren Signs all the aforesaid Significators happen, the Native, if he or she would give as much for a Child, as once Richard the third of England did offer for a Horse, viz. a Kingdom! without a miracle from Heaven, they must be contented to miss of their expectation. And this I have proved true in divers Nativities.

Fifthly, Some Signs there are, which be termed mute; and those are ♋, ♍, ♓: and some of excellent voice, as ♊, ♍, ♎, ♐, ♒. If any of the mute Signs ascend in a Nativity; and ☿, which is the Significator-general of speech afflicted by ♄ and ♇, in evil Houses of Heaven, and the Ascendent viriated also, the Native will be born dumb; as I have more then once proved. If ☿ be free, and the Ascendent afflicted; or the Ascendent free, and ☿ afflicted; the Native is slow of speech. I know an ingenious Doctor of Physick, who hath ☿ afflicted by the ♇, in the Twelfth, who is but poorly furnished with Elocution. But if Signs having voice, ascend in any Nativity, the Native is generally an ex-excellent Orator, one of great volubility, and admirably free in his Delivery. I have truly guessed at the Ascendents of two eminent Lawyers, only by looking on them, and hearing them plead.

Sixthly, Some Signs are feral, or brutish and savage; as ♌, and the last part of ♐: some hoarse or whistling; as ♈, ♉, ♌, ♒: and where ♌, or the last part of ♐, ariseth in a Nativity, the Native is brutish or savage, and of a rude, filthy and unmannerly behaviour. But those persons have a constant hoarseness, or inward speaking, a whizzing or whistling in their deliveries, (yet quick and voluble enough) where ♈, ♉, ♌, ♒, are Horoscopical.

Seventhly, Those persons are generally crooked, bunch-back'd, maimed, or imperfectly born, or brought forth; who have ♉ ascending on the Eastern Finitor at Birth, and Caput Algol posited in the Ascendent.

As you have these full Divisions, and sub-Divisions of the Signs; so you may in the next place observe, that the Degrees of each Sign, have particular Affections; and by Astrologers are divided into Masculine, Fœminine, Light, Dark, Smoaky, Void, Pitted, Azimene or Deficient, and Augmentors of Fortune: which you may observe by this Table.

A Table, exhibiting the Affections and Significations of the Degrees in each Sign of the Zodiack.

	Degrees Masculine.	Degrees Fœminine.	Degrees light.	Degrees dark.	Degrees smoaky.	Degrees void.	Pitted or deep Degrees.	Deficient or Azimene Degrees.	Degrees encreasing Fortune.

The

The use that may be made of this Table.

In the first Column against ♈, you finde 8, 15, 30. under the Column of Masculine Degrees; and under the Column of Fœminine, you have 9, 22. which tells you, That the first eight Degrees of ♈ are Masculine, the ninth Degree Fœminine: from nine to fifteen, Masculine again; and from fifteen to twenty two, Fœminine; and from twenty two unto thirty, Masculine. The use of which is this: If the chief Significators of the Nativity, be in Degrees Masculine, and Signs Masculine; be the Native Male or Female, it argues in he or she, a more Masculine temper and resolution then ordinary: if in Fœminine Signs and Degrees, more womanish, timorous, and less vigorous. Observe the same method in the rest of the Signs and Degrees, as in the Table you see them stand directed.

The fourth Column tells you, There are certain Degrees in each Sign, which are termed Light: if either of those shall ascend in a Nativity, the Native will be of Complexion more fair and clear; and of a Skin more subtile and fine then ordinary.

The fifth informs you, What Degrees in the twelve Signs are dark or obscure: which, if in a Nativity, you finde any of them on the Horoscope, the Native shall be of an obscure or dark Complexion: and if he happen to be born deformed, his deformity shall be the greater.

The sixth Column shews you, Which Degrees of the Zodiack, are called smoaky Degrees; and if any of them be Horoscopical in a Nativity, it informs you, the Native will be of a mixed Complexion, neither very fair, nor very swarthy; but between both: and as his Complexion, so will his Judgement be mix'd: for he will be of no excelling Judgement, neither will he be of one very contemptible.

The seventh Column informs you, Which Degrees are called Void; and the Ascendent of a Radix in any of them, declares the Judgement, Understanding and Memory of the Native, to be imbecile: and the more he confers or discourses with any man, the greater defect and incomposedness will appear in him.

The eighth Column shews, What Degrees in each of the twelve Signs are called Deep or Pitted: And in a Nativity, if the Ascendent, his Lord, the ☽, be in any of them; the Native is generally of so tenacious a temper, that he cannot easily impart his desires, or declare his wants; but is always as a man in a pit, or snare, wanting the assistance of another to help him forth.

The ninth Column teaches, which be the Azimene, lame or deficient Degrees of the twelve Signs: If in a Nativity any one of them ascend, or the Lord of the Ascendent, or ☽, be in any of them; the Native is then crooked, lame, deformed, or some way vitiated in that Member represented by the Sign in which such Azimene Degrees be. This is of excellent use, and ought to be considered seriously by every Artist, in the handling a Nativity.

The tenth Column instructs you, how to finde what Degrees in the twelve Signs, are Augmentors or Encreasers of Fortune: and the use may be made thereof, is thus: If in a Nativity, the Cusp of the second House, or Lord of the second, ☊, or the Part of Fortune, be in Degrees augmenting Fortune, they are Arguments of much Wealth; and presage, that the Native shall according to his degree or capacity of Birth and Education, attain to a valuable Estate, and a considerable quantity of Riches.

Although it be true, That many have envied at these Divisions and Observations of the Degrees of the twelve Signs; yet have I inserted nothing here, that I have not fully experienced. Those that are not perswaded of the Truth of their Significations, may either let them alone, or try the truth of them, as I have done. And thus much shall serve for the Explanation of the Table.

Chap. V.

Of the Terms of Art, that every one ought chiefly to understand.

And those are (first) the Names and Characters of the Signs, Planets, and Aspects, as is before perspicuously taught: secondly, the Partil and Platique Aspects: thirdly, the Orbs or Rays of the Planets; their Applications and Separations, Prohibitions, Translations, Receptions, Peregrinations, Frustrations, Combustions, Directions, Retrogradations and Stations; Orientalities, and Occidentalities; Besiegings, Void of Course, Haiz, &c.

Partil and Platique Aspects.

First, The Aspects of the Planets, are either Partil or Platique. A Partil Aspect is, when that one Planet beholds the other directly to the same Degree and Minute: as for example: Suppose ♂ in 10 deg. 6 min. of ♈, and ♄ in 10 deg. 6 min. of ♊; here ♂ beholds ♄ with a Partil ✶ Aspect. And you are to note, That a Partil Aspect, if it be good, is far better then one Platique: but if it be bad, it is worse then the Platique. Now had ♂ been in 10 deg. 6 min. of ♈, and ♄ in 14 deg. of ♊; this had been a ✶; not a Partil, but a Platique one: for Planets may be in Platique Aspect with each other from Signs beholding, until they be out of the Mediety of their Orbs: which Orbs are as follow.

	Planets	Deg.	Min.
The Orbs of	♄	10.	0.
	♃	12.	0.
	♂	7.	30.
	☉	17.	0.
are	♀	8.	0.
	☿	7.	0.
	☽	12.	30.

Here you see, That ♄'s Orbs are 10 deg. the mediety of which are five; and ♂ his Orbs are 7 deg. 30 min. the half of which are 3 deg. 45 min. whence it results, That the Platique Aspect of ♄ and ♂, remain until they are 8 deg. 45 min. distant from their true Aspect.

Application.

There are three ways in which Planets apply each unto other:

First, When two Planets (being both direct in motion, but the one a more light and swift Planet then the other) do apply; as ☿ in 10 deg. of ♌, and ♄ in 15 deg. of ♎; here ☿ being more swift then ♄, is said to apply unto a ✶ of him.

Secondly, When both Planets are Retrograde; as ☿ in 10 deg. of ♌, and ♄ in 9 deg. of ♎; here ☿ applies to a ✶ of ♄ by Retrogadation.

Thirdly, When one Planet is Direct in Motion, and the other Retrograde; as ☿ Retrograde in 12 deg. of ♌, and ♄ in 10 deg. of the same Sign Direct; here ☿ being Retrograde, applies unto the ♂ of ♄, who is Direct: the first of these ways is good; the second is a most malignant Application; the third is not good; neither is it of so bad a signification as the second. Note also, That the superiour Planets are never said to apply unto any, (unless they are Retrograde) but the lesser or inferior (as it is among men) make application unto them.

Separation.

This is known, when two Planets having been united by Body or Aspect, are separated or departed from each other 6 min. at the least; as ☉ in 10 deg. 10 min. of ♒, and ☽ in 10 deg. and 10 min. of the same Sign; this now is a perfect Synod or Conjunction: but when ☽ shall come unto the 10 deg. and 16 min. of ♒, (which is 6 min. distant) then she may be said to separate from the ☉: & sic in aliis. Now Separation, as it hath a beginning, so it hath a time of continuance and ending. It continues all the time the Planets are within Orbs; and ends when they are past them. To know which artificially, do thus: Get the Moyety of each Planet's Orb, and add them together; and the sum tells you how long it is before they be fully separated: as in the example of the ☉ and ☽: the Orbs of ☉ by the foregoing Table, are 17 deg. half of which, is 8 deg. 30 min. The ☽'s Orbs are 12 deg. 30 min. half of which, is 6 deg. 15 min. which added to 8 deg. 30 min. the half of the ☉'s Orbs, the sum is 14 deg. 45 min. and so many Degrees and Minutes must the ☽ recede from the ☉, before she can be said to be fully separated from him. Now the ☉ and ☽ being in 10 deg. 10 min. of ♒, if you add 14 deg. 45 min. thereunto, it tells you, That until the ☽ have passed the 24 deg. 55 min. of ♒, she cannot be said to be beyond the Orbs of the ☉.

Prohibition.

Prohibition is twofold: First, When two Planets are applying unto each other; but before they can come to either's Body, or Aspect, another Planet, swifter in Motion, interposeth his Rays, and hinders them: as for example: ♄ being in 12 deg. of ♈, and ♂ in 7 deg. of ♊; and the ☉ in 6 deg. of ♊: here ♂ applies unto ♄ by a ✶; but the ☉ being in 6 deg. of ♊, and a swifter in Motion then ♂, prohibits ♂, and comes to the ✶ of ♄ before him. Secondly, When a lighter Planet is applying to a more Ponderous; but before he comes unto the perfect Body, or Aspect, falls Retrograde, by which means he is prohibited coming thereunto: as ♂ in 7 deg. of ♊, and ♄ in 12 deg. of ♈: here ♂ applies to ♄ by a ✶; but before he comes to his true ✶, falls Retrograde, and so is prevented. This manner of Prohibition is termed Refrenation.

Translation.

Translation of Light and Nature is thus known: When a light Planet shall separate from a more weighty One, and immediately be joyned unto another that is more ponderous then he: as for example: Let us suppose ♂ to be in 26 deg. of ♌, ☿ in 27 deg. and ♃ in 29 deg. of the same Sign: here ☿ separates from a ☌ of ♂, and applies immediately to a ☌ of ♃; and so translates the Light and Vertue of ♂ unto him. It is performed as well by Aspect, as by Body, and after the same manner.

Reception.

Reception is performed by House, Exaltation, Triplicity and Term: and it is a sign of a propitious Nativity, where all the Planets are mutually received of each other. This may be, first, by House; as ♄ in ♉, and ☿ in ♍: and of all Receptions this is the best. Secondly, it may be by exaltation; as ☿ in ♍, and ♂ in ♓: and this is a good Reception also. Thirdly, it may be by Triplicity; as suppose the Nativity to be by day, and ♀ in ♈, and ☉ in ♌: and this is good, though not so excellent as the other. Fourthly, Reception may be by Term, thus; ♂ in 16 deg. of ♊, and ♀ in 24 deg. of ♈: here ♂ and ♀ are in Reception by Term. This is the meanest of Receptions; yet is it better then none at all: Half a Loaf is better then no Bread. In Nativities, respect the Planets that are in Reception, and the Houses they are Lords of; and if you finde the Lord of the Ascendent in Reception with the Lord of the Fourth, say, The Native and his Father shall agree well: the stronger the Reception is, the more durable shall their agreement be. Understand the like in the rest of the Houses.

Peregrine. A Planet is said to be Pergerine, or a Stranger, when he is out of all his essential Dignities, viz. his House, Exaltation, Triplicity, Term and Face; as the ☉ in ♎; where in the Sign throughout, he hath not one essential Dignity; or the ☽ in the Signs ♌ and ♈, where she hath not one fortitude.

Frustration. Frustration is, when a swift Planet would corporally joyn with a more ponderous One; but before he can come to the ☌ of him, the more weighty Planet is joyned to another; whereby the ☌ of the first with him is frustrated; as ♄ in 14 deg. of ♏, and ☿ in 11 deg. and ♂ in 13 deg. here ☿ applies to the Body of ♂; but before he can come thereunto, ♂ gets to the ☌ of ♄, and so frustrates ☿ his coming to his ☌.

Combustion. A Planet is said to be combust of the ☉, when he is in the same Sign the ☉ is, within 8 deg. 30 min. of his Body; as ☉ in 10 deg. of ♌, and ♂ in 1 deg. 30 min. of ♌; here ♂ is entring Combustion: and you must observe, That a Planet is more afflicted, when he is applying to (then separating from) Combustion. The Lord of the Ascendent in a Nativity Combust, portends the Native to abide under the frowns of great persons as long as he lives.

Now although a Planet cannot enter the Lists of Combustion, before he be within 8 deg. 30 min. of ☉; yet is he under the ☉'s Beams, until he be elongated 17 deg. from his Body: but being under the ☉'s Beams, he is nothing so much afflicted, as when he is Combust; for Combustion is the greatest evil that can be, saith Mr. Lilly, Introduct. fol. 111.

Cazimi. Besides this, Planets are said to be in Cazimi, or in Corde Solis, the Heart of the ☉, until they be distant 17 min. from his Body; and all Astrologers hold a Planet fortified by being in the Heart of ☉.

Direction. Planets are said to be direct in Motion, when they move regularly and forward in the Sign they are in; as when out of one degree of the Sign, he goes into the second, and so to the third, until he have finished the Sign he is in, and so pass unto another.

Retrogradation. They are said to move Retrograde, when they move contrary to their wonted succession and order, and go backward; as out of 10 deg. of the Sign into 9 deg. and out of 9 deg. into 8 deg. &c.

Stationary. A Planet is said to be Stationary, when he moves not at all, but stands still in the Heavens; which the superiour Planets do, two, three or four dayes (sometimes) before Retrogradation or Direction.

Orientality. A Planet is said to be Oriental, when he rises before the ☉; so ♄, ♃, ♂, and ☽, are Oriental of him, from the time of their ☌ with him: until the time of their next ☌: Venus and Mercury are Oriental, when they they are in fewer Degrees of the Sign the ☉ is in, then the ☉ himself.

A Planet is said to be Occidental, when he sets after the ☉ in the evening, or is seen above the Horizon when the ☉ is down: so ♄, ♃, ♂, ☽, from the time of their ☌ to their ☍, are Occidental of him; and ☿, when they set after him in the evening.

Occidentality.

When a Planet is between the Bodies of two other Planets, he is then said to be besieged; as ☿ in 5 deg. of ♈, ♂ in 3 deg. of ♈, and ♄ in 7 deg. of ♈: here ☿ is besieged of ♄ and ♂: and for a Planet to be besieged of the Infortunes, is almost as bad as Combustion.

Besieging.

Planets are said to be void of Course, when they are separated from a Planet, and do not apply unto, or meet with the Body or Aspect of another, during the time they be and remain in the Sign they are posited. This accident happeneth very often in the ☽, by reason of the swiftness of her motion above all the rest of the Planets. The ☽ is reputed weak, when void of Course.

Void of Course.

Hayz is nothing else but a Position convenient of a Planet in a Sign of his own Sex and Nature above or under the Earth: as thus: A Masculine and Diurnal Planet in a Masculine Sign above the Earth, in the Day-time, is said to be in his Hayz: and on the contrary, a Fœminine and Nocturnal Planet, in a Fœminine Sign, in the Night-time, under the Earth, is said to be in her Hayz. It is an accidental fortitude they delight in.

Hayz.

And this shall serve for the Terms of Art, and their Explanations, that every Artist ought readily to be acquainted with.

Chap. VI.

Shewing the Significations of the Twelve Cœlestial Houses, and of the Planets posited therein.

SECT. I.

Of the First House.

THis House hath proper Signification of the Life of the Native; his Stature, Form and Shape; the Temperature and Accidents of the Body; the Qualities of the Minde, quæ corporis temperaturam sequuntur, as Galen saith: the Visage, its Fashion, Complexion, and Colour, and all the Parts thereof. It is called, The Angle of the East, The Horoscope, Ascendent, or Ὡροσκόπος, Horizon; because when the ☉, or any other Planet, cometh to the Cusp thereof, they then and there, begin to ascend, and appear visible in our Hemisphere.

The

The Planet ♄ in the first House of a Nativity, produceth many troublous difficulties unto the Native, and many melancholy perturbations; both to the Minde and Body: sometimes he deforms the Body, unless the place he be in, fortune to be the Dignity of ♃ or ♀. If that he be any thing neer the Ascendent, the Native cannot live long: if far off the Degree ascending, and in the Ascendent, his life, if it should be long, will be replete with many dolors, griefs and troubles, that 'twill be a terror for him to live.

♃ in the first, shews a long and prosperous life unto the Native; gives a strong and healthful Body, fair and handsome; of good behaviour, prudent, pious, just and honest. This must be understood when ♃ is well dignified there.

♂ in the Ascendent, Perigrine, and out of all his essential Dignities, declares a short life unto the Native, and that full of afflictions: he will be bold, wrathful, and quarrelsome; a sower of discord, prodigal, and of small estimation; poor and beggerly: he will be subject to wounds and scars in his Head and Face. If ♂ be well dignified, the Native may be fortunate in military affairs; but will be of a violent Minde and Resolution.

☉ in the first, makes the Native honoured among his Brethren: if he be in the Degree of his Exaltation, he will rule over others; will acquire Authority, Honour, and Dignity from Princes: he will have a great increase of Riches: he wil be of long life, and powerful.

♀ makes the Native voluptuous, and given to vain pleasures; yet gives him a good Constitution of Body, a long and healthful life, few or no diseases that are hurtful: a lover of all kindes of delights; as ornaments of the Body, society, Musick, odoriferous things, love-toys, and the like: he will be elegant, and of good manners; given to pleasant studies; much beloved of women.

☿ in the Ascendent, gives a graceful speech, and of good memory; makes the Native wise, and prudent; of profound and deep cogitation, and invention; addicted to the Mathematicks and Merchandizing: he shall understand many Languages, chiefly if in good Aspect of ♂; but if in □ or ☍ unto him, it declares a wound in the Head; and indeed, makes the Native both knavish and thievish: but if he shall be in good Aspect of ♄, or in his Essential Dignities, it declares much Knowledge, and an admirable ingenious Fancy.

☽ in the first, propends the Native to Journeys, and to be mutable and inconstant; of a various and convertible wandring minde; always imployed about Merchandizing or Negotiations: he will be of an indifferent healthful Body, fat and phlegmatick, with some spots or Moles in the Face: he will obtain superiority and Dignity over others; will gain Princes favors, and Riches thereby.

☊ in the Ascendent, gives Honours, Riches, and Favours from Great and Honourable Personages, chiefly in Church-affairs; also a fortunate and powerful life.

But ☋ in the Ascendent always produceth much mischief and trouble, perplexity both of Body and Minde; continual dolor, sorrow, loss and tribulations; scandals and calumnies attend the Native; it vitiates his Face; many times is dangerous to the Eyes. If near the Ascendent, it imports but short life.

⊕, the Part of Fortune in the first, imports much gain to happen to the Native, by his own Labour and Industry; especially, if ♃ or ♀ friendly behold the same: but ♂ or ♄ do much abate its good significations.

Sect.

SECT. 2.

Of the Second House.

This House hath Signification of the Estate, Fortune, and Riches of the Native; and of all things necessary unto Life, Goods moveable, &c. Of Members, it rules the Neck. It is a House Succedent, and follows the Ascendent or Angle of the East. 'Tis called of the Greeks, Ἀναφορά, Anaphora, from the constant Ascentions of the Planets thence towards the East, by the Diurnal motion of the Primum Mobile.

♄ in the second House impedes and destroys the Natives Riches and Gain: nay, although he have all the probable ways and means to be rich, as Nature or the common Fate of man affords; yet if ♄ be in the second House, and ill dignified, his Substance will be wasted, and squandered away he knows not how. I know an eminent and learned Doctor of Physick, now living in London, who hath had at some times most excellent Practice; at no time very bad; and gainful Friends, (as himself hath confessed) almost for a constancy; beside other concomitant helps: yet having ♄ in ♐, in his second House, he could never attain to that Estate that might be termed Rich; although as Frugal of himself, as any man in the World would wish, and as Learned and Discreet a person that can live; a general Scholar. But as the Wise Man concludes, The race is not always to the swift, nor bread to the wise, nor riches unto men of understanding, &c. But if ♄ be well dignified, he rather encreases then diminisheth the Natives Fortune.

♃ in the second House, shews an admirable Fortune, and great encrease of Riches, chiefly from Men and things belonging to the Church or Ecclesiastical Affairs; also from his own ingenious means and endeavours.

♂ in the Second, signifies many troubles, vexations, and perturbations about Riches; also calamities and wants; the destruction of the Native's Stock: he will suffer much damage from all things Martial; Wounds, and Thefts, and sometimes Journeys. I observe, If ♂ be well dignified, he gives an Estate; but endues the Native with so noble a Spirit (you may call it negligent, if you will) that he squanders it away confusedly, vainly, and he knows not how.

☉ in the Second, presages the Native to accumulate much Wealth, and that he shall attain unto a splendid Estate, and that for continuance, if the Sun be well dignified there; yet shall he expend much of his Treasure, by reason of the Honor and magnanimity he will be endowed with. But if the ☉ be ill dignified, if he were born to Crœsus Estate, he would both suddenly and simply consume it.

♀ in the second House shews, the Native shall abound in Riches by Womens means, or Ecclesiastical Preferments: he will always be furnished with Moneys; yet will he spend much upon Concubines, and in following other voluptuous courses: he will also gain well by the death of his Wives.

☿ in the Second, gives the Native much Gain by Arts and Sciences; fortunates him in Merchandize, in all kinde of Writings, Embassyes, Clerkships; and by his Industry and Ingenuity, he shall attain great Honors and Favors from great Persons, and Men in Authority; chiefly, when in ☌, ✶, or △, of ♃ or ♀.

☽ in the Second, makes the Native sollicitous about Riches, and the Goods

Goods of Fortune; yet never setled Riches succeed to any upon such a Position; but the Native is still wavering, now Rich, now Poor; soon Prosperous, soon Unhappy; sometimes in Favor of great Persons, and much Gain thereby; other-sometimes, cast below all probable hopes.

☊, the Dragons Head in the Second, takes off all Want and Penury from the Native, and gives him great Riches, and Hereditaments, and Possessions; Fortune and Prosperity in the same: and this chiefly from things Ecclesiastical.

☋, the Dragons Tail, brings much damage, sorrow, and adverse Fortune to the Native; a certain destruction of his Estate; and signifies, That he will still be in fear and danger (and not without reason) of falling below his ordinary condition. I know where, in a Nativity, the ☋ is posited in the Second; and although the Native be of a considerable Estate, viz. 200 l. per annum; yet hath he much trouble and care to keep (as our Proverbialists use to speak) the Cart upon the Wheels: but is often (to my knowledge) enforced to borrow Moneys, to satisfie the importunities of his Creditors, and to discharge his common and ordinary occasions. I mention such Experiences as these, not so much to illustrate my present Discourse, as to confirm the verity and certainty of the Observations of the ancient Astrologers: and to convince the Carpers at the Art; and open the eyes of the Unbelievers of this our Adamantine Age.

⊕ in the Second, signifies a prosperous and happy Estate unto the Native; and foreshews much Gain from his Imployment and Business: and that he shall have the love of Friends, and Gain by them; and they shall prevent (and keep off) much prejudice and damage from him, and suffer nothing of evil to infest or trouble him.

Of the Third House.

This House represents the Brethren and Sisters of the Native, and in general his Kindred and Neighbours; his Removals; his small or in-land Journeys; his Epistles, Letters, &c. and is called Dea Dia, or the Goddess, signifying Happiness, or Felicity; I conceive, from the Delight and Pleasure a man may be supposed to have from his Brethren, Sisters, Kindred, and Neighbours; as having Signification of them: and this I presume not improperly; for, men commonly fear Strangers, and those they are not acquainted with, or have no knowledge of, more then they do their Brethren, Sisters, or Kindred, &c. Although it be more then probable, such unhappy accidents may so fall out, (as I shall hereafter shew) that the Stranger may prove a Kinsman or Friend; and the Kinsman or Brother, &c. a meer (if not more then a meer) Stranger. The House it self is Cadent, because so far removed from an Angle: and in Man's Body, it represents the Arms and Shoulders.

When ♄ shall be posited in the third House, it portends danger unto the Brethren of the Native; and that there shall be much hate between him and them. It shews much danger unto the Native in small Journeys, and hinders or obstructs him in his Business: he will deceive or transgress in Matters of Faith, or Honesty: in Religion he will prove a dissembling Hypocrite; and in most things, a very Sycophant.

♃ in the Third, fortunates the Native 's Brethren and Kindred, and makes them and the Native mutual Friends: it fortunates the Native in small Journeys, and he shall undertake them with Pleasure, Quiet, and Gain. It addicts him to Religion and Honesty; makes him credulous, devout, and of a good Conscience.

♂ in the Third, signifies much Danger and Prejudice to the Native in small Journeys; that he shall fall into the hands of Thieves and Robbers: he stirs up much Hate between the Native and his Brethren; shews their Infortunacy; many times the Death of them; makes the Native Rash, or Incredulous, Ungodly, a Blasphemer; absque Sacrorum timore. If ♂ be in ♈ or ♏, in the Third, the Native will be Rash and Furious; and may be in danger of committing Fratricide. In the Houses of ♃, he gives Riches, and much Business to the Native. In the Houses of ♄, he gives much hidden Treasure. In the Houses of ♀, he gives many Brethren and Sisters, in whom the Native shall delight. If he be in ☌, neer the ☽, he portends loss by Thieves and Deceivers. But if in his own Houses aspected evilly of ☿, then will the Native be guilty of Fratricide. Always, ♂ in the Third, portends much Labour unto the Native.

☉ in the Third, demonstrates Noble Brethren, and good Journeys to the Native; gives him Administrations, and Offices, and Gifts, from Princes, and great Persons: yet he many times will undergo Imprisonment upon the account of Religion.

♀ in the Third, addicts the Native to Honesty and Religion, and causes him to refrain from Error: shews comely Brethren and Sisters; and much love between the Native and them: the small Journeys he undertakes, will be Prosperous and Fortunate.

☿ in the Third, gives a Propensity to the Mathematicks; and fortunates the Native in Journeys: but if he be afflicted by ♄, ♂ or ☋, he shews the contrary: if with ♃ or ♀, he prospers in Ecclesiastical things; and his Brethren and Kindred are friendly: when he shall participate with ♃ and ♄ there, the Native proves a great Scholar, and of an admirable Fancy and Ingenuity; a great Inventor of new and excellent things: when with ♀, principally in ♎ or ♊, the Native proves an excellent Musician; and by his Education from an Infant, will be inclined to Wisdom and Learning, and things morally Good.

☽ in the Third, declares many Brethren and Sisters, and many friendly, pleasant and prosperous Journeys with them: the Native receives good from his Religious Kindred: he will obtain an Office of Trust from Princes or great Persons, by which he will receive much Honor, and an encrease of Riches.

☊, the Head of the Dragon in the Third, makes the Native Religious, and prefers him by such means; fortunates him in Journeys; gives him fortunate Brethren, and shews their Birth to be Noble.

☋, the Tail in the Third, infortunates the Native 's Journeys; threatens Destruction to his Brethren, and Sisters, and Kindred; and shews much Quarreling and Disagreement between the Native and them: they seldome agree; but are always jarring; yea, sometimes plotting the Destruction of each other, with much violence.

⊕, Part of Fortune, shews many Journeys, and those propitious unto the Native: inclines him to make Religious Visits, which will be gainful unto him; and shews his Brethren and Kindred to delight in Religion and Honesty.

SECT. 4.

Of the Fourth House.

From the fourth House is known the Houses, Lands, Tenements, Inheritances, Hereditaments, Patrimony and Dwelling of the Native; and their several Qualities: it represents the Father, his Quality and Condition, be it good or bad. It is called, Ἀπόγειον, The Angle of the Earth, or North Angle, The Imum Cœli, or Bottom of Heaven. 'Tis Fœminine: and of Members in Man's Body, it rules the Breast and Stomach, &c. It signifies the Conclusion or End of every thing or things.

♄ in this House, destroys the Habitation and Dwelling of the Native; shews the Death of the Father before the Native; and presages the Mother also, to be of short Life. I know where ♄ in a Nativity, was in the fourth House, and in a Revolution of the Natives; ♄ being in ☌ to the ☉, killed both Father and Mother the same yeer: he shews the Destruction of the Lands, &c. of the Native, left him by his Father: my Author says, Jacturam Patrimonii, that he shall destroy, or make shipwrack of his Patrimony: but this must be understood where ♄ is Peregrine, or out of his Essential Dignities; for when ♄ is well dignified, he shews much good by Inheritances and Lands, Husbandry, Fruits of the Earth, Tillage.

♃ in the Fourth, assures the Native of Riches from Lands and Houses, &c. and sometimes Treasure or Riches hidden in the Earth: he shall receive Fortune from Princes and great Persons; many times, Riches without Labour: an increase of his Patrimony: his Father, or Parents will be Honorable all their time; and after death, shall be Enternized in Fame 's Treasury. The Native will attain unto a great Degree of Rule and Dignity; honoured of all; live in great Pomp and Glory all his days.

♂ in the fourth House, makes the Native a Murderer, or a Shedder of Blood; and subjects him to much Calamity and Trouble; destroys his Reputation and Dwelling: hastens the Death of his Father: he will also have Contention with him. It threatens also Damage by Fire, and Wounds, and Hurts in the Body; Molestation, Loss, or Damage, from his Wife, or Wives: he will be excited to all kinde of Violence and Villany: and after he hath finished his Course, according to Nature, will go out like the snuff of a Candle, and leave an unsavory scent behinde him.

☉ in the Fourth, shews Honour and Dignity in Old Age, and a laudable Fortune, and stedfast for a constancy; hidden Treasure, and much Gain; also, a Princely Fame after death. It shews a great Estate to come to the Native from the Father, unless ♂ or ♄ afflict him; but this not, but by the Father's Death.

♀ signifies a stable and firm Inheritance; and shews Rich and Eminent Parents; and that great Persons shall forward the Native in the management of his Affairs; and the later part of his Life shall be very Laudable, Honourable and Glorious.

☿ in this House, shews an excellent Memory, and good Understanding, a Brain apt for Arts and Sciences; acute, and most apt in all Businesses: and the Native by his Industry and Ingenuity, shall accumulate a stable For-

Fortune in Land and Edifices: but nevertheless, he threatens Contention, Strife, and Molestation with those neerly related unto him, or have any Affinity with him.

☽, the Moon in the fourth House, declares the Native to take delight in Buildings, Agriculture or Husbandry, Mills, and Fish-ponds, and Fishing: and he shall gain Wealth thereby. His Parents and he will differ: and together with his Happiness, he will meet with some Vexation and Trouble. If the Nativity be Diurnal, the Evil will happen in the beginning of the Native's Life: if Nocturnal, in the later part thereof.

☊, the Dragon's Head in the Fourth, argues much Gain to accrew unto the Native from Lands, Houses, Inheritances, &c. oftentimes much Gain unthought of, or unexpected, as by things hid and obscured, and the like. It also shews, the Family from whence he springs, to be noble, long-lived, and durable.

☋, the Dragon's Tail, shews much Labour and Sorrow to the Native; a Confusion and Waste of his Patrimony; loss in Lands, Buildings, and all kindes of Edifices; Trouble and Anxiety in the Life or Lives of his Ancestor, or Ancestors; loss of Estimation and Credit.

⊕, the Part of Fortune in the Fourth, demonstrates a stable Patrimony unto the Native; and fortunates him in hidden things, Treasure, and the like: and he shall be fortunate by dealing in Mynes, Minerals, and Metals, and all things of the Earth, if it be not there infortunated.

SECT. 5.

Of the Fifth House.

From this House, is known the Children of the Native, their Conditions, Qualities, and Fortunes. It represents also, his Pleasure and Delight; Plays, Banquets, Revellings, Merriments, &c. It hath Signification of Messengers, Ambassadors, Taverns, Victualing-houses, Gaming, &c. It is the substance of the Father, as being the Second from the Fourth. The Grecian Astrologers term it, Ἀγαθὴ τύχη, Joy, Delight, and Pleasure, from the Joy and Delight Men generally place in their Issue, and expect to receive from them. The House is Masculine, and Succedent, as following the Angle of the North. Of Members in Man's Body, it represents the Heart and Back, being the distance from the first House, as the Sign ♌ is from ♈, the first Sign of the Zodiack.

When ♄ is located in the fifth House, he portends, either no Issue to the Native, or the Death and Destruction of those he shall have; and while they live, they shall prove Cross and Disobedient, bringing much Sorrow and Trouble of Minde unto him: he destroys the Native's Pleasure, and stirs up Contentions and Strifes between him and Messengers or Ambassadors; and presages an adverse or cross Fortune in all his Negotiations.

♃ in the fifth House, declares many Children, and those Dutiful and Obedient to the Native; and he shall be Blessed in them: they shall prove Honourable and Ingenious, and receive Applause and Commendations, from all Persons: it augments the Native 's Delights and Pleasures: it also shews, many Friendships and Donations of Consequence unto the Native, chiefly by some arduous Messages or Ambassages he shall perform, and probably thereby attain unto an eminent Degree of Honour.

♂ posited in the fifth House, and out of all his Essential Dignities, portends unto the Native but few Children; rather a spurious and illegitimate Issue, by the which he shall receive much Sorrow, Grief, Vexation and Trouble. It also shews much Loss and Evil to ensue unto him, by reason of libidinous and prodigal Courses, Playing, and Gaming, and following ill Company, &c. But if ♂ be essentially dignified, then he shews honourable and powerful Children: also, if he be there in the Houses of ♃, he declares an augmentation of their Patrimony, makes them honoured by Embassages.

☉ in the Fifth, is the Denoter of few Children, but those of much Honor and Renown: besides, he declares the Respect and Reverence the Native shall receive from vulgar People, and the Honour and Dignity he will receive from eminent Persons. But if he be there with ♂ or ♄, the Children die; if he be with ♃, the Children may live, and will attain to a splendid Reputation in the World; and the Native shall be accompanied with the choicest Delights.

♀ in the Fifth, denotes much Joy unto the Native, and many Children, and those Prosperous and Fortunate, although the Native himself be but an obscure Person, and of no Fortune or Repute in the World: the Native will prosper in all his Businesses, and will be enclined to all kind of Pleasures and Delights, Love-toys, Banquettings, Musick, Plays, and all manner of Recreations.

☿ in the fifth House, signifies the Native 's Children to be Ingenious, and apt for Study; makes the Native honored of eminent Persons for his Clerkship, Ingenuity, or Skill in the Mathematicks: he may prove Secretary to some Honourable Person, by which he shall gain much Moneys and Credit: he will delight himself in curious Arts, and neat and admirable Inventions, in which he will excel.

☽, when located in the fifth House, declares the Native to Journey often, to go on divers Messages and Ambassages: gives him Honour from the vulgar people: and signifies, that he shall have many Children: he will be much given to Company-keeping, and all kindes of voluptuous Courses, principally revelling and haunting Taverns and Ale-houses.

☊, The Dragon's Head in the fifth House, frees the Native from many Troubles, Calamities and Dangers; gives unto him many Children, and those long-lived, and very Fortunate: the Native receives some publick Employment or Office; gains much thereby: he is delighted with civil Recreations and Pleasures.

☋, The Dragon's Tail in the Fifth, doth either deny Issue, or else portends the Destruction of the Native 's Children, by violent Deaths: much Cruelty and Adversity while they live, makes them Cross, Vexatious and Disobedient unto the Native. It destroys the Native 's Pleasures and Delights; indicates much Evil unto him, to proceed from Vain, Irregular and Voluptuous Courses.

⊕, the Part of Fortune in the fifth House, evilly posited, shews much Loss and Damage to the Native in Banquettings and Plays; and Crosses and Losses in his Estate, by his Children's means: but well posited there, declares much good unto the Native in all things belonging to that House, and prosperity to his Children.

Sect.

SECT. 6.

Of the Sixth House.

Hence is known and discovered the Sickness and Diseases of the Native, their Quality and Cause, Curability and Incurability. It signifies the Unkles and Aunts of the Native; as also his Servants, whom he shall set on work, or imploy: together with all sorts of small Beasts; as the Sheep, Hog, Hare, Dog, &c. and his Gain or Loss thereby. It is called, Κακὴ τύχη, from the Unhappiness or Infelicity and Prejudice Men receive by Sickness, and the Diseases of the Body, and the Damage that often, yea, commonly ensues thereupon; as also by being an obscure and abject place of Heaven, as having no manner of Aspect to, or Affinity with the Ascendent, or first House.

When ♄ in a Nativity, shall be posited in the Sixth, he threatens many Sicknesses and Diseases of the Body, and much Damage from small Beasts; many Crosses in Servants, and an Inobedient Family: he threatens Dolors, Griefs, and sometimes Imprisonments to the Native; and divers remarkable Mischiefs shall be, as it were, inseparable unto the Body.

♃ in the sixth House, in a Nativity, shews the Native to be generally Healthful; and intimates him subject unto very few Diseases: he gives him great Fortune in dealing in small Cattle; his Servants will be Faithful and Honest to him: he shall be Honoured of his Family; and be bettered much by the means of his Father 's Kindred.

♂ in the sixth House, presages unto the Native Hot and Dry Diseases: if evilly affected there, he vitiates the Body, either with Crookedness or Lameness: he Infortunates him both in his Servants, and in small Beasts. But if he be Fortunate in the Sixth, with ♀ in Conjunction, Sextile, or Trine of ☿, the Native proves an excellent Physitian.

☉ in the Sixth, shews Loss in small Beasts; many Perturbations and Troubles from Servants, although in some things they shall be Friendly and Serviceable to him: he demonstrates many Long and Chronical Diseases; chiefly, those of the Minde. But if, together with the Sun 's position in the Sixth, ♂ shall be in the Ascendent, (my Author says) The Father of the Native shall be but of a short Life.

♀ in the sixth House, in a Nativity, shews much Loss and Damage from Servants, chiefly those of the Female Sex: his Diseases will be but few; but those that are, will be caused by venereous Courses; he will be Impotent in (yet extream earnest after) the act of Generation; if he marry, his Wife will be Ignoble, Inobedient, Shameless; and if ♀ be in □, or ☍ of ♂, she will prove Meretricious, but well disposed; and in good Aspect of ♃, then she demonstrates one of excellent Conditions; and also denotes much Gain unto the Native from Servants and all kinde of small Beasts; and will be Honoured of his Family.

☿ posited in the sixth House, in a Nativity, devotes the Native to libidinous Courses, and to be deceived much by Women: if he be in Aspect of ♂ or ♄, he portends unhappy Diseases unto the Native; and many times a violent Death, generally Imprisonments and Damage from Servants.

vants: But if he be well dignified there, then the Native may prove an excellent Arithmetician or Physician.

☽ in the sixth House of a Nativity, declares many Diseases to invade the Native, which shall afflict the Brain. My Author says, Inimicitias cum Mulieribus, damna ab his, rixas cum consanguineis: yet if she shall be Fortunate there, it shews Health of Body, much Good from Servants and Kindred; and Gain by small Cattle.

☊ in the sixth House, declares Good, and Faithful, and Honest Servants; portends Health of Body, and a Good Constitution, or that very few Diseases shall assault the Native: he will be Fortunate in his Father's Kindred, and in Beasts of the smaller sort.

☋, the Dragon's Tail in the sixth House, shews that the Native shall be afflicted with many mischievous Diseases; and crossed, plagued, and perplexed with evil-conditioned Servants. I know where ☋, the Tail, is placed in a Nativity in the sixth House, and the Native hath suffered notorious Prejudice by Servants, viz. one, after one yeer and a half being with him, robbed him of eight-score and ten Pounds, and ran away: and another consumed him as many Goods as amounted unto three-score Pounds, by Play; as afterwards was discovered: besides many several petty and inconsiderable Sums of Money at several times: nay, he hath acknowledged, that he never kept a Servant, (and in his time he hath kept many) but he was at one time or another, one way or another, abused by him; and his Nativity renders no other Reason for the same, but the Position of ☋ in the Sixth. It also threatens much Damage and Loss unto the Native by dealing in small Cattle.

☉ in the sixth House in a Nativity, is very propitious unto the Native; gives him Gain by his Servants, and by the Beasts of smaller kinde he deals in. It denotes the Prosperity and Happiness of his Unkles and Aunts, and those of Kin to his Father.

SECT. 7.

Of the Seventh House.

This House hath Signification properly of Marriage, and denotes what manner of Person the Native shall marry; it also represents the publick Enemies of the Native, his Law-Suits, Contests and Controversies; his Partners, and the Persons he shall generally Traffique or deal withal. Of Members in Man's Body, it rules the Reins and Loyns. It is a House Angular and Fœminine: and of the Greeks termed Καταδυσις, from the Setting of the Sun and Planets there, it being the Occidental part of the Figure, and the place where they disappear with us in this Hemisphere.

If ♄ shall be placed in the seventh House, it being opposite unto the Ascendent, he shews much Danger unto the Life of the Native, and many noxious or hurtful Distempers to invade him; it also exposes him to many violent and dangerous Falls; much Sorrow, many Difficulties, Vexations and Troubles in Marriage: oftentimes it imports a Separation between the Native and his Wife; always a most miserable Marriage, and fit to be pitied: he portends many Diseases in the Secret Parts; and Fistula's, and the Hemorrhoids in the Fundament; Strifes, Quarrels, and Contentions with publick Enemies.

When ♅ shall be posited in the seventh House, he declares the Native to to be victorious over his publick Enemies; shews an honourable Marriage, and much Joy and Pleasure with his Wife: many times the Native gains a great Estate thereby; however, a Vertuous, Honest, Wise, Discreet Woman; whose price (as the Wise Man says) is far above rubies, Prov. 31. 10. It declares much Pleasure and Happiness unto him in his later days also.

♂ in the seventh House, in a Nativity, declares many Perturbations, Quarrels, Strifes, Contentions, and Controversies unto the Native: he will often be engaged in Broyls; and thereby be in danger of Stabbing, or of being Murdered: probatum est: he will perceive many of those which he doth esteem, or hath esteemed as Friends, to turn the most malignant Enemies unto him: he will be propense to Foolish and Prodigal Courses, and to follow the humors of Idle Women, and spend his Estate and Strength on them, and perhaps be conveniently rewarded by them for the same. It also imports many Bickerings and Quarrels between him and his Wife; many Imprisonments and Torments: he will be also of a short Life, (unless ♃ and ♀ prove adjuvant unto him) and may probably end it in his Peregrination.

☉ in the seventh House, declares many Controversies between the Native and Magistrates or Persons in Authority, and much Evil unto him thereby: in his Old Age, or declining Yeers, he will be Honoured and Renowned, and may have a Noble and Vertuous Wife; although in his Younger Days, he will be in very great Peril and Danger, both of the Loss of his Reputation and Estate, by the means of Harlots and lewd Women.

♀ in the seventh House of a Nativity, shews many Marriages and Contracts, and declares the Native to be a great frequenter of Womens Company: he will marry a Pleasant and Beautiful Person, or Persons; and receive Good thereby: and he shall live free from Controversies and Contentions; and shall not be prejudiced by the Malice of Ill-minded People: he will Thrive and Gain by those Persons he shall deal with: but this is to be understood when ♀ is well dignified there: if she be ill, her good Significations are much abated, although not wholly extenuated.

☿ in the seventh House, stirs up many Quarrels and Controversies betwixt the Native and Great and Eminent Women: if he be there in ♂, □ or ☍ of ♄ or ♂, then many publick Enemies will arise against him; by whose Means, and Accusations, and cross-grain'd Informations, he may incur the Sentence or Censure of a Judge, or Chief Magistrate; and so suffer Imprisonment or Exile: his Wife will be in much Danger or Prejudice also; and he will follow many Vicious and Villanous Courses.

☽ in the seventh House, portends Sorrow (or Death sometimes) to the Native in his Younger Yeers; or unpleasant Travels in another Country: and if she be with the ill Aspects of the Infortunes, he may be in danger of a violent Death. But if she be in good Aspect of ♃ or ♀, the Native will receive many advantagious Profits from Women: he will marry more then once; and his Wife, or Wives, will be both Rich and Fair: and he will also be much Honoured in his Old Age: but if she be infortunated (as before) by ♄ or ♂, the Native rarely marries; but follows Corrupt and Vicious Courses, such as he will receive Diseases, Scandals and Disgraces from; and may in a short time repent thereof.

☊, the Dragon's Head in the Seventh, denotes very few Enemies; but portends much Good from Women; and that he shall use their Companies, and Delight therein. It also denotes great Riches with a Wife, or Wives; and shews her to be of an Honest, Prudent, and Excellent Carriage and Behaviour.

☋, the Dragon's Tail in the Seventh, portends many publick Enemies unto the Native, and many prodigious Calumnies, Scandals, and Disgraces from them; and that constantly: but my Author says, It portends (also) their Destruction. It declares a cross and unhappy Marriage, always Brawlings and Contentions between the Native and his Wife; never Quiet; continual Discontents and Murmurings, Jealousies, &c. many times, Separations. It denotes also, the Death or Dissolution of the Wife or Wives.

I should advise all persons, be they of what condition soever, Prince or Peasant, Man or Woman, that have ♄, ♂, or ☋, maliciously posited in the Seventh of their Nativities, not to Marry, but upon good deliberation, and mature consideration; chusing their Husband or Wife, as Seneca advises us to chuse a Friend, viz. by eating a Bushel of Salt with him, or by comparing the Genitures of both, and observing what harmony may be found between them: for certainly, where such configurations happen in a Nativity, and they be augmented (and not remitted or qualified) by the persons Nativity they marry; it were far better they were either buried (or unmarried at the least) then to celebrate any such Marriage at all. How many prodigious mischiefs have ensued upon such miserable Matches? how many persons utterly undone? how much hatred and strife, where once a great deal of love was pretended? how many Families ruined? how many Crowns have been hazarded (some lost) by cross Marriages?

⊕, Part of Fortune, well affected in the seventh House of a Nativity, declares much good unto the Native in all things the seventh House hath Signification of; as in Marriage, frequenting Womens Companies; in Bargains, and Contracts, &c. and gives him Victory and Conquest over his Enemies: but if evilly afflicted there, the contrary happens unto him.

SECT. 8.

Of the Eighth House.

This House hath Signification of the Death of the Native; of the Goods of Men deceased; of Legacies, Wills, Administrations, Deeds; the Dowry of the Wife. All Astrologers deem it Unfortunate, because it hath no manner of Familiarity with the Ascendent: the Greeks term it, Ἀνηρετικὸς, from its Unlucky, Infortunate, and Black Significations; and the Evils it portends unto the Native. Ludovicus de Rigiis, Aphoris. 35. with good reason, characterizeth it thus: Nulla divisio Circuli tunc pessima tamq; crudelis in omnibus quam octava est: (i. e.) There is no part in the Division of the Zodiacal Circle, so ill, so cruel and malicious in all things, as is the Eighth House. The House is Succedent; and of Members in Man's Body, it rules the Secrets.

If ♄ shall be posited in the eighth House, and be essentially fortified, or within the beneficial Rays of ♃ or ♀, he declares unto the Native, Lands and Hereditaments from the Death of some Friends or Relations; chiefly, if the Geniture be nocturnal. But if he be ill located there, and out of all his Essential Dignities; and no way assisted by the Fortunes, it shews unto the Native much sorrow and affliction, and many times threatens a violent Death.

♃ in the eighth House is an Argument of long Life unto the Native; and denotes, that when he expires, it shall be by a natural Death: it gives him also in his Life much Gain by the Wills and Testaments of persons deceased. In a nocturnal Geniture, it generates many Strifes and Evils, by which the Native will suffer: it portends much Loss of Goods. This is to be understood, when ♃ is ill dignified.

♂ in the eighth House, (and both the Luminaries posited in Angles) shews danger of a violent Death; defects in the Eyes; wounds in the Hands and Feet: it threatens loss of Goods, and Poverty to ensue unto him; many Crosses, Troubles and Vexations; and this, when he is out of all his essential Dignities. But if ♂ shall be essentially fortified, many of these Evils will be abated, at least the Violence of them; yet will the Native have Quarrels and Controversies with some persons, about or concerning Riches; as Legacies, Gifts of dead Men, &c.

☉ in the eighth House, declares loss of Estate and Riches by the means of Persons in Authority: many Dangers unto the Life of the Native; but he shall escape, if the ☉ be strong and essentially dignified: if he be evilly beheld of ♂ or ♄ in Watry Signs, the Native will be drowned, or in very great danger of Water; in Earthy, Loss and Destruction attends him, from Thieves and Robbers; in Fiery Signs, danger both to Body and Estate by Fire; if in Airy Signs, it threatens hanging, cruel Torments in prisons; and many times, Death unexpected.

♀ in the eighth House, very seldom giveth Marriage; but generally denies it: yet if the Native marry, (as sometimes it may so fall out) she will be a Widow he marries, and Rich; one that will bring great store of Wealth: he will gain otherways by dead Folks: his Life will not be short, nor will his Death be violent. If ♀ be afflicted there, it shews the Troubles and Adversities of the Native's Mother; and that she shall die before him: it shews also the danger and peril of his Wife and Children.

☿ in the eighth House, denotes an augmentation of the Native's Fortune, by his proper Industry about the Testaments, and Wills, and Legacies of Men deceased; and that his own Death shall not be violent: yet unless ☿ be assisted by the friendly Rays of the Fortunate Planets, he shall have many Contentions and Controversies with his Friends and Neighbours. And if ♄ or ♂ afflict him there, he will be a lying, boasting, quarreling, troublesome person: he will be also infortunate in the forementioned things, and come to an untimely end.

☽ in the eighth House, declares many Evils and Afflictions to happen to the Native from Persons of Eminency and Renown; and he shall suffer Imprisonment, if not a violent Death, by reason of false Testimonies, counterfeit knavish Tricks and Devices: and if the Malevolents afflict him there, he will be Drowned, or in great peril of Water. Si verò bene fuerit constituta, Hæreditates condonat, mortem facilem, vitamq; longam, ac sanam: (i. e.) But if she shall be well constituted, and assisted by the benevolent Rays of Jupiter or Venus, the Native shall then get Possessions and Inheritances: his Death shall be easie, his Life long and Healthful.

☊, the Dragon's Head in the Eighth, prenotes a long and healthful Life, and gives the Native Inheritances and Honours, and Gifts and Legacies, by the means of persons deceased.

☋, the Dragon's Tail in the eighth House, denotes a Loss of Goods; and threatens the Native with a violent Death. This certain, if the ☉, ☽, and Ascendent, are afflicted by the malignant Beams of the Infortunes.

⊕, the Part of Fortune in the Eighth, makes the Native Rich, by the means of dead Folks shooes; chiefly, if assisted by the good Rays of the Fortunes: but if afflicted by ♄ or ♂, or by Stars of their Nature there, the Native gains but poorly by dead Folks.

SECT. 9.

Of the Ninth House.

The ninth House is called Θεὸς, (i. e.) Metus, à Metuo, from Fear, or Doubt: and Astrologers term it the House of Religion; I presume properly, because Men of their Religion should always be doubting, and never be at a setled rest in it, for that there is no perfection (therein) to be attained while we remain on Earth: therefore we have great reason to fear and be afraid of falling away from God and the Truth. It represents the Dreams and Visions of the Native; Voyages or long Journeys; his Knowledge in all Sciences. It signifies his Wives Kindred: as also, all Church-men and Lawyers. The House is Cadent; and of Members in Man's Body, it represents the Thighs and Hips.

When ♄ shall be posited in the ninth House of a Nativity, it portends much Damage and Loss in long Journeys, Sea-voyages, and Travels, unto the Native; makes him hated of Princes; shews him to be an absolute Hypocrite or Dissembler; makes him Heretical, and guilty of great Errors in Matters of Faith and Religion: and he will also be accustomed unto terrible Dreams: But if ♄ be well dignified there, the Native will be propense to the Mathematicks, and to Philosophy; he may prove an admirable Diviner, or Interpreter of Dreams.

♃ posited in the ninth House, gives many Ecclesiastical Honours, Dignities and Preferments unto the Native; makes him sincere in his Faith and Profession, Zealous and true-hearted: his Dreams will generally prove true; and he will be mighty Fortunate, and successful in Sea-Voyages, and long Journeys.

♂ in the Ninth, makes the Native purely Superstitious and Frothy in his Profession; Unstable, Vain-glorious, and oft changing his Religion; never stable or fixed therein: his Dreams will be frivolous and false, and he much puffed up and conceited thereby: his Journeys many and cross: he will prove a Fellow full of Infidelity, a meer Atheist: but if ♂ be well dignified, he foreshews many Fortunate and Honourable Journeys; chiefly, if he go about Military or Church-Matters.

☉, the Sun in the ninth House of a Nativity, shews the Native to be Religious, of a fervent Faith, a True and Zealous Lover of God and Religion, and also of Religious Men: his Journeys will be many, and profitable: he will attain to great Ecclesiastical Preferment, and Honours; chiefly, if he shall be found there in Regal or Kingly Signs.

♀ in the ninth House of a Nativity, portends the Native to be Religious, and one that lives in the Fear of God; he may prove a Priest, or one that is conversant in Ecclesiastical or Church-matters: he will reap much Honour and Profit, by many excellent Inventions, as he will be good at: his Dreams will be filthy, and polluted, and such as may make him him a perfect Abhorrer of Vices: he will be apt to lead a single Life.

☿ in the ninth House of a Nativity, declares the Native to be experienced in occult and obscure things, and the choicest of Arts, as Astrology and the Mathematicks: he will prove very fortunate and happy in Ecclesiastical things; gives him many Journeys, and those profitable unto him. But if Mercury be ill dignified there, then the Native will prove a frenetick Fellow, a Bragger and Boaster of many things, more then he can or ever will be able to perform.

☽ in the Ninth, denotes many long Journeys by Land, or Sea-Voyages; and the Native shall have pleasure and delight in his Peregrinations: he will be subject to many Dreams and Cogitations; and according to the Sign she is in, so will the Native's Inclination be; as if she be in the Houses of ☿, he will be propense unto Astrology and the Mathematicks; in the Houses of ♀, unto Musick, Sculpture and Poetry; in the Houses of ♂, unto Military or War-like Affairs; in the Houses of ♄, he studies Chymistry or the Philosophers Stone; a thing that hath infatuated many, but was never yet (and for ought I know, is never like to be) found of any.

☊, the Dragon's Head in the Ninth, declares the Native to be Religious, and confers on him Riches and Honour, by such means: his Dreams, and Revelations, and Visions, (to speak like an Enthusiast) will for the most part prove true and certain: his Sea-Voyages, or long Land-Journeys, will prove propitious unto him, unless he shall be afflicted by the malignant Beams of the Infortunes there.

☋, the Dragon's Tail posited in the ninth House of a Nativity, discovers the Native to be unstable and wavering in matters of Religion: he will be suspicious, and of evil Faith; he often proves a pestilent Heretick: and if ♄ or ♂ by their Bodies or Aspects, shall afflict the Ninth also, the Native (though he be a Priest) shall be of no Faith, Conscience, or Religion; but an absolute Atheist or Sceptique; and (which is notoriously to be wondred at) if he fortune to preach unto others, his Conscience will never permit him to believe what himself saith: his Dreams will be idle and deceitful; and long Journeys or Voyages to Sea, will be most wretched and unfortunate to him.

⊕, the Part of Fortune in the Ninth, gives many long Journeys unto the Native, and much Business about the Church and Ecclesiastical Affairs, and Gain unto him by the same: and the more excellent shall the Business be, and more large the Gain, if the benevolent Planets shall (by their friendly Rays) assist the Part of Fortune therein.

SECT. 10.

Of the Tenth House.

This is the Angle of the South, the most excellent part of Heaven; and the Latine Astrologers were wont to call it, Cor Cœli; by a Figure that Rhetoricians term a Metaphor; which indeed is only proper to a Body animate: the Greeks call it Μεσουρανος, Medium Cœli, the Middle of Heaven. 'Tis the House of Soveraignty, Kingship, and Dignity; and therefore hath Signification of the Preferment, Honour and Renown of the Native, his Magistery and Profession: It also hath Signification of the Native's Mother, her Condition, and Quality. Of Members in Man's Body, it represents the Knees and Hams.

When ♄ shall be evilly placed in the tenth House of a Nativity, he portends much Loss and Damage unto the Native from Great Persons; and that he shall suffer Restraint, Captivity, and Imprisonment; and shall be in danger or peril of Falls from on High: he generally makes shipwrack of the Native's Preferments and Honours; and presages short Life unto his Mother. If he shall be in ♌ there, with the ☉ or ☽, it signifies unto the Native Imprisonments and Bonds, by the Sentence of a Judge: if he be with ♃ there, he shall be in great peril of Sufferings, although he be no ways culpable: if he shall be with ♂ in the Tenth, the Native shall be put to death for some eminent Fault he shall commit: if ♀ be Lord of the Tenth, and ♄ there, the Native shall suffer much by false Evidence: if ☿ be Lady of the Tenth, and with ♄, he shall suffer many Torments, and be condemned to die. But if ♄ shall be well posited, and in his Essential Dignities, and other ways conveniently fortified; he denotes Riches unto the Native from Eminent Persons, by the means of magnificent and stately Buildings; but his great Profit will be retarded until he have passed the thirtieth yeer of his Age; for ♄ always shews, (as he is the Patron of old Age) more prosperity unto the Native toward his later yeers, then in his youth.

♃ posited in the tenth House, gives unto the Native great Riches, Honour, Dignity and Preferments; and this chiefly by negotiating and following popular Business, or Church-Affairs; by Offices of Judicature, Administrations, Wills, and Legacies, and all things of that Nature.

♂ in the tenth House unfortunate, portends great danger unto the Native of Persecutions and Imprisonment from Magistrates, and Great Persons; and these oftentimes violent: many Quarrels and Controversies with his own Blood and Kindred; chiefly, his Parents: it also imports a short Life unto them. But if ♂ be well posited there, in his Essential Dignities, he then intimates good unto the Native, from his handling divers Businesses; as also, by Martial Men and things.

☉ in the tenth House, gives great Glory, Authority, Honour and Dignity, from Emperors, Kings, Princes, and great Persons; and those far beyond the Condition or Birth of the Native: and by reason of the admirable Inventions he may or shall attain unto, he shall obtain the Love and Friendship of some eminent Person or Persons, that shall exalt or prefer him from a low, even unto a very high Degree.

♀ in the tenth House, gives unto the Native Honours and Preferments by Womens means; favours from Princes: his Fortune shall be enlarged by the Mothers Substance: and in the general, he shall be more Fortunate and Successful in the second part of his Age, then he was in the first.

☿ in the tenth House in a Nativity, denotes the Native to be an excellent Proficient in the Mathematicks; and signifies much Applause unto him for his admirable Inventions, and rare Skill therein: many times it makes him a Secretary or Councellor to a Prince: but if he shall be there, within the malignant Beams of ♂, it presages Danger, Loss, Exile, and much Infelicity: in the evil Aspects of ♄, Persecutions and Imprisonments will then befal him.

☽ in the tenth House, prenotes Honours and Offices unto the Native, from Princes & great Persons; and that he shall be exalted by their means: it also declares much good from the people: it portends also, that in his youth or younger yeers, as his Fortune floats, soon this way, soon that: so in his more riper Age, he may hope for stability therein.

☊: if the Dragon's Head shall be happily and fortunately posited in the tenth House, it denotes Honour and Preferment unto the Native, (let his condition be what it will) and that he shall grow Rich: it also shews him to be of a good and honest Life.

☋, the Dragon's Tail in the Tenth, declares Loss of Honour, Reputation, Credit and Esteem unto the Native; a deprivation of all worldly Honour and Preferment: it throws or precipitates him from the chief pinacle of Dignity, into the very jaws of a Dungeon: sometimes he is condemned to perpetual Imprisonment or Exile; it also portends short Life to the Mother of the Native; and the time she doth live, much infelicity.

⊕, the Part of Fortune in the tenth House, gives the Native Fortune, Honour, Riches and Preferment, from great Persons; chiefly, if his Significations shall be intermixed with the friendly Beams of ♃ or ♀: it denotes him also to be fortunate and happy in the Trade or Profession he shall follow.

SECT. II.

Of the Eleventh House.

This House or Space of Heaven, is in Sextile to the Ascendent, and doth immediately succeed the Heart or principal part of Heaven, and is called of the Greeks, Ἀγαθοδαίμων, (i. e.) bonus genius, the good Dæmon, Angel, or Spirit; from Favour, Friendship and Benignity; and therefore signifies the Friends of the Native, their Condition and Quality; his Confidence and Hopes: as also the Favorites, Counsellors, and Servants of a King. Of Members in the Body of Man, it represents the Legs and Ancles.

When ♄ shall be unfortunately placed in the eleventh House of a Nativity, he shews the Destruction of the Native's Hopes; causes much Sorrow and Discord among the Friends of the Native: and he infortunates him also in his Children, (it being the fifth House from the Seventh) when ♄ is potent and strong in the Eleventh, it blesseth the Native with Saturnine Friends.

♃ in the Eleventh, shews encrease of Fortune, and Dignity, and Honour unto the Native, by the means of Friends: he shall be supplied in his just hopes; he will have many faithful, honest, and sufficient Friends, such as in a time of necessity will not refuse to stick unto him: he shall receive Favours from Magistrates, &c.

♂ in the Eleventh unfortunate, denotes false Friends, and Persons pretending Friendship, that shall prove Enemies unto the Native; vain and deceitful Hopes; diminution of Honour and Substance; and much difficulty in obtaining the things he hopes for: but if he shall be well placed in his Essential Dignities, he denotes much Friendship from Princes; and that he shall prosper in all Martial things.

☉ in the Eleventh, portends many Helps and Assistances from Friends, both old and young, unto the Native; his Hopes will prove no vain Hopes, but prosperous unto him: Great Persons, or Men in Power, shall confer upon him Honours and Dignities, Offices and Preferments, and will prove Friends in earnest unto him.

♀, by being posited in the eleventh House of a Nativity, shews much

Friend-

Friendship unto the Native in his younger yeers ; gives him many faithful Friends and Associates, and those that shall be true unto him in his Counsels and Actions : his Children will be many, and fortunate : and finally, such shall be his good luck, that he shall attain the end of his Hopes.

☿ in the eleventh House, declares many ingenious and prudent Friends unto the Native, viz. such as delight in Sciences and Arts ; Men of rare and curious Invention, and such as can write well: he shall receive much Profit and Advantage by them, and they shall add unto him the sum of his Hopes.

☽, when she is located in the eleventh House, imports the Hopes of the Native to be prosperous ; gives him many Friends, and those no mean Ones: his Children (if he have any) shall be friendly and beneficial unto him: and he shall receive Honours and Profits from persons of Eminency.

☊, the Dragon's Head in the Eleventh, gives the Native much Familiarity and Friendship with Princes, and Great Persons ; and denotes much Honour and Riches from them.

☋, the Dragon's Tail in the Eleventh, separates between the Native and his Friends ; and portends many Strifes and Contentions he shall have with them: he cannot obtain any thing he hopes for, without much difficulty. I know a person, who hath ☋ in the eleventh of his Nativity ; and he protesteth unto me, that many of his choicest and best Friends, have proved (in time) his absolute and prodigious Enemies ; yea, Enemies so violent, that they have sought all probable means to ruine him.

Of the Twelfth House.

This House represents the Imprisonments, Captivities, Banishments, and private Enemies of the Native : it hath also signification of his great Cattle ; as the Ox, Horse, Cow, &c. 'Tis called in Greek, Κακοδαίμων, (e. i.) malus genius, the evil Angel or Spirit. It is a House cadent : and of Members in the Body of Man, it hath relation to the Feet, it being the last of the Houses, as ♓ is of the Signs.

If in a Nativity ♄ shall be posited herein, he portends Fear, Sorrow, Trouble, Captivity and Exile unto the Native ; much Damage from great Beasts, and many Evils and Prejudices from private Enemies: but if ♄ be Essentially dignified, the Native shall be fortunate in great Beasts.

♅ being in this House evilly placed, portends many Calumnies and Reproaches, Poverty and Bondage ; Damage from great Beasts ; Imprisonments : and he will have potent Enemies to rise up against him. But if ♅ be essentially fortified, he gives the Native Victory and Conquest over his private Enemies, and such as would secretly undermine his Reputation ; and mitigates all the former Evils.

♂ posited in the Twelfth of a Nativity, denotes Imprisonment and Trouble unto the Native, by reason of Crimes and Errors, which he shall wilfully commit ; great Loss and Prejudice from Servants, and private private Enemies : he will also be infortunated by dealing in Beasts of the greater sort : many inseparable Diseases of the Body will attend him, according to the Nature of the Sign ♂ is in: my Author saith, he will be subject to Wounds both in his Hands and Feet. If ♂ shall be strong, his Enemies will be potent ; if weak, he need not fear his Enemies.

☉ in the Twelfth, portends great and powerful Adversaries unto the Native, who will cause him to waste and consume much of his Estate and Treasure ; such as will detract from him, and render him infamous : he will be afflicted by Captivity and Imprisonments, and will receive loss from Servants : it denotes an infirm and sickly Body, tormented with long and tedious Diseases.

♀ located in the twelfth House of a Nativity, presages much Loss and Damage to the Native from Women ; and that he shall be Prosecuted, Imprisoned, and in danger of Exile or Banishment by their means. In Nativitate Mulieris decernit meretricem ; in Nativitate viri Uxor sæpe meretrix, ancilla, vilis, cum infamia, & viri detrimento : it oftentimes denotes Men to be vile, and even past all manner of shame.

☿ in the twelfth House, shews the Native to be a great Traffiquer or Dealer in great Beasts ; and that he will be afflicted, and receive Loss thereby : he will busie himself about difficult and unprofitable things : his Enemies will prove Clerks and Sollicitors, or such-like Fellows ; by whose means and procurement, he may sometimes suffer Imprisonment.

☽ in the Twelfth, intimates many Enemies unto the Native, and Imprisonment, Captivity and Impediment from them ; if she be afflicted of ♄ or ♂, the Native's Life will be but short, and he will be in danger of a violent Death ; he will also be in danger of losing much by Servants, and by dealing in the greater sort of Cattle.

☊ the Head of the Dragon in the Twelfth, imports many Enemies unto the Native ; subjects him to Penury and Servitude : it fortunates him in great Beasts.

☋ the Tail of the Dragon in the Twelfth of a Nativity, denotes many Oppressions unto the Enemies of the Native ; yet the Native rarely escapes Prejudice thereby: he is prejudiced by dealing in great Cattle.

⊕, the Part of Fortune, portends either Good, or Evil, by being placed in the twelfth House, according to his constitution there.

And thus much for the general Judgements of the Twelve Houses of Heaven, and the Planets in each of them, in any Nativity.

Pezelius hath a few excellent Verses, which briefly comprehend their Significations, chap. 1. fol. 26. thus :

1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6,
Vita, Lucrum, Fratres, Genitor, Nati, Valetudo,

7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12.
Uxor, Mors, Pietas, Regnum, Benefactaque, Carcer.

Prima

Prima domus Vitam largitur, & altera Nummos,
Tertia dat Fratres, venerandos quarta Parentes,
Prolem quinta dabit, Morbos tibi sexta minatur,
Septima Conjugii domus est, octavaque Mortis,
Religio sequitur, confert tibi decima Honores,
Hinc tibi Amicus erit, postremam Inimicus habebit.

Thus in English:

Th' first House shews, Life; the second wealth doth give;
The third how Brethren, fourth how Parents live;
Issue the fifth; the sixth Diseases bring;
The seventh Wedlock; th' eighth denotes the thing
Call'd Death; the ninth declares Man's Faith and Zeal;
The tenth the glory of a Commonweal;
True Friendship from th' eleventh House is known;
And Sorrow from the twelfth, (to every one.)

CHAP. VII.

Of the Antiscions and Contra-Antiscions of the Planets.

BEfore I come to the several Significations and Descriptions of the Planets, I will insert the Antiscions of them, viz. what they are, and how to be known.

The Antiscions are certain Degrees beholding each other in the Ecliptique Line, equally distant from the Tropicks, viz. ♋ and ♑: for how much your Planet is short of the Tropick in Degrees and Minutes, so much shall his Antiscion be beyond it in Degrees and Minutes; and the Antiscion so found, fortunateth any Star or Planet in the same Degree, or that casteth any Aspect or Benignity thereunto.

Then there are Contra-Antiscions, which do infortunate as much as the others do favour; and those are exactly opposite to the Antiscions in Signs, Degrees and Minutes. Here follows a Table of the Antiscions first in Signs.

Antiscions in Signs.

The Antiscions of the	♊	♋	Planets in Signs.

Here you may see a Planet in ♊, sends his Antiscion to ♋; and a Planet in ♌ to ♉, &c.

But

But to know the Degrees and Minutes of the Antiscions, you must observe this following Table.

The Planets Antiscions in Degrees.			The Planets Antiscions in Min.

15		15	15		45	30		30

The Use of this Table.

Having by the former Table, gained the Antiscion of your Planet in the Sign, enter with the Degree of your Planet in the two first Columns; and in that Column you finde the Degree of your Planet, against it in the other, you have the Degree of your Antiscion: as for example: Suppose your Planet to have eight Degrees, I look for 8 in the first Column, and against it, in the second, I finde 22: which tells me, that is the Antiscion sought. Now, on the contrary, if your Planet be twenty two Degrees, then 8 being against 22, is the Degree of your Antiscion. Observe the same method in the Minutes of your Planet, for to gain the Minutes of your Antiscion.

Note, whatsoever your Planet wants in Degrees of thirty, your Antiscion supplies; and what he falls short in Minutes of sixty, the Remainder is your Antiscion in Minutes. I need not be more copious in a thing so obvious and easie.

CHAP. VIII.

Of the Qualities, Significations, Shapes and Descriptions of the seven Planets; and of the Herbs they govern.

I Shall not here take notice of any Poetical Fictions, concerning the Names of the seven Plantes, or their Governments and Rules; as of Saturn's Reigning in the Golden Age, when the Earth brought forth without Tillage, &c. or of Jupiter his being the Son of Saturn; who, because his Father would have devoured him, expelled him his Kingdom, and gave the Rule of Hell to Pluto, to Neptune the Water, and took Heaven and Earth to himself: or how that Mars was produced of Juno, without the concourse of Royal Jupiter; and so being the Son of Discontent, was called the God of War: of Venus her being the Goddess of Love and Beauty: Mercury, the God of Eloquence, and Messenger in chief to all the rest of the Gods. I shall not (I say) take notice of any such, they being but the witty Inventions of aspiring Pates, and carry a far greater show of Rhetorick, then Reason in them.

Therefore, neglecting fictitious Flourishes, I shall present you with the true Qualities and Natures, Significations, Shapes and Descriptions of the seven Planets, as by Experience and certain Observations, they have been found, and so tranimitted to us by the best Artists, viz.

SECT. 1.

Of the Planet Saturn.

This Planet is termed of Astrologers, Superiorum Altissimus, the highest of all the seven; and appears to our sight, a Star of a Leaden, Swarthy and Pale Colour: he is very slow in his Motion; he is neer thirty yeers in finishing his Circular Revolution: he is by Nature, Cold Nature. and Dry, Masculine and Diurnal; Author of Melancholy and Solitariness; the Greater Infortune.

Dscript. ♄ generally gives a Body of a middle Stature, a Complexion Swarthy, Pale or Muddy; his Eyes are little; a down-cast unpleasing Look; lowring Eye-brows; broad Forehead; Nose flat; Lips thick; holds his Head forward, or stooping; he goes shoveling with his Feet; his Ears are great; Hair black or very dark; his Beard (if any) is very thin: every way a lumpish, heavy, and unpleasing person.

If ♄ be well dignified, the Person or Native represented by him, is grave and sober: he performs all his Actions with Judgement and Discretion: he hath a sharp Fancy, and strong Imagination, and is very studious.

If ♄ be ill dignified, then the Native is malicious, envious, covetous, jealous, jealous, timorous; a meer lying, repining and dissembling Fellow, and of a mistrustful, sordid, sluggish, and suspicious disposition.

He is the Patron of old Men generally, as Grandfathers and Fathers: he also hath signification of Husbandmen, Day-labourers, Clowns and Beggers; Brick-makers, Plummers, Maltsters, Scavengers, Colliers, Gardiners and Chandlers; Sextons and Curriers; Myners and Tanners; Sectarists, Monks and Jesuites. Kindes of Men and Professions.

The meaning whereof in a Nativity, is this: If ♄ be Lord of the Ascendent of a Nativity, and in Configuration with the Significators of the Native's Profession, then will he be propense to a Saturnine Employment or Calling: if well dignified, the Profession will be of the better sort; if ill, of the worser. Et sic in aliis.

The Herbs and Plants appropriable to ♄, are, Barley, Red Beets, Bayfoil, Birdsfoot, Bistort, Buckhorn-Plantane, Cleavers or Goosgrass, Clowns Alheal, Cumfry, Cudweed, Sciatica-Cresses, Crosswort, Darnel, Doddar, Epithimum, Elm-Tree, Fleawort, Flaxweed, Fumitory, stinking Gladwin, Goutwort, Hawkweed, Hemlock, Hemp, Henbane, Horse-Tail, Knapweed, Knotgrass, Meddlar-Tree, Moss, Mullein, Osmond-Royal, Night-shade, Pylewort, Polipodium, Poplar-Tree, Quince-Tree, Rupturewort, Rushes, Solomon's Seal, Saracens-Consound, Service-Tree, Spleenwort, Tamaris, Melancholy-Thistle, black-Thorn, Through-Wax, Tutsan, Woad. Herbs and Plants.

I mention these, for the advantage of the Astrological Physician; who by observing the cause of the Disease from the Nativity, may discover the better what Herbs are fit to cure it.

SECT. 2.

Of the Planet Jupiter.

♃ is a Star of a cleer, bright Azure-Colour; and unto our sight he appeareth far greater then ♄: he finisheth his Course through the twelve Signs, in twelve Yeers, or thereabouts: he is a Planet Masculine and Diurnal; temperately hot and moist: he is the greater Fortune; and the Author of Moderation, Justice, Temperance and Sobriety. Nature.

Generally, ♃ gives a handsome, upright, tall Stature; corpulent, and of a ruddy and pleasant Complexion; the Visage oval; Forehead, high and large; comely gray Eyes; the Hair soft and gentle, and of a lovely Chest-nut-colour, or Auburn-brown: he hath much Beard; and his Body every way handsomely composed; in his Speech he is sober and grave. Descript.

When ♃ is well disposed, the Native is magnanimous, generous and faithful, aiming at honourable and lofty matters: he is wonderful fair in his dealing, and desirous to advantage and benefit others: he is of an excellent Conversation, doing many acts of charity; a very faithful, serious, constant and untainted Friend: he is just, noble and prudent; and a perfect Hater of all unworthy and sordid persons and actions.

But when ♃ is ill disposed, then is the Native a meer prodigal or spendthrift: he wastes and consumes his Patrimony; a Hypocrite in matters of Faith and Religion; an ignorant, careless Fellow, and of a gross, dull Capacity; a cringing, dissembling Companion; a Sceptique or Atheist.

Sub Jove Principes, &c. under the patronage of ♃, are Princes, Judges, Senators, Bishops, Priests, Clergy-men and Civilians of all sorts; Clothiers and Woollen-Drapers. Kindes of Men and Professions.

Herbs and Plants. The Herbs and Plants under ♃, are these following: Agrimony, Alexander, Asparagus, Avens, Bay-Tree, White Beets, Water-Betony, Wood-Betony, Bilberries, Burrage, Bugloss, Chervil, Sweet Cicely, Cinqfoll, Costmary, Dandelion, Docks, Dogs-grass, Endive, Harts-Tongue, Hyssop, Housleek or Sengreen, Liverwort, Lungwort, Sweet Maudlin, Oak-Tree, Red Roses, Sage, Sauce-alone or Jack by the Hedge, Scurvy-Grass, Succory, Ladies Thistles, Bloodwort.

SECT. 3.

Of the Planet Mars.

The Planet ♂ is Superiorum Infimus, the lowest of the three highest Planets, and appeareth unto us of a fiery-red, sparkling, glowing Colour: he is very neer two yeers in finishing his Circuit in the Zodiack:

Nature. he is a Planet Masculine and Nocturnal; and of Nature Hot and Dry, cholerique and fiery: he is the lesser Infortune, (and not the very worst of all the Planets, as one lately, without Authority of good Authors or Reason, affirmed him to be) and indeed the Author of Strife, Quarrels, Controversies and Contentions.

Descript. ♂ represents a Person of a strong able Body, big-boned; but of a middle Stature: his Visage is round; a ruddy brown Complexion; his Hair red, or of a sandy-flaxen, and much curling; a piercing, sharp, hazle Eye; a confident Countenance; of a bold, lofty and undaunted Spirit, fearing nothing.

When ♂ is well dignified, then is the Native of a prudent Behaviour in every thing; in War none excels him: he is confident, bold, and unmoveable; challenges all honour to himself: he will obey no-body willingly; a large Reporter of his own acts; slights, derides and contemns all things in comparison of Victory; yet is he one that is of a prudent and excellent Behaviour in his own Affairs.

But when ♂ is ill dignified, then is the Native a Pratler, without modesty or honesty; a Broacher of Quarrels; a Thief, a perjured or turbulent Fellow, a Promoter of mischiefs; a rash, inhumane, treacherous Fellow; a meer Incendiary, one that neither fears God, or cares for honouring or revencing Man.

Kinder of Men and Professions. ♂ represents all Conquerors, Usurpers, Tyrants, or Princes ruling by Usurpation and Oppression; Generals of Armies, Colonels, Captains, and Souldiers of all sorts: Physitians, Apothecaries, Chirurgeous, Alchymists, Gunners, Sergeants, Bayliffs, Marshals, Butchers, Smiths, Bakers, Thieves, Hangmen, Watch-Makers, Armorers, Cutlers, Barbers, Cooks and Carpenters.

Herbs and Plants. The Herbs and Plants under ♂, are, Arsmart, Asarabacca, Barberries, Sweet Basil, Bramble, Briony, Brook-Lime, Butchers-Broom, Broom, Broom-Rape, Crow-Foot, Cuckow-pint, Cranebill, Cotten-Thistle, Flaxweed, Fursbush, Garlick, Hawthorn, Hops, Masterwort, Mustard, Hedge-Mustard, Naddir, Nettles, Onyons, Pepperwort, Carduus Benedictus, Radish, Horse-Radish, Rhubarb, Rapontick, Bastard-Rhubarb, Thistles, Star-Thistle, Woolly-Thistle, Tobacco, Treacle-Mustard, Mithridate-Mustard, Wold or Weld, Wormwood.

Of the Planet Sol.

The ☉ is the most glorious and refulgent Body of all the Planets; and of Philosophers is called Oculus Mundi, the Eye of the World; and Fons Lucis, the Fountain of Light, from the word שמש, Shemsh, because when he arises or ascends any Horizon, by the dispersing of his Rays, he obscures the lesser Light of the Moon and Stars, and causeth them to disappear; and by reason of which, the Greeks call him Ηλιος, intimating thereby, his super-sufficiency to be, appear, and rule alone: he is indeed Rex Planetarum, the King of the Planets: for whereas the other six do move sometimes by Retrogradation, and other times by Direction, and at sometimes not at all; and mostly are observed soon to be on this side, soon on the other side of the Ecliptique Line; This Princely Body is never found to deviate, but keeps one certain place, viz. the Ecliptique, as his Mansion-house, and is always to be found there.

Nature. He is a Planet Masculine and Diurnal (for he alone by his presence causeth Day, and by his absence Night) of Nature Hot and Dry: but as Astrologers observe, he is much more temperate then ♂: he is going his Circuit through the twelve Signs, twelve Months, viz. a Month in each: by his Motion, we measure Days, and Months, and Yeers; for he is Calamus Mensurans, Time's true measuring-Reed.

Descript. The Sun represents a person of a large corporature, full fleshy Body, large Face, and a broad high Fore-head, Complexion almost of a Saffron or Honey-Colour, great goggle Eyes, and a sharp piercing sight; the Hair yellow or bright Flaxen; much Beard: he is one of a great Spirit, honest, sincere, humane and courteous; of a healthful Constitution, bountiful and well minded.

When the ☉ is well dignified, the Native is then desirous of Rule, and Soveraignty; yet he is prudent, and of incomparable Judgement; one that keeps his promises seriously: he is lofty and high, and will be mighty Industrious to acquire Honour and Repute: he will shew himself courteous and affable to every one: he will be grave, trusty, and secret, and a perfect Hater of sordid men or things.

But if he shall be ill dignified, the Native will be proud, domineering, restless and troublesome, neither having gravity in his words, or sobriety in his actions; a meer vapour, cracking of his Pedigree; a spend-thrift, or hanger on other mens charities.

Kindes of Men and Professions. Persons signified by the ☉, are Emperours, Kings, Princes, Dukes, Marquesses, Earls, Barons, Magistrates of all sorts, Gentlemen, Courtiers in general; of Professions, Gold-Smiths, Minters of Money, Copper-Smiths, Brasiers, Pewterers.

Herbs and Plants. Herbs and Plants attributable to the ☉, are these following: Angelica, Ash-Tree, Balm, One-Blade, Burnet, Butterbur, Camomel, Celandine, Centaury, Eye-bright, Saint John's-wort, Loveage, Marygolds, Misleto, Peony, Saint Peter's-wort, Pimpernel, Rosa Solis, Rosemary, Rhue, Saffron, Tormentil, Turnsole or Heliotropium, Vipers-Bugloss, the Wall-Nut-Tree.

SECT. 5.

Of the Planet Venus.

♀ is a Star of a bright shining colour, and she is called Hæreos, Hesperus, or the Evening-Star, from her being seen after the setting of the Sun; and Lucifer, from her rising and being seen before the Sun riseth: she is neer a twelvemonth a finishing her Revolution: she is a Planet Nocturnal; of Nature, cold and moist; the lesser fortune; the Author of pleasure, mirth and jollity. Nature.

♀ gives the Native a handsome, comely, middle Stature; a plump, round Visage; a curious lovely Complexion; a full Eye, dark, hazle or black; the Hair fair and smooth, and of a light brown; a red-Cherry-Lip; and a decent, neat Mouth; a Body very delightful in all parts, and of an exquisite shape; and a Face full of amorous enticements. Dscript.

When ♀ is well dignified, the Native is of a merry and cheerful Disposition; loving and delighting in pleasures; cleanly and neat in his Apparel, always going neat and spruce; often entangled in Love-matters; zealous in affections; nothing mistrustful, or suspicious; a right vertuous person, either Man or Woman.

But if ♀ shall be ill dignified, the person or Native she signifies, is given to incestuous courses, to ryoting and lewdness; not regarding his Faith, Credit or Reputation; a meer spend-thrift; a Haunter of Taverns, Alehouses, and the company of lewd people; a lazy, pratling, busie-body; Atheistical, immodest Creature.

Persons and Professions. All sorts of Women, Maids, Wives and Widows are under ♀ generally; and of Professions, she represents Silk-men, Mercers, Musicians, Linen-Drapers, Painters, Embroiderers, Jewellers, Perfumers, Players, Lapidaries, Gravers, Sempsters, Chorists, Limners, Picture-drawers, Upholdsters, Glovers, and Exchange-men; and all such as sell or deal in Commodities that adorn and beautifie Women.

Herbs and Plants. Under ♀ are these Herbs and Plants following: Ale-hoof or Ground-Ivie, Alder-Tree, Apple-Tree, stinking Arrach, Arch-Angel, Beans, Ladies Bed-straw, Birch-Tree, Bishops Weed, Blites, Bugle, Burdock, Cherry-Tree, Chickweed, Cich-Pease, Clary, Cocks Head, Colts-Foot, Cow-slips, Daisies, Devils-bit, Elder, Eringo, Feather-few, Figwort, Filipendula, Fox-Gloves, Golden-rod, Gromwel, Groundsel, Herb-Robert, Herb-true-love, Kidneys-wort, Ladies Mantle, Mallows, Mercury, Mints, Motherwort, Mugwort, Nep, Parsnip, Peach-Tree, Pear-Tree, Penyroyal, Periwinkle, Plantane, Plum-Tree, Primroses, Ragwort, Rocket, Damask-Roses, Wood-Sage, Sanicle, Self-heal, Sopewort, Sorrel, Sow-Thistles, Spignel, Straw-berries, Garden-Tansie, Wild Tansie, Tezles, Vervane, Vine-Tree, Violets, Wheat, Yarrow.

Of the Planet Mercury.

The Planet ☿, by reason of his vicinity to the ☉, is rarely to be seen; but when he doth appear, 't is like a Star of a dusky Silver-colour: and he finisheth his Course through the twelve Signs, in somewhat less then twelve Months. We cannot call him either Masculine nor Fœminine, but as he is in configuration of Masculine and Fœminine Planets: he is by Nature Cold and Dry; Author of Thefts, Perjuries, and subtil tricks and devices. Nature.

☿ vulgarly denotes a Person indifferent tall of Stature, straight and upright; his Visage long; high Forehead; long Nose; fair Eyes; thin Lips; sad brown Hair, somewhat black; much on the Head, but little on the Beard; long Arms, Hands and Fingers; the Complexion dark and swarthy, many times of an Olive or Chest-nut-colour. Mr. Lilly saith, in the 78 page of his Introduction, That if ☿ be with ♄, the Native is more heavy; if with ♃, more temperate; with ♂, more rash; with ☉, more gentle; with ♀, more jesting; with ☽, the more shifter. Descript.

When ☿ is well dignified, the Native is of a sharp and subtil Fancy, and hath a penetrating Brain, curious in the search of occult Knowledge; an admirable Logician and Disputant; very eloquent, apprehensive and witty in any thing, learning (almost) every thing without a Teacher: he is naturally desirous of Travellings, and willing to see strange Countries: he is of an unwearied and strong Imagination, and of many witty Inventions.

But when ill dignified, the Native then usually proves a Lyar, a pratling Fellow, a Boaster, a Busie-body, an Author of many strifes and contentions; a Pretender to all manner of Knowledge; but guilty of no solid Learning. If the Native prove a Scholar, his Wit will be troublesome, his Tongue and Pen against every man: he spends much time and money in seeking after foolish and vain Curiosities, such as he is never like to bring to pass: he will prove a pitiful conceited Coxcombe, a very Ass or Ideot, a cheating, thieving, pilfering Fellow.

Herbs and Plants. The Herbs and Plants which are governed by ☿, are these following: Calamint, Carrots, Carraways, Dill, Elecampane, Fennel, Fern, Germander, Hazle-nut-Tree, Hore-hound, Hounds-Tongue, Lavender, Liquoris, Wall-Rue, Maiden-Hair, Sweet Marjoram, Melilot, Money-wort, Mulberry-Tree, Oats, Parsly, Cow-Parsnep, Pellitory of the Wall, Ground-Pine, Rest-Harrow, Samphire, Winter and Summer-Savory, Scabious, Smallage, Sourhernwood, Meadow-Trefoil, Garden-Valerian, Wood-bine or Honey-Suckles.

SECT. 7.

Of the Planet Luna.

I shall not need to describe the Colour of the ☽, it being so vulgarly known; nor yet her several Shapes, they being so commonly and constantly observed, by every one that hath but an eye to see. She finisheth her Revolution through the twelve Signs, in twenty eight days, or thereabout: she is a Planet Fœminine and Nocturnal; and of Nature Cold and Moist.

Nature.

Descript. The ☽ endues the Native with a Stature somewhat above the middle size; a round Face, whitely coloured or pale; grey Eyes, and one a little bigger then the other; much Hair both on the Head and Beard, colour of a brighrish brown; the whole Body is plump, corpulent and phlegmatique; the hands short and fleshy.

When the ☽ is well dignified, the Native is witty and ingenious, and propense to many necessary and delightful Studies: he takes pleasure in Novelties: he is somewhat unstedfast, and oftentimes flits and shifts his Habitations: he is timorous and easily frighted; a Lover and Desirer of Peace; a soft, tender, and well-disposed Creature.

But when the ☽ is ill dignified, the Native then proves a Vagabond, or meer Idle, lazy Companion; a drunken sottish Fellow, delighting to live carelesly and beggerly; one of no Spirit; a Hater of Labour; a mutable, unsetled, inconstant Person.

Persons and Professions. The ☽ is the proper Patron of Queens, Dutchesses, Countesses and Ladies; and together with ♀, of all Women whatsoever: she signifies alsoPilgrims, Travellers, Saylors, Fishermen, Vintners, Tapsters, Brewers, Letter-Carriers, Coachmen, Hunts-men, Mariners, Midwives, Nurses, Maltsters, Hackney-men, Water-men, Chare-women.

Herbs and Plants. The Herbs and Plants governed by the ☽, are these following: Adders-Tongue, Cabbages, Coleworts, Columbines, Water-Cresses, Duck-Weed, Water-flag, Flower-de-Luce, Fluellin, Ivie, Lettice, Water-Lilies, Lose-Strife, Moonwort, Mousear, Orpine, Poppies, Pursiane, Privet, Rattle-Grass, White Roses, White Saxifrage, Burnet-Saxifrage, Winter-Gilliflowers, the Willow-Tree.

A short Description of the Names, Natures, and Significations of the seven Planets, from Ranzovius, fol. 302.

Of Saturn.

Mortales odio infestans & peste maligna,
Falsifer immiti devorat ore senex.
Ora modis miris semper cui livida pallent,
Invidia huic cordi est ambitioque latens.
Turpis, iners animus, frigus sub pectore torquet,
Adjuvat hæredem, vomere scindit humum.

Of

Of Jupiter.

Utilis affulget jucundo sidere terris
Jupiter, unde juvans dicitur esse pater.
Jura, Magistratus, fora, templatuetur & urbes,
Justitia clarus, consiliisque vuget.
Efficit hic magnis gratos, & amator honesti,
Eximo Natos tollit ad alta gradu.

Of Mars.

Igneus ecce micat rubicundo lumine mavors,
Pectus & accensum fervidabilis agit.
Hunc iræ rabies, furor, arma ferocia cædes,
Proditio, bellum, seditioque juvant.
Sæpius apportat claram victoria famam,
Lites ex spoliis dissidiisque facit.

Of Sol.

Sol oculus mundi, vitæ Sol lucis & auctor,
Lucens solus humo, nomina solis habet.
Magnanimos, justos, creat hic & sæpe superbos,
In Solio Regis collocat atque duces.
Longuævos facit hic & magno nomine claros,
Splendida fert Regnum dona favore potens.
Discutit ut tenebras radiis ardentibus atras,
Sic Sol Nativo cuncta calore fovet.

Of Venus.

Hæc Soli vicina Venus nitet aurea vultu,
Blanda, decens, formæ jura potentis habet.
Lætitiam, choreas, lusus amat, otia quærit:
Editus hac amor est, hac genetrice jocus,
Vere novo gaudet, terram fœcundat & æquor,
Commoda dat thalami fœdera, dote beat.

Of Mercury.

Mercurius fertur brevibus levis æthere gyris,
Inconstans, varius, nec statione manet.
Hic aciem ingenii, varias largitur & artes:
Dulcis & orator voce, poeta lyra est.
Mercator bonus est, animi vim mobilis æque,
Applicat ille bonis, applicat ille malis.

Of Luna.

Lana per humentes tenebras & candida bigis
Luce micat fratris: corpora magna creat.
Herbosis habitat ripis, freta cærula ponti
Navigat: extremo quærit in orbe domum.
Dat thalami socias, in regna ablegat & urbes;
Instabilis vitæ mutat & illa genus.

CHAP. IX.

Of the Inclination and Condition of the Native by the Planets in their own Houses, and in the Houses of each other, as they are Lords of a Nativity; after Guido Bonatus.

SECT. 1.

Of Saturn in his own Houses:

Saturn, Significator of a Nativity by Day, fortunate and well disposed, viz. in ♍, ♒, or ♎; and in the Ascendent; denotes the Native to be respected of persons of Honour and Eminency, and of rich Men; and shews him healthful and sound of Body and Minde; and that he shall accumulate Substance and great Wealth; and this the rather, if he shall be found with ☉, in the first, second, or in any other fortunate House or place in the Figure.

But if he be evilly disposed, the Native shall sustain many evils, both of Body and Minde; and the contrary in all respects, of what hath been beforesaid.

♄ in the Houses of ♃.

And if he shall be in ♐ or ♓, and the Nativity Diurnal; the Native shall be fair of Body, and large of Stature; a just person, who shall in future time, heap up much substance, gathered together by just means: if the Birth be Nocturnal, the Native shall be willing to live with Nobles, Great and Rich Persons; and his Father shall go before him to the Grave.

♄ in the Houses of ♂.

But if he be in ♈ or ♏, the Native shall be of a strong able constitution; hard-hearted, of little or no mercy, nor compassion; very wrathful and furious: and if the Nativity be by Night, he shall be doubly the worse.

♄ in

♄ in the House of ☉.

♄ in ♌, in a Diurnal Nativity, the Native will be fortunate, and also his Father; unless something in the Father's Nativity hinder: but if the Nativity be Nocturnal, the contrary is portended, and their depression foreshewn.

♄ in the Houses of ♀.

But if he be found in ♉ or ♎, and the Birth either Diurnal or Nocturnal, the Native shall be given to venereous acts, and chiefly with vile or lewd Women, and shall suffer much by their means: he will be of an evil Complexion; subject to many Sicknesses; one of no Faith, or good Conscience.

♄ in the Houses of ☿.

When in ♊ or ♍, and the Birth either by Day or Night, the Native shall study Sciences, and be given to read many Books, and attain to most Secrets; yet by much study and wearinesse: he shall be much impedited by his words, and most of his study shall turn to his damage and disgrace: he shall receive damage by Men, and chiefly by such whom he shall serve or do good unto; who will not requite his courtesies, but will coyn occasions of evil-speaking against him, and slanders, belying him, in saying he committed those things he never thought of; by which means he shall be reputed as one of an evil Minde and Conscience.

♄ in the House of ☽.

If he shall be in ♋; because ♋ is the sixth Sign from his House, it signifies he shall be burthened with infirmities: the Mother shall be in danger of death in bringing him forth; and in her life-time he shall waste her Goods, or consume his own Substance simply: possibly he may kill her.

SECT. 2.

Of Jupiter in the Houses of Saturn.

♃ in ♍ or ♒, and Lord of a Nativity, free from impediment, the Native will be over-careful and greedy of heaping up Gain; and will shew himself poor and indigent, and live in a vile and wretched manner, always fearing or doubting evils: and in all things that Men take delight in, he shall shew himself both vile and base; by which means, many mischiefs shall happen unto him.

♃ in his own Houses.

And if he found in ♐ or ♓, and the Birth Diurnal, the Native shall be both rich and fortunate; and he shall acquire Riches in great quantity: he shall be discreet, and be known among great Persons and Honorable, and prevail with them: but if the Birth be by Night, it imports great Fortune; but not so much as if it had been Diurnal: he shall dwell in religious Houses, or converse with Men religious, and willingly abide with them.

♃ in the Houses of ♂.

But if he shall be in ♈ or ♏, whatever the Nativity be, it signifies the Native fortunate among Kings, Nobles, great Men, and Souldiers: and he shall be a Man of great stability, and much constancy; and the rather, if ♃ be in an Angle or Succedent House, and in ♈: he shall be also a good Warriour, and skilful Commander; especially of great and renowned Armies.

♃ in the House of ☉.

♃ in ♌, the Nativity being Diurnal, the Native shall be Famous, Renowned, Wise, and of profound Judgement; and shall gladly make his abode with Kings, and shall be beloved of them for little Service; and not onely of the great Ones, but also of the People. And Alboaly saith, If he be in an Angle or Succedent, free from evils and impediments, he shall be the more fortunate, either a King, or one neer him, considering his Pedigree, because he shall transcend that more then Men could imagine; but if the Birth be Nocturnal, the Predictions shall be true; yet much short of what is spoken: nevertheless, he shall continue fortunate and well disposed.

♃ in the Houses of ♀.

If the Birth be by Day, and ♃ in ♉ or ♎, he shall approach unto, or joyn himself with rich Women, shall marry with them, and thereby grow rich; but if the Nativity be Nocturnal, he shall willingly make his abode with Religious Men, and shall be of good Repute, and for that cause be much a Gainer, and increase in Riches.

♃ in the Houses of ☿.

But if he be found in ♊ or ♍, free from impediments, as well in a Diurnal as Nocturnal Nativity; it signifieth, the Native shall very much increase in Wealth; so that he shall be preferred before many other Men; and shall be reputed as Honorable as a King or Covernour.

♃ in the House of ☽.

If ♃ be found in ♋ strong, and fortunate, and well disposed, in a Diurnal Geniture, he signifies Fortune to the Native beyond expectation; and this the greater, if ♃ be in an Angle or Succedent House; but if the Birth be Nocturnal, the same, but much lessened: nevertheless, the Man shall be excellent, and of great fame; and thereby much profit shall redound unto him.

Sect.

SECT. 3.

Of Mars in the Houses of Saturn.

When ♂ is in ♑ or ♒, well disposed, fortunate and strong, the Native shall be bold and magnanimous, given to deeds of Chivalry: he will effect, perfect, and accomplish whatsoever he shall undertake; his Fame shall be exalted, and he shall be of a commanding Spirit: if he be of a Race according, he shall be made a King; and his Fame shall spread abroad into far Countries: he shall mightily waste, as well his own as other Men's Substance. If he have elder Brethren, they shall die before him, or haply he shall be cause of their death; especially if the Lord of the Eighth behold his Significator, or shall be corporally joyned unto him.

♂ in the Houses of ♃.

But if ♂ be in ♐ or ♓, and shall be Significator of the Nativity, and he fortunate and strong; whatever the Nativity be, it betokens, the Native shall have his Residence with Kings, Nobles, and rich Men, and be very much beloved of them; for they shall prefer him to be Ruler over their Affairs, and to command their Armies; and so much the rather, if then ♃ shall be strong, or fortunate, in ♈ or ♏, and no way impedited.

♂ in ♈ or ♏, signifies the Native to be Master of Warlike Instruments, (chiefly in a Nocturnal Birth) as Engines, and such-like: he shall be very ingenious and quick-witted in Geometry: but if the Birth be by day, and ♂ Oriental, not beheld by the Fortunes, it signifies the Native to be wicked, devilish; a backbiter, and traducer of men, and shall make it his work to do them mischief: he shall be subject to occult and hidden diseases; as, Cancers, &c. but if he shall be in ♏, the evils shall be abated.

If ♂ be in ♌, be the birth by day or by night, it signifies many inconveniencies shall happen to the Native, and the Destruction of his Person, and of his Substance: he shall be afflicted with sore Eyes, chiefly the right Eye: he shall be troubled with a weakly Stomach, &c. he will also die a sudden or untimely death; possibly, be either hanged or beheaded; and he shall die by the Hands of Men; and this certain, if ♂ shall be in the tenth House.

♂ in the Houses of ♀.

But if ♂ shall be in ♉ or ♎, it shews the Native to be luxurious, a Fornicator, a Sodomite, and wickedly given to all abominable and filthy Actions; a Deluder of Women, and shall be deluded and deceived by them; shall betroth some under an evil pretence; and by being so addicted, shall bring unto himself great damage and detriment. And Alboaly

Boaly saith, if he be found in ♂, it signifies the Native to be a Traytor, given to falshood, evil minded; a Boaster, and Fornicator: but if in ♎, he shall be wounded in his secret parts.

♂ in the Houses of ☿.

And if he be in ♊ or ♍, whatever the Nativity be, it signifies the Native to be negligent and carnal minded, conversant about temporal things; crafty, knavish, and covetous, to gain by Theft, or other unlawful means: if he give himself to Writing, he shall prove a good Scribe; shall be of a sharp Fancy, and skilful in Tongues, and shall well understand the Books of divers Languages, and be able to explain their meaning: he shall be very ingenious, and excel others in those Sciences.

♂ in the House of ☽.

If ♂ be in ♋, it signifies the Native inconstant, lightly changing his purpose: he shall be of profound Judgement in all Sciences, and profit very much in them: he shall also be given to the study of evil Arts. And Alboaly saith, If he receive a hurt in the secret parts of his Body, he shall suddenly die: he will waste much of the Goods of his Mother; and she will undergo after his Birth, many great and tedious Sicknesses.

SECT. 4.

Of Sol in the Houses of Saturn.

The ☉ Lord of a Nativity, in ♒ or ♑, the Nativity being Diurnal, shews the Native to be a Man of good Quality, benevolous, cheerful, and of good Conversation; soberly delightful, making others merry: he shall be excellent at most Handicrafts, if he will follow them. But if the Nativity be Nocturnal, it imports the Native unstable in every thing that he beginneth or taketh in hand; and suddenly given to change.

☉ in the Houses of ♃.

If in a Diurnal Nativity, you finde ☉ in ♐ or ♓, the Native shall be more excellent then his Neighbours: he shall be famous among Men, and shall joyfully reside with Nobles, and great Personages: but he will be given to lewdness; insomuch that he shall be esteemed as a Fornicator, or incestuous Person; and that he shall commit Fornication with the Wives of his Neighbours, and also with his Mother-in-law.

☉ in the Houses of ♂.

The ☉ in ♈, fortunate and strong, in a Diurnal Birth, imports the Native to be of good esteem, principally among Kings and great Men, and shall willingly follow the Wars perpetually, unless the Lord of the Triplicity of the Sign ascending be against him, who, although he cannot quite prevent what is said, yet may much lessen it: but if the Nativity be Nocturnal, the third part of what hath been said shall onely happen.

But

But if in a Diurn Geniture, the ☉ be in ♏, the Native will be unfortunate, unless the Lords of the Triplicity aforesaid favour him: but whatever his Fortune be, he shall be subject to an ill habit of Body, with Sickness, and the like. Alboaly saith, His Father shall die an evil Death.

But if the Birth be Nocturnal, it signifies the same before spoken, according to the Dispositions of the Lords of the Triplicity, as they are elevated or depressed.

If ☉ in any Nativity, be in ♌, fortunate, in an Angle, especially in the Tenth, or in a Succedent; and chiefly from the Tenth, it portends the Native to be a great King, puissant, and exalted: if he be of a Kingly Race, he shall be capable of great Offices, or some high and eminent Dignities; but if of an indifferent Pedigree, though he attain not the highest Dignity yet shall he come to excellent Honour, great Riches, and Dignity: if of a base Lineage, he shall obtain great Offices and Dignities, much to be admired at; but he shall be fearful, lest by them great mischiefs befal him. And saith Alboaly, In Nocturnal Genitures, it signifieth the weakness of his Father, and his sudden Death; and that the Native shall gain much by Travel.

☉ in the Houses of ♀.

When ☉ is in ♉ or ♎, be the Nativity Diurnal or Nocturnal, it betokens the Native a sincere and just Man, an Expounder of Dreams, and one that can finde out hidden and secret things; yet shall he offend, and fall into uncleanness.

☉ in the Houses of ☿.

If ☉ in a Diurnal Geniture, be in ♊ or ♍, it shews the Native to be well skilled in Sciences, and more expert then others of his time: he shall also be one of good Behaviour, &c. Alboaly saith, Haply he shall be an Astronomer, known and beloved of Kings and Nobles. But in a Nocturnal Nativity, the Native shall be unfortunate and needy, and shall willingly commit evil. And Alboaly saith, In youth he shall be poor; but when he comes to middle Age, he shall grow Rich, and shall be afflicted with Sickness in his secret parts: he shall be an Exorcist, and shall mend the Works of Devils and wicked Persons.

SECT. 5.

Of Venus in the Houses of Saturn.

♀ in ♍ or ♒, whatever the Nativity be, and however she be disposed, it shews the Native shall covet lewd Women, and shall love them though they be deformed: he shall gain them easily; and that his first Wife shall die before him.

♀ in

☿ in the Houses of ♃.

If ☿ be in ♐ or ♓, in a Nocturnal Nativity, it signifies that the Parents of the Native shall hate him without just cause: nevertheless, he shall grow Rich by Noble Women, or by the Marriage of many Wives, or by the Father or Grandfather of them. And if the Nativity be Diurnal, the same shall happen, though not in so full a measure.

☿ in the Houses of ♂.

☿ in ♈ or ♏, be the Birth by Day or Night, it signifies, the Native shall be bitter against Women, shall not willingly converse with them; yet will keep company with the lewd and dishonest sort of them, and shall incur much Damage thereby: he will hardly ever Marry; but if he do, he shall be brought to it with much difficulty, and thereby shall incur much strife and contentions; by reason whereof, many evils shall befal him: and he will be jealous of his Wife; and possibly upon that suspicion, may occasion her death.

☿ in the House of ☉.

When ☿ is in ♌, whatever the Nativity be, it imports the Native to be much inflamed with the love of Women, and shall abound in Luxury and Venery, and affect to abuse Children.

☿ in her own Houses.

But if ☿ be found in ♉ or ♎, whatsoever the Nativity be, it shews the Native shall affect lewd Women; and that he shall be a Fornicator, and in love with Harlots, and thereby shall be defamed; and for his Infamy be made notorious.

☿ in the Houses of ☿.

If ☿ be found in ♊ or ♍, in a Diurnal Nativity, well disposed, she shews the Native to delight in Lymning, and also a Writer of Books; and he shall make Ornaments for Women, viz. vain or wanton Attire; and deal in such things, as shall allure effeminate Persons; and by a specious shew of Hypocrisie, shall insinuate himself into the favour of Men religious: nevertheless, much given to luxury. But if the Nativity be Nocturnal, she being evil and ill disposed, the Native shall do none of those good things beforesaid; but rather the worse.

☿ in the House of ☽.

If ☿ be in ♋ in any Nativity, it betokens the Native inconstant, and swiftly changing from place to place, and from one thing to another; and shall be vitiously affected, and greedy of Gain, and very shamefully luxurious.

Sect.

SECT. 6.

Of Mercury in the Houses of Saturn.

And if ☿ be in ♒ or ♑, in either a Diurnal or Nocturnal Birth, it imports the Native to be full of suspicion, and evil-tongued; yet shall he joyn himself willingly to religious and wise Men.

☿ in the Houses of ♃.

When ☿ in a Diurnal Nativity, shall be in ♐ or ♓, and well fortified, it shews the Native shall abide with Kings, and shall have the disposing or manging of their Affairs: he shall be prudent in Judgement. But if the Birth be by Night, it portends the same, though not in so great a measure.

☿ in the Houses of ♂.

If ☿ be in ♈ or ♏, in either a Diurnal or Nocturnal Birth, be the Native of what condition soever, it shews him to be given to Theft, Falshood, Lying, Craft, and to be encompassed with all manner of Wickedness; and he shall reap much trouble and damage thereby.

☿ in the House of ☉.

But if ☿ be in ♌, well disposed, in any Nativity, the Native shall be in favour with Nobles and great Men: he shall attain Friendship from them, and willingly abide with them. But if he be ill disposed, it signifies the Native to be shameless, wanton, and foolish.

☿ in the Houses of ♀.

If ☿ be in ♉ or ♎, in any Nativity, it signifies the Native cheerful and pleasant; and that he shall attain the knowledge of all Arts, and all o-things whereby Men may be delighted, or shall take pleasure in.

☿ in his own Houses.

When ☿ is in ♊ or ♍, it imports the Native to be vertuous, well disposed and faithful: he shall attain perfection in all Sciences, as well in the practique as speculative part: he shall be also skilful in mechanical Professions.

☿ in the House of ☽.

But if ☿ be in ♋, fortunate and well disposed, it signifies the Native to be bountiful, and much given to Hospitality, willing to do good; not delighting in lasciviousness, but faithful, liberal and beneficent.

SECT. 7.

Of Luna in the Houſes of Saturn.

If ☽ be in ♍ or ♒, well diſpoſed, in a Nocturnal Nativity, and decreaſing in Light, it portends unto the Native ſore Eyes, and Grief in the Reins and Kidneys, &c. But if the Birth be by Day, he ſhall be the leſs afflicted with the aforeſaid Maladies. In any Nativity, (either Diurnal or Nocturnal) it ſhews the Native not to be beloved of Men: for they ſhall endeavour to blaſt his Credit and Repute, and ſhall deſpitefully uſe him; and this, although he deſerve well at their hands.

☽ in the Houſes of ♃.

☽ in ♐ or ♓, in any Nativity, imports the Native to have great power among his Kindred, and ſhall be reputed as their Governour; and his Fame ſhall be ſpread abroad: nevertheleſs, he ſhall be given to Luxury, and to keep company with lewd Women.

☽ in the Houſes of ♂.

When ☽ is in ♈ or ♏, in any Nativity, it ſignifies the Native to be an impudent Perſon, a Thief, abandoning good works, ſtudying miſchief; willingly conſorting with wicked and naughty Perſons, and affecting to converſe with them.

☽ in the Houſe of ☉.

☽ in ♌, in any Nativity, betokens the Native to abide with Kings and great Men; and the rather, if ☽ ſhall be poſited in the firſt or laſt Terms or Decads of ♌.

☽ in the Houſes of ♀.

But if ☽ be in ♉ or ♎, whatever the Nativity be, it ſhews the Native to be inflamed with the Love of Women: but if ſhe be weak and impedited there, yet ſhall he delight to ſport with them; by which means, much profit ſhall redound unto him.

☽ in the Houſes of ☿.

When ☽ is in ♊ or ♍, it ſignifies the Native to be bountiful, leading a good life, not hurting any; one of a good underſtanding, and ingenious; but he ſhall be given to luxury with Maids and young Women.

☽ in her own Houſe.

If ☽ be fortunate in ♋, it declares the Native to dwell with Kings and great Men, and ſhall obtain much good and profit by them. And, ſaith Alboaly, if her Conjunction or Application be evil, it denotes divers Sicknеſſes to happen to the Native: but if fortunate, the Body will be both healthful and temperate.

Here follows a particular Judgement of the twelve Houses of Heaven, in a Nativity; with all the proper Questions thereunto belonging.

Chap. XII.

Of the particular Judgements pertaining to the first House.

SECT. 1.

Whether the Life of the Native may be long or short.

THE prudence of the ancient Astrologers hath been such, that they have by sedulous Observation, and long Experience, discovered divers certain Rules and Maxims, that declare the length or shortness of each Native's Life: which, as they were seriously and curiously excogitated by them, they ought to be the more diligently inspected and heeded by every Artist, that shall calculate and judge of a Nativity. By which means, he may avoid many impertinencies and superlative errors, that otherwise may easily ensue.

It is impossible, that a Traveller who misseth his way at the first, should without much danger, difficulty, and loss of time, hit into the true Road again. And it will certainly be found a frivolous and superfluous labour, for the Astrologer to hunt out the most intricate and obscure parts of a Nativity, (there being so many Labyrinthical turnings and Mæanders therein) and not to consider first, whether the Native's Life may be long or short.

And to the end that no Man (who reads this Book) shall need to fail in his Foundation, or in the beginning of his Work, let him carefully observe these following Rules, they being such that may (almost) be termed infallible, as in many Nativities I have proved, to admiration.

1. An Infortune in the Ascendent, vitiating the Degree thereof, or in Quartile or Opposition unto it.
2. The two Infortunes conjoyned in the Ascendent.
3. The Light of the Time afflicted.
4. The Lord of the Ascendent Combust, Cadent and Retrograde.
5. All the Planets subterranean.
6. The Birth being precisely on a new or Full Moon.
7. ☽ in ☌ of ♄ or ♂, in the sixth, eighth, or twelfth Houses.
8. ☽ in ☐ or ☍ to ♄ or ♂ in the fourth House.
9. ☽ besieged of ☉ and ♂, void of all helps from the Fortunes.
10. If the Light of the Time be eclipsed at the moment of Birth.

These are the general Testimonies of a short Life to be considered in a Nativity: but if none of these happen, the Native may live until some eminent Direction of the ☉, ☽ or Ascendent, unto some malevolent Promittor, prove the cruel Atropos, to cut in two the thred of Life.

SECT. 2.

Of the Giver of Life.

The Giver of Life in a Nativity, called of the Greeks, Ἀφέτης, Apheta, ought next to be enquired after, and considered of; because, as Ptolomy teaches in his Cent. Aphorism 67. Diminuuntur Anni ob excipientis imbecilitatem: the meaning of which in English is thus: The yeers of the Native are diminished and made less, by reason of the imbecility or weakness of the Giver of Life: and on the contrary, the Native's yeers are lengthened and much augmented, when the Giver of Life in a Nativity is strong.

For to finde out the Giver of Life, you must first observe, whether your Nativity be Diurnal * or Nocturnal: if the Birth be Diurnal, and the Sun be found in the seventh, ninth, tenth or eleventh Houses, the only Aphetical places that are proper to him, he shall then be adjudged the Giver of Life in your Nativity. But if the Birth be by Night, and the Moon be found in the Ascendent, seventh, ninth, tenth or eleventh Houses, or within five Degrees of either of their Cusps, then shall she be concluded the Giver of Life in a Nativity: but if in a Nativity, you finde neither the Sun or Moon in any of the aforesaid places, then you ought peremptorily to admit the Horoscope or Ascendent for the Giver of Life.

* Omnes Nativitates Diurnæ confortantur per solem, quando idem configuratur benevolis. Nocturnæ vero per Lunam, quando ipsa aspiciter a benevolis. Herm. Tris. Aphor. 2.

There are some, (neglecting the Ascendent) if they finde not the Sun or Moon so posited as aforesaid, have presumed to prefer that Planet to be the Giver of Life in a Nativity, who hath most Essential Dignities, in the places of the Sun, Moon, and Part of Fortune; provided, he be found in a good House of Heaven, and posited supra Terram, above the Earth.

Others

Others there are, who seem to admit that Planet to be Giver of Life, who hath most Essential Fortitudes in the places of the Moon, and Part of Fortune at Birth, and in the place of the Lunation preceding; chiefly, if he shall be found in an Aphetical place. These are the several Opinions in brief, concerning the Giver of Life, or (to speak after the Arabians) Hylech.

For the two last, I conceive them to be both vain and erronious; and therefore vain, because erronious: for the possibility of the truth hereof, I will urge the following Argument:

Maj. The true and certain Significators of Life, are and ought to be the Propagators or Lengtheners thereof.

Min. The Sun, Moon, and Ὡροσκοπος, are the true and certain Significators of Life.

Conclus. Ergo, They (or some one of them) ought to be the Propagators thereof.

The Major is built upon this ground: Those things onely are to be observed for the continuation of a thing, which are principally and necessarily observed in the Ἐξαρχικὸς, or beginning thereof. Now the Sun, Moon and the Horoscope, are chiefly noted in the beginning of a Nativity; therefore they, or some one of them, ought to be heeded and observed for the continuation of the Native's Life.

The Sun and Moon ought to be observed chiefly in a Nativity, for the purpose aforesaid; because, according to the first Aphorism of * Hermes, they are the Life of all living Creatures: and † Ptolomy affirms the Sun to be the Fountain of vital power, and the Moon of the Natural.

And for the Horoscope or Ascendent, no man that seriously peruseth the 37 Aphorism of Ptolomie's Centiloquium, but must (especially if the Sun and Moon be weak) assign unto it the dignity of being the Giver of Life.

* Sol & Luna post Deum, omnium viventium vita sunt, Herm. Tris.

† Sol est fons vitalis potentiæ, Luna naturalis, Cent. Aphoris. 86.

The minor Proposition is sufficiently proved by the Writings of all Astrologers, who treat of the Art of Nativities: whose testimonies are so numerous and large, that the time would fail me to recite them: and besides, they are as sufficiently known. Having fortified the two Propositions thus, I dare and do pronounce, That the Hylech, or Giver of Life, ought to be elected from the Luminaries and the Ascendent; and the strongest of them, (according to the first Rule) ought to be him. And this shall suffice for the Hylech, Ἀφέτης, or Giver of Life.

SECT. 3.

Of the Giver of yeers, called of the Arabians Alchocoden.

That Planet is by Astrologers termed Alchocoden, who hath most Essential Dignities in the place of the Giver of Life in a Nativity; more especially, if he behold the place where the Hylech or Giver of Life is posited.

If either the ☉ or ☽ fortune to be Hylech, and in House or Exaltation, that Light may then be admitted for Hylech and Alchocoden also; but if either of them be Hylech, and not well essentially fortified; they cannot then be admitted Alchocoden. If many Planets shall seem equal in Dignities, and contend for priority, he that casts a friendly Aspect to the Hylech or Giver of Life, shall be the Alchocoden or Giver of Yeers.

Note, that an Oriental Planet, in a Diurnal Geniture, is preferred before one that is Occidental.

The use of the Alchocoden, is this, according to the Arabick Doctrine: If that he be Essentially dignified, and in an Angle, the Native may then live the old yeers that he signifies: if in a Succedent House, (excepting the eighth) he may live his mean yeers: if upon or in Cadent Houses, he will live then but his small yeers. The yeers, both great, mean and least, that each Planet designeth for the Native's Life, you may behold in the following Table.

Planets.		Old yeers.	Mean yeers.	Least yeers.
♄	Saturn	57	43	30
♃	Iupiter	79	45	12
♂	Mars	66	40	15
☉	Sol	120	69	19
♀	Venus	82	45	8
☿	Mercury	76	48	20
☽	Luna	108	66	25

I am verily perswaded, there is more truth in this, (and divers other things of the Arabians) then is generally made use of, by any Artists now living. If the Art of Directions be but rightly observed, and compared with those Rules belonging to the Hylech and Alchocoden, we shall finde a far greater harmony in the whole Art of Nativities, then as yet we are willing to be acquainted withal. For, while we seem to have arrived at the very marrow of this Science, we (even by neglect, and want of pains) content our selves with the shell or out-side thereof: and may therefore with the Philosopher exclaim, Maxima pars eorum quæ scimus, est minima pars eorum quæ nescimus.

The greatest of our knowledge, is the least
Of what we know not; (hidden is the best.)

And of all Learning, it is most true in this of Nativities: but I shall refer the trial of the Truths hereof, to those who are doubly-diligent in this Study, none else being any way capable thereof, and shall come next to speak

SECT. 4.

Of the Almuten, or Lord of the Nativity.

The Almuten, or Lord of the Geniture, called of the Greeks Κύριος τῆς γενέσεως, is (according to the best Astrologers) that Planet which surmounts all the rest of the Planets in the Nativity, in Essential and Accidental Fortitudes: for the Native will very much be inclined in temperature and disposition to follow the Nature of him in the whole course of his Life: as for example: if Saturn be Almuten, the Native will generally be melancholy, grave and austere: if Iupiter, then he will be honest, just, vertuous and religious in all his actions: if Mars, he will be rash and heady: if Sol, he will be magnanimous and aspiring: if Venus, he will then be courteous, affable, friendly, and much given to mirth and pleasure: if Mercury, to study, and many witty and curious Inventions: if Luna, he will be mutable, and rarely setled in the whole course of his Life.

To

To finde the Almuten, you must do thus: first, collect and gather into a Table, the Dignities and Debilities of the Planets, both Essential and Accidental, (as you are taught in Chap. 11. Sect. 2.) which having done, substract all the Debilities from their Fortitudes; and that Planet who hath most Dignities remaining, (after such Substraction made) shall be admitted Almuten, or Lord of the Geniture.

The Grecian Astrologers had another way to finde out the Almuten of the Figure, and that was this: They curiously observed what Planet had most Essential Dignities in the place of Mercury and Luna, and him they ordained Lord of the Geniture: and this reason they rendered for so doing, viz. because Mercury was principal Lord of the Minde and Spirits, and Luna was Governess of the Body.

But the other way, viz. of electing that Planet which is most Essentially dignified, is the most certain, and (according to my experience) hath the neerest Aspect unto truth.

For though Mercury and Luna be the general Significators of the Minde and Body, &c. yet unless they (or either of them) are dignified as abovesaid, I cannot see how they can be admitted for Almuten of the Figure.

Note, That if two Planets have equal Dignities in your Nativity, that Planet shall be admitted for the Almuten, or Lord of the Geniture, who hath most Essential Dignities in the Ascendent; chiefly, if he shall be Lord of the Ascendent, or shall cast any friendly or benevolent Rays unto the Ascendent, the Lord thereof, or the Sun and Moon.

SECT. 5.

Of the Temperament and Complexion of the Native.

The Temperature and Complexion of the Native, are discovered by mixing the natures of the several Significators together. For as there are four principal Elements, of which the μακρόκοσμος, or the greater World is composed, viz. Fire, Air, Earth and Water: so there are four chief Humours in the μικρόκοσμος, the little World, or Body of Man, that answer them, viz. Choler, Blood, Melancholy and Phlegm: and for the discovering which of these predominate in the Native, you must observe these following Rules.

1. The Horoscope or Sign ascending.
2. The Lord of the Ascendent, and his Position.
3. The Planets in the Ascendent, or aspecting it.
4. The Moon and the Planets she beholds.
5. The Season of the yeer.
6. The Almuten of the Figure.

The twelve Signs are thus to be observed, according to their Triplicities.

Fiery	Triplicity is	♈, ♌, ♐	hot and dry; cholerique.
Airy		♊, ♎, ♒	hot and moist; sanguine.
Earthy		♉, ♍, ♑	cold and dry; melancholy.
Watry		♋, ♏, ♓	cold and moist; phlegmatique.

The

The Seasons of the yeer are varied according to the course of the Sun, thus:

☉ in ♈, ♉, ♊ / ♋, ♌, ♍ / ♎, ♏, ♐ / ♑, ♒, ♓ makes the Spring, Summer, Autumn, Winter, which is hot and moist. hot and dry. cold and dry. cold and moist.

The Qualities of the Planets, are thus:

♄ ☽ ♂ ♀ ☿ Oriental: cold and moist, hot and moist, hot and dry, hot and moist, hot and dry. Occidental: cold and dry. hot and moist. hot and dry. cold and moist. hot and moist.

The Quality of Luna in her several ϕάσεις.

☽ from her ☌ to the first quarter / first □ to the full ☻ / full ☻ to the last □ / last □ to the change is hot and moist. hot and dry. cold and dry. cold and moist.

Having collected the Testimonies by this Table, you are to judge the Temperature and Complexion of the Native by the major part of them, thus:

First, if heat and moisture overcome, the Native is sanguine, and of a gentle, courteous, affable disposition and temper.

Secondly, if heat and driness prevail, he is cholerique, and of a rugged, surly and tyrannical disposition.

Thirdly, if cold and moisture be predominant, the Native is plegmatique; yet is he sometimes given to Mirth.

Fourthly, but if cold and driness surmount the rest, then is the Native melancholy, and of a mental, reserved and close disposition.

Note, if the Testimonies be equal in the Nativity, mix them accoring to these later Rules, and you cannot fail in the finding the temper of the Native.

SECT. 6.

Some choice and excellent Aphorisms, chiefly to be observed in the Manners or Conditions of the Native.

1. A Planet or Planets possessing the Sign ascending, or intercepted therein, shall be the principal Significator of Manners.

2. Observe what Planet hath most Dignities in the Sign ascending, for he shall participate and bear a part in the signification of Manners, with the Planet or Planets in the Ascendent.

3. If there be no Planet in the Ascendent, then that Planet who is joyned joyned to Mercury, either by Body or Aspect, shall represent the Manners of the Native.

4. When any Planet or Planets shall be joyned to the ☽ and ☿, they describe the Manners of the Native, as truely as if there were many Planets in the Horoscope.

5. When a benevolent Planet is Lord of Manners, the Native will be of a laudable and excellent behaviour, as the Nature of the Planet imports.

6. But if the Significator be malevolent, then will the Native be furnished with brutish and corrupt Manners, according to the Planets Nature.

7. When a good Planet (being Significator of Manners) shall be essentially dignified, the Native is of a more noble Demeanor and Behaviour; but if infortunated, the Manners he signifies will be obscured.

8. And if an evil Planet import Manners, and be essentially dignified, the evil he signifies shall be abated: but if he be debilitated, they are more obvious.

9. Saturn Significator of Manners, and strong, the Native is grave, solid and sober; very prudent in his Behaviour; close: if ill, he is envious, covetous, timerous, lying; a meer dissembling person.

10. Jupiter Representer of Manners, well posited, makes the Native magnanimous, fair and faithful in his Dealings: if ill, he is a glozing, fawning Hypocrite, yet of a dull Capacity; a meer Sceptique or Scorner.

11. Mars Lord of Manners, and well posited, the Native is prudent in his Affairs, an Assumer of Honour, a Reporter of incredible things: if ill, he is an Incendiary, an evil disposed person, a perjured and turbulent Fellow.

12. Sol the Dominator of Manners, and fortunate, the Native is humane, courteous, and affable to all: if ill, he is a proud, restless, turbulent, domineering Fellow; one whose promises shall end in smoak.

13. Venus the proper Importer of Manners, signifies (when well placed) a quiet person, one loving mirth, yet very vertuous and faithful: if ill, the Native is given to riot and incest, a meer Dissembler.

14. Mercury the Denoter of Manners, and fortunate, shews the Native mighty propense to Learning, very subtile and witty in every undertaking: if ill, he is of a troublesome, frothy wit; a frenetique, lying, pratling Fellow; a busie-body.

15. Luna the Governess of Manners, and potent, the Native is of a peaceable, quiet disposition, loving novelties, and delighting in studies: but if ill, he is of a sottish, sordid, negligent and careless disposition.

16. Be sure you have great regard to the Moon: for if she be in Conjunction or Aspect with the Significator of Manners, she inclines the Native to be moveable in his disposition; and that's Ptolomie's meaning in these words: Luna ad Stellas figuratio, natum bene agilem facit; quæ si potentes fuerint, effectivam; sin imbeciles, inertem ad agendum commotionem indicant: The Moons Configurations with the Planets, shew the dispositions of the Native; which, if they be strong, he is of a large Spirit, and active; if weak, he is dull, and of no courage; troublesome.

17. Many Planets in the Ascendent, breed variety of Manners (as before) but the most potent Planet, giveth the most durable Manners; and those that are less powerful, will have an influence on the Native, though they appear but as a Star from under a Cloud.

18. The principal Renovations or changes of Manners, are known by the directions of the ☽ and Ascendent to their several Promittors.

19. All

19. All the time the Native is under a good Direction of the ☽ or Ascendent to ♄, he partakes of the good (in his Manners) that ♄ signifies: but if the Direction be evil, he participates of the evil that he imports. Et sic de cæteris.

20. The fixed Stars are also to be considered in the collecting the Manners or Dispositions of the Native: for they augment or remit them, either for evil or good, according to their Nature.

21. If the Significator of Manners be with Caput Medusæ, the Native will be of a dogged and violent Nature; so violent, that he either procures violent death to himself, or occasioneth it to others.

22. The significator of Manners with Oculus ♉, the Bull's Eye, the Native will be fierce, and given to war-like actions, unquiet, seditious: and if the Lord of the Ascendent and ☽, be in ☌ with that Star, the Native often proves a Murtherer.

23. When the Significator of Manners, is with the seven Stars or Pleiades, the Native will be ambitious, turbulent and luxurious.

24. But if the Significator of Manners be found with the Girdle of Orion, the Native will be of a sharp understanding, and of a vast memory; will be very industrious.

25. And if the Lord of Manners be with Cor ♌, he makes the Native magnanimous, of a noble and generous disposition, always aspiring, desirous to bear rule, and is ambitious of governing others.

26. But if with Cor ♏, the Native is ravenous and devouring; a rash, head-strong person; he cannot be reined in with the best presidents of civility; by his obstinacy often brings destruction to himself.

27. When the Signifier of Manners shall be found with Hercules, then the Native is audacious, rash, cruel, subtil, and very crafty; yet hath a seeming shew of magnanimity and valour.

28. But if the Native's Significator of Manners be with Spic. ♍, he will then be of an affable, gentle, and quiet disposition; diligent in the search of studies, admirable in any invention; a faithful, honest, and true-hearted person.

29. If the Lord of Manners be with Lyra, the Native is pretendedly grave and sober; yet generally is wanton and lascivious.

30. The Signifier of Manners with the Eagle, shews a distempered disposition in the Native; sometimes prone to fetch Blood; a bold, confident, valiant person, never yielding to any.

31. When the Signifier of Manners is with Cignus, the Native is ingenious, and wonderful apt to any manner of Learning, and is generally of a high and lofty fancy.

32. The Significator in ♈, makes the Native quick and apprehensive; yet cholerique, and of a froward Nature.

33. In ♉ the Native is laborious and industrious; yet very reserved and subtil, oftentimes deceitful.

34. When in ♊, the Native is apt and witty, somewhat hypocritical; a great Lover of Arts and Sciences; a great Student.

35. When in ♋, the Native is subject to fears; a timerous person, unconstant, wavering and variable.

36. But if in ♌, he makes the Native Majestical, Imperious, cruel and tyrannical; yet in shew very grave and discreet.

37. If in ♍, the Native is a Lover of Arts and all manner of Learning; he is a cunning, subtil, crafty and deceitful person.

38. And when he is in ♎, the Native is universally just, and prone to acts of charity; he makes it his business to do good.

39. But if in ♏, he is both arrogant and impudent; a covetous, scurrilous and scandalous Fellow; yet of a good understanding.

40. When

40. When in ♐, the Native is of a valiant and heroick Spirit; a generous lofty person, and void of fear.

41. If he be in ♑, the Native is of an inconstant Faith, never heeding or regarding engagements or promises; a very leacherous and venereous person.

42. And if he be found in ♒, the Native is humane, affable, and courteous; a sober, grave person, hating envy, and all unworthy and prejudicial thoughts or actions.

43. But if he shall be posited in ♓, the Native is fraudulent and deceitful; a pretender to Religion, yet a very Hypocrite.

These Aphorisms heedfully observed in every Geniture, the Native's Manners and Dispositions (be they never so occult and obscure) may be discovered and made known sufficiently; as my self in many Genitures (some whereof I may one day publish) have experienced.

SECT. 7.

A general Rule to know the Disposition and Inclination of the Native, by observing the Complexion only.

Sanguine.

Those persons that are of a sanguine Complexion, are generally the emblems of honesty; liberal, cheerful, affable and faithful; peace-makers, true, open-hearted and modest; very vertuous and religious.

Melancholy.

Melancholy persons are full of mental reserves, ponderous and slow in conception and resolution; fraudulent, suspicious, inexorable, fearful, sorrowful, froward, ambitious, seldom forgetting injuries, loving no mans esteem but their own; very close and subtil in all their actions.

Cholerique.

The cholerique person is imperious, tyrannical, full of revenge, quarrelsome, apt to anger, importunate, hardy, rash, involving himself in many unnecessary troubles and vexations; a seditious Fellow, yet in many things ingenious and wittily apprehensive: but a very Proteus in his Opinion.

Phlegmatique.

The Phlegmatique person is uxorious and a busie-body, a mutable person, not capable of keeping secrets; a vaporing, bragging, boasting, cracking person, yet a very coward; wonderful slow, dull and sluggish in the performance of any business.

SECT. 8.

How every man (though not acquainted with Astrology) may know his Complexion by his Dreams.

Of sanguine persons Dreams.

These Verses have I borrowd from the works of that worthy Poet, Mr. Tho. May.

There altogether fly in companies,
Of different colours, shapes and qualities,
Bright sanguine Dreams, that seem to cheer the night
With beautious shapes, and rosie-wings as bright
As is the morning; or those Flowers that grace
In midst of Spring, the painted Flora's Face:
Within the Temple merrily do sport,
To whom the little Cupids oft resort:
The little Cupids from fair Venus Grove
Stealing by night, do thither come, and love
With those bright sanguine Dreams to pass away
The hours of night in sports and amorous play.

Cholerique Dreams.

There Dreams of choler in a flame-like hue,
Through th' Air like little fiery Meteors flew
With swift and angry motion to and fro,
As if they sought within that place a Foe.
Sometimes up to the Temples roof on high
They soar, as if they meant to scale the Skie;
Or some impossible Atchievement sought,
T' allay the thirst of an aspiring thought.

Melancholy Dreams.

But down below with sad and heavy cheer,
On dead mens Tombs and every Sepulchre,
The duskie Dreams of Melancholy light,
With sable Wings, like Bats or Birds of Night;
Fluttering in darkest corners here and there,
But all alone, and still each other fear:
Courting dead Skulls, and seeming to invite
The dismal Ghosts, for company by night.

Phlegmatique Dreams.

There all along the Temples whited wall,
Phlegmatique lazy Dreams, not wing'd at all,
But slow like slimy Snails, about do crawl,
And evermore are thence afraid to fall,
And so be drown'd; for on the Floor below,
They do suppose great Pools of Water flow.

SECT. 9.

Of the Natives understanding.

Now, although much of the Native's Understanding be included in the Manners of him; yet may it be discovered more peculiarly from these following Rules:

If Mercury and Luna be well posited in any one's Nativity, it is a sign of a pregnant Understanding; or if they are in Reception, and mutually aspect each other by a ✶ or △, the Native is of an excellent Wit. Et contra.

For Reason, Judgement and Imagination, Proceed from Mercury's configuration
With pale-fac'd Luna: he the Brain and Soul
Doth govern; she, the Body doth controul.

Mercury in Aereal Signs in aspect of the Moon, or beholding the Ascendent, or his Lord, produceth a most excellent Understanding. If Mercury happen to be weaker then the Moon in any Genesis, and in Signs obedient, the Native is (usually) extravagant and brutish, and his passions oversway his reason: But if Mercury fortune to be stronger then the ☽, and in commanding Signs, his Understanding and Reason shall master his wilder passions. Mercury also in good Aspect of the Lord of the Ninth, the Native is of a curious searching Fancy.

Arguments of a good Understanding.

1. Mercury in ♊ or ♍, gives a good Understanding; and the Native that so hath him, shall be of an admirable Judgement.
2. When Mercury is in ♂, ✶ or △ of Luna, neither Cadent, Combust or Retrograde, the Native is ingenious.
3. Mercury in ♒, free from impediment, with ☊, gives an Understanding capable of learning any thing; makes the Native admirable for studying of any Invention.
4. Mercury with Jupiter or Venus, in Aereal Signs, produceth an excellent Genius, and a Fancy capable of any thing.
5. Mercury in ♈, in Reception with ♂, gives a subtil, sharp Wit, and a piercing Understanding.
6. When Mercury is sub terra, under the Earth, the Native is inclinable to Arts and Sciences: but when supra terram, then he is propense to Oratory.
7. But if Mercury be swift in motion, the Native is of a quick and piercing Apprehension; yet is unconstant, and changes his Opinions often.
8. The Moon with either of her Noads, shews the Understanding good, and the Native active and inclinable to any Science; and this especially, if she encrease in light and motion.
9. If Mercury be in an Angle, free from the ill Beams of ♄ or ♂, especially in the Ascendent, the Native is acute and witty; a good Linguist, apt to learn many Languages.
10. Mercury in ♂ of ♄, and ♄ well dignified, the Native is solid and grave; of a profound Judgement, and a deep Understanding.

11. When Mercury is with Jupiter, well posited, the Native is of incomparable Judgment, and proves usually one of great Learning, Honesty and Uprightness.

12. When Mercury is with Mars, and well seated, the Native is of a quick Understanding, hath a great Confidence, proves a good Disputant, an admirable Enditer of any thing, and a very undaunted Writer or Speaker.

13. But if Mercury shall be with Venus, posited as before; then is the Native of an ingenious Understanding in every praise-worthy thing; one of admirable Conceptions, wonderful Eloquent, and given to Poetry.

14. The more fortified Mercury is, the greater is the Native's Understanding, and the more excellent are his Conceptions; and observe what Mercury signifies by being in conjunction with any of the Planets, and they well fortified: for the same he signifies, by being in ✶ or △ of them, if that he be well located in the Nativity.

SECT. 10.

Arguments of a dull and stupid understanding.

1. The Moon in ☌ of Mercury, from Angles, shews the Native to be of a very stupid, stubborn and a most turbulent frenetique Wit.

2. If they are in □, the Native is of a rugged and unpolished Understanding.

3. When Mercury is Peregrine and in Detriment, the Native is of a seditious Wit; a hair-brain'd Person, and of an impudent and rash Behaviour.

4. If Mercury be Retrograde or Combust in ♉ or ♍, and in the twelfth, sixth or eighth Houses, and in no Aspect of Luna, or the Lord of the Ascendent, the Native is of a simple, raw, and rude Understanding.

5. If Mercury be slow in motion, and in via Combusta, the Combust way, which is from the 15 deg. of ♎, to the 15 deg. of ♏, the Native hath poor Conception, is of a stuttering Speech, an impertinent and troublesome Wit; one given to meddle with niceties.

6. If Mercury be occidental, and in no Aspect of the Moon, or fortunate Planets, the Native is a cunning close Dissembler.

7. When Mercury is Cadent, Combust, and slow in motion, and afflicted by ♄ or ♂, the Native is a meer Dolt in understanding.

8. Mercury in ♋, ♏ or ♓, and in no configuration of ♃ or ♀, the Native is a stark Fool, an Ideot.

9. Mercury in □ or ☍ to ♂, shews the Native to have a cruel, destructive, malicious Wit and Understanding.

And this may serve for the Understanding of any Native, be it good or evil.

Sect.

SECT. 11.

Of the form and stature of the Body.

Astrologers judge of the stature from the Sign ascending, the Lord thereof, and Planet posited therein. If many Planets happen to be in the Ascendent, their Significations are to be mixed, according to the several shapes they give; as I have before noted. Then the Luminaries are to be considered, according to the Signs they are in. The fixed Stars ought not to be neglected in this Judgement, for they help much.

SECT. 12.

Some special Rules to be observed in the stature of the Native.

1. Saturn Oriental, in the Ascendent, or beholding it, gives an indifferent Stature, more then of the middle size; yet somewhat spare: Occidental, a mean Stature, inclining to brevity.

2. Jupiter Oriental, gives a handsome large Corporature, tall: but Occidental, a moderate Stature; yet pretty big and well-set.

3. Mars Oriental, the Native is of good Stature, and a strong able Body: Occidental, middle Corporature, and a strong well-truss'd Person.

4. The Sun gives a large Corporature, as in his Description.

5. Venus, Oriental, gives a tall, straight, and slender Body: Occidental, a short well-knit Person.

6. Mercury Oriental, gives a handsome, upright, tall Stature: but Occidental, a very low and small Corporature.

7. The Moon increasing in Light, gives a plump, full and indifferent tall Stature; decreasing, a short mudling Creature.

8. Planets having great North-Latitude, denote large corpulent Bodies: but having South-Latitude, lesser; yet those are of a convenient Stature. If they have South-Latitude, the Natives are more nimble and active: if North, they are more slothful and sluggish; according to * Ptolomy.

9. When Planets are in Aereal or Fiery Signs, they give the larger and fuller Statures: but when in Earthy or Watry, they signifie the shorter and lesser Bodies.

10. The Significator of the Corporature in ♂, ✶ or △ of the Sun, gives the Native a very large Body, and one of great Dimensions.

11. If the Planet that signifies the Stature of the Native be essentially fortified, the Body is the more proportionable, and comly: if he be weak and debilitated, then the Body is the more indecent and unhandsome.

12. Great regard ought to be had to the Nature of the Sign ascending, the place of the Moon, and Lord of the Ascendent: for the true Stature or Proportion of Body is found by observing them.

13. Commix the fixed Stars in your Judgement of the Corporature, according to their Natures; for their significations are great herein; chiefly, if their Constellations be great.

* ---Si Latitudo australis est, agiles erunt; sin borealis, inagiles, Ptol. 9. Centiloq. Aphor. 53.

SECT. 13.

Of Dwarfs or little Persons.

Although (according to the Pleasure of God and Nature) some Men and Women are much less then others, yet they are not to be despised; nor are they more to be wondred at, then those of a larger size or proportion; since a due symmetry is to observed in thei bodies throughout. And undoubtedly, as noble a soul may live in, and inhabit a little body, as in one of far larger dimensions: neither are they to be taken as errors of Nature; for certainly, it is no sin to be little: It is [God] that hath made us, and not we our selves.; as the Regal Psalmist * hymneth.

*---Ipsum esse-cisse nos, non autem nos ipsos,--Psa.100. 3.

But to our purpose. That this Art may appear sufficient to answer all doubts, even the most difficult, you may observe these following Aphorisms:

1. If Signs of brevity ascend in a Nativity, and the two Luminaries therein; the Native will be low of stature.

2. If an earthy Sign shall ascend the Horoscope, and the ☉ and ☽, and Lord of the Ascendent shall be in earthy Signs also; the Native then born is of very little stature.

3. The Moon and the Lord of the Ascendent without Latitude, in the later degrees of Signs, chiefly in those whom we call void; the Native will be a Dwarf or very little Person.

4. When most of the Planets be in earthy Signs, beholding the Moon or the Ascendent; the Native will be a little Person.

5. If ♈ shall ascend on the Eastern Finitor in a Nativity, and the ☽ therein, and ♄ (who is Lord of ♈) in ♋, under the Earth, chiefly in the sixth House; the Person then born, will be a Dwarf: and this I have really experienced.

6. Capricorn ascending in a Nativity, and ☿ and ♀ joyned unto ♄ therein, the Native will be a Dwarf. There is a Person now living in Crooked-Lane, London, who was born in the yeer 1607. Decemb. 21. 8 ho. 30 min. A. M. who hath this position in his Nativity; and he is a Dwarf indeed. Any one that hath a minde (and skill withal) may set the Figure thereof, and so satisfie themselves thereof.

SECT. 14.

Of monstrous and deformed Births.

Many and divers have the Opinions of Philosophers and Physicians been concerning Monsters, &c. some referring the matter thereof to the Imagination of the woman only: And by this means, saith Fernellius, a woman at Pisa, being accustomed to kneel and pray to the picture of John the Baptist clothed in Camels hair, in time was known to bring forth an hairy childe.

Strato and some others alledge, That when Monsters are engendred, the Matrix suffereth distortion; and that being at the time of the conception crooked, the Birth which follows the form thereof, must be crooked also.

Empedocles the Philosopher (as urged by Plutarch) refers the Conception of Monsters, to the abundance or defect of the seed; either through the turbulent rocking or troubled moving thereof, or the distraction or division of it into sundry parts. Astrologers refer the cause hereof to the Influences of the Stars, viz. their ill configurations at the time of the conception; which later Testimony, I am the more inclineable to believe, because (as Sir * Christopher Heydon, Author of that unanswerable Defence of Astrology, learnedly concludes) the time of Conception is to be observed for the Accidents of the Child in the Womb; and the time of Birth, for what shall happen to the Native afterward.

* Against Chambers, chap.6.

Object. But some may object: If the time of Conception shews the Accidents of the Child in the Womb, how is it that Astrologers lay down certain Aphorisms to judge of the Monstrosity or deformity of the Child from the Nativity?

I answer, That Astrologers do not lay down Aphorisms to judge of the Deformitie, &c. of the Birth, from the time thereof, as if such Accidents were occasioned by the Configurations of the Stars at the Birth; for should they so do, the cause must preposterously succeed the effect; and they appear contradictious in their Art: But thus; to shew the great harmony of the Heavens, how the Figures thereof, both at the Conception and Birth, do agree and sympathize with each other. So that although Arguments of Monstrosity, &c. are to be gathered from the Radix or Birth-Hour of the Native; yet the true causes of such Accidents are properly and alone to be derived from the time of Conception; and this doth not contradict, but rather proves an excellent harmony between the Conception and Birth-Hour; and argues the Astrologer ingenious, in leaving Rules and Aphorisms, by which we may come to the knowledge of the most difficult (and hard to be believed) Accidents. Wherefore I judge it necessary, that every Artist inspect the Figure of the * Conception, as well as Birth, for the discovering the Monstrosity, &c. of the Native; for the Child most certainly with its defects, groweth gradually in the Womb of the Mother, from the time of the Conception. Thence therefore arises the true Original causes of all Monstrosities and other Deformities.

* How to finde the moment of Conception, I have taught, ch. 1. of this Book.

Aphorisms concerning Monstrosity, &c. to be observed in the Conceptional Figure.

1. If in the moment of Conception, the Ascendent, Sun, and Moon, be afflicted in obscure parts of the Figure, the Native then begotten, will be monstrous or deformed: regard the Signs of the Significators, and so may you know the part of the Body afflicted.

2. When violent fixed Stars of the Nature of ♄ or ♂, shall possess the Ascendent, the places of the Lord thereof, or the ☽, the person then begotten will be mishapen.

3. When ♄ or ♂, having no Dignities in the Ascendent, shall cast a Quartile or Opposition thereunto, or be in Conjunction therein, chiefly in ♊, ♍, ♐, or ♓, and in Azimene Degrees; the Childe then conceived will be monstrously mishapen.

4. If the Moon, or the Lord of the Ascendent, shall be combust of ☉ in the sixth or twelfth Houses of the Figure, and in via Combusta, the Combust way; the Native, being then conceived, will be deformed, &c. I know (and am well acquainted with) a person, who at the time of his Conception, had ☽ Combust of the ☉ in 28 deg. of Libra, and the Lord of the Ascendent in Taurus, in the twelfth House, in conjunction with Caput Algol, according to his Longitude; and he is wry-necked, and otherways very much deformed.

5. Together with the Signs and Degrees of the Zodiack, wherein the the Significators are; consider the Images of the Asterisms therewith ascending, according to the Globe, or by Hartgill's Tables of the fixed Stars, lately published: for from thence you may the more fully satisfie your self concerning any Monstrosity or Deformity.

Testimonies of Monstrosity to be observed from the Figure of Birth.

1. When the malevolent Planets from Angles shall afflict the Sign ascending, chiefly from the Medium Cœli, or by being posited in the Ascendent; the Native being then born, will be monstrous or deformed.

2. If in a Nativity, the Sun or Moon have no familiarity with the Ascendent, as by being posited in the sixth, eighth or twelfth Houses, they have not; and their Dispositors afflicted by ♄ or ♂; the Person then born shall be deformed.

3. When the chief Lord of the preceding ☌ or ☍ of the Luminaries, shall be in no manner of friendly Aspect with the Ascendent, or the Sun or Moon, and Lord or Almuten of the Figure of Birth; the Native then born, shall be monstrous or deformed.

4. If in the Figure of a Nativity, the Moon shall be neer her Noads, viz. the Head and Tail of the Dragon, and in Quartile or Opposition unto Saturn or Mars from Angles; the Native who is then born, shall be mishapen and crooked, or bunch-back'd.

5. When in a Nativity, the Luminaries shall be joyned to the Infortunes, viz. Saturn or Mars; the Native then born shall be vitiated in that Member represented by the Sign they are in.

6. The Maleficals in Angles being Lords of the sixth, eighth or twelfth Houses, and afflicting the Moon or Lord of the Ascendent, the Native fails not of being deformed.

7. When the Moon and Mars in a Nativity, shall be with ☋, the Dragon's Tail, in the twelfth House, and Jupiter and Sol in the Fourth; the Person then born shall be crooked and deformed.

8. When the Luminaries and the Lord of the Ascendent shall be in bowed or crooked Signs, with the Head or Tail of the Dragon, aspected of the Infortunes, chiefly in Angles; the Native then born shall be crooked and deformed.

9. Saturn in □ or ☍ to the Ascendent, or the Moon, in unfortunate Degrees; and the Lord of the Ascendent and Dispositor of the Moon, in □ or ☍ to one another; the Native is mutilated, or hath a crooked ill-shapen Body.

Note, When any of the Significators of the Monstrosity or Deformity shall be in Asterisms of ill signification, or be in those Degrees of the Signs we call Azimene, the Monstrosity or Deformity shall be the more remarkable and prodigious. What those Azimene Degrees be, you are taught by the Table in Chap. 4. of this Book.

SECT. 15.

Of the Colour and Proportion of the Face.

Although in the foregoing Descriptions of the Planets, the Face, its Form, Figure, and Colour, is described, with the rest of the parts of the Body; yet not to turn aside from the Method of the Learned in this Science; I deem it no wayes Tautological, or unnecessary, to insert here the particular Testimonies thereof. And they are these following.

1. Saturn denotes a long Visage, Black, Swarthy, and Lowring.

2. ♂ Mars represents a full Sun-burnt Visage.

3. Sol declares a full round Face, high Forehead, and Sallow complexion. If he be in ♈, ♉, ♊, the Visage is Fair, and comely. If in ♋, ♌, ♍, then he gives a round Meagre Complexion. If in ♎, ♏, ♐, he imports an oval Visage, Sun-burnt, and Swartish. But if in ♑, ♒, ♓, then he gives a round, pale, but indifferent comely Face.

4. Jupiter and Venus denote a most comely Visage, and very Fair: when they are free from affliction, the more comely.

5. Saturn, Mars, or Dragons Tayl infortunating the Ascendent, declares a disfigured Visage, and a hard-favoured Complexion.

6. ☿ Mercury his Signification, in this Judgement (as in all others) is to be mixed with that Planet he is in configuration with; and thence you are to judge of the Visage he denotes.

7. When the Luminaries are weak, the Native hath an oblique or crooked look; or else is blemished in the Eyes, otherwayes.

8. The principal Rule that I make use of, for the discovery of the Form, Figure, and colour of the Face, is this; viz. To mix the significations of the Signe Ascending, with the Planet or Planets in the Ascendent, or beholding the same, or the Lord of the Ascendent, and the Moon. As for Example.

Suppose Libra ascend in a Nativity, and Saturn be either in the Ascendent, or beholding it; I first consider the Description of Libra, which represents a round, comely, and Beautiful Face: and second, the Description of Saturn, which is a Visage black, swarthy and lowring. But now, for as much as Saturn hath exaltation in Libra, I do not take him to spoil or mar the Visage, absolutely; but the excellent Beauty and Comelinesse, signified by Libra, shall by him be turned into a handsome ordinary comlinesse: the proportion that Libra gives still remaining, onely the beauty abated. Understand the like of the rest of the Planets.

9. Humane Signes Ascending, shew a fair, handsome, and cleer Visage: and the more comely shall the Visage be, when Jupiter or Venus, or Stars of a jovial or venereal nature, are posited at the same time in the Ascendent. And this shall serve for the discovery of the Fashion and Figure of the Face.

SECT. 16.

Of the Lord of the Ascendent in any of the Twelve Cælestial Houses.

1. When the Lord of the Ascendent of a Nativity shall be posited in the Ascendent, the Native shall have a fortunate and happy Life, and he will be protected and defended from many eminent dangers: he shall also be much esteemed. It also discerns much honour unto him, from those of his own Houshold, and others with whom he shall have to doe.

2. If in the Second House, he shall obtain great Riches by his own Labour and industry; chiefly if he be well affected, or in reception with the Lord of the Second. But if he be evilly affected, it declares loss of the Goods of Fortune.

3. Being posited in the Third (as in a fruitful Sign) he denotes many Brethren, and shews him apt to Travel; and if he be there well posited, it declares Prosperity by both; but if ill, the contrary.

4. But if he shall be posited in the Fourth House, it presages good from Ancient People, from the Father or Mother; denotes an ample Patrimony; And he will gain much by Hereditaments, Lands and Houses, &c.

5. When he shall be posited in the Fifth House, and not impedited, he declares the great joy Men shall have in their Children; and that they shall gain much by Messages, or Embassages, from his Friends and Companions; and he will also be given to all kinde of Pleasures.

6. If in the Sixth House, the Native is generally afflicted with Sickness, chiefly in that part of his Body represented by the Sign he is in; he will be given to idleness, and sloth, and to hate labour.

7. Being located in the Seventh, he inclines to strife, quarrels, and contentions; the Native is an obsequious Servant of the Fœminine Sex, and many times by their means falls into quarrels and troubles.

8. But when he is placed in the Eighth House, the Native is pensive, and Melancholy, weak, and troubled in Minde; and oftentimes of a short Life.

9. When he shall be placed in the Ninth of a Nativity, the Native is apt to acquire Knowledge; he will be Honest and Religious, and will travail much, and receive advantage thereby. But by being ill posited there, he will be oft in danger of falling into the hands of Thieves, and Robbers, in his long Journies.

10. If in the Tenth House, the Native will be excellent in the Magistery or Profession he followes; he will obtain many great and eminent Friends, and will be honored by them.

11. Being posited in the Eleventh House, the Native acquires many Friends, and those that shall much respect the Native. Sometimes it denotes but few Children, yet those of good Manners and Behaviour.

12. But when he shall be posited in the Twelfth, the Native will have many Enemies, and meet with much evil, and many oppositions from them; he will be in danger of much imprisonment, and many molestations and infortunacies, from malicious Persons.

Here I might also have spoken somewhat of the general Fate of the Native, whether Good or Infortunate. But that depending (in my opinion) more properly on the Effects of the Directions of the five Hylegiacals unto their several Promittors (for they chiefly discover the time of the most obscure accidents happening to the Native, with their Kinds, and Continuance) I shall refer the ingenious Artist thereunto, where (together with other concomitant helps, as Revolutions, Transits, &c.) he may meet with Accidents of all sorts; and may thence learn when (in any Nativity) they initiate, how long Continue, and when Period.

This therefore shall serve for the explanation of the Judgements belonging longing to the First House, as being every thing properly necessary and useful thereunto. I shall be more concise and brief in most of the other Houses, for that every of them, Viis & modis, have relation unto this.

Chap. XIII.

Of Judgements and Aphorisms pertaining to the Second House.

SECT. 1.

Of the Significators of the Natives Estate, or Poverty.

THe Significators of the Natives Estate or Poverty, are the Sign of the Second House, the Lord thereof; the Planet or Planets in the Second, with consideration had to their Natures, Dignities and Debilities: The ⊕ Part of Fortune, his position, and the Planet disposing of him: Planets friendly or maliciously beholding the Lord of the Second, Part of Fortune, the Cusp of the Second. Which Arguments and Testimonies having considered well, judge of the Estate or Poverty of the Native, according to the major Testimonies.

If the major Testimonies are strong, powerful and fortunate, the Native will have an excellent and laudable Fortune. If the greater number shall be weak and Debilitated, the Estate of the Native will be but poor and inconsiderable. If the Arguments are equal, then he will neither want nor abound.

SECT. 2.

Arguments of an Admirable Fortune.

1. When in a Nativity you finde ♃ Essentially fortified in the Second House, in ✶ or △ of ☽, or the Lord of the Ascendent from an Angle, the Native will have an ample Fortune.

2. The ☽ having Dignities in the Second, or in reception with his Lord, and placed in the Ascendent fortunate, giveth the Native great wealth and estimation, and that very certain.

3. If ♃ shall be posited in the Ascendent, and there Essentially fortified, and the Moon in the Second House, well dignified, 'tis a sure Argument of the Natives obtaining Wealth.

4. When the ⊕ Part of Fortune shall be well placed, and his dispositor locally in the Eighth House, in good Aspect with the Lord of the Ascendent, the Native gains wealth by dead Folks.

5. The Luminaries in ✶ or △ from good Houses of Heaven, is an Argument that the Native shall attain both Riches and Honour, and that considerable, if either of them be essentially dignified.

6. When the two Lights shall be with eminent fixed Stars, * infortunate

* Ptolemy's Centiloq. 6. Aphor. 46.

tunate places of the Figure, or with the fortunate Planets, the Native shall then attain to great store of Riches.

7. The ☊ with ☽, ♃ or ♀ in the Second House, is a certain Testimony of a durable substance; the same if ♃ or ♀ behold the Cusp of the Second friendly.

8. Many Planets essentially fortified in the second House, the Native will thrive and be rich; and his Riches shall come several wayes, according to the significations of the Planets.

SECT. 3.

Testimonies of Poverty.

1. The Sun and ♂, or either of them, in the second House, scatters the Natives Estate very strangely, makes him prodigal, and willing to part with it he cares not how. And this is the more certain, if they shall be ill dignified there.

2. Cauda Draconis in the second House, destroyes the Natives Estate and Fortune, be it never so great; yea, if he be born to a competent Estate, he shall be driven to many exigencies, and wants, and shall often be tormented by Thieves.

3. The Lord of the Second ill dignified in the second House, the Wife of the Native (if he have one) shall cheat, and help to undo him. The Lord of the Sixth so located, his Servants prove his plagues.

4. The ☽ in conjunction with ♄ in an Angle, though the Native were a King (saith the Learned Mr. Lilly, page 554. in his Introduction) he shall be reduced to Poverty.

5. Many Planets ill dignified in the second House, is a sure note of Poverty and Beggery.

6. The Lord of the Second Cumbust, and the ⊕ unfortunate, and the Second afflicted also, it portends generally a confiscation of Estate, and that the Native shall turn Bankrupt.

7. When the Part of Fortune shall be neer violent fixed Stars in evil parts of the figure, it denotes unto the Native loss of Riches, and great Poverty to ensue unto him.

8. If ♄ or ♂ shall behold the Lord of the Second by □ or ☍, or be joyned unto him, and they be both Retrograde, Peregrine and Cadent, the Native will be perpetually poor.

These are the principal Natural significations of Riches and Poverty; And such as never fail, unless the hand of a higher Power then Nature interpose, and so stave off, and prevent their Influences.

SECT. 4.

Of the Lord of the Second in any of the Twelve House of Heaven.

1. The Lord of the Second in the Ascendent, gives the Native a convenient Fortune, and shews him indulgent to acquire it. And this so much the more, if he be well-affected.

2. In Secunda divitias semper pollicetur. But if he shall be in the second House, he alwayes warrants Riches; chiefly when with the Lord of the the Ascendent, or within his beneficial Rayes.

3. When in the third House, he denotes Riches from small Journies; and my Author sayes, Loss from Brethren, &c. Neither shall his Brethrens Estate be prosperous.

4. If posited in the fourth House, it denotes an augmentation of Fortune from Inheritances and Hereditaments, and that he shall be inriched by the Antients of his Family.

5. If in the fifth House, the Native shall be full of business, and he shall receive profit from those he negotiates for. He shall have Children who will be rich and of great Name and Honour. And he shall have and receive Profit and Honour by their meanes.

6. If the Lord of the second House shall be posited in the Sixth, it demonstrates much Damage and Loss from Servants, from Beasts of the smaller sort, and from Sickness.

7. But if he shall be posited in the seventh House, the Native shall be at great expences, by reason of Wars, Quarrels and Controversies. Sometimes he shall receive Loss by the meanes of Women, his wife in particular, and often from Partners, and those he deals withal. And shall suffer much by Thieves and Robbers.

8. When in the eighth House, even as he shall be dignified, so shall his significations be; as, if well, then shall the Native gain by the Wills and Legacies of dead Folks; if ill, he shall have great Loss thereby.

9. If the Lord of the Second be located in the ninth House, the Native receives profit and advantage from Sciences, long Journies, or voyages to Sea, and from Ecclesiastical persons, or Lawyers.

10. And if he shall be posited in the tenth House, the Native shall be a gainer by his Magistery or Profession; by his Office or Preferment; and he will receive Profit from some eminent Person.

11. But if in the Eleventh House, he gives the Native gain from the things he hopes for, as also from his Friends and Companions.

12. If at any time he shall be happily constituted in the twelfth House, the Native shall be advantaged by his private Enemies, and from Servants and Beasts of the greater sort. But if unfortunately placed there, then the contrary in all things; and Loss and Damage by imprisonment, and Thefts to boot

SECT. 5.

By what meanes the Native shall obtain an Estate.

Herein you must observe the Planets who are Significators of Riches, their strengths and positions, the Houses they are Lords of, and by whom they are fortunated; and having well considered them, you may resolve this doubt: As for example: Suppose the Lord of the eleventh House give vertue unto, or fortunate the significators of Substance; then you may conclude the Native shall be much advantaged, and shall increase his Estate by the means of his Friends. If the Lord of the Seventh fortunate the aforesaid significators, his Riches or increase of Fortune shall come by the meanes of a Wife, or Women. Et sic de cæteris.

If you would know the kinds of things the Native shall profit or grow rich by, observe the significations of the promising Planets, thus.

1. Saturn being the giver of Substance, denotes profit by Husbandry; as dealing in Corn and Cattel, and in the Fruits of the Earth. Sometimes by Usury, by Lands and Inheritances, Mines, and things obscured and hidden; and Antient persons of all sorts will bee friendly unto him.

2. Jupiter declares a good Patrimony, and shewes Riches to come from some publick Office and trust, or Ecclesiastical preferment, by Religion, and religious meanes; as also from the Law, and from Gentlemen, Lawyers, Magistrates, and Church-men.

3. Mars portends an Estate to be gotten by the VVars, by Violence, Rapines, Plunderings, Quarrels, and Controversies. As also by Chymistry and Physick: And by Handicraft Professions working in Iron, as Smiths, Cutlers, Ironmongers. By Commanders and Souldiers, Physitians, Chirurgeons, Apothecaries, &c.

4. The Sun gives an Estate by Office, Preferment, Rule, and Government; and it shall come from Emperours, Kings, Princes, Dukes, Marquesses, Earls, Barons, Gentlemen of all sorts.

5. Venus imports Riches by the meanes of Women, by Marriages, Wooing, frequenting Womens companies; by Gaming, and Playes, and all kinde of Mirth and Pleasure. It shall come from the Wife, Mother, or Sweet-heart, or by the meanes of his Friends and Associates dealing in venereous Commodities.

6. Mercury portends great Fortune and Riches, by the Natives Industry, Wit, Merchandise, Journies, Embassages, Bargaines and Contracts; by all Curiosities, the Liberal Arts and Sciences. It will come chiefly from Scholars, Merchants, and ingenious Persons.

7. The Moon presages Riches to come by Saylors, Fishermen, and Women, and all sorts of vulgar common People. And it shall be by Journies, by Fishing, by Navigations, Brewing, by making Salt, and by all things that abound with Moisture.

This is as much as is properly necessary for the Judgements belonging to the second House; and if heedfully observed, the condition of the Natives Estate, to wit, his Plenty or Penury, may easily be hereby found out. And the Planets who are the designators thereof, do plainly declare the qualities of things, and kindes of Persons, by whom he shall be enriched or impoverished. For the peculiar time, or times of its ebbing & flowing; that is more curiously to be gathered from the good and bad Directions and Revolutions of the Nativity: of which in its proper place anon.

Chap. XIV.

Of the Judgements belonging to the third House.

SECT. 1.

You were informed in Chap. 6. Sect. 3. that the third House Astrologically representeth the Brethren, Kindred, and Neighbours, &c. of the Native; as also his short and inland Journies, together with the felicity or infelicity he may expect from them. And hence we may properly enquire four things particularly. 1. If

1. If the Native have or shall have Brethren or Sisters?
2. VVhat their Condition or Fortune shall be?
3. VVhether he shall agree with them?
4. Shall his Inland Journies be prosperous?

SECT. 2.

If the Native have or shall have Brethren or Sisters.

1. In this Question, you must observe whether the Sign of the third House, his Lord and the Moon, be in those Signs which of Astrologers are termed Faithful *; which if they (or the major part of them) be, the Native then hath or may have Brethren and Sisters. * What those Signes are, see Chap. 7.

2. If the aforesaid Significators shall be well posited, and in good configuration with prolifical Planets, as are Jupiter, Venus, and Luna, the Native then hath or may have many Brethren and Sisters.

3. But if in a Nativity you finde the aforesaid significators in Sterile or Barren Signes, and with Planets Sterile also, the Native then will have no Brethren or Sisters.

4. If the significators aforesaid declare Brethren and Sisters, and are in Masculine Signes and Houses, or of themselves Masculine, in configuration with Masculine Planets; the Native will then have more Brethren then Sisters. If in Fœminine, &c. the contrary.

SECT. 3.

What shall their Condition be?

1. If their significators be strong, fortunate, and free from all impediment, and placed in good Houses of the Figure, they then shew the condition of the Natives Brethren, &c. to be Felicitous, Prosperous, Happy, and Fortunate. But if they be weak, ill located, and other wayes unhappily afflicted, they will then be unhappy and unfortunate in all their Actions.

2. If part of the Significators be strong, and the other part weak; then some of the Natives Brethren and Sisters will obtain a moderate and convenient Fortune, and may prosper indifferently well; But others of them will be subject to many evils and disasters; will have many Enemies, who shall infortunate them, &c. and this according to the difference of the Significators.

3. If the Masculine Significators be weak and depressed, the Natives Brethren will live an inglorious Life, subject to scandals and disgraces: but if strong, the contrary. If the Fœminine significators be afflicted, the Natives Sisters will be so too. But if free, and assisted by the Adjuvancy of the Fortunes, their Estate will be prosperous and happy.

Sect.

SECT. 4.

Shall the Native agree with his Brethren?

1. You are herein to consider what agreement there is between the Lord of the Third and the Moon, and the Lord of the Ascendent; for if they apply to each other friendly, and from good Houses of the Figure, then may there be an agreement between the Native, his Brethren and Kindred; and there will be much Love and Unity between them.

2. If there be no Configuration between the aforesaid Significators, the Native and his Brethren, &c. live at a distance, and are as strangers, having no familiarity with each other.

3. But if the aforesaid Significators do aspect each other evilly, then will the Native, his Brethren and Kindred, &c. be perfectly malicious each unto other, living constantly at variance, and in perpetual hatred.

4. When ♄, ♂, or ☿ shall be placed in the Third House, the Native will then be miserably perplexed and plagued with his Brethren and Kindred; they will be always disturbing his quiet and peace: and this most certain, when ♄, or ♂, shall be evilly dignified, and Peregrine there.

5. There is never any great Love between the Native, his Brethren and Kindred, when there is no Reception between the Lord of the Ascendent, the Moon, and Lord of the Third House. But if on the contrary there happen Reception between them, then they will be loving and friendly each unto other for a constancy, during Life.

SECT. 5.

Shall the Natives Inland Journies be prosperous?

1. VVhen ☉, ♀, or ☽ be posited in the Third House of a Nativity, the Native shall undertake many pleasant and prosperous Journies; chiefly if they are there Essentially dignified.

2. If the Lord of the Third shall be in ✶, or △, to the ☽, or Lord of the Ascendent, from good Houses, and every of them well dignified, the Native may also make many prosperous Journies.

3. But if ♄, ♂, or ☋, shall be posited in the Third, the Native shall undertake many Journies, that shall be both Toylsome and Laborious unto him; and he shall also be often in danger of falling into the Hands of Theeves and Robbers; at some time thereby he will be apt to incur much Damage and loss.

4. If the Lord of the Third be Combust in the Seventh, the Native will be in danger of being slain by the Hands of Theeves, in some unfortunate Journies. Probatum est.

5. The Lord of the Third in □, or ☍, to the ☽, or Lord of the Ascendent, the Natives Journies prove infelicitous unto him.

Sect.

SECT. 6.

Of the Lord of the Third House in any of the twelve Cælestial Houses.

1. VVhen in a Nativity the Lord of the Third House shall be posited in the first House, it usually denotes the Native to be the First-born of his Brethren, and the chiefest in Dignity among them; it also declares the Natives Brethren shall receive Honours and Riches from him; and shews him propense to many small Journies.

2. If posited in the second House, it portends Journies by reason of Offices, or some eminent Preferment, &c. yet it discerns (also) many Quarrels and Contentions to happen between him and his Brethren concerning Riches, or the goods of Fortune.

3. By being placed in the Third, it imports the Native to take many Journies for pleasure both of Body and Mind; and declares him to have many Brethren and Kindred.

4. But if located in the fourth House of a Nativity, it denotes Poverty and Want unto the Natives Brethren; they will endeavour to divide the Inheritance of the Father, and squander it away, and so end their dayes in Beggery. But this is to be understood if hee bee ill dignified there.

5. When he shall be in the fifth House, the Native will journey often to Junketings and Merry-Meetings, and shall take great delight therein; And the Brethren of the Native shall be friendly unto his Children: it also portends that some of his Brethren shall travail, and at last abide or inhabit out of their own native Country.

6. If he shall be placed in the sixth House of a Nativity, it shews many contrarieties and dissentions to to arise between the Natives Brethren and Kindred, and sometimes between the Native and them also.

7. But if he shall be posited in the seventh House, then the Native will go many Journies, by reason of discontents, strifes and quarrels he may meet withal from publick Enemies, Law-suits, or from Wedlock; and also by reason of unworthy acts of his Wife, Brethren, or Kindred, unto him.

8. Being located in the eighth House, it portends many Journies to the Native by the meanes of some Inheritances, or Possessions of Persons deceased; and doth also shew the ill state and constitution of his Brethren and Kindred: they are for the most part sickly, when such a configuration happens, because the eighth House is the Sixth from the Third.

9. If the Lord of the Third shall be posited in the ninth House, it denotes the Brethren of the Native to marry VVives of another Countrey, and not of their own; by reason of which they may forsake their native places. Unto the Native it portends many Journies, by reason of Religion, and things of such like signification.

10. But if he be placed in the tenth House, the Native journies in hopes of Honour and Preferment; howbeit, it declares the death of the Natives Brethren, because it is the eighth House (which is the House of Death) from the Third; and while they do live, much hate and strife there will be among them.

11. VVhen located in the Eleventh House, it shews Concord, Love and Friendship, between the Native and his Brethren, &c. and that he ſhall receive good from them, and be Honoured by them; he will alſo Journey to viſit his peculiar Friends and Acquaintance.

12. By being poſited in the twelfth Houſe, the Native goes Journies, and is forced to travail, by reaſon of his Enemies, Perſecution and Impriſonment; ſometimes it ſhews Baniſhment or Exile. But among Brethren great Diſcord and Controverſie it denotes; as alſo that the Native ſhall receive much prejudice by their meanes.

CHAP. XV.

Of the Judgements and Aphoriſms pertaining to the Fourth Houſe.

SECT. 1.

FRom the fourth Houſe is required the Judgement of the Natives Father, his Lands, Houſes, Inheritances and Hereditaments. And for the proper Underſtanding the Nature and Condition of them, you muſt obſerve the Cuſp of the Fourth Houſe, the Lord thereof, and the Planet or Planets (if there be any) poſited therein, their Agreement or diſagreement with the ☽ or Lord of the Aſcendent; You muſt alſo underſtand that in a Diurnal Geniture the Sun is the Significator of the Father; but in a Nocturnal Nativity, the Planet ♄ ſhall be ſignificator of him.

Now if all, or the major part of the aforeſaid Significators be ſtrong, and in good Configurations with either of the Fortunes, viz. Iupiter or Venus, it declares the Father of the Native to be of a healthful Conſtitution, and conveniently Fortunate and Happy; But if the aforeſaid Significators ſhall be weak, infortunate, &c. it denotes the craſie, infelicitous and unfortunate Eſtate of the Natives Father. Neither will the Lands or Inheritances of the Native be much or durable.

SECT. 2.

Arguments of Agreement between the Native and his Father.

1. If the Lord of the Aſcendent ſhall be in reception with the Lord of the Fourth, and they in good Houſes of Heaven, it argues an agreement between the Native and his Father; and their Friendſhip ſhall be the greater, if the Lord of the Aſcendent and Fourth ſhall be by nature Friends.

2. The Moon in good Configuration with the Lord of the Aſcendent, and Fourth, or tranſlating the friendly Beames of Light of either to other, declares much Friendſhip between the Native and his Father. You are taught what tranſlation of Light is, by Chap. 5.

3. The Lord of the Fourth in ✶ or △ to the Lord of the Aſcendent, or beholding the Aſcendent; or the Lord of the Aſcendent in ✶ or △ to the Lord of the Fourth, or beholding the fourth Houſe friendly; is an undeniable Argument of the Amity and true and laſting Friendſhip that will be between the Native and his Father.

4. The

4. The Lord of the Aſcendent, or the Moon in Sextile or Trine unto Sol or Saturn, preſages Unity and Concord between the Native and his Father; and if the configuration be with reception, the Friendſhip then will remain between them until one or both be diſſolved.

5. If the contrary unto theſe Rules appear, the Native and his Father will be apt to differ: the greater ſhall their difference be, if the Planet ſignifying it ſhall be in Oppoſition, void of reception, and in Angles.

According to Cuſtome, I might note the length of the Fathers Life, his times of Proſperity and Adverſity here: But ſuch things are better known from the Directions and Revolutions of the Native, and from the Fathers own Nativity. Unto the which I ſhall refer thoſe that are ingenious; and in the next place Enquire-------

SECT. 3.

Of the Natives Patrimony, and whether he ſhall Enjoy his Fathers Eſtate?

1. Herein you are firſt to conſider whether the Birth be Diurnal or Nocturnal; for in a Diurnal Geniture, if the ☉ be joyned to ♃ or ♀, or within their benevolent Rayes, viz their ✶ or △, either in or from the ſecond or fourth Houſes, and they having Dignity in the Fourth; the Native then will have a very good Patrimony Deſcend on him; and he will by his Induſtry much increaſe and improve the ſame.

2. If the Nativity be Nocturnal, and the Moon and ♄ ſhall be adjoyned to, or be in good configuration with the ſame Planets, Dignified and poſited as aforeſaid, the Native will alſo obtain an ample Patrimony, and ſhall much encreaſe the ſame.

3. But if ♂ ſhall either by Body or Aſpect afflict ☉ in a Diurnal Geniture, or ♄ in a Nativity Nocturnal, the benevolent Planets not interpoſing, the Native then deſtroyes, waſtes and conſumes his Patrimony.

4. If the ☽ be impedited by ♄ or ♂ in a Nocturnal Nativity, and the fourth and ſecond Houſes together with their Lords afflicted, the Native then waſtes and conſumes his Patrimony, and brings it to nothing.

5. When in a Nativity the Lord of the Fourth ſhall be in the ſecond, the Native then will prove a Purchaſer of Lands and Houſes, &c. chiefly, if the Lord of the ſecond, and he, ſhall be in mutual reception.

6. ♃ and ♀ in the fourth Houſe, fortunate, gives the Native good ſucceſs in Agriculture; denotes him fortunate in looking after hidden treaſure; he purchaſes much Land; and if he deal in Mines, he will moſt certainly proſper well.

7. When the Lord of the Second is in the Fourth, in good configuration with the Lord of the Fourth and his diſpoſitor, the Native ſhall then enjoy his Fathers Eſtate (if at the leaſt he have any) and be bettered thereby.

8. The ⊕ Part of Fortune with ☊, ♃ or ♀, in the fourth Houſe, well fortunated by the Lord of the Fourth, the Native will receive a great Fortune from his Father, and towards his latter dayes will grow very rich.

SECT. 4:

Of the position and signification of the Lord of the Fourth, in each of the Twelve Houses.

1. When the Lord of the Fourth shall be in the Ascendent, the Native will be fortunate in Buildings, Merchandising, Husbandry and Hereditaments: It presages him to be of an excellent disposition, for which he will be honoured by the best of his Kindred and relations; he will be beloved and respected of great ones, & receive much assistance from them.

2. If posited in the second House, it declares Rich and Honourable Parents, who will more favour and befriend the Native then any of his Brethren, &c. It also makes him fortunate in all Merchandising, chiefly about Lands and Houses, &c.

3. By being located in the third, the Native shall acquire Hereditaments, and much profit thereby; which shall come chiefly from short Journies, from his Brethren or Kindred. But the Brethren of the Native shall receive much prejudice and loss from their Parents; it being the twelfth House from the Fourth.

4. By being placed in the fourth House, the Native shall receive much profit by dealing in Lands, and all stable or fixed Commodities, and from the Eldest and best of his Family. It also denotes the Name of the Native to be famously known among the choisest of Persons in other Nations.

5. If he be posited in the fifth House, It shews the profit that shall accrew to the Native by the Fathers Substance, & that he shall leave it unto his Issue, who shall enjoy the same. He will also rejoyce much in the prosperity of his Children, for they will be fortunate unto him.

6. When he shall be located in the sixth House, it denotes the Parents of the Native to be vile and base, and such as live in a poor and abject state; But the Native shall be fortunate in small Beasts, &c. and shall gain much by the knowledge of Physick. Notwithstanding sometimes he will prove a most notorious Lyar.

7. But if he shall be posited in the seventh House, it promiseth the Native good from a VVife or VVives, from VVomen generally, and divers publick businesses and employments: my Author sayes, from Law-suits, VVars, Quarrels and Controversies; but the Native shall have none of my advice to try.

8. If he shall be posited in the eighth House, it denotes the short Life of the Father, and the great danger of the Mother; And sometimes threatens that the Native shall dye out of his own Countrey. Yet shall he in his Life time gain Lands and Hereditaments, by the means of dead Folks, and by VVills, Legacies, Deeds, &c.

9. VVhen he shall be posited in the ninth House, it denotes unto the Native good from long Journies, or Sea-voyages; also from Sciences, & things Ecclesiastical; it denotes the abject, weak and dangerous estate of the Father (being the sixth House from the Fourth) and that oftentimes he may be a Forraigner or Stranger.

10. VVhen posited in the tenth House, it makes the Natives Father to be honoured and highly esteemed among Princes and great Persons; and it declares much good unto the Native from his Profession and Negotiations; and many times Honour and Dignity from eminent Persons.

11. By being placed in the eleventh House of a Nativity, it discerns short Life unto the Father of the Native; and the great infortunacy that shall happen unto him before the birth of the Native; as also some good Fortune afterward.

12. If

12. If located in the twelfth House, it declares the Father of the Native to be poor, and a Native of another Country; And it signifies that the Native shall reap good by his Enemies, and those that wish him hurt; And may (very probably) end his dayes in a Forraign Land.

CHAP. XVI.

Of Judgements and Aphorisms proper and pertinent to the Fifth House.

THis House (as you are taught in Chap. 5. of this Book) giveth Judgement of the Natives Issue, their Conditions, Fortunes, and Qualities; his Revellings, Merriments, and Delights, &c. And from hence properly arise three Questions. viz.----------

1. Shall the Native have Issue?
2. Will they be long lived?
3. Whether most Males or Females?

For the true Method and way in answering these Questions, observe these following Rules unto each of them belonging.

SECT. 1.

Shall the Native have Issue?

1. Respons. In order to a Resolution of this Question, you must first observe the first and fifth Houses, together with their Lords; as also the Eleventh House, and his Lord, because it is the Fifth from the Seventh.

2. If you finde all the aforesaid significators in prolifical or fruitful signes, you may safely, yea certainly judge the Native shall have Issue.

3. If the Planets who are Lords of the forementioned Houses, of themselves be fruitful, the Native may also have Children.

4. If the Cusps of the forementioned Houses be sterile Signes, and the Planets who are Lords of them Barren, the Native then can have no great reason to expect Issue.

5. Sterile Planets, or the Tayl of the Dragon, possessing the Cusps of the forementioned Houses, deny Issue unto the Native; chiefly if they are with violent fixed Stars posited there.

6. Barren Planets are ♄ and ♂; the ☋ is also reputed Barren. Fruitful Planets are ♃, ♀, ☽, the ☊ is also termed Fruitful: the ☉ and ☿ are indifferent in this point. Barren Signes are ♊, ♌, ♍; But prolifical Signes are ♋, ♏, ♓; all the rest of the Signes in this case are acknowledged indifferent.

7. The Lord of the First, Fifth and Eleventh, and the ☽ in fruitful Signes, either in ☌ there, or beholding each other thence, portends unto the Native a very large Issue. But if they shall be in sterile Signes, or shall behold each other thence, or be Aspected of Planets that are Barren, the Native will never have Children.

8. Collect the Testimonies of Fruitfulness and Sterility into a Table, and according to the major Testimonies judge. As for Example: If Testimonies of Barrenness be more apparent then those of Fruitfulness, the

Native

Native cannot have Children. Et è contra. But if the Testimonies be equal (as you will rarely find in many Nativities) you must have regard unto other helps, as a good Revolution and a Direction meeting together: and the fruitfulness of his Lineage may give the Native Issue, although there be no over-bearing Arguments for it radically.

SECT. 2.

Will the Natives Children be long liv'd?

1. If the significators of the Natives Children be strong and potent, and in good Aspect of the Fortunes from good Houses, the Children may live long, & be very famous and happy; but if they are weak, the contrary.

2. ♄ and ♂ in the Fifth or Eleventh, or in Opposition from those Houses, do quickly kill the Native's Issue; and if the Sun having Dignity in the Fifth shall be joyned unto ♄ or ♂, it leaves not one Child alive.

3. The Sun, Saturn and Mercury, in Conjunction in the Medium Cœli, middle of Heaven, in Quartile or Opposition to the Moon, is an assured Argument of the death of the Native's Children.

4. Mars in Opposition of Iupiter or Venus destroyes the Children of the Native; and Iupiter in Opposition to Saturn killeth the greatest part of them; chiefly if Iupiter be Lord of the Fifth.

5. Mercury (being a general significator of Children) placed in the Ascendent, in ☌ to ♄ in the Seventh House, the Native's Children live with him but a small time; for ♄ is inimical to Nature.

6. When the Lord of the Fifth is posited in the eighth House, it declares that the Children of the Native shall die before him; and this the more certain, if the Lord of the Eighth and he be in Quartile or Oppsition.

7. If the Lord of the Fifth shall be in □, ☍, or ♂ with the infortunes, or the Lord of the eighth House from the Fifth, the Native's Children live but a short time.

SECT. 3.

Whether shall the Native have most Males or Females? Shall their condition be prosperous?

1. In the resolution of this doubt, you are first to observe, whether the Signe ascending in the Horoscope, and descending on the Fifth; the place of the Moon, together with their Lords, be Masculine or Fœminine.

2. If they be all Masculine, then shall the Native have all Male-Children; But if they be Fœminine, he shall then have all Females.

3. When the major part of the aforesaid significators be Masculine, the Native will then have most Boyes; But if they shall be the most part Fœminine, he will then have most Girls or Female-Children.

4. But if at any time it should so happen that the Testimonies fall out to be equal (which often it cannot) then the Native will have half Male and the other half Female-Children.

5. If the Lord of the Fifth and the ☽ be strong and in good configuration with each other, it argues a prosperous and happy condition to the Children of the Native; and this chiefly, if they happen to be posited in the Dignities of the Fortunes.

6. When

6. When Iupiter, Venus, or the Dragons Head are locally posited in the fifth House, the Native will be Happy and Fortunate in his Children; and they will be happy, and attain unto great honour and dignity in the world; and will be admired of many.

These several Rules seriously considered, will inform the Artist sufficiently of the issue of the Native, their Sex, Life and condition &c. Which being truly heeded and regarded, many monstrous, and prodigious Errors, now cherished, would be contemned and neglected; as that of a Childs being brought forth into the world with a piece of the Ἀμνίον (vulgarly termed the Caul) on its head, should work wonders, and be famous for many things in the course of its life. And another of a Seventh son, whom many so highly deifie for his excellent & incomparable faculties in curing diseases, and with such facility, that Æsculapius is counted an Ass in comparison of him.

The first of which is proved a ridiculous fancy by the commonness of the thing. I remember to have heard it reported of one who was born so, and I have liv'd to see the fellow an absolute Fool. To the second, it seems strange to me that any such thing can be; for if the vertue lies in the number, why should not a Seventh Daughter do as great wonders? I presume the vertue of numbers respects not Sexes. Nor can I perswade my self that an Ideot ex venter matri (although he be the seventh Son) should be endued with any such exquisite skill or cunning. And in my Opinion, it is an indignity and great affront put upon the excellencies of Nature and Art, to cherish and maintain such inconsequent and reasonless Opinions.

SECT. 4.

Of the position of the Lord of the Fifth House.

1. The Lord of the Fifth in the Ascendent, presages a propensity in the Native to Pleasures and Delights; and many times to voluptuous courses: It also denotes unto him many Children, of whom he shall be loved and honoured.

2. The Lord of the Fifth in the Second, denotes Riches unto the Native by his Childrens means; and the Children shall be so dutiful and respective, that they will be the Delight and Joy of their Father.

3. By being posited in the third House of a Nativity, it gives the Children of the Native good from their Friends, chiefly those of the Fathers Kindred, because the third House is the Eleventh from the Fifth.

4. By being placed in the fourth House well, it imports the Native to have many Children, and some of them shall have good inheritances; but by being evilly located there, it declares a great deal of grief and sorrow unto them, and signifies that some of them shall dye in Prison.

5. The Lord of the Fifth in the fifth House, gives many and prosperous Children, and such as will attain unto great Fortune, and Honour; But it propends the Native to many voluptuous and vain courses.

6. When he is posited in the sixth House, the diseases of the Natives Children will be easie, and tolerably to be born with: The Native also shall reap profit and advantage by his Childrens service. I have in five Genitures observed, the Lord of the Fifth, in the Sixth of a Nativity, and the Natives Sons have been Servants unto them: which strongly proves the verity of this Aphorism.

7. If the Lord of the Fifth shall be posited in the seventh House, the Native shall be envied of, and receive prejudice from his Children; and they will much side with their Mother against the Native; by which means the Native will incur much trouble and loss.

8. When

8. When the Lord of the Fifth is in the Eighth, fortunate, it denotes the Native to have Children who shall enjoy good Estates, and shall live well: but if unfortunate there, it gives few Children; but those that are, shall have gain by the means of persons deceased.

9. By being posited in the ninth House, it denotes the Children of the Native to be Religious, and to be busied in things Ecclesiastical; and such as shall receive much good and pleasure in long Journies; and they will also be given to pleasures otherwise.

10. The Lord of the Fifth in the Tenth, denotes affliction by sickness unto the Natives Children; yet may they live to be honoured and respected of great and eminent persons; and the Native may for their sakes be honoured also.

11. When he shall be posited in the Eleventh House (being the Seventh from the Fifth) it portends many evils to happen unto the Children of the Native, and that many Enemies shall do them much prejudice; they will be embroil'd in many quarrels and contentions.

12. By being posited in the twelfth House, it declares but few Children unto the Native; and they such as will be odious and hateful unto him; it being the House of private Enemies: yet will they be fortunate and happy in great Beasts.

SECT. 5.

Choice Aphorisms concerning Children.

1. When in a Nativity you finde the ☽ and ☿ placed in the Fifth House, and their dispositors not impedited, it is an Argument that the Native shall have many Children.

2. If ☿ be Occidental and well configurated with the two Fortunes, viz. ♃ and ♀, he denotes many Children; But by being Oriental, and afflicted by ♄ and ♂, he then denotes Barrenness.

3. If in a Nativity the Moon is in the Fifth, it argues Children; but if ♄, ♂ or ♌ be there, they prove ill conditioned.

4. When the Sign of the fifth House, and of his dispositor and Sign Ascending, be fruitful, many Children are then promised; chiefly if neer these Cusps there happen Stars of a fruitful nature, as those are who resemble the two Fortunes, viz. ♃ and ♀, or the ☽.

5. ♀ in the Ascendent, and ♃ in the seventh House, declares Issue, and from them much good unto the Native. But ♄ in Opposition to ♀, denies Issue. I know where in a Nativity ♄ being in the Eighth, opposeth ♀ in the Second; and although the Native be as likely as any one in the world, unto the outward view, and his wives also (for he hath had two) yet he neither ever had, nor is ever likely to have any Issue.

6. The ☽ with ♀ in the fifth House, in a Sign prolifical, doth decare much Issue; and the Children generally prove well.

7. ♃ in △ of the ☽ in humane or moist Signes; or ☽ and ♀ with ♃ in an Angle, or in very good Aspect from Angles, they signifie unto the Native many Children; which in time come to preferment.

8. All the Planets in fruitful Signs, prenote a great many Children; but all of them in Signes sterile, the contrary.

9. When ♀ shall be located in the first or seventh House, in ☌, □ or ☍ of ♄, or in reception with him, it presages Barrenness to men, Abortion to Women, or that their Children shall die as soon as they are born.

10. If ♄ be posited in the Fifth, and the ☉ in □ to ♃, the Native will have no Issue.

11. When

11. When the ☉, ♄ or ♂ be Lords of the Ascendent, fifth and eleventh Houses, without some good Aspect of the Fortunes, or if they shall be posited in the House of Children, the Native will have no Issue.

12. The ☉ with ♄ and ☿ in the eleventh or fifth Houses, in Aspect of the ☽, denote the Native to die without Issue; or if he have any, they die in a very short time after their Birth.

13. The greatest Testimony of barrenness, is, when that the Lord of the Fifth, and Lord of the Ascendent are Combust or Retrograde; chiefly if they happen to be Infortunes, and the Moon at the same time suffer Detriment also.

CHAP. XVII.

Of the particular Judgements pertaining to the sixth House.

SECT. 1.

Rules of Health and Sickness.

THis is the House of sickness, and gives notice of the Native 's Diseases, &c. And the general Rules to be observed herein, are these following:

1. If the Lord of the Sixth be fortunate, and the Sign of the Sixth also; the Native will be subject but to few Infirmities and Diseases; and those that are, he will be quickly cured of.

2. When good Planets are posited in the sixth House, in good Configuration of the Luminaries, or the Lord of the Ascendent; the same.

3. When the Moon is fortunate and strong, and in good Configuration with the Lord of the sixth House, or beholds the Cusp of the Sixth with a ✶ or △; the Native will then be conveniently healthful.

4. If the Lord of the sixth House be in good Configuration with the Lord of the Ascendent; the Native will not be sickly.

5. When happy and benevolent Stars, viz. those of the Nature of ♃ and ♀, be posited in the sixth House, they prevent all violent and desperate Diseases, and add health to the Native.

6. If the Lord of the Sixth, the sixth House, or Luna, be not infortunated of Saturn, or Mars, or the Tail, nor yet Combust or Peregrine; the Native will be healthful, and free from all dangerous Distempers.

7. But if in a Nativity the contrary to these happen, the Native will be subject to Infirmities and Diseases.

SECT. 3.

Of the Diseases attributable to the twelve Signs and Houses.

Diseases of the Houses.	Diseases of the Signs.
First House.	First Sign, ♈.
Those belonging to the Head and Face; as sore Eyes and Ears, the Scurvy, rotten Teeth, Head-ach, the Noli me tangere.	All Whelks, Pimples, Freckles, Sunburnt, Vertigo, Frenzy, Lethargy, Catalepsie, Apoplexy, Dead Palsie, Cramps, Melancholy, Madness, Falling-sickness, Convulsions.
Second House.	Second Sign, ♉.
All Diseases belonging to the Neck and Throat; as Wens, Boyls, Squinancy, King's Evil, Carbuncles.	The Squinancy, King's Evil, all Wens in the Neck, Carbuncles, and Boyls there; Fluxes of Rheum in the Throat, and all Diseases incident thereunto.
Third House.	Third Sign, ♊.
Those Diseases that belong to the Shoulders, Arms and Hands; as Dis-locations, Fractures, Ring-worms, Aches.	Corruption and Putrefaction of Blood, Aches, Dis-locations, Ring-worms, Fractures, and all Diseases that are incident unto the Arms and Shoulders.
Fourth House.	Fourth Sign, ♋.
Every distemper pertaining to the Breast, Lungs and Stomach; as Coughs, Cankers, Pleuresies, ill digestion, &c.	All imperfections in the Breast; as Cankers, Imposthumes, Pleuresies, want of Appetite, ill Digestion, coldness of the Stomach, Surfets, Coughs, Dropsies, Leprosies.
Fifth House.	Fifth Sign, ♌.
Such Diseases that belong to the Heart, Back, and Liver; as Obstructions, windiness, Iliac Passion, burning-Fevers.	The Plague or the Pestilence; Palpitation, burning-Fevers, Yellow Jaundies, Qualms, Tremblings, all violent Diseases proceeding from Choler.
Sixth House.	Sixth Sign, ♍.
Diseases belonging to the Belly and Bowels; as Twisting of the Guts, windiness, Obstructions, Cholick, &c.	All Impediments in the Meseraicks, the Spleen, Hypochondriaque-Melancholy, the Plague in the Guts, Obstructions, and all Diseases in the lower part of the Belly.
Seventh House.	Seventh Sign, ♎.
Those belonging to the Reins, Loins and Bladder; as the Stone, the Gravel in the Kidneys, heat and windiness.	The stone in the Reins or Kidneys, heat of the Reins, pains in the small of the Back, Surfets, Corruption of Blood, windiness, and Stitches and Aches there.

Eighth House.

All Diseases in the Secrets, the Groin, Buttocks, and Back-bone; as, Inflammations, Ulcers, the Strangury or pissing Disease, Ruptures, all Diseases of Urine.

Ninth House.

Such Distempers as pertain to the Thighs; as Sciatica's, and all manner of hurts there.

Tenth House.

The distempers that reign in the Knees and Hams, Sprains there, many times Falls, Fractures proceeding from melancholy humours.

Eleventh House.

Those Evils that are incident to the Legs; as swellings, lameness, Aches.

Twelfth House.

Such afflictions as belong to the Feet; as Lameness, Corns, swellings, bruises, Childblanes.

Eighth Sign, ♏.

Gravel or stone in the Bladder, Inflammations and Ulcers there; Strangury, Ruptures, Fistula's, Hemorrhoids, the French Pox, the running of the Reins, Priapisms, all Distempers of the Privities or Womb.

Ninth Sign, ♐.

All manner of Sciatica's, Fistula's in the Thigh or Hip, Diseases of Choler, Pestilential Fevers, Falls from Horses, or hurts by such Creatures.

Tenth Sign, ♑.

All manner of Diseases in the Knees and Hams; as Dis-locations, Pains and Sprains there, Fractures, Leprosie, Itch, Scabs, and all ill humours proceeding from Melancholy.

Eleventh Sign, ♒.

All Diseases in the Legs and Ancles, Cramps and twitches there; Aches, Pains, and swellings, Blood settled and congealed.

Twelfth Sign, ♓.

The Diseases under Pisces, be Gouts, Kibes, Childblanes, Corns, swellings, lameness; all Diseases coming of salt Phlegme.

Note, all Cholerique Diseases proceed from Fiery Signs: all Melancholy Distempers from Earthy Signs: all Phlegmatique Distempers from Watry Signs: all Distempers of Blood from Aery Signs.

Here followeth a Table shewing what part of Man's Body every Planet governs in any of the twelve Signs; where by Inspection may be known the Member and Part of Man's Body subject unto affliction: which, considered with the foregoing Rules, the Artist may easily discover the Distemper, its nature and quality, and the place of its residence.

The Table it self is of ancient use, as appears by Hermes Trismegistus his 87 Aphorism: where he discovers briefly the use of it, thus: Erit Impedimentum circa illam partem Corporis, quam significat Signum quod fuerit Nativitatis tempore impeditum. Which runs to this effect in English: There will be some blemish or impediment on that part or Member of the Body represented by the Sign that shall be afflicted at the time of the Birth or Nativity. Meaning, That if either Saturn or Mars shall afflict any particular Sign in the Figure of the Radix, it shall either be be mishapen, or subject unto the Infirmities of the Planet afflicting, according to the signification of him in such Sign; as is demonstrable by the Table.

The Use of the Table.

This Table is easily understood: for if you cast your eyes unto the top thereof, and observe your Planet; and in the side-Column the Sign, in the Angle of Meeting you will finde the Characters of the Sign repre-presenting the parts of Man's Body; that that Planet in such Sign governeth from his own House. And if your Planet be an Infortune, it tells you, that such Parts of the Native's Body are most subject to affliction.

Example: Suppose ♄ Lord of the sixth in a Nativity, and in ♂; I would know what Part of the Body he represents there from his own Houses; I look ♂ in the Column to the left-hand, and ♄ in the Head, and in the common Area or Angle of Meeting, I finde ♌, ♐, ♏: which tells me, that ♄ in ♂, governeth the Brest, Heart and Bowels; and those Parts in the Native's Body will be most subject to affliction. Understand the like in the rest.

SECT. 4.

Of Defects in the Eyes.

1. You must understand that the Luminaries govern the Eyes; and if in a Nativity they shall be evilly afflicted, the sight will be much vitiated; and the Native will be rarely free from distempers in the Eyes.

2. When the Sun and Moon shall be in Conjunction, Quartile, or Opposition of Saturn or Mars in Angles, it denotes great danger unto the sight of the Native; if not absolute blindeness.

3. Either of the Luminaries with nebulose or cloudy Stars, Angular, denote the same; chiefly those neer the Ecliptique Line. What those cloudy Stars be, see Hartgill's Tables of the fixed Stars, wherein you have them exactly calculated, and their Places truly shewn both in Longitude and Latitude.

The Milky-way is a white circle that may be seen in a cleer night, passing (on one side) from 18 deg. ♊, to 2 deg. ♋; on the other side from 13 deg. ♐, to 4 deg. of ♑.

4. When the Sun and Moon, being in the Milky-way, happen to be there afflicted, the Native will then be blinde: but if the Sun be infortunated there alone, the right-Eye will be lost; if the Moon, the Left.

5. If the Planet shall afflict the Luminaries, or one of them, the blindeness will proceed from some Catarrhe: if Mars be the impediting Planet, it will then come by some sudden blow.

6. If the ☽ be in opposition of the ☉, it denotes hurts in the Eyes: but if she be Combust neer the Girdle of Orion, the Native will then be blinde of one Eye at the least.

7. The Sun in Conjunction of Mars in the Eighth, and the Moon in Opposition to Saturn from a humane Sign, portends unto the Native blindeness or dangerous hurts in the Eyes, and great sickness also.

8. When the Sun and Moon shall be in Opposition out of Angles, and free from all other afflictions, the Native shall then be pur-blinde or squint-eyed.

9. The Pleiades, with the Moon in the Ascendent, shew great defects in the Eyes of the Native; & aliquando etiam sine Luna, the same sometimes shall also happen without the Moons presence there.

10. The Moon joyned unto Saturn in a Tropical Sign, in Quartile or Opposition of Mars, denotes blindeness, and sometimes falls from high places.

11. If the Moon shall be posited in the fourth House, and ♄, ♂ and ☉ in the eighth House, it denotes danger of blindeness; chiefly, if thence she behold them with a ☐ Quartile.

12. Luna in medio Cœli, Sol in Ascendente, Saturnus in nona, dant debilitatem visus, (i.e.) the Moon placed in the Mid-Heaven, the Sun in the Ascendent, and Saturn in the Ninth, gives a debilitated or weak sight.

Sect.

SECT. 5.

Of Deafness.

In the second Section of this Chapter, you may observe that the Government of the Ears is attributed to Saturn and Mars: the Imagination, Brain and Spirits, to Mercury: Ergo, from the evil configurations of these Planets, must proceed Deafness.

1. When Mercury in a Nativity shall be in Conjunction, Quartile, or Opposition of Saturn, and he ill dignified, it portends great defects in the Ears, if not an absolute Deafness.

2. But if Mercury in a Nativity be Lord of the sixth House, and suffer the aforesaid affliction, the Native cannot escape Deafness.

3. When Mercury shall be infortunated of Saturn or Mars, in the tenth House, and have no assistance from the friendly Rays of Jupiter or Venus, the hearing of the Native will be bad.

4. Mercury Lord of the sixth or twelfth, weak and infortunate in the sixth, the Native's sense of hearing will be weak.

5. If Mars or Saturn fortune to be Lords of the sixth House, and be in Quartile to Mercury under the Sun's Beams, the Native will be deprived of his sense of hearing: if Mercury be afflicted of Martial or Saturnine Stars, the same.

SECT. 6.

Of Defects of Speech.

Herein is Mercury much to be considered; for he is the Ruler of the Tongue, as he is Dominator of Speech; and therefore, according to his affliction, you are to judge of the defects of Speech.

1. When Mercury being Occidental, shall be joyned to Saturn and Sol in an Angle, the Native's Speech will be much impedited and hindred.

2. If Mercury shall be under the Sun's Beams, not at all beheld by the Moon, the Native will be defective in, and slow of Speech: if this happen in a mute Sign, the person will be so much the more defective.

3. Mercury in the first six degrees of Scorpio, and in Opposition to the Moon, the Native will be apt to stammer in his speaking: if he be Lord of the sixth in Opposition to an Infortune, the same.

4. When the Moon and Mercury, and the Lord of the Ascendent shall be posited in mute Signs, the Native will be slow of Speech, and will prove a very poor Orator.

5. Mercury combust of the Sun in an Angle, and in a Sign slow of voice, the Native will be but slow of Speech, and sometimes will be apt to stammer in delivering his words.

I know where Mercury was in Conjunction of the Sun in Sagitary in the fourth House, and free from all other Impediments; yet the Native spake (many times) with much difficulty. So that I conclude, where Mercury is afflicted, the Native's Speech will be imperfect; where free from affliction, the Native's Speech will shew it.

6. Mercury with ☋, Cauda Draconis, in the sixth, eighth or twelfth Houses, much impedes the Native's Speech.

Sect.

SECT. 7.

Of Servants and small Cattle.

1. In this disquisition you may consider, first, if the Lord of the sixth, the Moon, and Lord of the Ascendent, are fortunately and friendly configurated; the Native and his Servants shall agree, and he shall gain by them: so also by small Cattle.

2. When Mercury shall behold the Ascendent friendly, or the Moon transfer the Light of the Lord of the sixth, or Mercury to the Lord of the Ascendent; the Native shall thrive by his Servants, as also by his small Cattle.

3. If Mercury or the Lord of the sixth shall be in Reception with the Lord of the Ascendent, or the Lord of the Ascendent in the sixth; and again, the Lord of the sixth in the Ascendent, the same.

4. Jupiter or Venus in the sixth House, fortunately placed there, shews the Native's Servants to be well qualified: if they behold the Ascendent with a △, or be in ☌, ✶ or △ to the Lord of the Ascendent or Moon, the Native will be enriched by his Servants, and by dealing in small Beasts. The ☊ there, presages also much good.

5. If the Lord of the sixth, the Moon and Mercury be fortunate in an Angle together, it shews diligent Servants.

6. Mercury Retrograde, Combust, &c. denotes the Servants of the Native to be thievish, and denotes much loss unto him in Beasts of the smaller sort, if he deal in them.

7. When ♄, ♂ and ☋ shall be posited in the sixth, it denotes the Native always to be perplexed with evil Servants, and much loss and damage by all things, and persons too, that House takes cognizance of; chiefly if ♄ and ♂ be ill dignified there.

SECT. 8.

Of the Position of the Lord of the sixth House.

1. The Lord of the sixth, placed in the Ascendent, denotes obnoxious Diseases unto the Native, and much evil from Servants and small Cattle, if he be ill dignified there; but if well fortified, the contrary.

2. By being located in the second House, it portends a loss and dispersion of much money by reason of sickness; and that he shall labour much, and be industrious, yet he shall not die rich.

3. If he shall be posited in the third House, the Native shall be apt to fall sick in his Journeys, much to his prejudice; and his Brethren will be very infirm and sickly.

4. Being posited in the fourth House, it oftentimes declares the Father of the Native to have been a servant, and of mean and low esteem; and denotes instability of health unto the Native; and that sicknesses of divers kindes shall haunt his House and Family.

5. The Lord of the sixth in the fifth House, denotes distempers to invade the Native by reason of voluptuous courses; and sometimes griefs shall detriment him, contracted by reason of his Children, who will be often subject to Diseases.

6. The

6. The Lord of the sixth in the sixth House, presages sicknesses and griefs to happen to the Native by reason of labour: Erit tamen sanus, si eum respiciat Dominus Ascendentes; but he will be strong and healthful, if the Lord of the sixth shall behold the Lord of the Ascendent.

7. If the Lord of the sixth be posited in the seventh, it denotes much danger unto the Native to happen from Women, and by their means may he incur many dangerous Diseases. 'Tis also an Argument of much strife; and that the Wife will be but weak and sickly.

8. When placed in the eighth House, the Native shall see the Death of his Enemies: but applying to the Lord of the Ascendent, the Native will be subject unto many infirmities of Body, which will often expose him to the peril of Death.

9. By being posited in the ninth House, the Native will be subject unto many sicknesses in another Country. He will also be fraudulent, deceitful, and of evil manners, if ill dignified: but if well, the contrary.

10. The Lord of the sixth in the tenth, shews, that the Native will be troubled and molested by Princes and great Persons; and he shall in his Dignity and Preferment suffer a Catastrophe; by which means, sickness and trouble of minde may invade and disquiet him.

11. By being posited in the eleventh House, it imports prejudice from his Friends, for Causes or Reasons unknown to him: his hopes and expectations will be vain; by which means his body and minde also, will be sufferers.

12. When the Lord of the sixth shall be posited in the twelfth House, it brings hate and disgrace unto the Native from his private Enemies, damage from Beasts of the greater sort, also from vexations and imprisonments, by which means his health and quiet will be much impaired.

CHAP. XVIII.

Particular Judgements pertaining to the Seventh House.

THis House (as you were told in Chap.6. Sect.7.) hath signification of Marriages, publick Enemies, &c. and you are chiefly to consider the Cusp hereof, and his Lord, the Planet or Planets posited therein, (together with the general Significator of Women) and observe what Agreement or Disagreement they have with the Ascendent, his Lord, or the Moon; and so judge of the Particulars belonging to this House. But for the better and more easie understanding of every one, I will propose these following Particulars, and add unto them their several Responses.

1. Shall the Native marry?
2. If he shall marry more then once?
3. What manner of Person? how qualified?
4. Shall they agree?
5. Of the Native's publick Enemies.
6. Shall he or they be Victors?

SECT. 1.

Shall the Native marry?

This Question, nor the manner of its proposal, need not amuse any: for divers Persons there be, who never marry at all; yet I grant a Truth, and a full one, in that Apochryphal Text, Eccles 13. 15. All flesh consorteth together, or according to kinde, and a man will cleave to his like. But notwithstanding this, although a Man (or Woman) may, and doth so do; if he (or she) marry not, it must be aspected as an act unlawful: and then the Question is not, whether the Native shall be wanton and luxurious; but, whether the Native shall marry: for there are divers people who delight to live in sin and vanity, and hate the company of a loving yoke-fellow, with a perfect and irreconcileable hatred. We know and are confirmed, (by the Writings of Physicians, and Experience) that all sorts of Persons and Creatures in the World do covet and desire Coition; yea, the very Eunuchs themselves, who are no ways apted for such action; nor are they potent anywhere, save in their imagination.

I have read of a learned Physician in this Age, who in his Writings wished, that the vulgar way of Coition were not used; but that Men might procreate like Trees, &c. yet (if I am not mis-informed) this ingenious Person himself, within a short time after the publishing hereof, viz. half a yeer or thereabouts, was so far wrought on by the power of Venus, that he changed his single condition. And I am perswaded, whoever hath Mars and Venus in their Nativities, will be more or less (according to their Dignities there) concerned in the Question: that is, if they marry not, they will by an innate impulse do that which is much worse. Now to the Question Astrologically.

1. Consider whether the particular Significators of Marriage, or Venus the general Significator thereof, with the Moon and Lord of the Ascendent, be posited in sterile Signs, Combust, Cadent and Retrograde: for they are Testimonies of a single Life, and shew an averseness to marriage.

2. When some of these Significators happen to be in barren Signs, and others in Signs prolifical, and those which be in barren Signs, are ☽ and ♀, and there afflicted by ♄, his ☌, □ or ☍, without the Interposition of ☉ and ♃ their friendly Rays, it denotes the Native wanton and lecherous, but yét a hater of a married Life.

3. The ☽, ♀, and Lord of the seventh, in □ or ☍ to ♄ or ♂, and either of them Combust, denotes the Native careless and negligent of marriage, and not delighting in Issue.

4. If the Sign of the seventh, Lord thereof, the Moon, and Venus happen to be in fruitful Signs, the Native then assuredly marries, and will have many Children; chiefly if the Lord of the fifth concurs in judgement.

5. The Lord of the Ascendent in ✶ or △ of the Lord of the seventh, (from fruitful Signs especially) the Native will then be inclineable to marry, and will act according to his inclination therein.

6. When in a Nativity, Jupiter, Venus, the Sun or Moon shall fortunate the Cusp of the seventh House, the Native will certainly marry.

7. The Lord of the Ascendent, or Moon in Reception with the Lord of the seventh, the Native will be propense to marriage: when the Moon

Moon transfers the Light of the Lord of the seventh unto the Lord of the Ascendent, or the Light of the Lord of the Ascendent to the Lord of the seventh, the same.

8. When Venus shall be unfortunate in the House of the Sun, viz. Leo, the Native will be an Abhorrer of Women, and consequently of Marriage. Albubater * renders this Reason of it, Quia Natus erit mal; coitus.

* Albubat. lib. Genethl. ch. 80.

SECT. 2.

If the Native shall marry more then once.

It is very frequent and common for Men and Women to marry more then once; yet few of them know the grand cause thereof, which is writ in the Heavens above them. But Astrology (which is the language of the Stars) teacheth by these following Aphorisms how to resolve the doubt.

1. Observe the Significators of marriage before mentioned; and if they be found in fruitful Signs, the Native will then marry more then once, or have more Wives then one.

2. When the Moon, or Venus, or either of them be posited in the seventh House, in a bi-corporeal Sign, and free from the afflictions of the Infortunes, viz. Saturn and Mars, it denotes more then one Wife.

3. If the Moon or Venus be in a Sign representing one form, and applying but unto one Planet, it denotes but one Wife onely. But if they or either of them be in a bi-corporeal or double-bodied Sign, applying unto many Planets, 'tis an Argument of plurality of Wives.

4. The Moon being in a fruitful Sign, and applying to a Planet in a fruitful Sign, (especially if the Planet be fruitful) signifies many Wives.

5. The Lord of the seventh in the seventh, in friendly aspect to the Lord of the Ascendent in a double-bodied Sign, denotes two Wives: if the Moon and Venus behold him friendly also, the Native hath many Wives.

6. When the Significators of Marriage are at unity among themselves, and in the first, fifth, seventh, tenth, eleventh Houses, the Native will marry more then once.

7. If Saturn, Mars or the Dragon 's Tail afflict the Significators of Marriage, and they in Signs representing one form only, the Native rarely marries above one Wife, or Husband either: for you must note, that these Aphorisms relate as well to Fœminine Natives, as Masculine; and in my Opinion, 'tis superfluous to consider the Significators and Significations of Men's Marriages and Women's apart and distinct from each other: for if they have the same Arguments of Life, Estate, Brethren, Fathers, Inheritances, Children, Sickness, Servants, &c. I would fain know a reason why they shall be debarr'd the same in Marriage: I will grant the seventh House in a Man 's Nativity, to signifie his Wife and Marriage; and who can deny that the same in a Woman 's Radix, doth signifie the Husband and the Marriage of the Woman?

SECT. 3.

What manner of person, and how qualified.

This Question proceeds by two Steps: the first describing the shape and proportion of the person whom the Native shall marry: the second, the qualifications of the minde, or (to speak more vulgarly) the conditions or manners they will be most inclineable to follow.

First Step:

Of the shape and proportion of the person, &c.

1. Herein you are to observe the Sign of the seventh House, and the Lord thereof, the Planet or Planets posited therein; and (as you were taught in the judgements of the first House) mix the Significations of them together, and so you will describe the person.

2. If all the Significators, or the most of them, happen in Signs of pulchritude or fairness, they denote a curious, neat and well-composed person, and of Visage most comly: but happening in Signs of deformity, they then denote an incomposed and unhandsome person; chiefly if in Azimene Degrees.

3. The nature of the Signs in this judgement are to be observed thus: viz.

♊, ♍, ♎, ♐ presage Pulchritude.
♈, ♉, ♑, ♌ denote deformity.
♋, ♏, ♒, ♓ declare an indifferency.

But here by the way you are to note, that the deformity or pulchritude of the person doth not simply and necessarily arise from the Signs thus divided; but according to the Afflictions and Dignities of the Planets, who are the Significators thereof, being placed in these Signs; which, if they be in friendly Degrees, the person will be the more handsome: if in Azimene, Deep or Pitted, or Void Degrees, the person will be the more deformed.

4. Saturn is the general Significator of deformity; and when he afflicteth the Significators, the person is then deformed and mishapen: if they be all (or the most of them) Combust, they then denote unhandsome and obscure persons.

5. The Moon in Configuration with Iupiter or Venus, or aspecting the Cusp of the seventh House, declares the person to be of a compleat and handsome proportion.

6. When Saturnine Stars descend on the Cusp of the seventh, and the Moon in Quartile or Opposition to Saturn, he being Lord of the seventh, the person hereby signified will be an incomposed, slovenly Creature; and this the rather, if the Constellation be great.

Second.

Second Step:

Of the quality and condition of the person.

In this you must observe the Fortunacy or Infortunacy of the Lord of the seventh, and the Moon, which (in such cases) always declare the quality of the minde; and accordingly judge thereof.

1. If Saturn be Lord of the seventh, or in the seventh, and well dignified, and the Moon applying to his Sextile or Trine, it presages a laborious discreet Person, and one of a commendable Behaviour: but if he be ill dignified, he then denotes a troublesome, envious, lazy Creature.

2. When Iupiter is Lord of the seventh, or in the seventh strong and fortunate, it denotes a mild, vertuous, honest, discreet and godly Person: but if he be ill and infortunate, the Party will then be subject to many scandals and disgraces; and they shall be the greater, if the Moon be unfortunate.

3. If ♂ Mars be so qualified as before, and the Moon applying friendly to him, it denotes a cordial, honest, yet a very confident Person; one that scorns affronts and injuries: but if ♂ Mars be ill dignified, the Person is then vicious, violent, and perverse; yea, notoriously impudent and infamous.

4. ♀ Venus being in the condition aforesaid, and the Moon applying to her benevolent Aspects, prenotes a handsome well-formed Creature, of a good disposition and education; one that will be both affable, courteous, civil and vertuous: but if ♀ Venus be ill dignified, then is the Person arrogant, wasteful, ryotous, bold and impudent.

5. But if ☿ Mercury be Lord of the seventh, and the Moon apply to him, as before is said of the others, the Person will be wary, discreet and well-spoken, and of a very good behaviour; yet sometimes mutable: but if ☿ Mercury be ill dignified, the Party then proves a make-bate, a busie-body, a frenetique and malicious person.

6. When ☿ Mercury shall be with ♀ Venus in the fourth House, in evil Aspect of ♂ Mars, the Person then (be it Man or Woman) will be of an evil Life: if a Man, he will prove a Fornicator; if a Woman, Meretricious.

7. When either ♂ Mars or ♀ Venus shall be in an Angle in the Signs ♍ and ♓, and in evil Aspect of the Moon, the Person then shall be viciously inclined, be it either Man or Woman: But if ♂ Mars and ♀ Venus shall be in Opposition from the sixth and twelfth Houses, the Husband or Wife of the Native will prove very inconstant and vile; and thereby will the Native be damnified, chiefly if either of them be Lord of the seventh.

8. When the part of Marriage shall be infortunated by the malignancy of ♄, ♂, or ☋, the Person whom the Native marries, will be infamous and of a bad Life; and will also be afflicted with many inseparable infirmities. The part of Marriage is thus taken by day and by night, viz. by substracting the place of ♀ Venus from the seventh House, and projecting it from the Ascendent. Example in the Nativity following.

The

9. When Venus shall be with Saturn in his own Terms, or in □ or ☍ unto him, the Person whom the Native marries will be of a vicious and corrupt inclination, deformed in conditions; of an unworthy, sordid, base carriage and behaviour.

SECT. 4.

Shall they agree?

1. You are to consider the Significators of both Parties, and the respect they bear unto each other; which, if they be friendly; 'tis an Argument of their agreement; if inimical, the contrary.

2. When their Significators are in Reception, either by House or Exaltation, the parties agree well: if by Term or Triplicity, they accord indifferently well: if no Reception be, it is much the worse.

3. When the Significators shall be in friendly Aspect each unto other, or the Moon in the same configuration with Venus, or the Lord of the seventh; they argue much friendship, and good society between them.

4. The Moon or Lord of the Ascendent in Quartile or Opposition of the Lord of the seventh House, do plainly signifie the Parties never to accord well; chiefly if they shall be in Angular and in moveable Signs.

5. If Venus shall be in Conjunction with Saturn, beholding Mars in any part of the Figure, it is an argument of much jealousie, strife and contention to happen between the Native and the Person whom he or she shall marry.

6. Venus, (who is a general Significator of Marriage) in ill Aspect of Luna, viz. either Quartile or Opposition, or so configurated with Saturn or Mars, is a Testimony of much infelicity in marriage.

7. The Moon beholding the Lord of the seventh, or in good Aspect with good Planets in the seventh House, denotes much good in Marriage: but if she behold bad Planets there, or shall be in ill Aspect of the Lord of the seventh, it declares much evil to happen to the Native in marriage.

8. The chief Testimonies of Agreement between a Man and his Wife, or Woman and her Husband, are, when their Nativities are either the same, or in Sextile or Trine unto each other; or if the Sun in the Man's Nativity be in the place of the Moon in the Woman's, or the Moon in the Woman's Radix be in the place of the Sun in the Man's. These (I say) are absolute Arguments of Agreement and Concord after Marriage. Probatum est.

9. The Dragon's Head in the seventh House, shews a mutual Concord and Agreement in Marriage: the Dragon's Tail there, shews jealousies, discontents, and constant quarrels and brawlings.

10. The

10. The Moon beholding the Sun friendly, and both of them in humane Signs in friendly Configuration with the Fortunes, the persons agree very well, and are always loving. But if she behold the Sun ill, and both of them afflicted by the cross Aspects of Saturn and Mars, they perpetually disagree.

11. These Rules are appliable to both Sexes; only with this difference: as Luna and Venus, are general Significators in the Radix of a Man; so Sol and Mars are generally to be observed in the Nativity of a Woman. And thus much for the Agreement and Disagreement of the Native in Marriage.

SECT. 5.

Of the Natives publick Enemies.

The Seventh House hath as well signification of publick Enemies, as of Marriage, as is testified by the Writings of all Astrologers: and herein you are to take cognizance of the Lord of the seventh, and the Planet or Planets posited therein.

1. When the Lord of the seventh shall be in good Configuration with the Lord of the Ascendent and the Moon, or one of them, the Native then will have but few publick Enemies.

2. Or if the Lord of the Ascendent, or Moon be in reception with the Lord of the seventh, or the Lord of the seventh behold the Ascendent with a Sextile or Trine, it denotes but few Enemies: if they be in Conjunction in good Houses, the same.

3. When in a Nativity the fortunate Planets, viz. Iupiter or Venus shall be well dignified in the seventh House, the Native will not be pestered with, but protected from publick Enemies.

4. But if none of these happen, and it fortune that Saturn, Mars, or the Dragon's Tail be in the seventh, the Native will be perpetually subject to suffer by the means of publick Enemies.

5. Many Planets in the seventh House denotes many Enemies unto the Native; and if they be ill dignified there, they, viz. the Enemies, will be malicious, cruel and envious unto the Native, and he will receive prejudice thereby.

6. If the Lord of the seventh, and Lord of the Ascendent, and Moon be in Quartile or Opposition, and the Dragon's Tail in the seventh House, the Native will then never be free from troubles. I know a person who hath them so configurated, that is to say, in Opposition, and the ☌ in the seventh; and he (as he protests unto me) was never since he was of capacity free two yeers together from a Prison, by the means of his publick and professed Enemies; yea, sometimes he hath been clapt in Jayl twice in three months, by the means and procurement of his VVife; and (which is most to be wondred at) he is a peaceable man, and free from debt also; and yet is he subject to so strange a fate, and hath been for neer thirty yeers, viz. ever since he was capable, as I told you before.

SECT.

SECT. 6.

Shall the Native or his Enemies overcome?

1. Herein you may observe, first, the strength of the Ascendent, his Lord; the seventh House, and his Lord: and if the Ascendent and the Lord thereof, be fortified beyond the seventh House and his Lord, the Native shall worst his Adversaries, and be a Victor over them.

2. When the Moon shall apply by Quartile or Opposition to the Lord of the seventh, from the Ascendent, second, tenth, or eleventh Houses, the Native will mightily over-power his Enemies, and they themselves will be sorry and repent that ever they dealt against him.

3. The Lord of the Ascendent or Moon., fortified by the presence of of ♃ or ♀, in good Houses of Heaven, the Native values not his Enemies power of a straw; but lives above their malice and envy.

4. The Lord of the Ascendent Angular, and the Lord of the seventh Cadent, the Native will triumph over his publick Enemies; yea, he will scorn their attempts, and trample on their devices against him.

5. If ☽ Mars or Saturn be locally in the seventh House, and strong there, the Native will meet with powerful Enemies, and they will highly prevail against him, so that he will suffer much by their means: but if either of them happen to be Lord of the Ascendent, the Native will then see the fall of his Enemies, and will scatter their devices like smoak.

6. If the Lord of the seventh, and seventh House, happen to be fortified, as the Ascendent and his Lord aforesaid, the Enemies of the Native will then be Victors, and mightily prevail against him.

SECT. 7.

Choise and excellent Aphorisms concerning Marriage, by the Posture of Venus.

1. Venus (being a general Significator of Marriage) Oriental, strong and potent, and in a friendly Aspect with Iupiter, doth certainly denote, that the Woman will be Master: for Venus is a Fœminine Planet.

2. If she fortune to be posited in the second House of a Nativity, the Native, be it either Man or Woman, marrieth more for wealth then any thing else.

3. If she be posited in the fourth House of a Nativity, in Quartile or Opposition to Luna, in Aquary or ☋ Cancer, the Native, be it either Man or Woman, will be very lecherous, and subject to change their pasture.

4. By being located in the seventh or eleventh Houses of a Nativity, and vitiated there, the Native (either Man or Woman) will be given to ryotous and venereous courses, and to deboist Company, such as will lessen their reputations.

5. When in a Nativity she happens to be in the tenth House, the Native then marries honourably, and into a good Family, be it either Man or VVoman; and such marriage shall turn much to their profit and advantage.

6. Ve-

6. Venus with Mercury in the fourth House, and in Gemini or Virgo, and Saturn in the tenth in Opposition to her, the Native marries a person sordid, and of no repute or quality: but if at the same time she be in any evil Aspect of Mars, the person whom the Native marries will be strongly mischievous, and prodigiously evil, and will often be suspected of Sorcery or Poyson.

7. Venus with Saturn or Mars in the sixth House, declares the Native to marry a dishoneſt and lewd person; and if she be in Cancer or Capricorn, the Native, if he be a Man, shall marry a Woman meretricious; if a Woman, she marries a Fornicator, or a deboist luxurious Fellow.

8. When Venus shall be with Saturn in the seventh House, it declares the Person whom the Native shall marry to be impotent and weak in the acts of Venus.

9. If Venus shall be with Saturn, Iupiter and ☽ Mercury all together, or within their Orbs, it denotes the Native, be it either Man or Woman, to marry a painful, laborious, and industrious person.

10. If Venus be with Mars, either by Conjunction, Quartile or Opposition, the Person whom the Native shall marry, will be lofty, high-spirited, very mutable in love; and frequently prove an Adulterer or Adulteress. I could from divers Authors have added divers more Aphorisms concerning Venus and her position; but I deem these sufficient, and therefore I come next to speak ——

SECT. 8.

Of the Position of the Lord of the seventh.

1. When the Lord of the seventh is posited in the first House, it denotes to the Native great Friendship with Women; and that he shall be fortunate in Law-suits, and shall gain by Controversies oftentimes; and his ordinary dealing will be fortunate and propitious unto him: his Wife will bring reproach unto him, chiefly if the Lord of the seventh be ill dignified; by which means he will have many discords and strifes with her: but my Author saith, Morituras ante Natum. Understand the same of the Husband in the Nativity of a Woman.

2. The Lord of the seventh in the second House well dignified, the Native is enriched by a Wife; but if ill dignified, she consumes and wastes much of his Estate: it being the eighth House from the second, he will see the death of his Wife, and also of his publick Enemies. Nevertheless, he will suffer much damage from or by reason of publick Enemies and Thieves, and will have many strifes and contentions for, and by reason of riches, and the goods of fortune.

3. By being placed in the third House, the Native oftentimes marries one of his Relations; and if he be well dignified, it shews a friendship to continue between them; but by being ill, much controversie, and strife and hatred shall be between them: My Author sayes, * Frater aliquando coibit cum Uxore Nati: It kindles many strifes and dissentions between the Native his Brethren and Kindred.

* Ptol. Parv. lib. 1. fol. 40.

4. When posited in the fourth House, it denotes much good unto the Native by dealing in matters relating to VVomen, and in the inheritances or Lands of his Ancestors: but the VVife many times shall be of the Race or Lineage of the Native, and will be both good and chaste.

----Sed Natus contentiones experietur causa Genitorum : but this chiefly happens when the Lord of the fourth and Lord of the Ascendent are inimical unto each other, or behold each other maliciously.

5. By being posited in the fifth House, the Natives Wife will be young, lovely, and of good manners and behaviour ; yet much given to mirth and modest pleasures, if well dignified there ; if ill, she will be propense to many illicite courses : it also threatens many vexations unto the Native by reason of children ; or with the Ambassadors, Messengers or Deputies of Kings.

6. VVhen located in the sixth House, the Native generally marries one of low parentage, of vile esteem in the VVorld, a bond-servant, and subject to reproaches (perhaps deservedly) from her fellow-servants. It also denotes the Native to be both a lyer, and a projector of Treason, and other baseneſſes.

7. The Lord of the seventh, in the seventh, strong and potent, denotes the VVife of the Native to be noble, and of good credit and fame : but if weak and ill dignified, the Native shall have sorrow and vexation with his VVife ; he shall also have contentions with Harlots and VVomen of lewd fame.

8. The Lord of the seventh in the eighth House, shews many dissentions and controversies about the goods of Men deceased, VVills, and Legacies &c. It denotes also the VVife of the Native to have a convenient Dowry, and to be advantaged by the death of divers persons, if well dignified there ; if ill, the contrary.

9. If in the ninth House, it denotes unto the Native many discords and differences with persons Ecclesiastical by reason of Religion, much loss and damage also by the Kindred of the VVife, and troubles and dangers in long journeys or Sea-voyages.

10. VVhen in the tenth House, it denotes the VVife of the Native to be noble, and to spring from a famous Lineage ; by whose means he may come into the favour of Princes or great Persons : if ill dignified there, it denotes many contentions unto the Native by reason of honour, and many vexations in his Profession or way of Trade.

11. By being posited in the eleventh House, it denotes many Friendships to come by the means of VVomen or the VVife, and it presages the Native to marry a VVidow who shall be of a pleasant and jucundious life, it being the fifth from the seventh : if ill dignified there, it shews many contests between the Native and his friends, and his Wife to be too good a Companion.

12. VVhen placed in the twelfth House, it denotes many dissentions and troubles between the Native and his publique and private Enemies, and he will live in much peril of hate and envy from them ; his VVife will be both vile and ignoble : but if well posited, the contrary.

SECT. 9.

From whence shall the Native marry?

You need not think strange of this Question ; for it is often seen, that English Natives marry with Persons of another Country or Nation ; and it is no more then other Nations do. Kings are their Presidents for it ; and we know it is (no less then) Religion to follow their foot-steps : therefore Astrologically,

1. Con-

1. Consider, whether in a Nativity you finde the Significators of Marriage in the third or ninth Houses of Heaven ; or the Moon applying to the Lord of the third or ninth, the Native then marries a Stranger.

2. When the Significators shall be all Peregrine, out of their Essential Dignities, and in Cadent places of the Figure, the Native then (if marries at all) marries a Stranger, or one of another Country.

3. If Venus be Lady of the ninth, and posited in the first or tenth Houses, the Native will marry one of another Country. ☉ and ♀ in Conjunction in the seventh House, denotes the same.

4. The Lord of the seventh in the ninth, or Lord of the ninth in the seventh, declares the Native to marry a Stranger ; and if the Significator be benevolent and well fortified, it denotes a religious, rich and vertuous Wife. Observe the like in the Lord of the third.

5. When the Sign of the seventh, and place of the Lord of the seventh, shall be of a contrary Triplicity to the Ascendent, or the place of his Lord, the Native marries a Stranger ; but if the Lord of the seventh and Venus be Angular, and of the same Trigon, it will be one neer him ; if of the same Trigon, and in succedent Houses, the Native marries one of the same Country, but a great way off him ; but if Cadent, the Native marries a Stranger.

6. Consider the Signs, their Cubernation over the Quarters and Parts of the World, and they will direct you to the true Quarter from whence the VVife or Husband shall come. In this Judgement you must know, that—— ♈, ♌, ♐ signifie the East part.

♉, ♍, ♑ denote the South part.
♊, ♎, ♒ rule over the West part.
♋, ♏, ♓ represent the North part.

7. The Houses of Heaven are also to be considered in this business, and mixed in signification with the Signs, thus :

Eleventh, twelfth and first Houses are East, South-East.
Second, third and fourth Houses, are North, North-East.
Fifth, sixth and seventh Houses, are West, North-West.
Eighth, ninth and tenth Houses, are South, South-West.

And this shall serve for the Divisions of the Signs and Houses, in this case, and for the Question it self.

SECT. 10.

Shall the Native or his Wife die first, or (if the Native be a VVoman) her Husband?

1. Herein you are to observe the Significators of the Husband or Wife of the Native ; and if you finde them afflicted by the Conjunction, Quartile or Opposition of the Infortunes, the Person whom the Native marries with, will die before the Native.

2. When the Significators shall be posited in Cadent Houses of the Figure neer violent fixed Stars, or be locally in the second House, (it being the eighth from the seventh) or afflicted by the Lord of the twelfth or second, the person whom the Native marries shall die first.

3. If the Moon separate from Mars, and apply to Venus in the Occidental part of Heaven, the Native will marry many times; but the persons whom the Native shall marry will all die first: if the Moon be posited in the fourth House, in Conjunction or Opposition of Saturn, the same.

4. The Sun or Venus in the fourth House, in Conjunction, Quartile or Opposition of Saturn or Mars, denote the death of the Person or Persons whom the Native shall marry, before the Native: the Moon in the seventh, in Conjunction, Quartile or Opposition of the Infortunes, without the assistance of ♃ or ♀, declare the same.

5. Saturn or Mars in the seventh or fourth House, or Venus in Conjunction of Mars in the twelfth House, presage the party whom the Native marries to die first; Venus Occidental, Peregrine, and in Conjunction, Quartile or Opposition of Saturn, (he being an Enemy to Nature) declares the same.

6. When the Lord of the seventh is Combust, Cadent and Peregrine, the Native buries his Wife, or (if it be a Woman) her Husband; chiefly in the twelfth. If he be posited in the eighth House, it portends the same.

7. When the Infortunes shall be Peregrine, in the seventh House, having Rule or Dominion therein, it denotes the death of the persons whom the Native shall marry. If the Moon shall transfer the malignant Beams of the Lord of the sixth or eighth from the seventh, unto the Lord of the seventh, or the Lord of them locally posited in the seventh House, or in Quartile or Opposition unto it, it portends the death of the Person or Persons whom the Native shall marry, before the Native.

8. I hold it very consentaneous to reason, for to make use of the Doctrine of Directions and Revolutions, &c. for they denote the time of these Accidents, as shall hereafter be shewn. And so I conclude the Doctrinal part of the seventh House.

Chap. XIX.

Of Judgements proper to the eighth House.

Περὶ μοίρων.

THis House takes notice of the death of every Native; for as the wise
* Eccles. 3. 2. Man teaches, Tempus pariendi, & tempus moriendi: There is a time to be born, and (most certainly) another to die. Dayly experience teacheth us, that whosoever hath a Birth, presently passeth and hasteth away towards Death: and every thing that hath a beginning, doth necessarily and unavoidably rowl towards its end. And this agrees with the Doctrine of † Heb. 9. 27. the Holy Apostle Saint Paul, † —— Illud statutum est hominibus ut semel moriantur. —— It is appointed unto [all] men once to die. They who live the longest, die at last: and those that live the least time, do no more. So that we may conclude, Man's Life is but Death's Usher, or rather his Harbinger, that comes before, and makes his entertainment ready for him. In some ('tis true) the Banquet is longer a preparing, then in in others, by reason of propitious Stars, that are well fortified at the time of their birth; which makes them by nature more strenuous and stable, and of longer duration then those who are signified by unfortunate ones. By an interrogatory Assertive, * Zechary the Prophet propheseth, That Death of all things is the most certain that happeneth unto Mankinde: Your fathers, where are they? and the Prophets, do they live for ever? And truly, when a Man hath spun out threescore or fourscore yeers with much trouble and vexation, he must be content to submit unto the certain and true Epitaph of the Patriarchs of old, as his own, viz. Ac mortuus est: And he died. The Author of The Anatomy of † Melancholy, tells you, that Death is an inevitable chance, the first Statute in Magna Charta, an everlasting Act of Parliament: All must die. And (alluding to the Text in the Psalms) he pithily concludeth, We cannot repeal the Law of Death; for we are mortal; and these all-commanding Gods and Princes die like men.

* Zech. 1. 5. Majores vestri ubinam sunt? & Prophetæ ipsi, an in seculum vivunt?

† Mr. Burton of C. C. Oxon.

Now, although Death be the Portion of every Man and Thing that hath Life, yet are some persons so peevish, rash, and fearful, that they dare not be acquainted with the time thereof; but are willing to pass on in a contented slavish fear, as if their nescience or non-visibility could protect them: when alas, poor Wretches, Death steals upon them at unawares!

Shall not he be accounted a silly and timerous Souldier, that will refuse to know the time he is to encounter his Enemie? It is rather a brand of cowardise, then a badge of boldness or magnanimity, for a Man to wink when he fights. Our whole Life is nothing but a conflict: sometimes, we are Victors; other times, we come off with Loss. To know the time of our Death, (or any other material Accident) is a blessing that the benignity and favour of Heaven doth afford a Man; and shall Man be so sottish as to reject it? It was the Prayer and Request of King David, unto the King of kings, to be acquainted with this very thing. Fac ut experiar, Iehova, finem meum, mensuram dierum meorum, quid sit; experiar quam durabilis sum: (i. e.) Lord, (saith he) let me know my end, and the number (or * measure) of my days, that I may be certified (or prove and try) how long I have to live.

* The word is μέτρον, a measure.

Surely had not this enquiry been lawful and attainable; yea, had it not been of great worth and excellency, and admirable use thereof to be made, the holy Prophet would never have prayed for it. But to pass by the heavenly use hereof, as, that a Man may meet his God and Saviour with joy, and joyfully exclaim in the very ears of death, Πῦ σου, θάνατε, τὸ κέντρον; πῦ σου, ᾅδη, τὸ νῖκος; O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? I will come to instance in something that may be more taking with Mankinde, viz. the earthly uses and advantages that may be made thereof: (for such is the corruption of Mankinde, that it will reject every thing that carries not a present profit in it,)

How the knowledge of the number of Man's dayes may advantage him.

First, in purchasing of Lands or Houses for Life, the length of his Life may be considerably profitable to him; as common experience testifies.

Secondly, by knowing the length of his Life, he may so order and dispose of his earthy Estate, that he may prevent much strife and contention about the same after his Death, which usually (the more is the pity) happens in such cases.

Lastly, his prudence in this kinde, will eternize his memory after death, which otherwise may be buried in oblivion (after a short time) in a Coffin made of the Curses of his neerest Relations. And by such means, the covetous Administratrix will be prevented of couzening her own Chil-

Children; and the unconscionable Executor, the Orphan. Brother cannot intrench upon the Liberty or Estate of Brother. Every Man will know his own; and Families may remain in quiet, peace and concord.

Whoever hath been acquainted with the Honourable Courts of Chancery and Prerogative, hath been acquainted with innumerable Evils occasioned by Persons being snatched away of a sudden, or (through hopes of longer Life) having procrastinated and neglected the settlement of things, have died Intestate, or without Will.

Neither let any Man (with a pretended whine of Conscience) cavil and object, That it is unnecessary to be known, in that it represents Death, the neerer it comes, as a Monster, the more hideous and frightful; and so obstructs his peace of Minde, and perturbs that, which otherways would be at quiet. These things, alas! are but weak and childish, when the former Considerations are heeded: for, who but such a one who hath lived so, that he is afraid to die, can at all be troubled at the approach of Death? Paul desired to be dissolved. And it is reported of Socrates, that he took his Poyson as cheerfully, as if he had been drinking a Health to the Deity. Stultum est timere quod vitari non potest. It is a folly, and great weakness (in any Man) to fear that which cannot be avoided, saith Seneca.

And surely, if the knowledge of such a thing could be any ways unprofitable or of evil consequence to a Man, Hezekiah had then no reason to rejoyce at the addition of fifteen yeers to the length of his Life; but as Scripture proveth, he rejoyced and praised God for it: see Isaiah, *chap.*38. *vers.*20.

But è diverticulo in viam, I have deviated too far, I must turn into the Road again: for I am to act the part not of a Divine, but of an Astrologer. I have onely urged by this way of προοίμιον, or Preface unto this considerable, and yet most offensive part of Astrology, for to satisfie the tender Consciences of the vulgar persons, into whose hands I know this Book will come: possibly, it may prevent also, the prejudicate Opinions of the better learned, against this Heavenly, most choice and excellent Learning. And so I come to my Astrological Judgements.

SECT. 1.

Of the interficient or killing Planet.

1. As in my Judgements of the first House, Chap. 12. *Sect.*2. I have shewed what the Vitæ Propagator, or Prolonger of Life is: so it is requisite I declare unto you here, what it is that impedes or cuts off Life. And to be brief, it is that Planet who is Lord of the eighth House, or having great Dignities therein, or posited therein himself.

2. Now this Planet, by being Promittor, either by Body, Quartile, or Opposition, and the Hylech being significator, and directed unto him (chiefly if he prove to be an Infortune, and contrary in nature to the Hylech) doth generally denote the time of the Native's expiration.

3. The Greeks called this interficient Planet Ἀναιρέτης, Anairetes; and the Latines Interfector, (i.e.) as the word sounds, a Murtherer or Killer. Ptolomy (who was Princeps Astrologorum) calls him Vitæ Abscissor, the Destroyer of Life.

4. Some will have the Sextile Dexter of Saturn, and Sextile Sinister of Mars to kill, if they shall be in Signs of long Ascensions, chiefly in sickly Genitures, and when they chance to fall out in a Clymacterical yeer; others, things of dangerous consequence and import concurring.

5. The true and principal way to be followed in observing the time of the Native's Death, is by taking notice of the Lord of the eighth House, the Planet posited therein, or having great Dignities in the same: for when the Prorogator of Life (or either of the Lights) is directed unto the Conjunction, Quartile or Opposition of him, and there be no assistance of the benevolent Planets, the Native will assuredly be cut off from the Land of the living.

6. 'Tis the Opinion of the Arabian Doctors in this Learning, That if the Hylech be directed unto the Cusp of the sixth, eighth, seventh or fourth Houses, in the dark, cloudy and nebulose Parts of the Ecliptique; it usually proves fatal to the Native.

7. And if he shall be directed to the place of a present Comet or Eclipse, in Pitted or Azimene Degrees, and neer violent fixed Stars; or unto the Quartile, or Opposition of Mercury, he being Lord of the Brain and Spirits, it often proves dangerous to the Native, chiefly if Jupiter or Venus assist not.

8. I observe when the Ascendent, Sol or Luna comes unto the Conjunction, Quartile or Opposition of Saturn or Mars, by Direction, they having Dignities in the eighth, and hating the Ascendent or place where the Direction happens, it proves commonly fatal unto the Native, as I could prove by many Genitures: but if the Revolution be of the same tendency with the Direction, nothing but a miracle must save him.

9. The Ascendent directed to the Opposition of the Lights, or the Lights to the Quartile or Opposition of one another in Signs of a contrary nature, the Native hath very much ado to escape at that time, as I have oftentimes proved. But I shall pass by all further Discourse of this nature here, and refer the ingenious Reader unto the effects of Directions.

SECT. 2.

What kinde of Death the Native shall die.

It is very necessary and convenient that we come to treat in the next place of the kinde of Death the Native is subject unto, whether natural or violent: if natural, it comes by some Disease or other, as I have mentioned in my Judgements of the sixth House: for Morbus est via ad mortem, Sickness is the common way and path that leads to Death. If violent, it must be sudden, casual and unexpected, or by the Sentence and Decree of a Judge, &c. for some unworthy act performed; or else through the strength of melancholly or folly. It may be sudden or casual; as that of Sophocles, who was sent to Death by the stone of a Grape; or that of Zeuxes, who died laughing at the Picture of an old Woman, which himself drew. And there are divers (of whom History maketh mention) that have died weeping, laughing, sneezing, yauning, &c. some at unawares have been knock'd on the Head with a Book. Others have dropped down dead in the Streets, as our own experience can sufficiently testifie. A violent Death may happen also by the Sentence of a Judge, &c. as hanging, burning, pressing, breaking on the wheel, &c. or through melan-melancholy or folly; as by hanging, ſtabbing, or drowning ones ſelf; or by Duels, and other very many ways.

For the finding out the true and original cauſe thereof, Aſtrologers have furniſhed us with many excellent Rules in their Writings; the chief of which I ſhall inſert for the advantage of the Engliſh Nation, whom principally I hope to pleaſure in this Treatiſe.

SECT. 3.

Arguments of a natural Death.

1. When in a Nativity, the Lord of the Aſcendent ſhall be in good Aſpect with the Lord of the eighth or fourth Houſes, the Native will die a natural Death: and if the Moon be in good Aſpect with them as aforeſaid, the ſame.

2. If Iupiter or Venus ſhall govern (or have Dominion in) the eighth Houſe, or be locally poſited therein, it denotes a natural Death: if they ſhall be out of their eſſential Dignities there, and in good Aſpect of Luna, or the Lord of the Aſcendent, or with Stars of their own nature, the ſame.

3. VVhen in a Nativity you finde neither the Lord of the Aſcendent, the Moon or Lord of the eighth in Signs which are termed violent, or with fixed Stars of a violent nature, the Native will not be ſubject to a violent Death.

4. If one of the Fortunes be located in the eighth Houſe, and the other in the Aſcendent, the Native will not die a violent Death.

SECT. 4.

Of the kindes of a natural Death.

1. VVhen the Significators of Death ſhall be in their eſſential Fortitudes, or in the Terms of Iupiter or Venus, the Native ſhall have an eaſie Death, and he ſhall expire without much pain.

2. VVhen Aries ſhall aſcend in a Nativity, and Mars Lord thereof ſhall be Significator of Death, as he will be if Scorpio deſcend on the eighth Houſe, becauſe he is Lord of Scorpio, and Mars be beheld of the Fortunes; the natural Diſeaſe by which the Native ſhall die, will be Martial; as by the Jaundies, Small Pox, Hemorrhoids, or Fever. Et ſic de cæteris.

3. When the ☉ or ♂ ſhall be Lord of the eighth, and exiſting therein in moiſt Signs, as are ♋, ♏, ♓, the Native's Death ſhall be occaſioned by the predominion of heat and moiſture; as by a Flux of the Belly, Bloody Flux, Dropſie, &c.

4. When the ☉ ſhall (in a Nativity) be eclipſed in the ſeventh Houſe, and the Lord of the ſeventh ſtationary and Retrograde; the Native's Death will be occaſioned by a Chronick Diſeaſe, a Conſumprion, Cough, Quartane Ague, or the like.

5. VVhen the Sun ſhall be in the Aſcendent, and the Moon in the ſeventh, and Mars in the Mid-heaven, or in Angulo Terræ, the fourth Houſe, having no aſſiſtance from Iupiter or Venus, the Death of the Native will proceed from aduſtion of Choler, and hot and actimonious Rheums and Defluxions.

6. When the Moon ſhall be unfortunate in the Weſt-Angle, and ♄ be Lord of the Houſe of Death, the Diſeaſes of which the Native ſhall die, will be either a Palſie, Epilepſie, Impoſthume, Spleen, Wind-Cholick, Meaſles, &c.

7. When ♀ ſhall ſignifie the Death of the Native, and be infortunated of ♂, the Native gets his Death by Venereous courſes: the Diſeaſes generally are the Gonorrhæa, Morbus Gallicus, Corruption of Blood, &c. but if afflicted of ♄, the Leproſie, Scabs, ſometimes the black Jaundies, Iliac-paſſion.

8. If ☿ ſhall be Significator of Death, and be afflicted of ♄, the Native dies of a ſtrong Melancholy: but if afflicted of ♂, the Native ſhall die of a Frenzy, Meagrim, Vertigo in the Brain, Lethargy, or the ſleepy Diſeaſe.

SECT. 5.

Teſtimonies of a violent Death.

1. If the Luminaries be poſited in violent Signs, * not beholding each other, it denotes a violent Death; or if either of them be in a violent Sign with violent fixed Stars, it denotes the ſame. Violent fixed Stars be the Head of Meduſa, the Bull's Eye, Orion, Serpentarius, Hydra, Cor Scorpii, &c. as may be ſeen by the Table at the beginning of the Book.

* Violent Signs are ♈, ♂, ♌, ♏, part of ♐, ♑.

2. When the Luminaries ſhall be in Quartile or Oppoſition from Angles, or unfortunated by ♄ or ♂, it portends a violent Death; chiefly, if they, (that is, ♄ or ♂) have Eſſential Dignities in the eighth Houſe.

3. If ♄ and ♂ be in Conjunction in an Angle, (chiefly in the mid-Heaven) and in a violent Sign, it preſages a violent Death: and if they ſhall be in Oppoſition from Angles, it denotes the ſame.

4. The Lord of the eighth Houſe in the Aſcendent, in his Fall, or Detriment, in a violent Sign, or with violent fixed Stars, or afflicted by a Malevolent Planet, either by Body or Aſpect, doth denote a violent Death.

5. The Lord of the Aſcendent in the eighth Houſe, in a violent Sign, and impedited by the Conjunction, Quartile or Oppoſition of the Malevolent Planets, or the Lord of the eighth, denotes a violent Death.

6. When the Moon ſhall be in the ſeventh Houſe, in evil Aſpect or Conjunction of the Infortunes, it declares a violent Death: by her being located in the twelfth Houſe, configurated as aforeſaid, it denotes the ſame.

7. When ♂ ſhall be in the ſeventh Houſe, ill dignified, and the Moon behold him by Quartile or Oppoſition, it portends a violent Death: and the Moon in the firſt, tenth, or fourth Houſes, beholding the Infortunes (or one of them) in the ſeventh, by Quartile or Oppoſition, imports the ſame.

8. When Saturn in a nocturnal Nativity ſhall be in the eighth Houſe, or Mars in a diurnal, and the fortunate Planets not beholding them, it is an Argument of an evil Death unto the Native.

Aſtrologers have given divers Rules for the true underſtanding of a violent olent Death in a Nativity: but these being the most choice and excellent of them, and best to be credited, (as my own experience doth sufficiently testifie in many of them) I thought it rather convenient to omit then insert the others. But if any person reading this, shall desire to read variety, I refer him to Origanus, Tom. 1. fol. 718, ad 729. And Guido Bonatus, pars 5. fol. 775, and forwards. And Mr. Lilly, part 2. fol. 644, to 650. together with Schoner, Albubatur, and others; all which have ingenuously treated hereof.

SECT. 6.

Of the kindes of violent Death.

The kindes of violent Death are many and divers, as I shewed before; and I shall speak of them in order, as followeth:

Death by Water. 1. VVhen the Moon, the Anareta, and their places shall be in watry Signs, the Native expires by water. VVhen ♄ shall be in the fourth House Occidental, and in ♋, in evil aspect of ☉ or ♂, the same: or if the Moon be in Quartile or Opposition unto him there, the Native will be drowned.

2. VVhen the Lord of the fourth House shall be in the seventh, in a watry Sign, and the fourth House watry also, the Native will be often in danger of water, and at last will die by it.

3. VVhen ♄, ♂, ☿ and ☽ shall be in the Mid-heaven in a watry Sign, it denotes the Death of the Native by water; or if the Moon shall be in the fourth, in Opposition to them there, the same.

* I shall (anon) in a Chapter by it self, shew, how all the parts that belong to the 12 Houses are to be taken.

4. If all the Significators of Death be in watry Signs, viz. ♋, ♏, ♓, the Native will be drowned: if they shall be in the Constellation of Iason's Ship, Argos, the Native will suffer Shipwrack at Sea, or be swept away in some storm or tempest; chiefly if the * part of Death happen there.

Death by Fire. 1. If all the Significators of a violent Death happen neer Stars of a fiery nature in fiery Signs, viz. ♈, ♌, ♐, the Native dies by Fire, Thunder, Lightning or Gun-shot.

2. If ♂ shall be in ill Aspect of the Luminaries; viz. Quartile or Opposition, and in ♈, ♌, ♏, or ♐, the Native will be burned to Death. If in ♏ it happen, he will be burned accidentally, either by the burning of Houses or Ships. If in ♈ or ♌, he may be sentenced to be shot to Death by a Council of VVar, &c. But if in ♐, he is sentenced to be burned for his Religion, or at least for holding strange and heterodoxial Tenets therein.

3. VVhen the Lord of the Ascendent shall be unfortunated by ♂, the Native dies by fire. And when the ☉ is joyned to the Lord of the Ascendent or eighth House in ♌, it portends the same.

4. VVhen the Lord of the fourth shall be in the seventh House, in a fiery Sign, and in evil Aspect of the Infortunes from Signs of a fiery nature, the Native will then lose his Life by fire.

5. VVhen the Moon shall be with ♂, in the eighth House, (in a fiery Sign) the Native shall be burned. And if she shall be in Quartile or Opposition unto him there, neer violent fixed Stars, it denotes the same.

6. VVhen the Moon shall be Lady of the seventh House, and ♂ and ☉ shall behold each other (maliciously) from the seventh and tenth Houses, the the Native will be burned to death; chiefly from fiery Signs, and by being with Stars of a fiery Nature.

7. VVhen all the Planets signifying a violent Death shall be in fiery Signs, Natus igne morietur. And when the Moon (alone) shall be either Angular or Succedent in a fiery Sign in Aspect of the Infortunes, without the assistance of Jupiter or Venus, the Native will also die by fire.

Death by Hanging, or falls from on high.

1. If the Significators of a violent Death be in Aereal Signs, (such be ♊, ♎, ♒) the Native will be hanged, or die by a fall from on high, or else be privately strangled.

2. When Mars shall be with the Pleiades, Saturn with Cor ♌, or Cor ♏, and the Sun with Caput Algol, or the Head of Medusa in Opposition of either of them, the Native will certainly be hanged or be beheaded.

3. The Sun in the eighth House, Peregrine and infortunate, and the Lord of the eighth in evil aspect of the Infortunes, the Native will be hanged or precipitated from an high place; chiefly in an Aereal Sign.

4. VVhen the Moon shall be in any of the Angles, in Opposition of Mars or Saturn, and Jupiter in the twelfth or second, Peregrine, and in an earthy Sign, the Native will die by a fall from some steep place.

5. If Saturn shall be Lord of the eighth House, and Jupiter posited with Mars in the seventh, not beholding the Cusp of the fourth House, he who is then born shall die by hanging, or by an unhappy fall.

6. VVhen the Moon shall be posited in the Mid-heaven, and in Opposition of the Infortunes in the fourth House, the Native who is then born shall die by the fall of a House, Wall, Tree, or the like; and the rather, if the Infortunes shall be in an Earthy or Airy Sign.

7. When Saturn or Mars shall be in the seventh House, with Cauda Draconis, the Native that is then born will certainly be hanged, unless a good Planet interpose.

Death by Poyson, starving in Prison, or by being slain in Battel, or otherwayes.

1. If the Lords of a violent Death shall be posited in Earthy Signs, the Native will then die in a Dungeon, be starved, poysoned, or privately stab'd or murthered; chiefly if in dark or smoaky Degrees of the Sign they are in.

2. When the Significators of a violent Death shall be in the tenth House, the Native dies by the sword of Justice. If in the twelfth House, he dies by great Cattle, or in Prison, or is murthered privately. If in the sixth, he dies by his Servants, or by the hands of Thieves he will be slain, &c.

3. The Moon in Quartile or Opposition to Mars, the Native loseth his life in a tumult by the hands of the rabble-rout of vulgar Fellows. If in Quartile or Opposition of Saturn, he dies in a Dungeon, or else in a melancholy-fit, hangs or makes himself away.

4. If Saturn be the alone Significator of a violent Death, he denotes Shipwrack, Death by falls of houses or buildings, poyson, drowning. But if Mars be the Significator, he dies by the sword, or fire, in the wars; by falls from horses, or high places; by strangling.

5. VVhen the ☉ shall be in □ or ☍ to ♂, and ♂ with Caput Medusæ, the Native will be beheaded: and if this happen from ♌ or ♏, 'tis a miracle that it should fail.

6. The Moon with Oculus ♉, or Cor ♏, or ♂ with either of them, denotes the Native to die by the stroak of a sword, or else he shall expire by a ſtab. But if either of them be with the Stars of Hydra, the Native will be either poyſoned, or will periſh by water.

Quando ☽, ♄ & ♂ in quarta Domo fuerint, natus mortem ſubitaneam incurrit *. VVhen the Dragon 's head, ☊, and ♂ ſhall be poſited in the fourth Houſe, he that is then born will be ſubject to a ſudden death.

* Albubater of ſudden death.

8. VVhen the Moon ſhall be in the eighth houſe in a nocturnal Geniture, and in aſpect of the Infortunes, viz. Saturn and Mars, he who is then born will be ſubject to a ſudden death.

9. If the Lord of the eighth Houſe be infortunate, and the Lord of the firſt ſhall be in the Triplicity of the Angle of the Earth, and in no good aſpect of the Fortunes, the Death of the Native will be ſudden.

10. VVhen ♂ ſhall be in the Houſe of the Moon, Natus ferro aut ſanguinis effuſione ſubito morietur : (i. e.) he that is then born ſhall die ſuddenly by Iron, or by an effuſion of blood ; and this will be the more certain, if ♂ be Lord of the eighth Houſe.

Of death by Poyſon.

11. VVhen the Lord of the eighth Houſe ſhall be Peregrine and afflicted from ♄ or ♂, in ♉, ♏ or ♓, the Native ſhall die by the ſting or venome of a Serpent, or by Poyſon.

12. VVhen ♀ ſhall be Lady of the eighth Houſe, and impedited there, the Native ſhall be poyſoned by VVomen, or by Medicine which he ſhall take, and that will be the cauſe of his Death.

13. VVhen ♀ ſhall be Lady of the eighth Houſe, and infortunated there, and the Cuſp of the eighth Houſe infortunated alſo, the Native will bring ſudden death upon himſelf, by drinking exceſs of Wine, or elſe by an unhappy poyſonous Potion from or by means of a woman.

14. When the Moon ſhall be in the eighth Houſe with the Tail of the Dragon, the Native dies ſuddenly by the taking of ſome venomous or deadly Purges, or other poyſonous Doſe. The ſame alſo, if ſhe be with the Tail of the Dragon in the fourth.

Death by great Beaſts.

15. When the Moon ſhall be with ♂ in a Beſtial Sign, and he Lord of the eighth Houſe, the Native will die by the fury of ſome great Beaſt. When ☽ ſhall be in any of the four Angles, and ☿ Peregrine in an Angle in a four-footed Sign, the Native will die by the fury of ſome brute Beaſt ; chiefly if he happen in ♌.

16. When the Moon ſhall be joyned to ♄ and ♂ in the Mid-heaven, in a four-footed Sign, he that is then born will die ſuddenly by a kick, or the rage of a four-footed Beaſt.

17. When ♄ ſhall be in the Aſcendent, and ☽ in the ſeventh Houſe in □ of ♂ from the fourth, and he fortune to be in a Quadrupeian or four-footed Sign, the Native will die by a four-footed Beaſt. And thus much for the kindes of a violent death, by which the Native may expire.

SECT. 7.

Of the Lord of the Eighth's poſition in the Twelve Houſes.

1. The Lord of the Eighth in the firſt Houſe of a Nativity, denotes many infirmities to the Native, and preſages him to be of ſhort life, and of ſmall fortune ; chiefly if he ſhall be a malevolent Planet.

2. By being fortunately poſited in the ſecond Houſe, it gives plenty of Riches unto the Native by VVills, Legacies, Executorſhips, Adminiſtrations, &c. of perſons deceaſed : but if ill poſited there, it denotes much loſs and damage thereby.

3. In

3. In the third Houſe it denotes poor brethren unto the Native ; who ſhall be infirm and ſickly, and ſubject to reproaches and diſgrace ; they will be alſo of ſhort life. It threatens death unto the Native alſo in ſhort Journies.

4. VVhen poſited in the fourth Houſe, the Natives Parents will be ſtrangers ; they will be alſo ſickly, and of ſhort life ; but for the Native, it denotes that he ſhall die in his own proper Countrey or Houſe.

5. By being located in the fifth Houſe, it declares ſhort life to the Natives Children. But if they ſhall eſcape the danger of death, they will be famous and honourable in their Generations : for it is the tenth from the eighth Houſe, viz. the Houſe of Dignity.

6. If placed in the ſixth Houſe of a Nativity, it denotes much dammage from Servants, ſmall Beaſts ; and many times danger of death from his Uncles, or ſome neer Relations : But this muſt be underſtood when ill dignified there.

7. The Lord of the Eighth in the Seventh, denotes the Native to marry a wife, or husband (with a great fortune) of another Countrey. It alſo denotes the death of the perſon whom the Native ſhall marry ; And that the Native ſhall end his dayes in a ſtrange Land.

8. When poſited in the Eighth ſtrong, it denotes a gentle and eaſie death to the Native, and that he ſhall be ſubject to few ſickneſſes. But if he be an infortune, the Native will be often in danger of a violent death.

9. By being located in the ninth Houſe, it portends the Native to end his dayes in another Country ; and if he be an infortune, it inclines him to many evil wayes, by which means he will ſhorten or cut off his life

10. In the tenth houſe of a Nativity, it declares the death of the Native by ſome Law, which he hath offended ; or elſe by the means of his Prince, &c. But if well dignified there, he ſhall attain to a great degree of dignity ; and in the midſt of Glory ſhall end his dayes.

11. By being poſited in the eleventh Houſe, it imports but few friends to the Native, and much controverſie, ſtrife and hate with them. And the Native ſhall die, or be depriv'd of life, in the choiceſt and beſt time thereof.

12. When in the twelfth Houſe, it preſages much danger of death unto the Native from impriſonments, his private Enemies, from great Cattle. And the time he doth live, much miſery attends him.

SECT. 8.

Of the Subſtance of that Perſon whom the Native marries.

This Houſe, being the ſecond from the ſeventh, ſignifies the Eſtate or ſubſtance of the Perſon whom the Native ſhall marry. The true and certain ſum, there is no one living can determine ; but whether it ſhall be valuable, or inconſiderable, theſe following Aphoriſms make known.

1. When ♃, ♀, or the ☊ ſhall be poſited in the eighth Houſe, the Eſtate of the Perſon whom the Native ſhall marry, is valuable, and very conſiderable ; and if ♃, ♀, or ☊ be nobly dignified there, it denotes the perſon ſpoken of to have an illuſtrious and princely fortune.

2. The Lord of the ſeventh in the eighth Houſe, if it happen to be ♃, or ♀, ſignifies the perſon whom the Native ſhall marry to be born to a very great fortune ; or that they ſhall poſſeſs a glorious Eſtate.

3. When

3. When the Cusp of the eighth or seventh Houses shall be well fortified by the friendly rayes of the fortunes; or if Kingly fixed stars of the first magnitude be there, it argues the person very rich, whom the Native marries.

4. When the Lord of the eighth House, shall be strong and in good Aspect of the Lord of the Second, the person whom the Native shall marry will have a good Fortune, and the Native shall be the better for it; But if there happen a Quartile or Opposition between the Lord of the second, and Lord of the eighth, the contrary.

5. If the Lord of the Fifth House fortunate the Cusp of the eighth, the person whom the Native shall marry will be enriched by friends; because the fifth is the eleventh from the seventh House. If by the fourth, from a Mother; the tenth, from a Father or Guardian; the twelfth, from an Uncle or Aunt, &c.

6. But now on the other side, if the Infortunes be weak in the seventh or eighth Houses, it denotes the Person to be very poor whom the Native marries.

7. The Lord of the seventh in the sixth, or twelfth, or the Lord of the sixth or twelfth in the seventh, the Native then marries some poor servant, or one that is but of a mean birth or condition.

8. The ♂ in the eighth House, the Native (if a Man) will be cozened or cheated of his wives Portion; or he will expend more by going to Law for it, then ever he will get by it. If a Woman, she will be cheated in her expectations also; and by being credulous of reports, will believe the Husband to be richer then she will finde him; chiefly, if the ☽ or ☿ be in Square or Opposition to the eighth.

9. If the ☽ be Lady of the seventh, decreasing in Light, and posited in the eighth House, it denotes the Person whom the Native shall marry to be poor; and that the Native shall have but little felicity in Wedlock.

10. Note, that if the Lord of the seventh shall be in good Aspect with the Lord of the eighth, and the Lord of the Ascendent well configurated with them, in good places of Heaven, the Native will then be enriched by the death of some Friend or Friends of his Wife, if a Man; but if a Woman, the contrary.

And thus much shall serve for the Death of the Native, whether Natural or Violent; the Anareta, or killing Planet; the Estate, or Fortune of the Husband or Wife; and in fine, for the Judgements belonging unto the Eighth House.

CHAP. XX.

Of Judgements pertaining to the Ninth House.

BY this House is known the Travels, or long Journies of the Native, his Religion, (be it good, or bad) Dreams, &c. and it taketh notice of these Questions especially.

1. Whether the Native shall Travel, or not?
2. If he shall, toward what part of the World?
3. Shall he advantage himself thereby?

4. Wha

4. What shall occasion his Travel?
5. If he shall be Religious, or Atheistical?
6. Shall his Dreams be true or false? Frightful, Terrible, or pleasant?

SECT. 1:

Shall the Native Travel, or not?

Herein (for Significators) you must observe the ninth House; and his Lord, the Planet or Planets posited therein; together with the ☽ and ☿, and judge as followeth:——

1. If the Sign of the ninth House be moveable, and the Lord thereof in a Sign moveable; it is an Argument the Native will Travel.

2. When the ☽ is in ☌ with ☿, in a moveable Sign; or in an Aspect from moveable Signes; or either of them in reception with the Lord of the first or ninth, the Native will then assuredly travel.

3. If ☿, ☽, or the Lord of the Ascendent happen to be in the ninth House, or the Lord of the ninth in the Ascendent, or ☿ and ☽ in the third, these also are Testimonies of the Natives travel.

4. When the ☉ shall be in the House of the ☽ or ☿, or in Conjunction or reception with either of them, it denotes the Native to be a Traveller; chiefly if it thus happens in or from the ninth or third Houses.

5. If ♂ shall be in Conjunction with the ☽ in the ninth, and behold the Ascendent with a Trine Aspect, the Native will go many Journies; if the ☽ be there alone, the same.

6. The Lord of the Ascendent in the House of the ☽, or ☿, or in reception with the Lord of the ninth, the Native that is then born will travel; the Lord of the ninth, and Lord of the Ascendent of one Triplicity, the same.

SECT. 2.

Toward what part of the world travel?

1. For this you are to consider the significators of Travel, and the Sign and House of Heaven they are posited in, and accordingly judge.

2. If the significators be in ♈, ♌, ♐, he goes Eastward, (if also with this, they be posited in the East part of Heaven) ♉, ♍, ♑, Southward; ♊, ♎, ♒, Westward; ♋, ♏, ♓, Northward. For the Houses, judge of them as you were taught in the last Chapter.

3. If the Lord of the Ascendent, or ☽, behold the Lord of the ninth, in the ninth, and in ♉, ♍, or ♑, he travels Southwest; because the Signes be South-ward, and the ninth House is South and by West. Et sic de cæteris.

4. For the true and ready understanding of the parts of the World unto which the Native shall travel, I adjudge it necessary that the Artist collect into a Table the Significators of Travel; and having well considered the Signes and Quarters they are in, judge according to the major Testimonies.

Sect.

SECT. 3.

Shall he advantage himself by travail?

1. When the significators of travel be strong and fortunate, and in good Aspect of the Lords of the Ascendent, or second House, or in reception with them, or either of them, it is an Argument the Natives travels will be advantagious and profitable to him. But if they be weak, and in bad Aspect with the Lord of the Ascendent or second House, and in no reception, the Native loses by travel.

2. If the Lord of the Ascendent be in the ninth House, and the Lord of the ninth in the Ascendent, the Native will have joy and pleasure in his journies; and if they are fortunated by the beneficial Rayes of Jupiter or Venus, his pleasure will be the more excellent.

3. VVhen the Moon shall be in the Fifth, in good Aspect of Jupiter and ☽Mars, either of them being Lord of the ninth House, the Native shall have much joy and pleasure in his Journies; and that not without a considerable profit: And if they shall be in good places of the Figure, it will be the greater.

4. VVhen the Lord of the ninth shall be in any of the Angles, and fortunate and strong there, and the fortunate Planets lending him aid and assistance, the Native will have good success and fortune in his travels; and this not without much honour and profit.

5. Jupiter, Venus and the Dragons Head, in the ninth House, are excellent Testimonies of the Natives success in his travels; if the ⊕ of Fortune be there no wayes afflicted, the same. VVhen the part of Travel shall be assisted by the Friendship of the Lord of the second, or disposed of by him, and the Lords of the Part of Fortune, and the part of Journies be naturally friends, and in good Aspect to each other, the Native hath admirable success in his travels.

6. If the Lord of the ninth be infortunated by the Body or Aspect of ♄ or ♂, the Native will meet with many difficulties and dangers in his travels. If either of them afflicting the Lord of the ninth, the Moon or Lord of the Ascendent, be Lord of the twelfth House, or in it, the Native is taken captive in his Peregrination; if of the seventh or eighth, he either falls into the hands of Theeves, and is rob'd and despoil'd of what he hath; or else dies in his Voyage or Journey.

7. When the significators of travel are afflicted by ♄ or ♂, in humane Signs, the Native loses by Robbery, Deceit and Treachery; if in VVatry, he is either shipwrack'd, or else will be in danger of drowning, or lose much by unhappy tempests; If in Fiery Signs, the Vessel he goes in will be burned; if in Aiery Signes, much affliction by contrary windes, cross gusts and tempests.

8. If the Native would thrive by travels, let him consider the Countreys and Kingdoms subject to the Signes † of the first, tenth, eleventh, and second Houses in his Nativity; or the Signs wherein ♃, ♀, ☊ or ⊕ be posited; for from those places may he expect best to profit or advantage himself. He must also carefully avoid those Kingdoms and Countrys subject to the Signes wherein the Infortunes are; chiefly, if they be Lords of the sixth, eighth or twelfth Houses; for such places will be unprosperous unto him.

† What those Kingdoms and Countreys are, may be known by the tenth Chapter of this Book.

9. Saturn, ☽Mars or the Dragons Tayl in the ninth House, or afflicting the Lord of the ninth, alwayes portend many crosses, losses, vexations and dangers unto the Native in his travels. SECT.

SECT. 4.

What shall occasion the Natives travel?

1. When the significators of travel be joyned unto the Lord of the tenth House, or to ♄, being Superiorum altissimus, the Native may be imployed by a King or Governour, to go on an Embassage, &c. by which he may receive much honour.

2. If the significators of travel be in the Ascendent, or friendly behold it, the Native hath an itching desire to see strange Countreys, and will travel to satisfie the curiosity of his mind, and to see Fashions.

3. When they happen to be all posited in the House of ☿Mercury, in good Aspect unto the Lord of the Ascendent, the Native travels on purpose to Merchandise; and to learn divers Languages and Tongues; and to observe the Customs and Laws of divers Countreys and Places.

4. If Jupiter be Lord of the Ascendent, and posited in the ninth House, afflicted there by Saturn or ☽Mars, chiefly if either of them be Lord of the Mid-Heaven, the Native will be forced to travel for his Religion or Opinion sake. But if he be fortunate there, and free from the afflictions of the Infortunes, the Native will be willing to travel for Preferment-sake; and will be animated thereunto by some Church-man, or Lawyer, &c.

5. When ♀ is afflicted in the ninth, after the same manner, (and she happen to be Lady of the seventh) the Native travels by reason of some discontents or troubles occasioned by a Woman or Women; perhaps some Love-fit prompts him to it; and if the Lord of the Ascendent be in Quartile to her there, and in fixed Signes, he may bewaile his misfortune without remedy.

6. The Lord of the second in good configuration with the Lord of the ninth, the Native travels for gain, and may prove a fortunate Merchant. By what hath been said, the occasion of the Native's Travels may be easily conjectured.

SECT. 5.

Shall the Native prove Religious?

Whosoever shall read Spineus his Catastrophe Mundi, will not cavil (I am confident) at this uncouth Question; nor is it contrary to the adversaries own reasoning, that good & bad inclinations should proceed from the operations of the Stars: besides, we see that there are divers persons born into the world, who are of no Religion at all; but meer Epicures or Worldlings: And 'tis my belief, that I shall not do despite to the Truth, if I should say, They be as numerous as are the Religious: I shall therefore proceed unto the answer of the Question, Thus-------

1. Whoever he be that hath Jupiter, Venus or the Dragons Head in the ninth House, will be a Godly, Honest, Vertuous and Religious Person.

2. VVhen the ☉ and ♃ have dominion in the ninth House, and dignities in the place of ☿, ☽, or the Sign ascending, the person who is then born will be both Vertuous and Religious; yea, his words will be esteemed as Oracles: if they shall be in ✶ or △ of ☿ and ☽, the same.

3. If the Sun, Moon, or Pars Fortunæ happen to be in the ninth House, they portend the Native to be Honest and Religious; chiefly if they be in any good configuration with Jupiter or Venus; but if they shall be in good Aspect of the Malefique Stars there, the Natives good inclinations and intentions will be much remitted; but if afflicted by them, he will then prove a sordid person, of no reputation, Religion, or Honesty.

4. He that hath ♄, ♂, or ☋ in the ninth House, or with the Lord of the Ascendent, the Lord of the ninth House, or with the Moon, although he should prove a Priest, he will not be burdened with much Religion or Morality; he will indeed prove an Atheist or Sceptique.

5. VVhen ♄ and ♂ shall be in the third, in evil Aspect to the Moon, or Lord of the ninth, it declares the Native to be irreligious; If ☿ happen to be the Lord thereof, he is void of Honesty and good Manners also.

6. If Jupiter (the general significator of Religion and Honesty, and all Sober and Pious Inclinations) be either in detriment or Perigrine, and afflicted of ♄ or ♂, hee that is then born shall have much ado to be Religious; he will be happy if he shall arrive at moral Honesty.

7. When the Lord of the ninth House shall be unfortunate in an Angle, in detriment, and Retrograde, it declares the Native to be a contemner of Godliness. Where note, if ♄ be the Planet, the Native proves an Heretick; if ♂, a Blasphemer; if either of them be with ☋, he is then an absolute Atheist.

8. ♃ and ☿ in Cazimi (you were taught what Cazimi is, in Chap. 5. fol. 44.) it denotes the Native apt and propense unto Propheſies, and Divinations; and they will be Zealous in their way.

9. When ♄ is in the ninth House, in any of his Essential Dignities, it declares the person to be Religiously Honest.

10. VVhen there be no Planets posited in the ninth House, observe the Lord of the ninth; which if he shall be a Fortune, and ill disposed, it argues the person to be conscientious and Honest in his VVayes; though he be but believed of a few for his Profession.

11. The Lord of the second strong and potent in the ninth House, the Native grows rich by Preferment, as he will obtain from or by means of Religious persons; if the ☽ be strong there, it denotes the same; chiefly if in the dignities of ♃.

12. Saturn in the ninth House Retrograde in a bi-corporeal Sign, denotes the Native to be of no Faith or Religion, onely a meer outside-Professor; If ♂ be unfortunate there, he shews the Native to be some wrangling Priest or Lawyer; a boasting, cracking, lying Fellow.

13. VVhen the Moon and Mercury, and the Lord of the Ascendent shall be in double-bodyed Signs, it declares the Native to be Heretical in his Opinion or Faith, or one that will swerve from his first Principles of Education.

14. The Lord of the Ascendent, or ☽ beholding the Cusp of the ninth with a Trine, having dignities there, denotes the Native to be a vertuous honest person; and though he do not prove a whimpering-whining-verbal-Professor, yet will be more down-right in his dealing, do more good in his Generation, then a hundred of those that are sleepily devoted to a Lip-VVorship, or an out-side serving of God.

15. Many Planets in the ninth House, denote a mixture in Religion, or in Moral Vertues: This was sufficiently proved in the Nativity of Martin Luther, that Thunder-Bolt of Divinity; for he had no less then five Planets posited in the ninth House; and all of them in Scorpio, which according to the Opinion of all Astrologers, is the most Pestilent Sign of the Twelve.

I spare to urge the Opinion the Papists have contracted of him, because they are his professed Enemies. And truly I think Lucas † Gauricus too harsh in his Censure, when he sends him to Hell after his Death, in his Book of Genitures. The Man might be Honest; and in my Opinion, 'tis no point of Error to stickle for the Truth. He was of our own Religion; and I believe there have been as bad, yea worse then he, in Religion, that have not had five Planets in ♏, in the ninth House: yet this is most certain, according to the strength of the Aphorism, Whoever hath many Planets in the ninth House of his Nativity, (let them be in any Sign, it matters not) the Native will prove prodigious in matters of Religion.

SECT. 6.

Shall the Natives Dreams prove true or false? &c.

Divers are the Opinions of Philosophers and Physitians concerning the certainty of Dreams: Some holding the Affirmative, others the Negative. It is the Opinion of Zeno (as recorded by Plutarch) that every Man might know whether he profited in the School of Vertue, even by his Dreams. And Tully * saith, According to our Actions or Speeches in the day-time, our Phancy will work in our sleep. When Ptolomy King of Egypt had posed the seventy Interpreters in order, and asked the nineteenth Man what would make one to sleep quietly, (and without Dreaming) in the night; he told him, Optimum de cœlestibus & honestis meditari, & ea facere. (i. e.) The best way to sleep quiet in the night, was to have Divine and Cœlestial Meditations, and to use honest Actions in the day-time. 'Tis the Opinion of Galen, that the Dreams of persons follow the predominant humours of the body. Strato and Fernelius will have them to arise from Crudities, occasioned by excess of Dyet, or Drinking. But let them be caused either the one way or the other; most true it is, that somewhat of certainty and truth doth attend some persons according to their Dreams; as Casper Peucer in his Book of Dreams hath sufficiently prov'd. The Holy Scripture maketh mention of the wonderful verities of Dreams, and by many signal instances proveth that there is much credit to be given unto them, and their presages, provided they be truly interpreted. But because this subject is sufficiently handled by many learned Men, as Cardan, Artemidorus, Sambachus, &c. in Latine; and by my learned and loving Friend and Country-man Mr. Sanders, in his Metoposcopy and Chiromancy, in the English Tongue; I will forbear all further discourse of their Physical and Philosophical causes and significations; and descend unto their causes and presages Astrological------.

* In Som. Scip. Fit enim fere ut cogitationes nostræ & sermones pariant aliquid in somno---

1. When Jupiter and Venus, or the Dragons Head, shall be in the ninth House of a Nativity, strong and potent, they generally portend illustrious Dreams unto the Native; and such as have corresponding effects. If ♃ or ☿ shall behold the Lord of the ninth, or the ninth House, with Sextile or Trine, it denotes the same.

2. If ♃ or ☿ be weak in the ninth House, they declare doubtful Dreams, such that at sometimes hit, and at other times miss; If they be there in □ or ☍ of ☽, they are the more failable; yea, rarely take effect.

3. When ♄, ♂ or ☋ shall happen to be in the ninth House of a Nativity, and strong, the Natives Dreams prove hideous, monstrous, terrible, and frightful; and such, that oftentimes are the σεισεμι, or forerunners of mischief to befal him. But if they be weak there, the Native is then subject to dismal Dreams; but they will alwayes prove deceitfull, never true.

4. If the Sign of the ninth be fixed, the Native hath many true Dreams; if moveable, such as are not to be credited; if bicorporeal, they will be between both, sometimes true, and other times false.

5. When the ☉ shall be Lord of the ninth, and with ♄, it imports evil Dreams, yet oftentimes they fall out true; when with ♀, or ♃, they are lucky, prosperous and true Dreams.

6. ♄ with the ☽, or with ♂, or with ☿; or if ♂ be with ☿, it portends false and evil Dreams; ♄ with ♀ donores true Dreams many times, be they good or evil; ☿ and ☽ portend the Natives Dreams to come to truth.

7. If there fortune to be no Planet or Planets in the ninth House (as often it may so fall out) then judge of the Natives Dreams according to the Lord of the ninth, his dignity, disposition and nature.

8. When ♄ is Lord of the ninth, and no Planet posited therein, the Dreams of the Native will be of persons and things Saturnine; all things causing fear and horror; Apparitions, Spectrums, Visions, things occult and hidden, all manner of things belonging to Husbandry and Tillage.

9. Jupiter being Lord of the ninth, denotes pleasant and auspicious Dreams; as of rich Persons, and Riches, Honour, Dignity and Preferment; of Church-matters, and things Ecclesiastical; of Persons of Quality, as Kings, Princes and Nobles.

10. Mars Lord of the ninth, portends Dreams of Contentions, Quarrellings, Strife, Vexations and Troubles; of Tumults, Wars, burnings of Houses; of Thefts, of Horses, Dogs, and all things that are Martial.

11. Sol declares Dreams of Honour, Rule, Dignity, Greatness; of being in favour with Persons in great place and Power; of Gold and Money; oftentimes of being exalted to Rule and Soveraignty in an instant.

12. Venus denotes delightful, and (many times) fallacious Dreams; as of Women, Musique, Banquets, Mirth, Jollity and Pictures, fine Clothes, Odors, and sweet Smels; of every thing that is delightful to Sense.

13. Mercury presages Dreams of Science, Learning, Books, Writings, Accompts; of Learned Men, Philosophers and Physitians, Astrologers, Merchants, Merchandising, &c. and of Youth.

14. Luna portends Dreams of Water, Travels, Navigation, Voyages by Sea, and danger therein, Volatu per Aera, of flying through the Air. And thus much may serve for the discovering of the Natives Dreams.

SECT. 7.

Of the Lord of the Ninth's position.

1. When the Lord of the ninth shall be located in the first House, it discerns the Native to be a great Traveler, and one that shall journey often; he shall be desirous to learn Sciences; and will be beloved of wise and learned Men.

2. In

2. In secunda longa dat itinera causa divitiarum. By being placed in the second House, it denotes long journies to the Native, by reason of gain, and for the encrease of substance; It makes a fortunate Merchant.

3. By being located in the third House, it declares the Native to be honoured of his brethren and Kindred, for his Religion or Knowledge; and it demonstrates him to travel much, and to gain much by Ecclesiastical men and things.

4. If posited in the fourth House, it portends many occult and hidden diseases unto the Parents of the Natives, which will be caused by journeys, or much travel; Mortem autem Nati extra Patriam: But the Native shall die, (saith mine Author) in another Countrey; the reason hereof is, I suppose, because the Lord of the ninth so placed, is not onely in the eighth from the ninth, but in the House which represents the Grave, or the end of all things.

5. By being located in the fifth House, it denotes both Honour and Riches unto the Natives Children, by his going into other Countreys. The Native also shall have much comfort, profit and pleasure by reason of journies.

6. In Sexta Natus ducit Uxorem ancillam sape: (i. e.) When placed in the sixth House of a Nativity, the Native oftentimes marries a Servant or Bond-Woman; and Servants, and small Cattle will much encrease his Estate.

7. By being placed in the seventh House, it discerns the Wife of the Native to be Obedient, Religious, Devout, and of good Manners and Behaviour. But he will meet with many strifes, quarrels, controversies, and contentions, with divers Persons in the place of places unto which he will travel.

8. When the Lord of the ninth shall be posited in the eighth House, it portends a desire in the Native to travel; oftentimes he will be forced thereunto, for the safegard of his life, by reason of some Murther or other crime which he hath committed: he sometimes may travel by reason of an inducement thereunto, by the Legacy or VVill of some Person deceased; and it is much better travelling upon that score then the other.

9. The Lord of the ninth House in the ninth, portends but few Journies unto the Native; and those that are, will be by reason of Religion or Science: he will be Honest and Faithful, for which Vertues where-ever he comes he will be accepted and had in esteem.

10. If located in the tenth House, it declares the Native to make many and fortunate Journies with Kings, Princes, Dukes, Lords, &c. or with Gentlemen to see Fashions, or else to learn some Art or Mystery, which without travel he cannot attain; Ducent Fratres Uxores nobiles, &c.

11. VVhen placed in the eleventh House, it declares the Native to be Honest, Just and True; and he shall be beloved and respected of his Friends; he will travel, and in the places where he comes, he will obtain many Friends, and the very end of his hopes. Et Fratres ducent Uxores extraneas. And the wives Brethren will be strangers.

12. By being posited in the twelfth House, it shews travel to the Native by reason of his Enemies. My Author saith, Natumq; infidum, parum devotum, & improbum erga Fratres. I will not deny but many times it may so prove; but my Opinion is, that it may as often fall out, that the Native's Brethren &c. may prove faithless and knavish towards him; chiefly, if ♄ or ♂ be Lord of the ninth. And this I have verified in more

Nativities

Nativities then one, and dare therefore to assert it.

And so I have done with the various position of the Lord of the ninth House, and his Significations; as also with the Judgements that properly pertaine unto the House it self.

Chap. XXI.

Of Judgements proper to the Tenth House.

THis House declares the Honour, Preferment, Dignitie, and Magistery of the Native; which is found out by the Cusp of the Tenth, his Lord, the Planet or Planets posited therein; their agreement or disagreement with the Ascendent and his Lord; the fixed stars of the first or second Magnitude in the first or tenth House; and the Sun, because he is a general Designator of Honour and Preferment.

Having good regard unto the aforesaid Significators, their positions, dignities and debilities, you may resolve the following particulars.----

1. Whether the Native shall attain to honour and preferment?
2. Whether it may continue and remaine?
3. By whom honour and preferment shall come?
4. What manner of Magistery or profession the Native is inclinable to?
5. Shall he prosper by it?
6. Arguments of illustrious, or kingly Genitures.
7. Of the Lord of the tenth his position.

And of each of these by themselves, in their several Sections or Parts.

SECT. 1.

Whether the Native shall attaine Honour and Preferment?

1. If the Significators of honour and preferment be in their Houses or Exaltations, or in Reception with the fortunes by House or Exaltation, they then confer on the Native (according to his capacity, or condition of birth) great Dignities, Honours, and Preferments, and advance him to a convenient height of fortune.

2. When the Significators shall be in Angles, so dignified as abovesaid, the Native will be famous, and of an admirable repute. If they happen to be in succedent Houses, he will be of good honour and esteem; but if in Cadents, (although they may be otherwise strong) they portend rather obscurity, then any splendid or diaphanous repute unto the Native.

3. The Sgnificators in their Triplicities, Terms or Faces, argue a Mediocrity in all things of honour and preferment to the Native. But if they happen to be in their Detriments, or out of all their Essential Dignities, the Native will be of no credit or esteem, but will live cloudily and obscurely all the days of his life.

4. If the Significators be with kingly fixed Stars neer the Ecliptique, they denote unto the Native admirable preferment, and principal honours and dignity. But if kingly Stars be in the Medium Cœli, or the Horoscope, and the Significators weak, the preferment and honours of the Native will slide and vanish away from him; according to the meaning of that saying of Ptolomy *. The fixed Stars do designe admirable happiness and preferment, which, unless the Planets (or principal Significators thereof) concur in judgement, determine in unusual and strange Calamities.

5. The Sun and Jupiter in the tenth House, denote great honour and preferment unto the Native; but if Saturn or Mars behold them, or either of them, by Quartile or Opposition, he loses all again, and becomes very contemptible; and this most certain, if ☉ or ♄ be weak there.

6. If there be a friendly agreement between the Lord of the Ascendent, and the Lord of the tenth House, or any of the other Significators of honour, so they be well dignified, the Native will be beloved of Kings, or great persons, and by their means will attain great honour and preferment.

7. VVhen the Sun, Moon, and Lord of the Ascendent are in ✶ or △ to each other, the Native will come to great preferment and honour; and this, although it happens from bad places of the Figure.

* Οἱ ἀπλανεῖς ἀστερες πᾶσ' ἐχυσιν εὐτυχίας ἀλόγους καὶ παραδόξους, ἀλλ' ὡς ἐπιτοπλεῖστον ἐμποφανίζουσι ταύτας δυσυχίας, εἰ μὴ καὶ οἱ πλανῶμενοι τὴν εὐτυχίαν συνιάδυσιν. Cent Aphor. 29.

SECT. 2.

If the honour or preferment shall continue?

1. If the Significators be in Signes and Houses where they joy or delight, as the Sun being in ♌, and in the tenth House, the Natives honour and preferment will remain and continue.

2. The Infortunes in the tenth House denote a Catastrophe of the Natives fortune, be they never so great; the like also signifies the Dragons Tail, when that is located in the tenth.

3. If that ♄ or ♂ shall behold the tenth house, or his Lord, by Quartile or Opposition, the Native never enjoyes honours long, but is strangely cast down from his preferment, even when he least expects it.

4. The dignity or honour of the Native continues long, and is permanent, when the Significators thereof are potent, and fixed in Angles; or in Reception, or good Configuration with the fortunes. viz. Jupiter or Venus.

5. When ♃, ♀, or ☌, are placed in the tenth House, and well disposed, the Natives honour and preferment will continue for the most part of his life: but if they be ill disposed, yet by their being there, they denote unto the Native a competency of honour and preferment, and durable; but not altogether so conspicuous.

6. If the Significators of honour be weak, and void of all good Radiations, the Natives honor or preferment continueth not: the more strong the Significators be, the greater while the honour remains or continues; the more weak, the lesser while.

7. The Luminaries in Conjunction in the House of honour and dignities, or with the Lord of the tenth, or Ascendent, the honour of the Native will be great, and remain a long time.

8. The Sun and Jupiter in Trine from Leo and Sagittary, denote dureable and admirable honours and preferments unto the Native.

9. When Saturn and Mars shall be in the tenth House, unless they be very well dignified, they precipitate the Native from his honour and dignity:

nity: or if the Moon be in the Mid-heaven in ♈, and ♄ or ♂ in the fourth in ♋, in ☌ to her, it denotes the Native incapable of honour and dignity; yea, makes him infamous all the days of his life. Or if the Moon be in ♏ placed as before, and Mars in ♉, the Native will live an inglorious and unfortunate life, and will rarely have any honour that shall remain or continue long with him.

By whom or what shall the honour or preferment come?

1. This you may observe from the nature and Significations of the Planets who are Lords of honour and preferment: as first, if Saturn shall be principal Donor of preferment, &c. he denotes it to come from Fathers, Grandfathers, and by all sorts of ancient Men, or Men of a plain behaviour and carriage; And by possessions, and inheritances; by all things that have relation to the earth, as Tillage, &c. VVood, Coal-Mines, and others.

2. VVhen Iupiter is Designator of preferment, it frequently comes by Judges, Advocates, Counsellors, Lawyers, &c. by Ministers, and all Ecclesiastical persons and things; and by Men of Wisdom, Gravity, Learning and Justice.

3. Mars being Gubernator of honours and preferment, denotes it to come by Wars, Quarrels and Controversies (and verily that is but an ill way to obtain it: for according to the Adage,——

De male quæsitis vix gaudet tertius Hæres: (i. e.)
What ere's ill got, remains but little space,
The third Heir seldome doth the same embrace.)

by conducting and leading of Armies, by victory and conquest, by Actions of valour and magnanimity, and the commendations of men Martially disposed, also by all things of a Martial quality.

4. Venus being the denoter of preferment, declares it to come from Women, and those of great birth and quality, as Queens, Dutchesses, Countesses & Ladies, also by marriage; by all persons of an amiable, friendly and mild behaviour; by Plays, Musique, amorous, witty, and curious Inventions; also by all sorts of commodities that are appropriated to Venus.

5. If Mercury declare preferment, &c. it shall come by the means of Scholars, Merchants, and all witty and ingenious persons: the Native shall attain unto honour and advancement by his Judgment, Wisdome, Industry and Learning; by his skill or excellent knowledge in the Mathematiques; by Merchandizing, Solliciting; by Messages, VVritings and Clerkship.

SECT. 4.

What profession will the Native be most inclineable unto?

The ancient Astrologers considered Mars, Venus and Mercury, as the principal and alone Significators of Magistery and profession; and their reason hereof was this: Mars (say they) declares the abilitie of the Natives body to endure; Venus denotes the delight he shall have therein; Mercury shews shews the wisdome and capacity of the Natives mind and understanding. My opinion is, that if either of these, or all, be posited in the tenth, or in Configuration with the Lord of the tenth, they may, and will, have much to do in the profession of the Native: but if they be not in the tenth, or in Configuration with the Lord thereof, I suppose you ought then to adhere unto the Lord of the tenth House, and the Planet or Planets posited therein; and you will then finde what profession the Native will be most propense unto, by observing the nature of the Planet or Planets, with the nature of the sign they are in, and mixing them together.

Although I have in Chap. 8. of this Book, shewn the professions that do belong unto each Planet, in a general way, yet here (for to tread in the foot-steps of the ancients) it will not be unwelcome to the Reader, if I treat a little more particularly thereof, although not so largely as they have.

1. Mercury being in Conjunction with the ☉, (i. e.) in Cazimi, denotes the Native to be a Scholar, an Accomptant, still conversant among Magistrates; he may be a Receiver or Treasurer of Money; he may make a good Lawyer, or Justice of Peace; sometimes a Clerk, having more wit then the Justice, &c. If Mars be with them, either by Body or good Aspect, he proves a Physitian, or Chymist, Apothecary, &c. if in bad Aspect, he will be a Thief, a Clipper and Coyner of Money.

2. When Mercury is with Luna, or in good Aspect of her, chiefly from ♋ or ♍, he proves a good Astrologer, or Mathematician, &c. but if in ♈, ♌, ♐, Enthusiasts, or such as naturally, or without art, pretend to foretel things to come. In ♐ or ♓ inclines men to occult and secret (and unfit to be studied) Arts: if he be with ☿, the Native proves a good Rhetorician, and an excellent Orator.

3. Mercury with ♃ or ☿, in the fifth, the eleventh, or third Houses, makes excellent Preachers, or Advocates, School-masters, or Instructers of youth; oftentimes an excellent Musician, or Poet; chiefly if Venus entertain them there.

4. Mercury with Mars and Luna ill dignified, makes Theeves, Cheators, Housebreakers, cozening deluding Fellows; and if ♄ be in the seventh House, they may then come to the Gallows for their Knavery.

5. Mercury with ♄, denotes busie muddy-pated Fellows, such as are troublesome and apt to wrangle; sometimes Sollicitors, and knavish Attornies and Informers: if ☿ be with Mercury, Saturn and Mars, it makes a man a Pymp or Pander; a woman, a Bawd or Whore; and they get their livings by such courses.

6. When Mercury shall be Lord of the profession, Retrograde in the descending part of Heaven, the Native will be a VVeaver. And if he be with Sol, he shall make Tapestry, or choice works in Cloth; if with Venus, silks, &c. But if Saturn behold him, he makes Cloth, both Linen and VVollen of the courser sort; if Jupiter behold him, he makes Cloth of the finer sort, VVollen, &c.

7. If Mercury shall be in the fourth unfortunate, the Native proves a Shooe-maker, and a poor one; if well Aspected of ☉, ♃, ☿, he lives well, and thrives by it; if in the ill Aspects of ♄ and ♂, he is of the worser sort: If ☿ and ☿ shall behold the ☉ or ♂ in the House of ♄, the Native then proves a Currier, Tanner, Smith, or Cobler, or such a like Trade.

8. When Mars and Mercury shall be in an earthy Signe, and Saturn shall behold them, the Native proves a Carpenter; if Luna or Venus shall behold them from a watry Signe, he may make a good Ship-Carpenter. Mars and Mercury in the House of Mercury, the Native proves a good Sculptor, or Ingravor; if in the House of Venus, he makes a Mystitian, Lapidary, or Linnen-Draper, Taylor, or Sales-Man.

9. The principal rules for the Designment of the Natives profession, which I chiefly observe, be these following ones: first to consider the Signs in which the Significators of the Magistery or profession happen, which if they fortune to be Fiery, they denote professions or trades wholly conversant about the fire, as Gold and Silver-Smiths, Glass-makers, Chymists, Bakers, &c. if Watry, they declare Merchants trading to Sea, Brewers, Fishmongers, Vintners, Fullers, Watermen, &c. If Aiery Signes, they portend light, pleasant and delightful professions; as Musitians, Choristers, Milianers, Haberdashers, Jesters, Travellers, Hunters and Hawkers, Shooters. If Earthy Signes, all kinds of professions pertaining to the Earth; Husbandry, Grazing, Tilling, Plowing, Sowing and Mowing, and the like. If they be Movable Signes, they incline the Native to witty and ingenious professions and Sciences; as the Mathematiques, Physique, &c. If they be Humane Signes, as ♐, ♍, ♎, ♒, they import noble and Gentile-like professions; as Woollen-Drapers, Mercers, Stationers, Booksellers, Printers, &c. but if they be four-footed Signes, they propend the Native to the most vulgar and Mechanical trades and professions.

10. Then secondly, I consider the Planets, their Natures and Significations: as suppose Saturn to be the Signifier of a profession, and in Earthy Signes, ♄ here sympathizing with the Nature of the Signe, will denote the profession to be the more vulgar and Saturnine; if in fiery Signes, it will be more Martial and Solar; if in Aereal Signes, then 'tis more Venereal and Mercurial; if in Watery Signes, more Lunary, or of the nature of the Moon. Et sic de Cæteris. And this, if heedfully observed, may serve for the discovery of the kind of Magistery or Profession each Native will be inclinable unto.

SECT. 5.

Shall the Native have succes in, or prosper by his profession?

1. If the Significators of the profession be in their Essential Dignities, free from all affliction of the Malevolents, the Native will have good succes in the profession he shall follow; the like, if they shall be in good Aspect with the Fortunes, viz. ♃ and ♀, from good places of the Figure; or if ♃, ♀, or ☊, be locally in the tenth House.

2. But if the Significators be Occidental, Peregrine, and Cadent, and oppressed by the Ill Planes, the Native never proves his Crafts-Master, nor will he have good succes in his Trade. I know a person who hath ☿ Angular, yea, in the tenth House, and in ☌ to ♄ in the fourth, and he never could thrive by his profession, though his Father was born before him; (that is, left him a good Estate) and had divers Friends and acquaintance of eminency, which always stood by him, and holpe to underprop him; yet poor man! he failed.

3. ♄ afflicting the Significators of profession, denotes the Native to lose by his Sluggishness, Lazines and Neglect; and so destroys his custome, and runs from his Trade. If Mars afflicts them, he is proud, obstinate and careless, runs in debt, breaks, &c. but if both of them afflict the Significators at once, the afflictions that attend the Native by reason of his profession, are numberless.

4. When the Significators are in good Configuration with the Lord of of the Ascendent, or second House, the Native grows rich by his Trade or Profession; the same if they be well placed in the second.

5. If the Part of Fortune be posited in the tenth House, and his dispositor a Fortune, and in the second, or in △ or ✶ to the second, or to the Lord thereof, the Native will grow rich by his Profession, and will gain great credit and esteem among men thereby.

6. When the ☽ shall be in the tenth in △ to the second House, or in ✶ or △ to ♃ or ♀, and they again in good Aspect of the Lord of the Ascendent or the significators of Trade, give the Native admirable succes in his Profession, and he will prove famous.

SECT. 6.

Arguments of Kingly Genitures.

1. When the Lamp of Heaven shall be posited in the heart of Heaven in a Kingly Signe, such be ♈, ♌, ♐, and be either with ♀ in ♌, ♃ in ♐, or ♂ in ♈, the person having such a position will attain to great Soveraignty and Dominion.

2. If the three superiour Planets shall be in their Essential Dignities, one of them being Lord of the Ascendent, and another Lord of the tenth, the Person then born shall attain great Rule and Power, though he be but of a low and mean descent; and shall make the world admire him.

3. The Sun, Jupiter and Mars in Fiery Signes, in Trine unto each other, shew that the Native shall attain unto a glorious height of Honour and Soveraignty; the same if the Sun, Jupiter and Venus shall be with Kingly fixed Stars of the first Magnitude.

4. If the Sun shall be in ♈ or ♌, and ♃, and ♂, and ♀ joyned in Trine to the ☉, declares great power to redound unto the Native. The ☉, ☽, and Lord of the tenth in △ to each other, prenote the same.

5. The ☉ in ♉, in △ to ♃ in ♓, and the ☽ in ♏, in △ to them both, declares great Preferment, but not so Princely as the other.

6. The ☉ denotes greatest honour and Soveraignty by being posited in a Fiery Sign: but the Moon by being in ♉, in ♂ with ♀; or in ♓, in ♂ with ♃, giveth the greatest Soveraignty. He that is born the same day at noon the ☉ enters ♈, shall prove an illustrious person, without other Testimonies. It will be neer the matter as good for him who is born at noon the same day ☉ enters ♌.

7. When the Moon is with Cor Leonis, the Heart of the Lyon, and ♃ in the tenth House in △ to ♂, and the ☉ with ☊ Caput Draconis, the person that is then born, though he be the son of a Clown, shall arise to great power. The same also if the Moon shall be with ♃ in ♉, in the Mid-Heaven; or when the ☽ is befriended by the benevolent Beams of many Planets.

8. If the ☉ shall be posited in the tenth House, in his own exaltation, or in the House of ♃, it portends the Native to be a King, and also to enjoy his Fathers Throne. If ♃ be in the tenth House in a Diurnal Geniture, in △ to the ☉, in the Ascendent, the same.

9. When the Lord of the tenth applies to the Lord of the Ascendent, and both of them Oriental, and in their Houses, or exaltations, the Native shall attain to a great Rule and Dominion, and shall either be a King, or in power equivalent to one.

10. If the Lord of the Ascendent shall be in ✶ or △ unto the ☉, and Oriental ental of him, or joyned to that Planet who is Lord of the Mid-Heaven, the Native will attain unto a Princely dignity; and will either be a King, or mightily beloved of Kings.

11. The Lord of the Ascendent in the Signe ascending, denotes the Native to arise to a great dignity and power by his own vertue; or if he shall apply to a Planet in his House or exaltation, and in an Angle, it denotes the same.

12. Where-ever the ☽ or ♄ afflicts the Lord of the tenth or the ☉ by □ or ☍, the Native, though he be a King, shall be Dethron'd and come to ruine by vulgar Fellows, or by the hands of his Subjects.

13. He who hath ♄ in ☍ to the tenth House, and the Lord of the tenth in ☌ of ♂ in a Fiery Sign, though he be a King, his end will be fatal. Nay although he may and hath Reign'd long, shall at the last suffer a dismal Catastrophe. probatum est.

And this shall suffice for the discovering of Kingly Genitures, their durability, or discontinuance. I come next to treat-------

SECT. 7.

Of the Lord of the Tenth his position.

1. When in any Nativity the Lord of the tenth House shall be posited in the Ascendent, it gives great Authority to the Native over vulgar persons; he will be beloved and honoured of great persons, and shall be employed in Offices of concernment, Administrations, &c. and the great things or businesses of the Kingdom; he also receives honours and profit from his employments and Profession.

2. By being posited in the second House of a Nativity, it denotes great honour unto the Native, by reason of Riches, or the Goods of Fortune; or he shall be honored for his Riches; (a thing very frequent among men) Sic divitias causa honoris, & exercitii. Likewise shall he increase in Riches by reason of honour and his Practise or Profession.

3. If placed in the third House of a Nativity, it denotes the Native to have but few Brethren or Sisters; but those he hath shall be honourable, and live in great esteem: he shall undertake many small or inland Journies, and will gain honour and profit thereby.

4. The Lord of the tenth House in the fourth, denotes unto the Native an acquisition of honour and preferment, by his being admitted to negotiate or follow the business of a King or Kingdom; And his good will arise from Lands, Houses or Buildings, Castles or strong Holds, Moates or Rivers, &c.

5. When placed in the fifth House, it demonstrates the Children of the Native to follow earnestly Souldier-like courses, yet will they be sickly and infirm; but the Native will have and receive honour by them.

6. If he shall be posited in the sixth House of a Nativity, it generally shews poverty to the Native; yet will he be had in esteem by those of his Family, or of the place he lives in, if he be fortunate there, and have many Gifts, &c.

7. When placed in the seventh House, he will be honored among great and eminent persons, by reason of some eminent act or exploit performed: It denotes also a rich and noble wife, by whose means he will be highly esteemed, and Honoured.

8. If the Lord of the tenth be posited in the eighth House, it denotes much much Gain unto the Native by the Inheritances of persons deceased; from whence also much honour will accrew unto him. Aliquando dat periculo Matre in partu. And sometimes the Mother of the Native shall be in great peril or danger in child-bearing.

9. By being posited in the ninth House of a Nativity, it denotes preferment unto the Native from long Journies, Sea-Voyages, &c. likewise he will have honours and respects by reason of Science, and Ecclesiastical undertakings, and the like; he will be of a just and honest Life and Conversation; also of a good Conscience; and he may end his dayes in a strange Country.

10. The Lord of the tenth in the tenth, confers on the Native superlative honours and dignities, Offices and Administrations: if the Native be poor of Birth, and of low esteem, yet shall he in time receive much fortune and honour, by the means of Princes and great persons.

11. When the Lord of the tenth is located in the eleventh House of a Nativity, it endows the Native with many eminent and powerful Friends, and such as will be Benefactors unto him; he shall also be honored by them. He shall bequeath Hereditaments and Riches to his Children; he will acquire Riches from Princes, and all other probable things that he may rationally hope for.

12. By being posited in the twelfth * House, it portends unto the Native loss, impediments and infortunacies from Princes or great persons; also deceit, treachery and opposition from his private Enemies; he will also be in peril of imprisonment by their means or procurement; but at the last he shall be honoured and respected of them.

And thus have I concluded the Judgements of the tenth House. I could (it is true) have been much more large then I have; but I presume this sufficient for the information of any ingenious Artist, concerning the Honour, Preferment and Profession of every Native. Albubatur, Schoner, Argol, Origanus and Guido, have given many more Rules for the understanding things proper to this House (and indeed all others:) But as most Artists judge them superfluous, and therefore neglect them; I am perswaded these would have found the same fate here, had I but pestered my Book with them.

* In 12 infortunam tribuit cum principibus, damna, impedimenta, insidias, & oppositiones ab inimicis; pericula carceris & tandem causa inimicorum honores. Argol.

CHAP. XXII.

Of Judgements proper to the Eleventh House.

HEnce we judge of the Friends of the Native, their condition and quality, their constancy or inconstancy unto him; the strength of his hopes, &c. And these Disquisitions are proper hereunto.

1. Shall the Native have Friends?
2. What shall their Quality or Condition be?
3. Will they prove Constant and Faithful to the Native?
4. Choice Aphorisms of Friendship.
5. Of the Lord of the Eleventh his position.

SECT.

SECT. 1.

Shall the Native have Friends?

True Friendship is never tried but in extreams: A true Friend is a Jewel too costly to be purchas'd with the richest Mines. In consulting History, the subject of Friendship will be found the least of all others; for the fewest examples attend it. Plutarch tells us, In all past Ages we shall finde but these few Couples of real Friends, viz. Theseus and Pirithous; Achilles and Patroclus; Orestes and Pylades; Pythias and Damon; Epaminondas and Pelopidas. The young Man in Menander could hardly believe that there was any such thing as Friendship in Nature, and therefore exclaims-----

Felthom resol. lib. 1.

Of all the Goods which I do hold,
To think each one (I would be bold)
Right wonderful! if I might finde
The Shadow onely, of a Friend.

It was the Axiome of Byas in the Comedie, Οἱ πλεῖστοι κακοί· Most Men are naught. How then should a man expect a true Friend? A pretended Friend is like an Adder or Snake, by whom a Mans Bosome-Secrets are alwayes in danger of being blown abroad with the strength of his poysonous Breath. But is there then no real Friend, or no Person that deserves the Epithet of ἐπιεικὴς, or Amicus? Surely yes: I dare not be so uncharitable as to think otherwise. But this I am of belief, That he is as hard to be found as the Philosophers Stone, for which many wise and learned Men have spent vast sums of Money, and yet have gone without it. As Saint Basil said of Truth, so may I of a Friend, Δυσθήρατος ἡ ἀληθεία, καὶ παντὸς δεῖ ἐξιχνιασμοῦ· Truth is hard to be taken by Hunting, but must be found out by a curious and secret search on every side.

A true Friend is like Gold, and will abide the most bitter touch. For a Man to have a Friend in Prosperity, is no wonder; for the Honey-Pot of Fortune doth alwayes purchase plenty of such Bees: But when once the storm of Adversity overtakes him, Behold! then they are like Penelope's night, who undo whatever they weaved for him in the day of his Prosperity.

That Man is happy who findeth a Friend in extremity: But he is happier, who findeth not extremity, wherein to try his Friend.

* Mor fol. 185. We commonly think great Men happy (saith *Plutarch) that have a great concourse of People, who with much zeal and hurry, give attendence to salute them, and kiss their Hands, bidding them Good morrow; when alas! they are but like the Flies in the Kitchin, who would forsake the place, if there were no Cates or Vyands stirring.

Give me a Friend whose Heart stands right in all Weathers; I hate that Parasite whose Friendship remains onely while the Sun shines. Lip-Friendship is lost Friendship; That onely continues, which is fixed in the Heart.

Ἐχθρὸς γάρ μοι κεῖνος ὁμῶς Ἀΐδαο πύλῃσιν,
Ὅς χ' ἕτερον μὲν κεύθῃ ἐνὶ φρεσὶν ἄλλο δὲ βάξῃ. i. e.

* Hom. Iliad 1. Saith Homer * That Man I do abhor, and hate like Death,
Whose Heart (in all things) answers not his Breath.

Now then, since it is so, that there be but few true Friends in the world, and those few hard to be found, the Question above stated will be found proper proper, viz. shall the Native have Friends? and Astrologically admits of the resolution following.

1. You ought to have regard to the Cusp of the eleventh House, the Lord thereof, the Planet or Planets posited therein; and according to their Configurations with the Lord of the Ascendent, or Moon; judge of the strength or weakness of the Natives Friends.

2. If the aforesaid Significators shall be in ✶ or △ to the Ascendent, or his Lord, or the Moon, the Native will have faithful Friends, and such which will not forsake him; if they fortune to be in Reception, by House or Exaltation; the friendship then will be and remaine the more stedfast.

3. When Jupiter, Venus, and ☊, or either of them, be posited in the eleventh House, and in their Essential Dignities, it declares constant, eminent, and profitable Friends unto the Native. But if they shall be weak, or meanly dignified there, they denote Friends; but they are generally poor, low, beggerly and bare, and altogether unable to do what good they willingly would; and therefore the Native cannot condemn or blame them.

4. If the Sun, Moon, Mercury, and part of Fortune be in the eleventh well dignified, they shew and declare many Friends, and those faithful unto the Native, according to their capacity or condition: but if they be ill affected there, they pronounce unto the Native a scarcity of Friends, and many times such that are mutable, false, and perfidious unto him.

5. Many Planets of contrary natures in the eleventh House, portend a mixture of Friends: when in a Nativity such a thing happeneth, the strongest Planet is to be considered; for he is most likely to prove a Friend, and therefore beareth the Bell away from all the rest.

6. If there be no Planet in the eleventh House, then the Lord of the eleventh, and the Planet he is in Configuration with, must be observed; which if good by Nature, and well dignified, it denotes the Natives Friends to be good; if bad, and ill dignified, it denotes the contrary.

7. When the Significators of Friendship shall be in fixed Signs, strong, &c. the Natives Friends will be durable, real, constant, and stedfast unto him: if in moveable Signes, they continue not long. Probatum est. If in bi-corporeal Signes, they argue a moderate Continuation of Friendship.

8. The Lord of the Ascendent in ♂, ✶ or △, with the Lord of the eleventh, denotes many Friends unto the Native, chiefly in double-bodyed Signes; if in Quartile or Opposition, the Native and his Friends do seldom accord.

9. When the Lord of the eleventh separates from the Lord of the Ascendent, it is an Argument the Native will have but few Friends, and those that are, he will very seldome agree with.

SECT. 2.

What shall their quality or condition be?

This is understood by observing the natures and significations of the Planet who is Lord of the eleventh House, or the Planet or Planets posited therein.

1. If

1. If Saturn shall be in the eleventh House, or Lord thereof, it portends unto the Native Saturnine Friends; viz. all sorts of ancient Men, and Men dealing in Husbandry, Mines, &c. Usurers, (for sure such Men are Friends to some) and covetous persons trading in all sorts of sordid Commodities; and Men of the most mean and Mechanique professions.

2. When Jupiter shall be in the eleventh House, or Lord thereof, &c. he denotes all sorts of jovial persons to be friendly to the Native, as Nobles, rich Men, Judges, Advocates, Lawyers, Gentlemen, Bishops, Prelates, (I was about to say Presbyters, but that they are so seldome friends to any) all sorts of Ecclesiastical persons; good, honest, sober, discreet Men of the common sort.

3. Mars being Lord of the eleventh, or in the eleventh, presages the Friends of the Native to be persons inclining to Martial Discipline, as Generals of Armies, Colonels, Captains, bold, confident and resolved Persons, Physitians, Aporhecaries, Chirurgians, Alchymists, Gunners, Marshals, Bayliffs.

4. When the Sun is Lord of the eleventh House in a Nativity, or posited therein, the Friends of the Native will be potent, and the most illustrious of Men; as Emperors, Kings, Princes, Dukes, Marquesses, Earles, Statesmen: Men in Authority; all Magistrates or Officers in a Kingdome, or Commonwealth, even from the King, to the Constable.

5. If Venus shall be in the eleventh, or Lady thereof, the Friends of the Native will generally be Women; and if she be well dignified there, the better sort of them; all persons of neat and curious Arts, or Trades, and such as deal in VVomens Commodities; and Poets, Painters, Limners, Lapidaries, Gamesters, Songsters, the Wife or Mother, &c. sometimes Players.

6. Mercury being qualified as aforesaid, denotes the Friends of the Native to be witty and ingenious persons, learned Men and Scholars, Artificers, Mathematicians, Merchants, Embassadors or Agents, Scriveners, Secretaries, Clerks, &c. and all persons dealing in Mercurial Commodities.

7. But if the Moon shall be either Lady of the eleventh, or in the eleventh House, it imports the chief Friends of the Native to be Women, as VVives, VVidows, Mothers, Aunts, Sisters, &c. If well dignified, Queens, Ladies, Countesses. Many times, Messengers, Fishermen, Saylors, the vulgar and common people, such whose friendship will waver like their fortune.

8. Generally Saturn in the eleventh giveth sluggish and false Friends; Mars, those that are many times unfaithful, treacherous; the Sun, Cordial, yet great and powerful Friends; Venus and Jupiter, as also the ☌, benevolent and constant Friends; Mercury and the Moon denotes many Friends; but they will prove sometimes mutable and deceitful; the ☍ always presages perfidious and false Friends, such as the Native shall never be bettered by, the worth of a half-penny.

SECT. 3.

Shall Friends prove constant to the Native?

Herein observe the Cusp of the eleventh House, whether it be fixed, common, common, or bi-corporeal; or the Signe intercepted in the eleventh, or that wherein the Lord of the eleventh is posited.

1. If the Signe, &c. be fixed, the Friends of the Native will be fixed, and remain stedfast and faithful unto him; if common, they will sometimes prove constant, othertimes not; if moveable, where-ever the Native sees his Friend, let him look to himself.

2. VVhen the Lord of the Ascendent shall be in good Aspect with the Lord of the eleventh, from a fixed Signe, (though the Lord of the Ascendent be in a moveable or common one) the Natives Friends will be faithful and friendly unto him, and that for a constancy. If the Moon be in good Aspect with the Lord of the eleventh, and posited as aforesaid, it denotes the same.

3. But if the Moon, or Lord of the Ascendent shall thus behold the Lord of the eleventh in a common Signe, the Natives Friends shall not often fail him; if in a moveable, they will pretend more to him then ever they intend to perform; but if the Aspect happen to be evil, let the Native pray against his necessity or want of Friends.

4. The most certain way of being acquainted with the true intentions of a Friend, is by comparing his Geniture with the Geniture of the Native; for, if there be a correspondency in the principal parts of both the Nativities, the Native and his Friends are reciprocal in their affection.

5. Observe the positions of the Luminaries in the Nativity of a Friend, and his Horoscope, and see if they happen in ✶ or △ to the places of them in the Natives Radix; or if the eleventh House in the Natives Radix, be the Ascendent in the Friends; or the eleventh of the Friends, the Natives Ascendent; for this is an Argument of great and continued friendship, according to the Opinion of * Ptolomy, who saith, From the agreement, or disagreement of the Luminaries, and the Signe ascending at the time of birth, is truly discovered the love or hatred that shall be between two.

6. If the Lord of the Ascendent, and the Lord of the eleventh be naturally Friends, and in good Configuration with each other also, the Native will have constant and honest Friends. What the natural friendships of the Planets be, I have taught in Chap. 11. and Sect. 1. of this Book.

* Ἡ φιλία ϗ τὸ μῖσος λαμβάνεται ὅτε τὴ τ᾽ συμφωνίας ϗ ἀσυμφωνίας φασίσεων ϗ τῶν ἀφεσκόπων ἑκατέρου χρονοτόπου. Cent. Aph. 33.

SECT. 4.

Choice Aphorisms of Friendship.

1. If the fortunate Planets be posited in the eleventh, fifth, tenth, or seventh, first, or ninth Houses of Heaven, it portends many Friends unto the Native; and those oftentimes eminent ones.

2. When the Moon shall be in the Signes Aquary or Pisces, the Native will then be and remain under the frowns of Princes, or Men in great Power and Authority; chiefly, if there she shall be in Quartile or Opposition to Jupiter or Saturn: but if she happen to be in ✶ or △ to them, or either of them, the Native will have many pretended friendships from persons of eminency; but yet they will do him little good.

† And yet I know Argol saith, Ascendens signum ☽ plures tribuit amicos; but I have proved the contrary.

3. VVhere the dull and Phlegmatique Signe, Cancer †, ascends in a Nativity, the Native very hardly gaines Friends, and with very much difficulty ficulty obtains friendship: this is most certain, when the Moon, Lady thereof, is in Detriment, and in Conjunction with Jupiter; because Jupiter receives his fall in her Detriment.

4. If the Lord of the tenth shall separate by Retrogradation from the Lord of the Ascendent, or of the eleventh House, the Natives Friends (if he have any) will be poor and despicable: for the rich and eminent Persons will never endure, but perfectly hate him.

Saturnus & ♂ bene constitutæ, multos tribuunt amicos; sed ex parte fucatos, & suspectos. Male affecti, paucos, & infidos. Ptol. par. pag. 153.

5. If Jupiter or Venus, or both, be in Sextile or Trine to the Ascendent, or to the Lord thereof, the Native will have many Friends, and those faithful and honest to him; the like if the Moon be in Sextile or Trine to them: but if Saturn or Mars afflict Jupiter or Venus, the friendship will be much abated; but if Saturn or Mars be well constituted, and friendly in their Rayes, it denotes many Friends; but they will be oftentimes disguised and fained, and subject to suspicion. But by being evilly posited, they declare few Friends; and those very faithless.

6. The position of many Planets in the eleventh or first Houses, denotes diversity of Friends unto the Native; the same, if the Moon, or Lord of the Ascendent shall be in Conjunction or Aspect of many Planets.

7. It is a sure signe of much friendship, when all the Planets shall be above the earth: or when the Light of the time shall be above the earth, and the three superior Planets in their Essential Dignities, it never fails, if the Lord of the Ascendent be in good Aspect with the most of them.

SECT. 5.

Of the Lord of the eleventh his Position.

1. When the Lord of the eleventh shall be posited in the first House of a Nativity, the Native shall have many Friends who shall prove as Brothers unto him; and he shall obtain the end of his hopes from them; he shall have joy in his Children; and will prove fortunate and happy in all his undertakings: he shall be a person of a good and upright conscience, for the which he will be beloved of the greater part: My Author also says —— Natus inimicos conculcabit; he shall destroy, or tread his enemies under his feet.

2. By being posited in the second Huose, it is the Designer of riches unto the Native, and he will receive much advantage and benefit from his Friends and Companions; as also from his Children.

3. When located in the third House of a Nativity, tribuit fratres nobiles, divites, & clari nominis; & Nato fortunam in brevibus itineribus; it gives the Native rich and Noble Brethren, who will also be of great fame; and it doth fortunate the Native in his short and inland Journies; but this when well dignified there.

4. If posited in the fourth House, brevis vitæ demonstrat parentes, it demonstrates the Parents of the Native to be of short life; for the eleventh is the eighth House from the fourth; but he will have a very good fortune, and will be blessed with a convenient Inheritance.

5. The Lord of the eleventh placed in the fifth House, gives the Native riches, and joy and pleasure in his Children; it also declares their good fortune and prosperity; but the Native will be much inclined to voluptuous and luxurious Courses.

6. By being posited in the sixth House of a Nativity, it discerns the Native many many times to be of short life; but it denotes unto him a victory over his servitude, bondage and slavery; and makes him fortunate in his family.

7. When located in the seventh House, he will obtain much friendship and riches also with a VVife or VVives, of whom he will be much respected and beloved; yet it denotes much poverty and want unto him in his infancy or younger years; but great riches toward his latter age.

8. If he shall be posited in the eighth House, it portends much gaine and profit to the Native by Hereditaments, Wills, Legacies, Deeds, &c. but if he happen to turn Merchant, he will undo himself; chiefly if ill dignified there.

9. If posited in the ninth House of a Nativity, it fortunates the Native in all long Voyages either by Land or Sea; he will profit much by trading into forraigne Countries; and will also obtaine many Friends there.

10. When placed in the tenth House, it presages many eminent and powerful Friends unto the Native; it confers upon him Honour, Dignity and Renown; he will also attain the end of his hopes; yea, such things as he never hoped for; and this certainly, if he be well dignified there.

11. By being located in the eleventh, dat multos amicos & proficuos, plures filios, prosperitatem; it gives the Native many and profitable Friends, and many and prosperous Children also; and he shall have and obtain all things (within the compass of reason) that he may hope or endeavor for.

12. If placed in the twelfth of a Nativity, the Native will have some enemies, but not very many; his hopes will be vain, and of no effect generally; he will rarely attain the end of them: he will many times be propense to errors and vanities, evils and wants; for which he will suffer affliction in prison, and otherwise by the malice of his enemies. And this shall serve for the Judgments of the eleventh House.

CHAP. XXIII.

Of Judgements pertaining to the Twelfth House.

THis House (as I have told you before) giveth Judgement of the Natives private Enemies, their qualities, &c. his Imprisonments, Sorrows, Captivities and Troubles; and we may hence properly enquire--- viz.

1. Of his private Enemies, their Quality, &c.
2. What manner of Persons shall they be?
3. Whether they shall prevail against the Native?
4. Of the Natives Imprisonment or Captivity.
5. Shall it be long or short?
6. Of the Lord of the Twelfth's position.

Which particulars being fully resolved, will give great light to the Judgements pertaining to this House; I will therefore apply my self to their examinations in order------

SECT. 1.

Of the Natives private Enemies, their Quality, &c.

It was a Question proposed by Seneca, Quid est homini inimicissimum? What is Mans greatest or most dangerous Enemy? and thus he answers it himself, Alter Homo, Another Man. And every day among us adds a new verification to the Proverb, Homo Homini Daemon; one Man is a Devil, or an Enemy to another. Most Men are endued with Linguam bisulcam, a forked or double Tongue, wherewith they wound and launce the Reputations of others; but few with a friendly hand, or compassionate heart, that desire to pour oyl into those wounds, or are willing to cast a covering over the nakedness of one anothers Errors: forgetting still the Golden Rule, that teaches them to do as they would be done unto. It is therefore requisite that each person be wary and careful of the persons he hath to do with; and to watch and observe both their feet, lest while they seem to do him service with one, they spurn at him with the other. Metals are never so bright as when they are polished; and Enemies are never so dangerous as when not heeded or observed in their Methodum decipiendi, their Method or manner of deceiving. For the true discovery therefore of the Enemies of each particular Native, I will insert these following Rules; which being heedfully observed, may stand him in good stead.

1. Consider the Lord of the Ascendent and twelfth Houses, and the Planet or Planets posited in the twelfth, their Aspect to, or Configuration with the Lord of the Ascendent, &c. for from thence is known the condition or quality of the Natives Enemies.

2. If the Lord of the Ascendent be in the twelfth House, or the Lord of the twelfth in the Ascendent, the Native will have many private Enemies, and be much perplexed and vexed with them; and when such a posirion happens, the Native cannot be too careful.

3. When there shall be many Planets evilly disposed in the twelfth House, the Native will meet with many private and treacherous Enemies; but if they be there well disposed, they portend many Enemies also unto the Native, but more noble ones then the others.

4. But if there be no Planet posited in the twelfth House, the Native will have but few private Enemies; the like will be when the Lords of the Ascendent and twelfth House shall be in Sextile or Trine to each other, from good places of the Figure.

5. When it shall happen that one of the Infortunes be in the twelfth House, and the other in the sixth, and the Lord of the Ascendent shall be afflicted by either of them in the eighth House, he that is then born shall die by the means or conspiracies of his private Enemies.

6. When Iupiter or Venus fortune to govern the twelfth House, the Native (it is true) will have enemies; but they will be such, as he shall never be in fear or danger of: the same happens when these two Planets fortune to be in Sextile or Trine to the Lord of the twelfth.

7. If Saturn and Mars be strong and potent, and conjoyned in the twelfth House, the Natives enemies will be great; but they shall not have power to hurt him: but if they be weak therein, it portends much prejudice to the Native from private enemies; and an affliction in that Member of his Body represented by the Signe they are in.

8. The

8. The Lord of the twelfth in Conjunction with the Moon and Mercury in the seventh House, stirs up many treacherous and base enemies against the Native, and such as will be perpetually vexatious to him; and this chiefly from a double-bodied or bi-corporeal Signe.

SECT. 6.

What manner of persons shall they be?

By the manner of persons here, I do not intend their shape and description (for I cannot believe any man so weak that pretends to Art, but he may understand that, by what I have formerly said in the eighth, ninth and tenth Chapters of this Book; so that I need not reiterate their descriptions here) but the manner of their Relations to the Native; and how they may by that, be known unto him; and you are to understand it thus:

1. If the Lord of the second be an Infortune, and in the twelfth House, in Quartile or Opposition to the Lord of the Ascendent, the Native will be an enemy to himself, and will suffer himself to be cheated and cozened by every one he shall deal with; chiefly if he traffique in great Beasts.

2. If that Planet who is Significator of the enemies of the Native be the Lord of the third House, the Brethren, Sisters, and Kindred of the Native will be his greatest enemies; if of the fourth, his Parents, &c. if of the fifth, his Children. Et sic de Caeteris.

3. Saturn Significator of private and treacherous enemies, portends antient Men, Grandfathers and Fathers, &c. many times Governours. ♄ denotes Laywers, and Ecclesiastical Persons, Church-Members, and the like; Mars gives notice of Souldiers in general, and many times Robbers, House-breakers, Pillagers, and Plunderers, also the Brethren of the Native; the Sun shews Men in Authority, as Kings, Princes, &c. the Moon and Venus shew VVomen generally, Mothers, Sisters, the VVife; Mercury shews Clerks, Secretaries, Servants and Theeves.

4. When the Significators of enemies shall be in Quartile or Opposition to the Luminaries, it denotes the Natives enemies to be close, cunning, treacherous, subtile sycophantique Fellows, that are secretly backbiting him, and doing him mischief.

5. It is the Opinion of my much honoured Friend Mr. Lilly, that if the significators of the Natives Enemies be in Angles, and well fortified, let them be by nature either good or evil, they will prove powerful; if in succedent Houses, not so potent; if in Cadent places, they are usually Fellows of no Quality. See Christ. Astrol. pars. secund. fol. 641.

6. When the Lord of the twelfth and Lord of the seventh shall be joyned in the seventh House, the Natives principal Enemy will be his wife; or (if a woman) her husband: and this have I verified in many Genitures. This Rule may be varied like the second.

SECT.

SECT. 3.

Shall the Native or they prevail?

1. See to the ſtrength or weakneſs of the Lord of the twelfth Houſe: or if he be Retrograde and Peregrine, and the Lord of the Aſcendent ſtrong and in his Eſſential dignities, the Native will aſſuredly overcome his Enemies; If the Lord of the twelfth be in the tenth Houſe, (weak) or the Lord of the tenth in the twelfth, the ſame.

2. When the Luminaries, or the Lord of the Aſcendent ſhall be in reception with Mars, or in any of his Eſſential dignities, the Native will have a perfect victory over his Enemies, and ſee many of them come unto diſgrace, and ſometimes unto ruine.

3. Quando Mars & Venus in occidente vel in angulo terræ fuerint, natus ſuper inimicos, &c. Saith Albubatar, When Mars and Venus ſhall be in the ſeventh or fourth Houſes, the Native ſhall overcome his Enemies, and they ſhall humble themſelves at his feet.

4. When the Lord of the twelfth ſhall be Cumbuſt, Peregrine or Cadent, or infortunated of Saturn, Mars, or the Dragons Tayl, the Enemies of the Native ſhall be few, and come to much misfortune and ſorrow *.

* Quando dominus 12 dom. combuſtas vel impeditus fuerit, ſive cadens aut peregrinus, ſeu ab aliqua infortuna infortunatus, inimici nati erunt pauci, & ad miſeriam venient, &c. Albub. Chap. 206.

5. If the Lord of the Aſcendent doth not behold the Lord of the twelfth Houſe, Natus paucos habebit inimicos, The Native will have but few Enemies. But if he do behold him, and diſpoſe of him, the Enemies of the Native ſhall cringe and creep to him, and be ſorry for their Errors, and the injuries and baſeneſſes they have offered unto him.

6. When either of the two Fortunes ſhall be poſited in the Houſe of Enemies, and the Lord of Enemies afflicted by the Infortunes, in an evil place of the Figure, the Native may overcome and vanquiſh his Enemies, chiefly if they be afflicted in the ſixth Houſe.

7. But obſerve on the contrary, when the Lord of the twelfth, or Planet in the twelfth, or the Lord of the twelfth his diſpoſitor, ſhall be in evil Aſpect [illegible] the Moon, or Lord of the Aſcendent, and ſtronger then they, the enemies of the Native will prevail againſt him, and do him much miſchief and prejudice.

8. If the Lord of the Aſcendent be Cumbuſt or Retrograde in the ſeventh Houſe, and the Lord of the twelfth ſtrong, the Natives Enemies will be more powerful then he: But if he be Cumbuſt or Retrograde in the twelfth Houſe, the Native will be alwayes plagued and vexed with private, treacherous and baſe Enemies, to the end of his life.

SECT. 4.

Of the Captivity or Impriſonment of the Native.

1. When the Luminaries, or either of them ſhall be in the twelfth Houſe, or in Oppoſition to the Lord of the Aſcendent in the ſixth, he that is then born will be ſubject to many Impriſonments and Captivities.

2. If Mars or Saturn ſhall be in the twelfth or ſeventh, in violent Signes

Signes, in evil Aſpect of the Luminaries, the Native will be ſubject to captivities and Impriſonments. Luna vel Sol in octava, extra ſuas dignitates, denotes the ſame; chiefly if they ſhall be either in their Detriments or Falls.

3. When Mars or Saturn ſhall be Lord of the ſeventh Houſe, and ill dignified, or in the twelfth Houſe conjoyned, or in Oppoſition or Square to the Luminaries, the Native will moſt certainly be ſubject to many captivities, impriſonments and troubles.

4. Mercury and Saturn in the ſixth, eighth or Twelfth Houſes impedited; or Saturnus in Medio Cœli extra ſuas dignitates, (i. e.) Saturn in the Mid-Heaven, out of his eſſential dignities, denotes many impriſonments, vexations, captivities and troubles to the Native.

5. When Saturn, Mars and Mercury ſhall be Cumbuſt in the Weſt-Angle, and the Lord of the Aſcendent in evil Aſpect of them, &c. it denotes many impriſonments and captivities to the Native.

♄, ♂ & ☿ in occidente combuſti, & dominus aſcendentis eos aſpexerit malo aſpectu. Ptol. par. Ch. 46.

6. The Moon, Saturn and Mars in the fourth Houſe, ſhews captivity and impriſonment; and if Mars be joyned to Venus in the eighth Houſe, in Quartile or Oppoſition to Saturn, it denotes great captivities, many ſorrows; ſometimes perpetual impriſonment.

7. Saturn and Mars void of reception, or of the benevolent Beams of the Luminaries, and in Conjunction, Quartile, or Oppoſition, and having dignities in the ſeventh Houſe, conſtantly portend Captivity, Arreſts, or a reſtraint of Liberty. The Sun in the Twelfth, or the Moon Lady of the Aſcendent Peregrine in the Twelfth, the ſame.

8. The Moon and Mercury in the twelfth, gives many impriſonments and Captivities; and if Saturn be in the Weſt-Angle, in Oppoſition of the Lights, it denotes not onely impriſonment, but the death of the Native in priſon *.

* Si ♄ in occidente in oppoſito Luminaris, dat mortem in carcere. Argol.

9. Mars and Mercury in the fourth or ſeventh infortunate, and Mars Lord of the Twelfth, denotes impriſonment and captivity to the Native. Mars Retrogradus cum Venere in 12, Carceres occaſione mulierum. But if Mars ſhall be Retrograde, with Venus in the Twelfth, Women ſhall occaſion his impriſonment.

10. When the Sun ſhall be in the Mid-Heaven, in his own or the Houſes of Jupiter, and Mars in the ſeventh Houſe, in Quadrate or Oppoſition of the Moon, the Native ſhall ſtill be in danger of violence and harm; he will alſo ſuffer exile, baniſhment and impriſonment *.

* ☉ in M.C. in ſuo, aut ♃ domicilio, ♂ in 7. in □ aut ☍ ☽, Exilia, carceris, & pericula adducunt violenta.

11. When Mercury ſhall be in the ſeventh Houſe with Mars, or in Oppoſition of Mars chiefly in his own Houſe, the Native then born ſhall ſuffer exile and much ſorrow and impriſonment; the like if the Sun ſhall be in the twelfth, and afflicted by the evil Beams of Saturn or Mars.

12. Saturn, Sol, and Mercury, the Mid-Heaven, in Quartile or Oppoſition of Mars, makes the Native a Fugitive, Robber, and ſometimes a murtherer, for [illegible] which he ſhall ſuffer impriſonment, poſſibly death.

SECT. 5.

Shall the Impriſonment or Captivity be long or ſhort?

Although this particular be to be known from the evil directions of the ſignificators in a Nativity, and the Revolutions, &c. of the Native; yet Authors having left Rules for the ſame, I will here preſent you with the likeſt, or ſuch of them that have the greateſt ſhew of truth------

1. If the Lord of the 12 be potent, & in evil aſpect of the ☽ or Lord of the Aſcendent

Ascendent, and his Malevolency not suppressed by the benevolent Rayes of the fortunate Planets, the Native will be subject to many and tedious imprisonments and captivities.

2. When the Planets portending imprisonment and captivity shall be in a fixed Signe or Signes, the Native will remain long in prison; possibly he may end his days there: this is certain, if the Significators of his hopes be weak.

3. If the benevolent Planets interpose, and by their friendly Rayes allay the Malignity threatned by the Significators of imprisonment, &c. chiefly if they shall be in moveable Signes, the Native will not remain long in prison, or in his captivity or banishment.

4. If the sixth, eighth, or twelfth Aphorisms of the last Section take place in a Nativity, the Natives captivity and imprisonment will be tedious, and of long continuance; when Saturn, ☽Mars, ☿Mercury, and the Lights shall be in moveable Signes, the imprisonment, &c. may be often, but they cannot be dureable.

5. If the Lord of the tenth (being a benevolent Planet) interpose his Friendly Rayes, the Native may be released and quitted from his bonds by Authority; if the Lord of the eleventh, some Friend shall bayle him out, or procure his liberty; if the Lord of the Ascendent be ☽Mars or ☿Mercury, and he stronger then the Significators of imprisonment, &c. the Native is a subtile cunning Knave, and breaks Prison, and so escapes; if the Lord of the second, he purchases his liberty with a price: Et sic de Cæteris.

SECT. 6.

Of the Lord of the Twelfth's position.

1. When the Lord of the Twelfth shall be posited in the First of a Nativity, it portends many Enemies to the Native, and those Eminent ones; also many Labors, Griefs, & Troubles; and he will meet with many signal treacheries and deceits, and much opposition from those of his own Household. Pauperiem in prima ætate, & in secunda divitias. (i.e.) he will in his first yeers endure want and poverty; but in his second, he will attain Riches.

2. If he be posited in the second House, it denotes many afflictions to the Native in his substance; his Enemies will be so violent against him, that he shall suffer much loss and detriment in his Estate thereby.

3. In tertia Fratres decernit Nato inimicos; by being posited in the third House of a Nativity, the Native and his Brethren disagree; they also shall meet with many Enemies; and the Native shall in his small and inland Journies suffer by his Enemies means; much labour and sorrow also will surround him by reason of Riches, or the goods of Fortune.

4. By being placed in the fourth House, it denotes hatred, strife and contention between the Native and his Parents, and those of his Kindred also; many Contentions about Inheritances and Lands, &c. it declares also the destruction of the House or Family of the Native; or at least a great Catastrophe to befal them.

5. When placed in the fifth House of a Nativity, it presages the evil state and condition of the Natives Children; they will prove inobedient, and reproachful, so that by their means the Native will reap much sorrow and trouble. My Author sayes, Si dominus quintæ fuerit in duodecima, Natus nutribit filios alienos.

6. If

6. If placed in the sixth House of a Nativity, it portends much treachery, deceit and mischief to the Native from Servants, sometimes from an Unkle or Aunt; and he shall be mightily unfortunate by dealing in small Cattle.

7. By being posited in the seventh House, it declares many evils and infortunacies from Women, who shall be the Natives Enemies; he will be subject to many deceits, troubles and perplexities; many mischiefs and great loss will attend him by reason of his Wife; and the latter part of his life will be bad.

8. The Lord of the Twelfth located in the eighth House, portends but few Enemies unto the Native; he shall rather triumph over them, and shall see their Deaths, and be a gainer thereby. And the time that they, viz. the Enemies do live, they shall be vexed, perplexed, and sufficiently tormented.

9. By being placed in the ninth House of a Nativity, it denotes many Molestations from Enemies to the Native in his Journies, &c. also much damage and prejudice to his Wives Brethren by private Enemies. And unto the Native many troubles and * tribulations by reason of Religion, Faith, or things or persons belonging to the Church.

---Tribulationes causa religionis, fidei, aut ecclesiasticorum.

10. When he shall be found in the tenth House, it always denotes damage and difficulties to the Native, in his Dignity, Honour, Preferment: he will meet with Oppositions and Defamations in all his Actions; and will be subject to Captivity, Imprisonment and Exile.

11. If posited in the eleventh House, it presages many Strifes and Controversies between the Native and his Friends; from which the Native shall receive much loss. It denotes also infortunacy unto him in his Children, and the things he hopes for.

12. By being located in the twelfth House, it portends many Injuries, Defamations, Vilifications and Mischiefs from his Enemies, which may prove prejudicial unto him: it also threatens many Imprisonments to befal him, sometimes Exile or Banishment.

It were very good for every Native, if he could obtaine the Nativities of those persons he hath the most material dealings withal, or those that he is familiarly acquainted with; and by comparing them with his own, he may observe the enmity or friendship that is between their Significators, and confide in (or break familiarity with) them accordingly.

For if their Nativities be contrary to his own, they will prove Enemies unto him; or if the Luminaries in them, be contrary to their places in his own, viz. by being in □ or ☍ to their places there, they will prove perpetual Enemies unto him, let them pretend never so fair.

Now, the grand prejudice that divers Persons suffer by their being too too credulous of pretended and feigned Friends, and the evils they be continually exposed unto, beyond the reach of all Objection, proves, that all persons are not born to be Friends, or friendly unto each other; neither (on the contrary) are all born to be Enemies, or Inimical unto each other. But the best and most certain way of discovering our Enemies from our Friends; our propitious and happy Acquaintance, from fawning Flatterers and Pretenders, is, by comparing their Genitures, &c. and proving their Agreement or Disagreement with our own.

We see it apparently, and plainly writ in the Actions of the World, that a Man sometimes hath a Child born to be a cross and curse unto him; and it is common for Brethren and Kindred to disagree; there are often jarrings between the neareſt relations; and whence (think we) should the cause of this proceed? is it not from their contrary Nativities, and from the original disagreements written there? let any man make it appear unto me, why a person shall more really, and with greater ardency affect or love a stranger at the first sight, then he shall another, who it may be sprang from the same womb, and hath been constantly educated and brought up with him, from his infancy.

It is not barely by the sence of seeing, or weakness of the optique Nerves, that so by the shooting back of the Ocular Beams, affection should be so soon let in, and cherished and nourished with so much Zeal as it often is; for should it so be, we must then attribute the cause thereof to the worth and power of the Object: but surely were the true cause to be placed there, the Maid in Scaliger had never swooned at the sight of a Lily. The true and Original cause most certainly of such affection is to be found alone in the Heavens: the sympathy of the persons Nativities (who thus meet) being great and powerful, and the time in which they meet, proper and convenient, having a real and certain tendency to the production of an infallible friendship and agreement between them.

I therefore adjudge it necessary for all persons to be acquainted not only with their own, but the Nativities of such persons with whom they have considerable dealing; for it is this way onely (next to a divine Life) that the wise man may rule the Stars, and turn his disadvantagious times into times profitable; and times of sorrow, into rejoycing; of imprisonment, into liberty; and of escaping vile and sordid Enemies, into the entertaining and keeping the love and favour of serious Friends.

And thus I conclude my particular Judgments of the Twelve Houses of Heaven in a Nativity. I shall come in the next place to treat of the several parts that belong to each House, according the Opinion of the Arabian Doctors in this Science. -----

Chap. XXIV.

Of the several parts proper to the Twelve Houses.

Although I have shewed how to take the Part of Fortune, and of Marriage, yet here I will insert them again for to accompany their Fellows. And so I begin them in order.

SECT. 1.

Parts proper to the first House.

The part of Life, is taken by day and night from the degree of the preceding ☌ or Opposition of the Lights unto the Moon in the Nativity, and accounting from the Ascendent. Example: In the Nativity following, a new Moon preceded it, in 16 deg. of ♈, according to Origanus, Tom. 2.

Therefore the part of life is	9.	5.	53.

that is, in 5 deg. 53 min. of ♈. By this example, you may easily finde out where all the following parts fall.

The part of understanding is taken from ☿ unto ☉, and projected from the degree ascending.

The part of the Spirit is found by substracting the place of the Moon from the Sun, and accounting it from the Ascendent.

SECT. 2.

Parts proper to the second House.

The Part of Fortune is (according to Ptolomy) taken day and night from the Sun unto the Moon, and so reckoning from the Horoscope.

The part of Goods as well by day as by night, is taken by substracting the place of the Lord of the Second, from the Signe, &c. of the Second, and accounting it from the Ascendent, according to the succession of Signes.

SECT. 3.

Parts proper to the third House.

The part of Brethren and Sisters by day, is taken by subducting the place of Saturn from the place of Jupiter, and so projecting it from the degree ascending at birth; by night, the contrary.

The part of the Love of Brethren is found day and night by substracting the place of the Sun from the place of Saturn, and accounting (as before) from the Degree Horoscopical.

SECT. 4.

Parts proper to the fourth House.

The part of the Father day and night is discovered by substracting the place of Saturn from the place of the Sun, and accounting from the degree ascending.

The Part of Fortune in Husbandry is found day and night from Venus unto Saturn, and projecting it from the Ascendent.

The part of Inheritances and Possessions by day and by night is taken by subducting the place of Saturn from the place of the Moon, and accounting from the Ascendent.

SECT. 5.

Parts belonging to the fifth House.

The part of Male Children is taken by ſubſtracting the place of the Moon in your Nativity from the place of Iupiter, and is numbred from the Aſcendent.

The part of Female Children is taken from the Moon unto Venus both day and night, and ſo projected from the Signe and degree aſcending.

The part of Plays and Junkettings is found by ſubſtracting the place of Mars from Venus, and accounting from the Aſcendent.

SECT. 6.

Parts attributable to the ſixth Houſe.

The part of Sickneſs and Infirmities is taken by ſubducting the place of Saturn from the place of Mars, and ſo reckoning from the Aſcendent.

The part of Slavery, Bondage and Captivity, is taken by ſubſtracting the place of the Diſpoſitor of the Moon, from the place of the Moon; and ſo number it from the Signe and degree aſcending.

The part of Servants is found by taking the place of Mercury from the place of the Moon, and projecting it from the Aſcendent.

SECT. 7.

Parts pertinent to the ſeventh Houſe.

The part of Marriage common to Men and VVomen by day and by night, is taken by ſubſtracting the place of Venus in the Radix from the Cuſp of the ſeventh Houſe, accounting from the Aſcendent.

The part of Diſcord and Controverſie, is taken by ſubſtracting the place of Mars from the place of Iupiter by day and by night, and projecting from the Aſcendent.

SECT. 8.

Parts belonging to the eighth Houſe.

The part of Death by day and by night is taken from the Moon unto the Cuſp of the eighth Houſe, (ſubſtraction being made as before) and ſo numbred or accounted from the degree and minute of the Signes aſcending.

The part of the perillous or moſt dangerous Year, or of all other miſfortunes, is found by ſubſtracting the place of Saturn from the place of the Lord of the eighth Houſe, and accounting from the Aſcendent.

Sect.

SECT. 9.

Parts proper to the ninth Houſe.

The part of Faith or good Manners, is taken day and night by ſubducting the place of the Moon from the place of Mercury, and projecting it from the Signe and degree aſcending on the Eaſtern Finitor.

The part of Journies by water is taken day and night from Saturn unto the fifteenth degree of Cancer, and accounted from the Signe aſcending.

The part of Travels by Land is taken day and night by ſubſtracting the place of the Lord of the ninth, from the Cuſp of the ninth Houſe; and projecting it from the Aſcendent or Horoſcope.

SECT. 10.

Parts of the tenth Houſe.

The part of Nobility or Honour, is found by ſubſtracting the place of the Sun from the nineteenth degree of Aries; and ſo numbering it from the Aſcendent. Some have held, that by night we ought to take it from the Moon unto the third degree of Taurus; I leave every Artiſt to make his beſt experience hereof.

The part of ſuddaine advancement is found by ſubſtracting the place of Saturn from the place of the part of Fortune, and then reckoning it from the Aſcendent: if Saturn be Combuſt, take Iupiter.

The part of Magiſtery and Profeſſion by day and night, is taken by ſubſtracting the place of Saturn from the place of Luna, and reckoning from the Aſcendent; and of this may be made good uſe in moſt Nativities.

The part of Merchandiſe is found day and night by ſubſtracting the place of the part of the Spirit from the part of Fortune, and numbring from the Aſcendent.

SECT. 11.

Parts of the eleventh Houſe.

The part of Friends is found in Diurnal and Nocturnal Genitures, by ſubſtracting the place of Mercury from the place of the Moon, and accounting from the Signe and Degree aſcending at the Nativities.

The part of Honourable and Illuſtrious Acquaintance is taken by Day from the Part of Fortune to the Sun, and ſo projected from the Aſcendent; but by Night, the contrary.

SECT. 12.

Parts belonging to the Twelfth Houſe.

The Part of Impriſonment, Sorrow, Captivity, &c. is taken day and night night by ſubſtracting the part of the Spirit from the Part of Fortune, and ſo projected from the Sign and Degree aſcending.

The Part of Private Enemies by day and by night, is taken by ſubſtracting the place of the Lord of the Twelfth from the Cuſp of the Twelfth, and ſo to be accounted from the Aſcendents.

Theſe are the ſeverall parts that the Arabians much uſed, and took eſpecial notice of in Nativities. I have by experience proved, that as either of them are well or ill dignified, the Native hath either gained or loſt in the things or matters they related unto.

CHAP. XXV.

Of Directions in Nativities, with their Effects.

Direction, what?

DIrection is a walking, turning, wheeling about, or a conſtant motion and progreſſion of a point, until it have finiſhed its compaſs or circle: whence of the Greeks it is termed περιπατω, i.e. Obambulatio, a walking or turning, (as before.)

Its Uſe.

The proper uſe we have of it, is to finde out the diſtance between the Significator and Promittor of any accident in a Nativity, be it either for the affection or affliction of the body or minde of the Native. I ſhall not ſtand here to ſhew you the meaning of the Tables of Direction: for I ſhall annex that unto the Tables themſelves which follow. Know therefore, that Aſtrologers do obſerve five Significators*, or Hylegiacal points in a Nativity, above all others: and thoſe be, the Aſcendent, firſt; ſecondly, the Mid-heaven; thirdly, the Sun; fourthly, the Moon; fifthly, the Part of Fortune. They direct them alſo to ſeveral ends and purpoſes; as the Aſcendent for the accidents of the body; the Sun for the honour, eſtimation and preferment of the Native; the Mid-heaven for his Magiſtery or Profeſſion, his Offices, Friendſhip of great Perſons, Marriages, &c. the Moon for the ſtate and condition of the VVife or Mother, his Journeys, Peregrinations, and ſometimes Matrimony alſo; the Part of Fortune for the encreaſe and diminution of his riches or eſtate.

*They are called Significators, becauſe they ſignifie the accidents that happen to the Native.

Promittor, what? It threatens as well as promiſes.

Now the points and parts of the Figure unto which theſe Significators be directed, are called Promittors, becauſe they promiſe the greatneſs of the accidents to happen unto the Native for good, long before they happen; and how they ſhall come to paſs at length: ſo they declare alſo the greatneſs of the evil that ſhall befal the Native: for the word, Ἐπαγγέλλομαι, ſignifies as well to threaten as to promiſe; and therefore it takes notice of the evil as well as the good. But to avoid all prolixity, I ſhall here preſent you with the Effects of Directions of all ſorts whether good and evil, according to the nature of the Promittors, &c. who have greateſt ſignification thereof.

CHAP.

CHAP. XXVI.

Of the Effects of the Aſcendents Directions to his Promittors.

SECT. 1.

To Saturn and his Aſpects.

Aſcendent to the ☌, □, or ☍ of ♄.

THis Direction begets in the Native an ill habit of body; and ſicknesſes proceeding from cold and dryneſs; naughty Coughs, Agues both Tertian and Quartain; the Meagrim, great trouble of the minde and brain, ſtrange Chimæra's and fancies, horrid imaginations, lingring and tedious ſickneſſes: in young Maids, the Green-ſickneſs, and many Obſtructions: in Youth, Conſumptions, Dulneſs and Stupidity; a general Lethargy or dulneſs over the whole body; vexations and miſchiefs by old people; loſs of reputation and eſtate. Either of theſe Directions, if Saturn be Anareta, and hate the place where the Direction happens, bringeth death unto the Native; the Conjunction eſpecially; unleſs the benevolent Planets interpoſe their friendly Rays.

Horoſ. ad ☌, □ aut ☍ ♄ ægritudines longas minatur; ---imperfectiones corporis ex frigidis humoribus exortas, febres quartanas, &c. Argol.

The Native upon either of theſe Directions, is more grave, ſerious and ſober, then formerly; he acquaints himſelf with elderly and eminent men; he gains by his commerce and ſociety with them; he thrives and grows rich by all Commodities Saturnine; he is much buſied about Buildings and Repairings; he may probably diſcover Mynes and hidden Treaſure; he lets Leaſes, and doth all things with advantage to himſelf, according to his capacity and condition of living.

To the ✶ or △ of ♄.

Now the Native is uſually ſlow and dull in his actions, little minded to ſpeak or do any thing: he is dogged, cloſe and reſerved, full of envy and malice, negligent and careleſs; he values not which end of his buſineſs goes formoſt: you muſt in this (and in others alſo) conſider the nature of the Sign the Direction falls in.

To the terms of ♄.

I ſhould here have ſpoken of the Effects of the Antiſcions, and Contra-Antiſcions of each Planet: but moſt Aſtrologers agree, that the Antiſcions of Saturn and Mars, operate neer the matter like their Sextiles and Trines; but the Contra-Antiſcions, like the Conjunctions, Quartiles or Oppoſitions. And the Antiſcions of the other five are equivalent to their Conjunctions, Sextiles, Trines; and their Contra-Antiſcions, to their Quartiles or Oppoſitions: therefore I hold it unneceſſary to inſert them.

SECT. 2.

To Jupiter, and his Aſpects.

To the ☌, ✶, or △ of ♃.

Either of theſe Directions endues the Native with a healthful conſtitution of body, makes him pleaſant, cheerful, affable, liberal and courteous; delighting delighting to converse with good men, with persons of the highest esteem or the greatest rank in the Kingdom or Commonwealth wherein he lives; as Clergy-men and Lawyers, Magistrates, Judges, Advocates, Persons in Authoritie, &c. it augments the Natives credit and esteem, gives him great Fortune and Riches, and produces all his actions and business to a good and prosperous end. The Native (if capable) may marry upon either of these Directions. To a Scholar it denotes Degrees of Preferment in an University, or aliquid tale: to Ministers, good and fat Benefices: to Lawyers, an augmentation of Honour and Practice: good Trading to Merchants. It oftentimes brings Lands or Inheritances, with many other blessings of Fortune; as, a Child, if the Native be married, a quiet and vertuous Wife, and a peaceable enjoyment of all terrene pleasures.

Ascendens ad ☌, △, ✶ ♃, pollicetur animi & corporis tranquillitatem, gaudia, laudes, gloriam, honores, divitias, bona ex Ecclesiasticis significatis, & personis jovialibus, potentibus, in dignitate constitutis, religiosis, &c.

When either of these Directions are operating in a Nativity, the Native is beset with many unhappy distempers of Body; as a bad Liver, distempered Blood, a Pleurisie, sometimes the Measels, or small Pox: makes him intemperate, negligent and careless of his Patrimony: he is subject to much damage by suretiship, makes shipwrack of his Credit, &c. It brings many hatreds, enmities, quarrels and contentions, chiefly with Lawyers, Church-men, and men of eminency, who shall under pretence of friendship, betray the Native unto his great prejudice; and by their means shall he undergo much loss in his Estate.

To the □ or ☍ of ♃.

This Direction produceth a good constitution both of Body and mind, and shews the Native shall delight and rejoyce in all things that be good and honest: he shall encrease his stock conveniently, and gain acquaintance with men of good rank and quality in the place where he lives: he will also live comfortably and in good esteem with his Family, and his Neighbours and Kindred.

To the terms of ♃.

You must observe in all Nativities you calculate, the strength or weakness of the Promittor, to whom your Significator is directed; and so judge according to the accidents that shall happen: as for example; the Ascendent directed to the ☌, ✶ or △ of Jupiter, they are admirable Directions, and presage glorious things unto the Native; and if Iupiter be in Sagittary or Pisces, in the Radix, or the Direction fall in his Essential Dignities, the Accidents will be the more auspicious and happy unto him. But if Iupiter be in Gemini or Virgo, or the Directions fall in the Debilities of him, the things presignified by the Direction or Directions may come to pass, but not in so great a measure as the other. The Fortitudes of the Planets augment the honour portended; but the Debilities diminish the same.

The excellent knowledge of the effects of Directions in a Nativity, is couched in these few words, and they are sufficient to inform an ingenious Artist.

SECT. 3.

Ascendent directed to the body of Mars, and his Aspects.

To the ☌, □ or ☍ of ♂.

The Ascendent directed to either of these, brings many miseries to the Native both of body and minde; sometimes death. It gives the Plague, Botches, Boyls, Small-Pox, Bloody-Flux, Inflammations, Giddiness, Frenzy, Madness, dangerous Falls, publick Accusations before Magistrates; the Native is sometimes sentenced to death thereby. It involves the Native in many Law-suits and Controversies; makes him furious, and apt to quarrel: it windes him into many misfortunes, makes him apt to undertake Duels, brings danger by Horses, Iron, Fire, Gun-shot, by casting of stones; sometimes danger of stabbing, sometimes Banishment or perpetual Imprisonment.

Biliosas febres accendit, tertianas, continuas, inflammationes, ebulliciones humorum, erysipelata, ulcera biliosa, aliasq; ex cholera ægritudines; accendit bilem in cerebro, minatur rixas, vulnera; pericula violentæ, damna ex igne, &c.

To the ✶ or △ of ♂.

This Direction inclines the Native to profitable and fortunate Journeys, and to all manner of Martial Exercises or Military Affairs; gives him Preferment by Arms; brings him in great respect with Souldiers; makes him acceptable to Kings and Princes, Generals, Colonels, Commanders of Armies, and all men given to War. If the Native be a Tradesman or a Mechanick, he follows his Trade closely, makes good work, tries many Inventions, spends his money liberally and freely: he is inclinable to Choler.

Inclinat ad Martialia significata, motus, itinera, & cum fortuna; reddit Natum animo forti, audacem, imperiosum, magnanimum, honoris cupidum, facilem ad rixas, Argol.

This incites the Native to many rash actions, and inclines his temper to choler: he puts his hand to many idle and wicked matters, all tending to a general distemper of his Body: he is very much subject to scandal, and not undeservedly. If Mars be well dignified, he lessens the influence: but 'tis good nevetheless, that the Native doth evacuate or purge Choler.

To the terms of ♂.

SECT. 4.

Ascendent Directions to Sol and his Aspects.

To the ☌ of ☉.

It gives unto the Native some admirable Preferment or Dignity, some Office or Employment from Princes or Men in Authority: he is acceptable unto them; yet nevertheless he is troubled with grievings and doubtings in his minde; makes publick the secret Affairs of his life: for the Sun discovers all things. This Direction many times produces a general distemper in the Body, pain in the Head, hurt in the Eyes, chiefly in the right-Eye; loss of Substance, discord with Brethren or Sisters. Consider the Nature of the Sign the Direction falls in, and so judge.

Ascendens ad ☌ ☉ honores pollicetur & Principe, authoritatem & aliquod Dominium impertitur, vel dignitatem; verum dubitandum de calida corporis discrasia, vel oculorum affectibus.

To the ✶ or △ of ☉.

Gives the Native great Health of Body, Tranquillity of Minde, Encrease of Estate, new and eminent Friends of great account, an augmentation of Reputation and Esteem in the World: many times prosperous Journeys or Employments into Forrain Parts or Countries: he is happy in all his Affairs, and all tends to his singular advantage and profit.

To the □ or ☍ of ☉.

When this Direction happens, it stirs up many unhappy Distempers in the Native's Body: it stirs up the wrath or fury of Princes, Magistrates, or Men in Power against the Native: it shews the Death of the Father of the Native: if the fortunate Planets do not assist with their friendly Rays, it produces many Losses, Crosses, Deceits, Decay of Estate; sore Eyes, and Cholerique Diseases afflict the Native: also Imprisonment, damage by Sea-voyages, by undertakings for great Men. The yeer is full of Contention and Law-suits. You must understand, that the □ is not so malignant or cruel as is the ☍.

SECT. 5.

The Ascendents Directions to Venus and her Aspects.

To the ☌, ✶ or △ of ♀.

--Dat animi & corporis tranquillitatem, salubritatem complexionis; inclinat ad solatia, voluptates, amores, amicitias mulierum, luxum, aliquando uxorem ducendam, nuptias, delectationem deliciarum & rerum pulchrarum, consuetudinem cum Musicis, Pictoribus & artificibus voluptuosis, & similia.

Either of these Directions brings unto the Native all manner of pleasure and content both of Body and Minde, renders him acceptable to VVomen: he is much conversant with them, is always courting and wooing (and dallying with) them. If capable, he marries upon these Directions, and hath within the yeer a Childe: he delights much in decking and trimming himself: purchases new Apparel, and all sorts of good Housheld-stuff: he feasts and banquets freely, hath the love of his Kindred, and hath good and profitable success in his Employment or Vocation, let it be what it will. The yeer in which this Direction happens, may very properly be termed the yeer of pleasures.

To the □ or ☍ of ♀.

The Native upon these Directions will be so much given to pleasures of the worser sorts; as, Drunkenness, Fornications and Adulteries, that he thereby will bring some obnoxious infirmity unto his Body; as, Surfeits, Gonorrhea, Lues Venerea; and will receive great detriment in his Reputation: he will be molested, and rendred infamous and unworthy by a VVoman or VVomen: he falls into distempered passions for the love of VVomen; they slight and contemn him: he is jealous, and engaged in Quarrels by reason thereof: he is negligent and careless of all Good; loses much (for his fooliish pleasure) in his Estate and manner of living; quarrels with his VVife, if he be married.

To the terms of ♀.

The Native generally inclines to cheersulness; he is active, and much delighted in VVomens company; prone to Musick, Dancing, to all honest Sports and Pastimes; happy in all the affairs he undertakes, be his condition what it will.

SECT. 6.

The Ascendents Directions to Mercury and his Aspects.

To the ☿, ✶ or △ of ♀.

--Propellit ad studia, Scripturas, artem oratoriam, poesim, eloquentiam, Mathematicas, aliasque Scientias, &c.

This Direction prompts the Native to all good literature, and sharpens his Understanding; inclines him to the Mathematicks, and to the understanding of all curious Books, even those of most difficult knowledge: it shews great Profit and encrease of Fortune by study; it fortunates him in Merchandizing, or in any Office or Employment, or in all manner of Bargains, Contracts or Negotiations; and all this according to the capacity of the Native. The Sons of great Persons go (upon these Directions) to Universities, or Travel for Pleasure. The Sons of others, to be Apprentices. But to Men of riper yeers: if Servant to a King, &c. he goes of some Embassage, or such-like Employment. If to a Nobleman, he gains by his Pen in his Stewardship: and so Quoad Capax, to every Native from the Crowne to the Clown.

To the □ or ☍ of ♀.

This shews an averseness to study; it afflicts the Body, and makes the Native subject to Itch or Scabs, to weak Lungs, difficulty of breathing: it it revives clandestine conspiracies against him; he is ever restless and unquiet, busied to no purpose; he is involv'd in many Law-suits and controversies by reason of Accounts; he is perplexed with ill Servants, cozened or cheated by them; arrested and imprisoned, as well for other Mens Moneys as his own, by reason of his Engagements; encumbred with scurvy Titles of Land, or former Mortgages; prejudiced by wrangling Clerks and Atturnies, by lying Witnesses or some false Informations, by young Men or Youths, by Libels, Verses, or writing some foolish Book.

To the terms of ☿.

The Ascendent to the Terms of Mercury, endues the Native with a sharp and piercing Judgement; shews him witty, bent to Letters or Traffick, and makes him much propense to Study, according to his quality or condition of life.

SECT. 7.

The Ascendents Directions to the Moon and her Aspects.

To the Body of the ☽.

This Direction portends danger both of Body and Minde, hazard of life by some sudden casualty neer Waters or Mooriish places: if the Moon be strong in the Radix, it portends Prosperity, and Health and Riches unto the Native: but if weak, the contrary. But generally it signifies Contracts, Journeys or Voyages by Sea, Marriage, and sometimes good Preferment, and many times the death of the Mother or Wife.

To the ✶ or △ of ☽.

The Native is of a healthful Body, and contented Minde; he is very much imployed, very apt to undertake anything; a good time to his Kindred and Mother: he is acceptable to Women, chiefly to young Maidens: if the Native be capable, it portends Marriage, and a Daughter within the yeer: sometimes the Native takes a profitable Journey, and doth live in great esteem among his Neighbours; he follows his Profession with much alacrity.

To the □ or ☍ of ☽.

--Dat jurgia, lites, contentiones cum dispendiis, & dedecore causa mulierum; dispulcentias a Matre, Uxore vel Amica ob Zelotypiam: itinera infausta, ægritudines ex humoribus frigidis & humidis affectus capitis, oculorum, præcipue sinistri; mala in complexione, pericula in aquis; & in omnibus difficultates, &c. saith Argol.

This begets controversie and strife between the Native and his Mother or Wife, &c. many suggestions of jealousies; discord with Clowns and rude People; disgraces and affronts from mean Women; the Body afflicted with abundance of vitious and corrupt humours, dangers by Water; grief or pains in the Eyes, chiefly the left Eye: the Native is affronted by every one; hath no success at Sea or by Land, rob'd at Land by Thieves, at Sea by Pyrates; loss of Preferment, Office or Dignity; Surfets occasioned by Gluttony, Luxuriousness and VVantonness; the Body mightily offended by a surplusage of raw and indigested humours: all things go hardly with him; 'tis a very ill Direction.

To ☊.

The Ascendent to ☊ points out a happy and successfull time, the Body in good state and condition, respect from Magistrates, many times an Inheritance unexpectedly falls unto the Native; the Native may advance his fortune by the means of jovial and venereal Men.

To ☋.

This gives a crazy sickly Body, little Health, a Pestilential Fever, Torment with Belly-ach, the Cholick, Rupture, Gonorrhea, Poyson; brings many scandals and false imputations unto the Native. If it fall in the second House, the Native is over-charged with Debts. I have known this Direction in three Nativities for to kill.

To ⊕. To the ⊕, the Native by his own proper industry obtains a very great increase of Fortune; sometimes it happeneth unto him unexpectedly.

To the Cusp of the second House, the Native purchases rich Housholdstuff, and great store of moveable Goods.

To the Cusp of the third House, the Native then visits his Brethren and Kindred, makes many Journeys both pleasant and profitable.

To the Cusp of the fourth, it brings death unto the Native.

SECT. 8.

The Ascendents Directions to fixed Stars.

Caput Medusæ. To Caput Medusæ, brings unto the Native many unexpected crosses in his Affairs, vexations with great persons, cros informations and publick accusations, many times obstructions of health.

Orion. To the Girdle of Orion, profit by dead persons or inheritances: the Native is grave, yet sometimes entangled in love; given to gluttony, and thence disorders his body.

Buckler of the Ship. To the Buckler of the Ship, profitable Journeys unto the Native: he will undergo some prejudice, but will behave himself bravely in his sufferings; so that they shall turn to his good.

Dog-Star. To the Dog-Star, the Native is inclineable to Choler, and is imployed in Martial Affairs: he is subtil, full of cunning; yet doth he waste his substance by lust and wantonness; loseth his estimation; gains little by Merchandizing; is unprosperous by Accounts and some Studies; loss by thievish Servants; he acquires Goods, by Rapine, Violence and Fury.

Aselli. To the Aselli, the Native is troubled with a Fever, hurt to his Eyes, danger by great Beasts, malicious slanders and scandals by vulgar persons.

Cor Leonis. To the Heart of the Lion; the Native gains Wealth and Honour in abundance; he gains estimation among Princes; overcomes his Adversaries; yet will he be subject to some cholerick and acute distemper of body.

Pleiades. To the seven Stars, the Native is afflicted with cholerick Humours and Wounds in the Face: sometimes restraint of Liberty, or Banishment. This is a dangerous Direction, and ruines the Reputation of a Man.

Hydra. To the bright Star of Hydra, the Native is busied about Possessions or Buildings, is sensible of many hazzards or hard labours, loss about inheritances; disgrace and prejudice by Women: he is a haunter of Taverns and their company to his detriment.

Spic. ♍. To the Virgins Spike, it gives the Native great honour and profit; makes him ingenious; all his affairs succeed well: if he be capable, he attains great Ecclesiastical Preferment, and much estimation thereby.

Bootes, Arcturus. To either of these, the Native gains good Fortune in the World, and enjoys it with much peace and content; yet at sometimes will he be engaged in some petty and unnecessary troubles, occasioned rather by his own temerity or rashness, then by any just or real occasions.

CHAP.

CHAP. XXVII.

Directions of the Mid-Heaven to Promittors.

SECT. 1.

To Saturn and his Aspects.

THis stirs up the wrath and indignation of Princes, Magistrates and great Persons against the Native. It destroys his Honour and Reputation; stirs him up to Atheistical and ungodly actions: sometimes it threatens publick informations and accusations against the Native, and a Sentence to be pronounced against him accordingly. It also threatens vexations with vulgar persons, damage by Thefts: he is reduced to Poverty and Disgrace: it will prove a yeer full of Infortunacies and Mischances.

To the ♂, □, or ☍ of ♄. --Mala oftendit saltem in aliquo ex his significatis, irritat Magnates & potentes contra Natum, & ejus actiones; jacturam decernit honoris, oppositiones, &c. Argol.

It argues esteem and honour unto the Native among aged Persons, and that the Native will be more sober, grave and advised then formerly; he accumulates Wealth by Men and things that are Saturnine. It invests the Native (if capable) with some Command or Office in the Commonwealth; he hath more respect then usual from his Friends and Equals, and Men in Power.

To the ✶ or △ of ♄.

This Direction stirs up the malice of old Men and Men of sordid Dispositions against the Native; it denotes Troubles and Melancholy thoughts and Perturbations; multiplicity of business torments him; he hath much ado to keep his former Reputation.

To the terms of ♄.

SECT. 2.

Directions of the Mid-heaven to Jupiter, and his Aspects.

This Direction presages a healthful and profitable yeer unto the Native; he will be preferred to some Dignity or Honour, and will accumulate great Wealth by means of some eminent Lawyer or Church-man: it elevates the Native from the Dung-hill unto good Preferment: all things succeed well with him; the love and affections of all sorts are given in unto him in abundance. It is a most happy and prosperous time in earnest.

To the body of ♃ and his ✶ or △.

The Native is always much perplexed upon either of these Directions. Lawyers, Clergy-men and great Persons are his Enemies, and endeavour to deprive him of his former Estimation or Honour: he is prejudiced by the Sentence of the Judge, plagued with Clerks, Sollicitors and Under-Lawyers: he is enforced to spend or sell some part of his Estate, to keep himself secure and free from his Enemies; he loses by his Kindred; Religious People are his Enemies: all things run cros and untowardly with the Native upon such a Direction.

To the □ or ☍ of ♃.

This

To terms of ♃. This gives the Native health of Body, and Prosperity, and furtherance in his Fortune and Estate, by means of Persons of Eminency: he thrives and gains in any thing he goes about, be it either in his common Profession or Office, &c.

SECT. 3.

Mid-heavens Directions to Mars and his Aspects.

To the ♂, □ or ☍ of ♂. The Native upon any of these Directions, is plunged into many mischances both of Body, Minde and Fortune: it stirs up the wrath of Men in Power against him, especially Martialists. It threatens him with the hatred of many; Banishment, Imprisonment, a Consumption of his Patrimony by Fire and Theft. It oftentimes threatens death by reason of publick Accusations: he loses his Office, Honour, Reputation; is always engaged in Quarrels, Uproars, Tumults, Contentions and Robberies. You must understand, if Mars be potent in the Nativity, much of the evil will be abated.

--Rixas tribuit cum Martialibus, iras potentiorum, jacturam honoris & dignitatis possesse, pericula carceris, exilii, itinera coacta vel infortunata; oppositiones in actionibus, & opificio damna in divitiis, &c.

To the ✶ or △ of ♂. This incites the Native to the use of Arms, Fencing, &c. he accompanies himself with Souldiers and Men of quality; he delights in riding, hunting and such-like pleasure; he is well respected by Men of worth: if capable, he attains Preferment by War; otherwise, his Affairs succeed well; he is generally active, and of rare and admirable Inventions.

To the terms of ♂. This provokes and stirs up the anger of Martial Men against the Native; it shews sorrow and mischief to his Mother and Children, if he have any; he is rash and unadvised in his actions; his Credit and Repute is very much in danger.

SECT. 4.

Mid-heaven to the Sun, and his Aspects.

To the ♂, ✶ and △ of ♂. The Native is preferred to great Dignity and Honour, is accepted of Princes or eminent Persons, receives Honour and gifts from them, attains some Office or Preferment whereby he lays the Foundation of arising to great Dignity; he is magnanimous, bountiful, and performs all his matters or businesses with great prudence and fidelity: he attains to a Kingdom, (if it be a Kingly Geniture) however, highly elevated, even to wonder, and this without the least envy or malice contracted against him. The Direction of them to the Body of Sol, oftentimes kills the Mother, or shews some great detriment unto her.

To the □ or ☍ of ☉. The Native meets with many discommodities in the whole course of this yeers actions, gains the displeasure and frowns of great Men; he loses his Offices, Honours and Preferments on a sudden; his good Fortunes are utterly ruined, Credit and Reputation lost: sometimes he is in danger of being imprisoned, of Banishment and Exile: he may upon either of these Directions be (if the Radix threaten a violent death) sentenced to death by the judgement of the Prince or Magistrate: if the Native's tive's Parents are living, they partake of the Infelicity in one kinde or other, either in loss of their Estate by Fire, or other Mundane Casualties.

Principium & Magnatum minatur indignationem, & contrarietates, jacturam dignitatis, depositionem ab officio, mala inopinata, aliquando carceres, exilia, tempus ad omnia infaustum.

SECT. 5.

Mid-heavens Directions to Venus and her Aspects.

This is a happy and benevolent Direction unto the Native, and gives him health of Body and cheerfulness of Minde; inclines him to mirth, and to accompany Women; gains respect from them, and is honoured or preferred by their means: he purchaseth new Houses, Household-stuff, &c. and enjoys much content and pleasure in all his worldly affairs: he is freely at peace with all Persons, and all with him: it confers on the Native a very considerable and prosperous Fortune, brings health and safety to the Mother (if living) and to his other Relations: it produceth Marriage, and within the yeer a child: it blesseth the Native with what felicity, according to the capacity of his Birth, he may expect.

To the ♂, ✶ or △ of ♀. Inclinat ad luxum, Venerea, & voluptates, --delicias, ad uxorem ducendam, amicitias cum mulieribus, & commercium, indulgentiam genio, convivia & gaudia; pollicetur dignitates, publica munera, promotionem ad officium cum honore & divitiis, honores in actionibus, &c.

This Direction subjects the Native to scandals, slanders and ignominies; maketh a breach in his Honour and Reputation by means of Women; stirs up many strifes, hatred and contentions against him: he is apt to dally and wooe many Women; but is neglected, scorned, derided and deluded by them all: he is brimful of jealousie and distrusts: it shews death unto the Mother or Wife; however, a sad and uncomfortable life with the later: many times the humour of jealousie so much prevails, that it moves mighty and unappeasable discontents between them, that nothing can period but parting: very great loss and damage in his Estate, &c.

To the □ or ☍ of ♀. Displicentias, infamiam, damna portendit causa fœminarum, amores cum Zelotypia, & honoris detrimento; lites, jurgia, & similia; mala in Matre, Uxore vel Fœminis Nati, aliquando earum mortem.

The Native may expect upon this Direction much joy, delight and pleasure, by being conversant with VVomen; he may attain his desires easily of them: he passeth the whole time of its continuance with pleasure and content.

To the terms of ♀.

SECT. 6.

Mid-heavens Directions to Mercury and his Aspects.

These Directions, or any of them, incline the Native to study, make him wholly conversant in Books: give him Preferment and Honour thereby: he is apt to learn Languages or any mysterious Science: he hath good success in his affairs, commerce or merchandize: he keeps company with learned Men; is fortunate in travels. If he be in a capacity, he performs some eminent Office by way of Embassage. It gives him great Fortune in all worldly affairs; encreases or adds to his Patrimony; he is highly esteemed for his industry, ingenuity and wisdom.

To the ♂, ✶ or △ of ☿. Natum propensum reddit ad Mercurialia, studia literarum. Scripturas, supputationes, merces, negotia, opificium; tribuit ingenii solertiam & dotes, ob quas assequetur, Natus honores & lucra, officium, dignitatem, &c.

These Directions portend unto the Native a most difficult and troublesome time: he is oppressed and tormented with Mercurial Men. It portends tedious and difficult Law-suits and

To the □ or ☍ of ☿. Demonstrat persecutiones excitatas ob invidiam, ini-micitias Mercurialium, damna in honore, actionibus & opificio, depositionem ab officio & dignitate, implicationes & impedimenta in omnibus additis litibus.

and Controversies, many times unjust Sentences: they are indeed wholly negative unto the good of the Native, be he of what condition or quality he will: he loses his Preferment and Reputation, is abused by cross-grain'd and lying Informations, untrue Reports, false Witnesses, Accusations and Accounts: he cannot escape the mis-representations of unworthy Men.

To the terms of ☿.

This inclines the Native to study, and shews he shall have good success in Learning, and in his Magistery or Profession: he is active and sollicitous, and with great earnestness doth he follow his Vocation, and thrives moderately thereby.

SECT. 7.

Mid-heaven to the Moon and her Aspects.

To the ☌ of ☽.

The Native upon this Direction is variously troubled both in Body and Minde: he is often ebbing and flowing in the fortune of this world: but if the Moon were strong in the Radix, the Native marries, gains some Office and Preferment, hath an itching desire of making himself known; otherwise he is inclined to Travel, and may very probably gain thereby.

To the ✶ or △ of ☽.

Honores impartitur à populo & plebe, amicitiam cum mulieribus, earum causa honores & divitias, &c.

It gives the Native great increase of Fortune, Estimation and Honour from vulgar people more then usual, large Donations from some eminent Lady or Gentlewoman, or from Women in general: he prospers in his Offices or Employments, marries this yeer: he either Merchandizes or Travels beyond Sea: he gains Repute and Credit from all persons, as much as by Birth he is capable of.

To the □ or ☍ of ☽.

Odia popularia decernit, rixas causa mulierum, impedimenta in actionibus, adversitatis odia mulierum, lites & dispendia earum causa; aliquando mortem aut mala Matri, &c.

This produces unto the Native a general dis-esteem amongst all that know him, thwartings and contentions on the behalf of Women; loss of Honour and Dignity; wastes his Estate vainly and Prodigally, even upon Harlots and base unworthy Women; danger of death unto his Mother, if living; Wife, if married; or an absolute breach betwixt him and his Wife or Mistris: he is troubled with many Informations and Accusations, and probably may do something whereby he may incur the Displeasure or Sentence of the Judge or Magistrate against him.

Mid-heaven to the eleventh House.

M.C. ad cuspidem domus undecimæ.

This begets the Native new Friends, and many honourable Acquaintance, and much gain unto him thereby; chiefly, if Jupiter, Sol or Venus were in the Eleventh, or beholding it by some friendly Configuration, as is the ✶ or △.

Mid-heaven to the twelfth House.

This stirs up secret Enemies against the Native; many times he suffers Imprisonment or Banishment, great loss and damage from four-footed Beasts, as are Horses and Oxen, &c.

Sect.

SECT. 8.

Mid-Heaven to fixed Stars.

The Native is wholly inclined to Martial affairs; it sharpens his Judgment and Conceptions; he finds out many Inventions, and deviseth many Stratagems; he gaines honour and esteem among Souldiers, and all witty and ingenious persons; it makes him ambitious and imperious: sometimes he will be engaged in Quarrels and VVranglings upon these Directions; but not often. To the Goat Orion, or Cor m.

This turns the Natives Fortune into a better frame for his advantage; he gaines by Souldiers and VVomen, is inclineable to many ingenious Practises, and procureth unto himself great VVealth and Preferment thereby. To the Bulls Eye.

This Direction gaines the Native some publick Office, Power or Command, by means of a Prince, or some eminent Magistrate or Man in Power; he encreases his Estate thereby, and conveniently augments his Reputation: he is honoured by the Nobility and Gentry, performs all his undertakings with great honour and fame. To the Lyons Heart, the Dog-Star, or Arcturus.

To the Virgins Spike, the Native hath conferred on him honour and preferment beyond his expectation, hopes or capacity; yea, sometimes it affords him a power over the life or death of others. To Spica.

This Direction torments the Native with troublesome, pernitious and dangerous businesses; with VVranglings and Controversies occasioned by VVomen; it occasions sudden and unexpected Quarrels, and rash Actions, sometimes Murther, Stabs, Imprisonment, &c. it doth sometimes portend sudden Preferment; but an ill Consequence attends it. To the Pleiades.

This many times casts the Native into extream danger by reason of Murther, Man-slaughter, or the suddain Death of some one or other; the Native being either Author of it, or Assistant to it, doth thereby endanger his Head or Neck. It is always found a most pernitious Direction, and of evil consequence unto the Native. To Caput Medusæ.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The Suns Directions to Promittors.

SECT. 1.

To Saturn and his Aspects.

Any of these Directions portend unto the Native much imbecility and weakness of Body, sharp sicknesses, proceeding from melancholy and black Choler: It produces sickness unto the Natives Father, if living; the Native is subject to violent Falls from Horses or high Places; he will be cheated by Theevish Servants, and To the ☌, □ or ☍ of ♄.

and will decay in his Fortune; he will receive great Detriment in his Reputation or good name; loses both Honour and Preferment; it stirs up the Fury and Indignation of ancient Men against him, and Men in Power of a Saturnine Quality or Disposition; he undergoes very many Dangers both by Land and Sea; be the Native of what Condition he will, it brings great Detriment unto him, both in Body, Minde and Estate.

To the ✶ or △ of ♄. This Direction imports much good unto the Native; he receives Honour and Preferment from some aged Person or Persons; he is preferred before many others; he moderates his Affairs prosperously, and to his advantage; he obtaineth great Estimation and wealth; it inclines him to Gravity, Severity, &c. he gaines much by Country-Commodities, Husbandry, Architecture, and some Casual and unexpected Inheritance.

To the terms of ♄. This stirs up the envy of Neighbours, and hatred of Elderly Men against the Native; it imports much sorrow and sickness unto him, proceeding from a cold and dry Cause; loss of his Repute and Credit, as also in his Estate: if a Husbandman, then he receives damage by Cattle and Tillage.

SECT. 2.

The Suns Directions to Jupiter and his Aspects.

To the ☌, ✶ or △ of ♃. Either of these Directions presage a happy and glorious time unto the Native, gives him health of Body, and peace of Minde, and a plentiful enjoyment of the goods of Fortune; it gives him Honour, Office, Dignity or Preferment according to his Capacity, probably, by the Management of some publique trust, or else Church-Preferment; brings him into esteem with the best sort of persons in the place where he lives; many times this produces Marriage; and within the year a Son. These are Directions of an admirable import or tendency, and do raise the Native in every thing miraculously.

Corporis optimam præbit valetudinem, animi tranquillitatem, laudes, honores, gloriam, dignitates; gratiam apud principes, eorum familiaritatem intimam, sicut magnatum divitum, &c.

To the □ or ☍ of ♃. The Native upon such a Direction receives much prejudice by Lawyers, or Men religious, for they will be mightily averse unto him, and will impedite his business; yea, occasion much damage unto him in his Estate: he will be subject to affronts and disgraces, and much damage in his honour and esteem; but in the end, (chiefly if ♃ be radically strong) the Native doth recover his Estate and Credit againe; and overcomes the unworthyness and injuriousness of his Enemies.

Persequutiones demonstrat à jovialibus, Prælatis, judicibus, jurisperitis, religiosis, ac hujusmodi ob invidiam; inimicitias cum potentibus, difficultatis, &c.

To the terms of ♃. This direction affordeth the Native a plentiful addition of honour and dignity, together with an ample encrease of Fortune: he overcomes his Adversaries, and is generally beloved; he enjoys both health of Body, and quietude of Mind: it inclines him to be sober, grave, temperate, &c.

SECT. 3.

The Suns Directions to Mars and his Aspects.

To the ☌, □ and ☍ of ♂. These Directions, or any of them, load the Body of the Native with many many infirmities, viz. sharp and acute diseases; afflicts him with excess of Choler; strong Fevers, bitter pains in the Head, vitiates the Eyes with Dimness and other Casualties, deforms the Face with Wounds or Scars, and the rest of the Body with Iron, Fire, or scalding Water; cruel Wounds, &c. The Native is unconstant, and hath no success in his Counsels, Cogitations or Actions; he shall meet with many Labours and Difficulties, by reason of wicked and pernitious Persons and Malefactors; his Enemies Lord it over him and deride him; he contracts the frowns of great Persons toward him, and meets with great prejudice thereby; it bids the Native beware of Treachery, Stabbing or Poyson; loses by theeves and Robbers; it many times portends Death; often, high Fevers, madness, and a Deprivation of the Sences.

Inconstantiam tribuit in actionibus & consiliis, damna in divitiis; ægritudines acutas, febres biliosas, inflammationes, capitis affectus, stomachi, vel oculorum; pericula vulnerum, ex igne, aut ignitis, rixas, insidias inimicorum, seditiones, lites, & contentiones cum Martialibus, &c.---

It promiseth Friendship and Society with Souldiers, and Men Martially affected; gives the Native some Office or Command in Wars, or by means of Souldiers; inclines him to all Military affairs, shews him full of Courage and Mettle; gives him a generous and Magnanimous Disposition; it vests him with Honour, Reputation and Preferment, by Means or Patronage of some King, Prince, or eminent Commander or General of an Army; he performs some worthy Act in War to his extream honor & renown; he is much busied in divers matters; it also imports some honorable journey, &c. To the ✶ or △ of ♂.

It shews discommodity in the course of his life, in his Consults and Negotiations great Crosses and Contradictions, many times violent Fevers; no Event proves successful that is undertaken by the Native; it admonisheth him to have great Caution in his Affairs; and to beware of rash Actions, unto which he will be (too) inclinable. To the terms of ♂.

SECT. 4.

The Suns Directions to Venus and her Aspects.

To the ☌, ✶ or △ of ♀. Any of these Directions portend a happy and pleasant time unto the Native, stirs him up to Merriment, Musiques, Plays, Banquets, and all manner of Venereal Pleasures and Delights; causes him to ply the love of Women, and to spend much of his time in Wooing, Playing, Conversing, and Dallying with them; the Native (if capable) may marry this Year; it imports a happy Wedlock for wealth and honesty; he hath both health of Body, and convenient increase of Estate; he receives an augmentation of his reputation; attains to some handsome degree of Honour and Preferment, some Office or other in the Commonwealth, or place where he lives; he hath a Child upon this Direction; all his Actions are performed with Facility; lives happily and pleasant, not cumbred with cares; his Condition in all respects is very good.

Natum veneris significatis reddit intentum, ludis, jocis, musicæ, tripudiis, conviviis luxui, & aliis voluptatibus; tribuit honores, laudes, dignitatem cum divitiarum accessione, &c.

Though it be seldome that any Native hath the Sun directed to the ☌ of ♀ (yet 'tis ordinary to her □) by reason of her propinquity to the ☉; yet in ninety or one hundred years, such a Direction may happen, which when it doth, imports many difficulties with a Wife or Woman, or by reason of them; also a barren time in every thing unto him; shews him impudent, given to lust and wantonness, busied in unworthy and sordid Actions, whereby he incurs great infamy, scandal and disgrace. To the □ or ☌ of ♀.

This incites the Native to Pastimes; as Dancing, Gaming, &c. his Friends and he are at concord; he is wholly delighted with things moving Pleasure; sometimes, if there be any other thing to help in the Nativity, it procureth Marriage, otherwise very rarely. To the terms of ♀.

SECT. 5.

The Suns Direction to Mercury and his Aspects.

To the ☌, ✶, of ☿.
Propellit Natum ad Mercurialia, studia, Scripturas, merces, & similia. Ob dotes ingenii dat honores, laudes, officia, &c.

Either of these import a multitude of business to the Native; he is inclinable to Merchandise, propense to Study and good Literature; and although no great profit accrew unto him, yet he is honoured, magnified, and had in esteem for his Learning and Parts; he gaines Ecclesiastical, or School-preferment: it produceth in him many admirable Conceptions, and rare Inventions; much busied in Writings, Accompts, and buying of Books. To the ☌ onely, the Native is involved many times into Law-Suits and Controversies; is prejudiced by false Evidence and Theeves; and also loss by Travel, if he Journies.

To the □, or ☍ of ☿.
Accusationes criminales portendit, infamiam, lites, jurgia, animi

If ever any such Directions happen, (as it is rare for them to do) they stir up many Accusations, and Cross-informations against the Native; much Infamy and Disgrace unto him; many Clamours and unjust Aspersions; a Mind extreamly afflicted and tormented; Opposition in all Businesses.

pathemata, oppositiones in opificio, difficultates in actionibus & negotiis.

To the Terms of ☿.

It shews a propensity in the Native to many witty Inventions, and to Study; he exerciseth Merchandise, follows his Profession cheerfully, delights in Architecture, in the Mathematiques, and many other admirable Rarities.

SECT. 6.

The Suns Direction to the Moon and her Aspects.

To the Body of ☽.
Phlegmaticas, vel acutas minatur ægritudines, stomachi & capitis affectiones; aliquando mortem, &c. saith Argol.

This Direction often impairs the health of the Native, brings along with it much Phlegme, whereby his Body is altered, the Head and Stomach is grieved; it dulls the Eye-sight, oftentimes brings blindness: certain, if the Nativity presaged any such thing, the Native will be given to Rapine, Theft, Travel; and by his unconstant courses, will waste his substance. If the Moon were Radically fortified, she designes Marriage and Preferment, &c. but rarely doth that Marriage prove well, which is Consummated on this Direction.

To the ✶ or △ of ☽.
Tribuit itinera, tractationem negotiorum Principum cum honore & lucro;

This Direction Elevates the Native, and makes him famously known unto persons of Eminency, and produces unto him their favour and friendship; he gaines honour and profit by his Employments; undertakes honourable and profitable Journies or Embassages: if capable, he marries, or is much busied in such matters as relate to Women. The number of his Friends are conveniently encreased.

dat legationes, Magistratus, authoritatem super alios, officia publica, &c.

To the □ or ☍ of the ☽.

These are evil Directions, and stir up the envy of eminent Men against the Native; it afflicts him divers ways; he is unhappy in his Travels; he is constantly decaying in his Estate: It causes his Parents to separate; and separates him from his Wife, (if married) or raises many wranglings betwixt them: It inclines him to idle, drunken, and lascivious Courses; dangerous infirmities in the Eyes, and affliction in other parts of his Body: it sometimes produceth the Small-Pox, French-Pox, Measels, Worms, or a violent Fever.

To ☊

It brings the Native into favor with Persons in Power; by whose assistance assistance he will be preferred; all things succeed happily with him upon this Direction.

To ☿.
☉ ad ☊, contraria tribuit indignitatibus, jacturam honoris, &

The Native loses in his Reputation and Estate; receiveth much affliction in his Eyes, chiefly the right; many Obstructions in the Body arising from Melancholy and Un-concocted Humors; oftentimes Poyson, the Plague, or a Pestilential Fever happens unto the Native on this Direction.

tunarum ægritudines melancholicas; mala in oculis, præcipue dextero, &c.

To ⊕.

This declares a thriving year unto the Native, and shews he shall have many worthy Donations from persons of eminency; and that all things shall succeed well.

SECT. 7.

Sextile to the Ascendent.

☉ to the twelve ✶ Houses.

The Native discovers his private Enemies, and they are reconciled unto him; his Servants are obedient, and himself much delighted in his Houshold affairs; yet let him beware of profuseness or prodigality.

To the Second House.

Many expences and ways of laying out Money to good purposes, and (if Jupiter or Venus be there) a great Augmentation of Fortune.

To the Third House.

The Native makes petty Journies to see his Friends, Brethren, Sisters and Kindred; sometimes employ'd to end Differences among his Neighbors where he lives.

To the Fourth House.

If the Fortunes are here, or in Aspect to it, the Native gets some hidden Treasure, and is busied about Buildings, Manuring Grounds. But if ♄ cast his □ or ☍ hither, then he receives loss by Servants and vulgar people, by Fire, &c. the Native is subject to some sharp Fever; and so will his Father, if living: sometimes it prenotes Death.

To the Fifth House.

Promiseth good to his Children, and delight in them: the Native is propense to dally with women, to feast and sport: if an Infortune aspect the Cusp hereof, the contrary.

To the Sixth House.

Gaine by dealing in small Cattle, good by Servants, sickness unto himself and Father.

To the Seventh House.

This portends a very notable sickness unto the Native, or (if married) to his Wife; it imports also that he shall overcome his publick Enemies; sometimes it shews Marriage, (if unmarried.)

☉ ad 7. conculcationem. affert inimicorum, inclinationem ad uxorem, sed periculum ægritudines Nati, vel uxoris, &c.

To the Eighth House.

The Native is fearful of his own Death, or grieved for his Fathers; is perplexed about Inheritances, and Conversant about the Portion or Dowry of his Wife.

To the Ninth House.

This shews the undertaking of a long Journey: if the Signe of the ninth be Watry, he goes by Sea; if a Malevolent Planet afflict the Cusp of the ninth, he will be in danger of Shipwrack or Pyrates; but if the Fortunes behold the same, then a happy Journey it portends.

To the Tenth House.

This shews Preferment, or some honourable Employment above the Condition

Condition of the Natives Birth; but if the tenth House be unfortunate, it shews loss of honour, imprisonment, and many times exile.

To the Eleventh House.

⊙ad 11. affert magnatum amicitias, honores, divitias, & sperata Natus obtinebit.

This shews that the Native shall gaine many eminent Friends; and that he shall thrive by Courtiers, and gaine much honour and repute by them; and obtaine the end of his hopes.

To the Twelfth House.

It provokes many unjust Enemies against the Native; he shall be privately back-bited and slandered; his repute and credit will be undermined, danger of imprisonment; yet will he thrive by greater Cattle.

SECT. 8.

The sun directed to fixed stars.

To Rigel. Makes the Native insolent and bold, desirous of shedding Blood; stirs up the anger of many Enemies against him, he will be subject to many misfortunes.

To Oculus ♉, and the south horn thereof. The Native receives preferment by Martial Men, but loses all a-gaine, and is sometimes debar'd of liberty, if not exiled his native place.

To Herculus. This shews imprisonment unto the Native, and that he shall be perplex'd with Arrests, and receive damage in his Estate; it gives a suddain burning Fever.

To the Dog-Star. After many contentions and thwartings of Mercurial Men, and some Expences, this Direction imports Military Preferment, or aliquid tale.

To Cor ♌. It makes the Native imperious, and gives great Preferment, much happiness by and from Friends; but it passes not without some sharp disease.

To the two Asses. It denotes an unhealthful time, and brings a sharp Fever to the Native; danger by Fire, loss both of Honour and Fortune, much prejudice by Souldiers; in danger of being either shot, beheaded, or hanged; or else condemned to perpetual Slavery.

To the Crach of the Crab, and Cor ♏. The Native is subject to Wranglings, Quarrels and Contentions more then formerly; in danger of Stabbing, or hurt by Iron, or by some Engine or Instrument of War, or to the loss of his sight by some Knock or Bruise. It bids the Native beware of desperate Actions; and threatens him with some vicious Distemper.

To Spic. ♍. This confers on the Native eminent Preferment; if he have either Parents or Children, they are happy and fortunate; it points out some eminent Office or Trust in the Commonwealth.

CHAP.

CHAP. XXIX.

Directions of the Moon to Promittors.

SECT. 1.

To Saturn and his Aspects.

THese Directions are of a crosse import unto the Native; he is afflicted with cold and moist Diseases, with the Apoplexie, Palsie, Dropsie, Gout, Agues and Fevers proceeding from Phlegme and Melancholy; he will contend with some eminent person or persons about Lyes or false Accusations laid against him; many Troubles and Detriments will befal him by Servants; loss by Cattle, by Theft, Rapine and Negligence; discontent with his Wife; the Body and Mind both out of order; his Mother or Wife may die; a general defect of Friendship, Debility or weakness in the Eyes: if he be born to any Inheritance, his Tenants abuse and cozen him. To the ☌, □ or ☍ of ♄.

It acquaints the Native with persons of honour and eminency; he doth something remarkable that redounds to his advantage; receives many large Gifts from ancient Women; is much honoured and respected of the vulgar; he is busie about Building and Tilling, and manuring Grounds, &c. thrives by conversing and dealing with Husbandmen, and by great Cattle. Antient people are the onely people a man should deal with to get by, upon this Direction; and for Commodities, such as belong to Saturn. To the ✶ or △ of ♄.

This afflicts the Native with some grievous Melancholy disease; troubles his Mind with Fear, Horror, Dread and Sorrowful Cogitations; but this according to the nature of the Signe it falls in; the temperament is varied from its former state; the Body is more dry, and the Native more careful and pensive then formerly. To the terme of ♄.

Moons SECT. 2.

The Suns Directions to Jupiter and his Aspects.

To the ☌, ✶ or △ of ♃.

These add much health and plenitude of Riches to the Native, peace of Mind, and great Honour and Preferment; Detriment unto his Adversaries: he hath Society and Friendship with the most eminent where he lives; it causeth him to take many pleasant, prosperous and successful Journies; it advanceth him from a low degree, and gives him both Honour, Riches and Preferment, as much as by his Birth or Education he is any way capable of; he hath respect from all sorts of persons; and in fine, every thing succeeds well with the Native. It sometimes denotes Wedlock.

Animi tranquillitatem affert & corporis optimam valetudinem; & præterea fortunam in divitiis, honores, officium, ——— Et aliquando demonstrat conjugium, &c.

Many Difficulties and Vexatious Businesses perplex the Native: Lawyers and religious Men are his Enemies, and do endeavor to impeach his Credit. To the □ or ☍ of ♃.

Credit, and waſt his Subſtance: if Iupiter were ſtrong in the Radix, the Native overcomes his Enemies in the end, and gaines (after much ſtrugling) ſome Preferment; but if weak, he is then queſtioned for Hereſie, Schiſm, &c. or elſe troubled with ſome Controverſie in Law.

Natum ſignificat arduis negotiis implicitum; ------dat oppoſitiones à jovialibus---- &c.

To the terms of ♃. The Natives Mind is full of Alacrity and Chearfulneſs, his Body is healthful, the Complexion of him is good, and his Eſtate is much augmented, and that with little Labour; he ſometimes attends on ſome eminent or honorable Ladies.

SECT. 3.

The Moons Directions to Mars and his Aſpects.

To the ☌, □ or ☍ of ♂. Theſe Directions portend many Miſchances unto the Native, great Troubles and Impriſonment, loſs of Eſtate, many Enemies ſhall riſe againſt him; a ſharp Fever is threatned, much weakneſs of Body, hazard of Life, ſubject to the Plague, Gonorrhea, French-Pox, Stone or Gravel in the Kidneyes; Boyles, Botches; alſo danger by Iron, Gun-ſhot, Fire, or the fury of a four-footed Beaſt: it alſo argues a Deprivation of the Sences, Lunacy, Phrenzy, an afflicted Body and Mind, ſubject to Thefts, troubled with an ill VVife, who will diſdainfully provoke the Native, and conſume his Eſtate: VVomen generally diſdaine him, and heap upon him Scandals, Scurrilities and Diſgraces: if he have a good VVife, it prenotes her Death; if ♂ were Anareta in the Nativity, he dies himſelf.

To the ✶ or △ of ♂. This inclines the Native to Animoſity and Boldneſs, makes him imperious, yet induſtrious and diſcreet in Military Affairs; exerciſing himſelf about Horſes, or VVarlike matters, Hunting, by which he ſhall receive profit, reſpect and increaſe of Fortune. Theſe Directions are generally good, and advance the Native to great Fortune by VVar, or by means of eminent Commanders of Armies; and this certain, if ♂ were ſtrong in the Radix; but if he were weak, then the Native waſts his means among VVomen, and by playing at Cards, Dice, &c.

To the terms of ♂. This ſtirs up Choler in the Native, and preſages a burning Fever, a time full of Contentions and Quarrels; every thing goes croſs with him, the temper of his Body altered by Choler: let the Native adviſe with the Phyſitian what to do when ſuch a Direction happens.

SECT. 4.

The Moons Directions to the Sun and his Aſpects.

To the Body of ☉. This renders the condition of the Native mutable, ſometimes high, and ſometimes low; perplexes him with ſeveral Fears; brings weakneſs to the Eyes; cauſeth ſometimes burning Fevers; divulges many things and ſecrets of the Native which have a long time lain ſecret: in imperial or kingly Nativities, it ſhews an acceſs to a Kingdome, or ſomething nigh as honorable; in ordinary mens Nativities, it ſometimes denotes Marriage, and conſiderable Preferment.

To the ✶ or △ or of ☉. This produceth unto the Native many profitable and honorable Acquaintance, familiarity with VVomen of great Rank, by whoſe means he ſhall acquire great advantage; he is more eſteemed then formerly, obtains preferment, or ſome Office or Truſt in the Commonwealth; it is ſometimes (according to the capacity of the Native) the προδρομος, or forerunner of Marriage, and imports Voyages beyond Sea, much honour and preferment, and gaine alſo thereby. The Direction is generally good, and makes the Native famouſly taken notice of.

Eminent dangers are threatned unto the Native on this Direction, extream troubles both of Body and Mind; it ſtirs up the anger or fury of ſome eminent Lady or Gentlewoman againſt him, who hath bin formerly his Friend, and makes her now his profeſſed Enemy. Let the Native beware of popular Tumults and Seditions, and the diſſembling Friendſhips of noble Men; for by ſuch means, much damage in Eſtate is threatned: it brings affliction of Body, as Fevers, Coughs, Cholick, Torments in the Belly, hurt to his Eye-ſight: it is a troubleſome and contentious Year, and preſages many Troubles, Vexations, Loſſes and Croſſes. Note, the ☍ is far more Malignant then the □.

To the □ or ☍ of ☉.

SECT. 5.

The Moons Directions to Venus and her Aſpects.

Any of theſe preſage a pleaſant and happy time unto the Native, enclines him to be Jocund, Merry and Affable, delighted in Enterludes, Plays, Dancings, Paſtimes; wholly addicted to Pleaſure; an healthful Conſtitution and ſound Temperament of Body; he is buſied in VVooing; he acquires Gifts, or things of profit from VVomen, or by their means, and is exceedingly favored by them; it imports oftentimes Marriage; he is free from all manner of care, except being entangled in Love-matters; his Brethren and Kinsfolk agree with him, and all things go on ſucceſsfully with him.

Natum intentum decernit Venereis ſignificatis, ſolatiis, gaudiis, & voluptatibus, omnis generis, tranquillat animum, optimam tribuit corporis valetudinem, &c.------

To the ☌, ✶ or △ of ♀.

The Native waſts his Eſtate extreamly by means of idle Company; hath a wandring affection after ſtrange VVomen; he receives many Scandals and Diſgraces, by reaſon of his Fornications and Adulteries; many croſſes, and much controverſie with VVomen: it ſometimes afflicts the Body with many Venereal Diſeaſes, as the Morbus Gallicus, Gonorrhea, Botches, &c. ſometimes the Native marries upon this Direction, which when he does, 'tis moſt unhappily, and much to his Detriment: the Year is very dangerous, and premoniſheth all men that have this Direction, to avoid (as much as they may) evil Company.

-- Illecebras tribuit voluptates, & infauſtas, lites, jurgia, contentiones cauſa mulierum; cauſa voluptatum damna in divitiis, & exiſtimatione; aliquando cauſa venerea, aut repletione ægritudines ex corruptione humorum, mala in pudendis, & ſimilia infortunia, ſaith Argol.

To the □ or ☍ of ♀.

The Native is now wholly inclinable to Mirth and Pleaſure, goes very neat and ſpruce in his Apparel, frequents VVomens Companies, follows his Employment with Alacrity of Mind.

To the terms of ♀.

SETC. 6.

The Moons Directions to Mercury and his Aſpects.

The Native is engaged in ſundry Controverſies; it inclines him to Lying and Diſſembling, to all maner of Deceits, to be Eloquent and Subtil, to Stealing and Cheating; to many lewd Courſes, to Forgery of Writings, and he will be puniſhed for the ſame: yet if the Native be a Scholar, he ſtudies hard; if a Merchant, he Journies; if a King, he will receive many Miſſives, and much forraigne News, &c. he is courted by Ambaſſadours.

To the ☌ of ☿.

This crowneth the Natives Employments with good ſpeed and ſucceſs;

To the ✶ or △ of ☿.

it inclines him to good Literature, and to ſtudy much; to Read, write, and manage Accompts; a delight in Muſick, (this I ſuppoſe more properly belongs to Venus) a propenſity to travel; it gives him much Friendſhip, and ſome Eſtate and Fortune, either from or by means of a VVoman of Quality; it's generally the forerunner of much Action, and that the Native ſhall trade or deal very much.

To the ☐ or ☍ of ☿. The Native is averſe unto Learning, and declines the Company of learned Men; is ſubject to the ire and frown of vulgar People; it incites the Native to many popular Stirs and Tumults; he will be in danger of being queſtioned for ſome counterfeit Contracts or VVritings, or Cozenage in Monies, and impriſoned therefore; ſometimes ſentenced to Death, or Baniſhment: madneſs often ſucceeds upon this Direction; he is oppreſſed with injurious Scandals, with Bills and Reckonings, and cunning Atturnies or Miniſters.

To the terms of ☿. The Native now is much propenſe to ſtudy, yet is he full of Subtilty and Mercurial tricks; he is unconſtant and wavering in all his undertakings.

To ☌. It is the forerunner of a thriving Year: the Native increaſes his Eſtate, gaines honour, hath both tranquillity of Mind, and health of Body.

To ☍. This caſts the Native into ſtrange diſtempered Fancies, and ſtirs up the envy of Martial and Saturnine Men againſt him; it alſo afflicts him with a melancholy Diſeaſe, hurt to his eyes, danger of Poyſon, and ſome ſuddain Fall.

To ⊕. Purchaſe of Houſholdſtuff, Eſtimation in the World, gaine by the Goods of Fortune: this Direction is generally Friendly.

SECT. 7.

The Moons Directions to the twelve Houſes.

To the Aſcendent.

It denotes a ſickly time unto the Native, more eſpecially if fixed Stars of evil influence be with or neer the Degree aſcending.

To the ſecond.

The Native may expect an encreaſe of Subſtance, if ♃ or ♀ aſpect the Cuſp hereof, and that without any great labor: the Cuſp ill affected, argues the contrary.

To the third.

The Native undertakes ſmall inland Journies to viſit Kindred; as his Brothers, Siſters, Cozens, &c.

To the fourth.

The Native gaines by Husbandry: but if the Moon radically be in Quartile or Oppoſition of Saturn or Mars in the fourth, it portends a hurtful Diſeaſe, ſometimes the Death of his Mother or Wife.

To the fifth.

The Native rejoyceth in his Children, is given much to play, and generally addicted to Mirth.

To the ſixth.

Theſts by ill Servants, loſs in little Beaſts; an ill habit of Body; either the Flux, or he will be much tormented with the Belly-ake.

To the ſeventh.

Many Breaches and Quarrellings with his Wife or Sweet-heart; it ſtirs up many Adverſaries againſt him: and if ♄ or ♂ afflict the Cuſp of the ſeventh at that time, he will be in danger of Death.

To

To the eighth.

Moleſted or troubled about dead Mens Goods, and the Portion of his VVife.

To the ninth.

It ſhews many long Journies by Water, if the Signe be watry; by Land, if earthy: the ſucceſs hereof will happen according to the good or evil Configurations to the Cuſp.

To the tenth.

The Native thrives well in his Trade or Profeſſion, and attaines Preferment by the means of ſome Perſon of Honour, either Man or VVoman.

To the eleventh.

This produceth many faithful Friends, and benefit unto the Native from them.

To the twelfth.

Many Calumnies raiſed againſt the Native by his private Enemies; loſs in great Cattle, danger of Arreſts, &c. but if good Planets be in this Houſe, the evil will be much remitted.

For the fixed Stars, the Moon hath the ſame Signification in Direction with them, as the Sun; ſo that I need not repeat them here againe.

CHAP. XXX.

The Directions of the Part of Fortune to Promittors.

SECT. 1.

To Saturn and his Aſpects.

DEnotes a Conſumption of the Natives Goods, both moveable and immoveable; waſt of his private Fortune and Patrimony, by Rapine, Theft and Miſcarriage of Saturnine Perſons; by Cards and Dice, &c.

To the ☐ or ☍ of ♄.

The Native encreaſes his Eſtate by the Death of aged Perſons, by Building, Mynes and Husbandry; by Houſes, and (as ſome ſay) by Sea-Affairs: the Native may now thrive to purpoſe by dealing in great Cattle, as the Horſe, Oxe, &c.

To the ✶ or △ of ♄.

SECT. 2.

The Part of Fortune's Directions to Jupiter and his Aſpects.

The Native receives Gifts, Rewards or Benefits, alſo an ample Augmentation of Fortune, by the Aſſiſtance or Patronage of ſome eminent Perſon, or by ſome convenient Employment; the Native is very ſucceſsful and thriving in all his undertakings.

To the ☌, ✶ or △ of ♃.

Loſs of Eſtate by means of Gentlemen or religious Perſons; Lawſuits, and much vexation and loſs thereby; much Labour and Difficulty to procure the preſervation of his Eſtate; loſs of Office and Eſtimation, &c.

To the ☐ or ☍ of ♃.

SECT. 3.
To Mars and his Aspects.

To the ♂, □ or ☍ of ♂. Waſt and loſs of Subſtance by theeviſh Servants, or by Theeves and Souldiers, or by firing or breaking his Houſes; loſs by Play, as at Cards, Dice, &c. by unneceſſary and idle Courſes, by Law-ſuits, Quarrels and ill Words.

To the ✶ or △ of ♂. It deſignes an Augmentation of wealth, by the friendſhip of Martial Perſons, or by buying and ſelling of Arms, Horſes, and ſuch things as belong to Military matters; it adviſeth to traffick in ſmall Cattle, as Conies, Hogs, Sheep, Goats, &c. and by adventuring to Sea.

SECT. 4.
To the Sun and his Aſpects.

To the ♂, □ or ☍ of ☉. To the body of Sol it denotes many large Expences; the Native diſtributes his Monies freely, and ſometimes prodigally; yet will he gaine Monies alſo: but the Quartile or Oppoſition ſhews damage by Law-ſuits; and the waſting of his Eſtate by the envy of great Perſons, occaſioned by falſe and ſcandalous Accuſations; the Native loſes his Office, (if in any) or elſe gives great Bribes to keep him in it.

To the ✶ or △ of ☉. Theſe preſage unto the Native many bountiful and free Gifts from a Perſon of Quality; he gaines both honour and profit by his ordinary Affairs; he finds all People very friendly and reſpective to him; and as his gaines are great, ſo will be his expences.

SECT. 5.
To Venus and her Aſpects.

To the ♂, ✶ or △ of ♀. Theſe are Arguments of great and bountiful Gifts from ſome eminent Lady or Gentlewoman, and that the Native ſhall ſpend them as liberally as he obtains them; he now obtaineth new Clothes, and delights in Neatneſs and Spruceneſs.

To the □ or ☍ of ♀. It portends vain expence of Treaſure occaſioned by VVomen; Striſes, Hatreds, Controverſies with them, or by their procurement; he is mightily propenſe to many Follies about VVomen, keeping Company with Harlots, beſtows many Gifts on them, and conſumes and waſts his Patrimony; and brings ſcandals and diſgraces on himſelf thereby.

SECT. 6.
To Mercury and her Aſpects.

To the ♂, ✶ or △ of ☿. Encreaſe of Fortune by Bargains, Contracts, Accompts; by Learning; by his own proper Induſtry; by ſome unexpected Inheritance; by all manner of witty Inventions; he gaines by Voyages to Sea, or traſſick thither; or by ſome long Land-Journey. Men of all Conditions, when having any of theſe Directions operating, thrive well by their profeſſions.

To the □ or ☍ of ☿. Much trouble, vexation and loſs by witty and literated men, as Sollicitours, Atturnies, &c. cheats in Accompts, loſs by ingenious Conceptions, by counterfeit Writings, by falſe Witneſſes. The Native is now apt to act many things unjuſt, and very queſtionable; his credit is ſuſpected; he is ſued at Law, and cozened by his Attornies; hath no ſucceſs with his Children.

SECT. 7.
To the Moon and her Aſpects.

To the ♂, ✶ or △ of ☽. The Native is aſſiſted much by VVomen, and encreaſeth his private Fortune by their means; much action for, and with vulgar People; by which he gaines much profit. The Native puts to Sea upon this Direction, or undertakes a long-land-Journey; the Native is conſtantly employed, be his Condition what it will.

To the □ or ☍ of ☽. The Native receives much prejudice by Sea, or by Seamen or Saylours, and runs into the hatred of ſome principal VVoman; he loſes by Bargains, Contracts, and his vulgar way of Commerce; runs much into debt; diſagrees with the vulgar ſort; he receives loſs of credit and eſteem in the World, involved in many Law-ſuits.

To ♃. This ſhews much furtherance to the Native in his Fortune by means of Jovial and Venereal Friends.

To ♄. This imports many Backſlidings in Eſtate by Clowns, Souldiers, Fire, and fury of War.

For ⊕ Directions to fixed Stars, the Effects are the ſame as is noted in the Directions of the Sun or Aſcendent.

SECT. 8.
To the twelve Houſes.

To the Aſcendent it imports abundance of wealth.

To the ſecond, encreaſe of moveable Goods and curious Houſhold-ſtuff.

To the third, the Native hath ſucceſs in ſmall Journies, alſo by his Kindred.

To the fourth, profit by dealing in Grounds, and encreaſe of Wealth from thence.

To the fifth, he receives rewards, and reſpectful Meſſuages; it brings much joy to his Children.

To the ſixth, good to and by his Servants, gaine by dealing in Sheep, Hogs, Conies.

To the ſeventh, damage in Eſtate by Suits, and about VVomens matters.

To the eighth, gaine by dead Folks, and a recovery of his Wives Portion.

To the ninth, converſant with Church-men, good from them, and by long Journies.

To the tenth, an Office by the bounty of ſome eminent perſon, or ſome Command or Authority.

To the eleventh, it imports ſure Friends, by whom the Native receives many Courteſies.

To the twelfth, gain by dealing in great Beaſts, or by Horſe ears. And thus much for the Effects of Directions.

CHAP. XXXI.

Of the Measure of Time in Directions.

IF the Artist know how to draw forth a Direction, and not know what measure of time to allow thereunto, he will never come to know the time of an Accident's Commencement or beginning; my work here therefore shall be to shew him that.

There are at this day among Astrologers three several measures of time made use of, viz.

1. That approved of by Ptolomy.
2. That which Maginus made use of.
3. That of Valentinus Naybode.

SECT. 1.

Of Ptolomy his measure of time.

Having directed your several Significators unto their Promittors, and found the Arch of Direction, (which is nothing else but the Degrees and Minutes of distance between them) you are to allow for every Degree, one Year; and for every Minute, six Days: but by this proportion or measure of time, sixty Minutes will want some small quantity of time, of three hundred sixty and five Days, which is the true Tropical Year, &c. as any Man by a sudden addition may perceive; but it is inconsiderable. I will leave all those that embrace this measure of time for a truth, to frame a Table thereof themselves, it being very easie to perform; and give you an Example hereof by the following Nativity, viz.

I would know therefore when the Ascendent came to the Opposition of ♂, by this measure of Ptolomies.

	Sig.	Deg.
A. O. Ascend. est	238.	39.
Asc. Ob. ♂. ♂. est	257.	58.
Ark of Direction is	19.	19.

Hence it appears, that the Ascendent came to the ☌ of ♂ (according to Ptolomies measure of time) at 19 Years, 114 Days of the Natives age compleat, which should have happened about the 24 Day of April, 1647.

SECT. 2.

Of Maginus his measure of time.

Maginus * disliking Ptolomies measure of time, concludes that onely to be the true measure of time, which is taken from the difference of the right Ascention of the Sun at the birth of the Native, (i. e.) by substracting the lesser number out of the greater; and the Ark of their difference, to be the measure of time for a Year. Example by the following Nativity. The Suns place you finde to be 20 Degrees odd Minutes of ♈ at birth. (The Minutes are nothing considerable in this matter; I will not therefore trouble you with their equation.)

* See his Primum Mobile, fol. 51.

	Sig.	Deg.	Min.
A. R. ♈.	20.	291.	39.
A. R. ♈.	19.	290.	35.
Different,		1.	4.

By which it appeareth, that the measure of time for a Year, (according to Maginus) is 1 Degree, 4 Minutes, or 64. and all the Directions in the Nativity should be measured accordingly. Now, having found the measure of time thus, I would know when the Ascendent came to the Opposition of ♂: the Ark of Direction (you may see in the last Example) is

Deg.	Min.
19.	19.

19 Degrees } gives 18 years, 5 weeks, and three days.
19 Minutes }

So that according to Maginus his measure of time, the Ascendent came unto the Opposition of Mars, at eighteen years, five weeks and three days of the Natives age compleat; which should have inchoated about the seventh day of February, 1645. I have had experience of many Genitures in the course of my Studies, but I never could finde much verity in these measures of time allowed by Ptolomy and Maginus; I will therefore present the Reader with that of the learned Naybod, which (if the Epithete of infallibility may be passed upon any measure of time yet discovered) I dare adventure to say never faileth; chiefly, if the Nativity be truly rectified, as I have taught at the beginning of the Book.

SECT. 3.

Of Naybod's measure of time.

Valentine Naybod, that excellent Mathematician and Astrologer, rejected the measures of time in Directions both of Ptolomy and Maginus, and framed a new one himself, as appeareth by that learned Comment upon Ptolomy which he wrote; which was, by allowing generally one year, five days, and eight hours in time, to a degree of distance between the Significator and Promittor. The learned Mr. Lilly, in his Christ. Astrol. p. 712. saith, It is the most exact measure that hitherto hath been found out. And Maginus is so ingenious in his Books, de diebus Criticis, & Primum Mobile, as to acknowledge so much, yea, and commend it above all others. I will therefore, for the excellency thereof, and the ease of every ingenious Student, insert the Table; which take as followeth.-----

30	185	7	60	000	14

This Table is easily understood: for in the first, which shews the measure of time in degrees, you have against each number of degrees, the year, day and hour that answers thereunto; and in the second, which declares the measure of time in Minutes, you have the days and hours adhering to each number of Minutes also. It is so obvious, that it needeth no further Explanation: but because I have given an example in the other two measures of time, I will also insert one here.

In the Nativity following, I would know when the Ascendent came to the ☌ of ♂: the Ark of Direction (as I told you before) is Deg. Min. 19. 19.

19 Degrees in the first part of the Table, gives 19 yea. 101 da. 17 ho.
19 Minutes in the second, gives----------0------117----9 added together, they make 19-----219---2.

So that according to this measure of time, the Ascendent came to the ☌ of ♂ in the nineteenth year, two hundred and nineteen days, two hours of the the Natives age compleat; which happened on August the seventh, one thousand six hundred forty seven; at which time Saturn transited the Cusp of the eighth House in the Nativity, and was not quite separated from the Quartile of Mercury his Dispositor; yet applying to a Quartile of the Sun, and shortly after Retrograde upon the same Cusp againe: to be plain, the Direction then began to operate, and not at either of the other two times; which sufficiently proves the excellency and certainty of Naybod's measure of time.

Note here, that if your Directions do fall out within a day, two or three; yea, a weak or fortnight, sometimes, of an accident, according to your measure alotted therein, you are not to suspect the Rectification of the Nativity peremptorily; but to consider the force of the Revolution for that year, whether that be not powerful enough to reverberate the Effects of your Direction for a time; or whether there be any Transit of the nature of your Direction neer at hand to bring it on; or far off, to retard it. For these are the Harbingers of a Direction; and you shall rarely find a Direction to take place or operate in any Nativity, without the concurrency of a Transit or Revolution. There is a secret order, that God and Nature observeth in every thing; "Η φύσις ἐδὲν μάτην ποιεῖ· they do nothing frivolously or vainly; but bring every thing to perfection in its proper season after the best manner: therefore the learned Sir Christopher Heydon avers, That Events (proper to Men) may be both anticipated and continued, before, or beyond a Direction. Def. of Astrol. against Chambers, fol. 412.

And this (if carefully observed) may serve to enlighten the ingenious Tyroe in the measure of time for the Directions of his Significators in a Nativity. I shall in the next place come to discourse of the most excellent and profitable Doctrine of Revolutions in Nativities.

Chap. XXXII.

Of Revolutions.

SECT. 1.

The Definition of a Revolution.

A Revolution is a returning or rowling back of a certain Body to the same place or point of the Circle from whence it first receded, [for so the word Ἀναπλάνωσις properly imports] and in the Doctrine of Nativities (which is the subject of my present task) it is the return of the Sun to his true Radical place, (i. e.) the certain point of the Zodiack, in Signe, Degree and Minute, in the which he was found at the birth of the Native.

SECT. 2.

How to obtain the Figure of a Revolution.

There are divers ways to be found in the writings of Astrologers, for the obtaining the exact time of a Revolution, viz. (1.) By Calculation, which of all others (if the Tables be true) is the most certain. (2.) By Equating and reducing the place of the Sun in the Ephemerides to his Radical Divers ways to gain the true revolutional Figure.

dical place; which is thus performed: Take the place of the Sun at Noon, the day preceding your Revolution, or the next lesser Ark to that of his place in the Radix; and then take his next greater Ark to that of his radical place, and subtract the lesser Ark from the greater: observe also what Minutes the lesser Ark wants of the radical place of the Sun, and then work by this Analogie or proportion, (either by the golden Rule, or Sexagenary Table) and say, If the Sun be twenty four hours in going the difference of the two Arks, how long will he be going the distance of his radical place and lesser Ark? and (if your work be true) you have the right time of the Revolution. (3.) By adding five hours forty eight minutes to your corrected time at birth, for the first Revolutional figure; and five hours, forty eight minutes to the first Revolution, for the Figure of the second year; and so by a continued addition of five hours forty eight minutes, &c. (rejecting the Circle, viz. twenty four hours, if the Aggregate or Sun exceed it) you may set your Figures of Revolutions without farther trouble, even as you do any other Figure.

Andrew Argol highly approves of this way (and so do I, but more for ease, then exactness) as appears by his Ephemerides, Tom. 1. fol. 424. Which because it may prove a help to young Students, and encourage them to pursue that which hath the fairest aspect toward the truth, I will insert it as followeth.

A perpetual Revolutional Table.

The Use of the Table.

You are first to observe the place of the ☉ in the Radix: Secondly, consider the year for which you would set your Revolutional Figure: Thirdly, with the year desired, enter the first Column to the left hand of this Table; and in the Collateral Column under the Signe the Sun was in at birth, you will find certain hours & minutes, unto which you must add the time from Noon in the Radix; & if the Aggregate exceed 24 ho. (as before I told you) cast away 24 ho. and with the remainder, enter the Table of Houses agreeing to your Latitude, and you have your Figure of the Revolution you look for. I shall spare to insert an Example of this way here, and refer it to the later part of the Nativity following, where I intend to illustrate it with a Figure of Heaven.

CHAP. XXXIII.

General Aphorisms teaching how to judge of a Revolution.

Ascendens revolutionis, similis radici, significat bonum esse nati illo anno. Schon. de Revol. fol. 194.

HAving gained your Revolutional Figure exactly, the first thing you are to do, it to compare it with the Figure of Birth, and observe its concordancy or discordancy therewith. It agrees with the Radix when it happeneth to be the same that that was; or when in Sextile or Trine unto it; the Planets being therein well posited, &c. and such a Revolution hath Signification of good to the Native.

It disagrees with the Nativity, when it chanceth to be in Quartile or Opposition thereunto, and when the Planets are therein ill located, (i.e.) when they behold their radical Places by □ or ☍. The greater the agreement is, the more excellent and beneficial will the Revolution prove; the more different from the Radix, it will prove the more detrimental: but this is to be understood when the Radix is good Essentially; for if the Figure of the Nativity be evil, the Revolution cannot promise much good, (unless the Native be such a one that can live above that common principle which generally acts in men:) an accidental good will prove too weak to rebate the force of an Essential and grounded evil. And that made Schoner cry out, Figura natalis si mala fuerit, scias talem revolutionem non multum Nato prodesse.

After you have considered your Revolution well, compare it with these following general Aphorisms in the first place, viz.

1. If the Lord of the Ascendent in the Radix be well posited in the Revolution, and well aspected of the good Planets from good places of the Figure, it indicates much good unto the Native, and declares him to be healthful of Body in that year.

2. When the Ascendent of the Revolution shall happen to be the place of the Moon in the Radix, and she in the Revolution come to her radical place, and in good Aspect of the Fortunes, it denotes safeguard unto the Native from evil, lois or prejudice in that year; it also declares him to be healthful of Body and Minde, and he shall receive an augmentation of delight and pleasure from or by means of a VVoman or Women.

Si in anni revolutione infortunæ fuerint in prima domo, vel in signis eam aspicientibus, nato malum decernit, secundum naturam signi, & planetæ infortunantis, & domus in qua fuerit. Schonerus.

3. The Ascendent of the Revolution pestred with the presence of an infortune, or unfortunately beheld by one, denotes much impediment and sorrow unto the Native in that year, of the nature of that infortune which (so) beholds it, according to the nature of the Signe and House of Heaven in which it happens.

4. When the Part of Fortune shall be in a good place of the Figure, viz. where the Fortunate Stars in the Radix were placed, or in good Aspect of them, chiefly if either of them be Lord or Governour of the second House in the Revolution, it declares unto the Native in that year an Augmentation of his Estate, and much gaine. Here by the way give me leave to acquaint you, that you ought to take your part of Fortune of the Revolution, as you did that of the Radix; for the Revolution is a new Birth or Radix, and the Figure in all parts (viz. the Cusps and Planets places) change, except the Sun, who is the Centre of (the World, as well as) the Radix of the Native. I see no reason therefore why the ⊕

⊕ should be projected from the radical places of the ☉ and ☽, and the Ascendent of the Revolution, as Ptolomy teaches †. If it be a part proper to one Figure, why should two have to do in its finding out?

† Schoner also saith, Pars fortunæ in revolutione sic projicitur; Quod est, a ☉ in ☽ in radice, projice ab ascendente revolutionis. And divers others also: but I hold it neither sin or shame to deviate from Authors, when they turn aside from reason. Argol confesseth the thing to be doubtful, although the Ancients have transmitted it so to us. Vid. Ptol. par. lib. 3. chap 1.

5. The Lord of the second of the Revolution in the Ascendent, portends much increase of gaine and substance unto the Native; and this to come unto him without much labour, or without his own seeking.

6. If a Planet were Peregrine in the second House of the Radix, and he happen to be in the Ascendent of the Revolution, it portends unto the Native gaine by some person or thing as he never imagined or hoped for: the nature of the planet may in some measure discover the matter, if compared with the nature of the Houses he is Lord of.

7. When the Lord of the Ascendent of the Revolution shall apply to the Lord of the second, the native shall gaine much that year by his labour. But if the Lord of the second shall separate from the Lord of the Ascendent, it denotes the contrary. But if the Lord of the Ascendent shall separate from the Lord of the second, the Native will then be sollicitous and desirous of gaine; but he will very rarely attain much.

8. If a Fortune shall be in the Ascendent of a Revolution, or the Ascendent happen to be the place of a Fortune in the Radix, the Native shall in that year acquire riches and great honours; and (if in a condition suitable) he shall have a Child. But if the Ascendent be hindred, neither of them can come to pass but with much difficulty; and if the Infortunes behold the Ascendent, all the hopes of good are utterly destroyed.

9. An infortune in the second of the Revolution, denotes unto the Native much damage and loss according to the nature of the infortune, (i. e.) if Saturn happen to be him, the Native loses by Saturnine Men and things; if Mars, he denotes much expence of Treasure, and loss and prejudice by Theeves and Robbers, by Fire, and by Men Martially inclined.

10. If Saturn be Lord of the third in a Revolution, and posited in the Ascendent, it indicates much melancholy, and many troubles and perturbations to happen unto the Native by reason of Brethren and Kindred. And if Mars fortune to be in the place of Mercury in the Radix, he shall expose himself to many losses and eminent dangers for their sakes; his Journies also will be unsuccessful in that year.

11. When the Lord of the Ascendent of a Revolution shall be in Combustion of the Sun, portends heavy and grievous detriments unto the Native; and this according to the nature of the Planet who is Lord of the year, partaking also with the nature of the Sun. But if he shall be in the dignities of the Moon, or in his own essential dignities, the evils will be abated: but if he shall be debilitated, and out of all his Fortitudes, you may pronounce the greater evils.

Dominus ascendentis revolutionis à sole combustus, graviora nato detrimenta signif. & hoc secundum planetæ naturam, qui anni dominus fuerit, &c. dixit Schon. de Revol. lib. 3.

12. When the Figure of a Revolution shall happen to be the same (or neer it) with the Figure of the VVorld, and if the same Planet shall be Lord of the Year and Revolution also, it generally denotes to the Native much good, unless the Signe ascending and his Lord shall be impedited in the Radix.

Omnis nativitas quæ fuerit sub eodem signo cum ascendente anni mundi, si in eo fuerit anni dominus revolutionis, generaliter erit ad bonum, nisi tale signum & ejus dominus in radice fuerint impediti.

13. If in a Figure of Revolution you find the lights conjoyned in the seventh or fourth Houses, the Father or Mother of the Native shall die in that Year; chiefly if their places in the Radix shall be infortunated: if ♄ afflict the ☉ by □ or ☍, or if he be in ♂ of him in an Angle, the Father dies onely; if the ☽ be afflicted as aforesaid, the Mother then dies; for the Sun hath Signification of the Father; the Moon, of the Natives Mother.

14. When

14. When the Lord of the Ascendent of the Revolution shall be Retrograde in the eighth House without the help of the fortunate Planets, he portends a sickness even unto death unto the Native; an evil Direction then operating, certainly kills him.

15. The Lord of the sixth of the Revolution in ♂ with ♋, denotes much sickness to the Native, his life will be much endangered: if at the same time ♂ afflict the Lord of the Ascendent, he imports Poyson or a Stab, or some violent death or mischievous distemper in that year.

16. When the Moon shall be in ♂ of ♄ in a Revolution, and he behold the Lord of the Ascendent with a □ or ☍, the Native in that year shall be dangerously afflicted both in Body and Mind: and if the Ascendent happen to be the radical place of ♄, or the place of his □'s or ☍, the Native will have a trembling Fever: if ♄ be Angular or Succedent, it portends a Quartan or Tertian Ague: if ♂ maliciously behold him, it will prove a dangerous Fever; such a one as may threaten death, unless the Fortunes interpose their Rayes.

Omnis planeta in revolutione anni fortis, & angularis, dat nato bonum secundum suam naturam, & loci in quo fuerit. Qui si fuerit cadens, debilis, aut damnatus, contrarium judicato.

17. All the Planets in the Revolution strong and Angular, they give unto the Native good according to their natures, and the quality or disposition of the place in the which they are found. But if they be weak, ill dignified and Cadent, you may then judge the contrary shall happen unto him.

18. If the Ascendent of the Revolution shall come to the place of ♂ in the Radix, and ♂ at the same time behold the Ascendent evilly; that is to say, with □ or ☍, it portends many dangers, strifes and contentions, wounds and acute diseases unto the Native; chiefly, if he shall be in an Angle or Succedent House.

19. An Eclypse of either of the Luminaries in any of the Angles of the Radix; chiefly, in the Ascendent, or in the places of the ☉ or ☽, viz. near their degrees, threatens great danger of death unto the Native. Origanus says, If an Eclipse of the ☉ shall happen in the same degree of ♋'s radical place, the Native shall die in that year; if near it, he will be in danger of death, but escape.

20. When Jupiter in a Revolutional Figure shall be in Configuration with the ☽ and ♀, or if he shall be in an Angle in his radical place, (if at the Radix he were well posited) it inclines the Native to much mirth, and gives him great pleasures and delights; sometimes marriage in that year.

Fortuna recipiens ☽ ex △ vel ✶ in aliqua revolutione, bonum significat secundum ipsius fortunæ prosperitatem. Sed si receptio ex malo fuerit aspectu, non erit illud bonum stabile, & finis erit malus. Schon fol. 195.

21. The Moon in a Revolution in ✶ or △ of the Fortunate Planets by Reception, denotes a good and prosperous year to the Native, according to the nature or Signification of the Fortune she is in Reception withal: but if there be Reception, and the Aspect fortune to be evil, the good then promised shall not remain or endure, but the end of the year will be evil.

22. If a fortunate Planet shall be Lord of death in the Radix, and he fortune in a Revolution to come to the Significator of Life, or be himself Significator thereof, in that year he destroys or cuts off the fury threatned by the position of unfortunate Stars.

23. The Lord of the Mid-heaven of the Radix in the Ascendent of the Revolution, presages much honour and preferment unto the Native (Quoad capax) in that year. The Lord of the Ascendent of the Radix in the Mid-heaven of the Revolution, portends the same: or if their Lords shall be joyned, or in Sextile or Trine in or from those Angles, the Effects will be very eminent, and the Native shall receive honour.

In ascendente revolutionis infortunata, vel in signis ascendens aspicientibus, signif. impedimentum, & tristitias de natura ipsius infortunatæ, & signi in quo fuerit. Argol.

24. When the infortunate Planets shall be in the Ascendent of a Revolution, or in Signes (evilly) beholding the Ascendent, they portend impediments and sorrow to the Native, of the nature of the Infortunes, and of the Signe (and House also) in which they shall be posited.

25. The ☉ in a Revolution in □ or ☍ to the Ascendent at birth, or to his Lord, imports many dangers, labours and difficulties unto the Native; he may be brought before a Magistrate, or his Father may detriment him. But if the ☉ shall be in the twelfth of a Revolution, the Natives private Enemies shall conspire against him, and shall do him much mischief.

26. Saturn and Mars conjoyned in the tenth House of a Revolution, threaten the death of the Natives Mother in that year. If Mars be there alone, the Mother may receive damage, but will not die: he also threatens to the Native loss of honour and repute; sometimes danger by a kick from a Horse, or by a fall from an high place, chiefly in an Aereal Signe.

27. When the Lord of the Ascendent, or the Moon, in a Revolution, shall be in Conjunction, Quartile or Opposition of the Infortunes, the Native in that year will suffer much loss and detriment; chiefly if either of the Infortunes happen to be Lords of the twelfth or seventh Houses of the Figure.

Quando ♀ fuerit anni rex combustus, minatur detrimenta in mercibus, computationibus, & animi molestias. L. Gauricus, Tom. 2. f. 1457.

28. When Mercury shall be Lord of the year, and Combust of the Sun, he portends much detriment to the Native in Merchandizing of all kinds, in Writings and Accounts, with many Molestations and Troubles of Mind.

29. If in a Revolutional Figure, benevolent Stars be posited in the twelfth House, the Native shall in that year prevaile against his Enemies; but if malevolent Stars be posited there, it denotes the contrary.

Cum dominus ascendentis fuerit ♄, erit natus timidus & avarus. Si ♃, ad religionem, honores & bonos mores inclinabitur. Si ♂, ad crudelitatem & rapacitatem. Si ☉, ad severitatem & tristitiam. Si ♀, ad lasciviam. Si ☿, ad sapientiam. Si ☽, ad itinera, & erit volubiles Opinionis. Orig. Tom. 1. fol. 784.

30. Saturn Lord of the Ascendent of a Revolution, declares the Native in that year to be timerous and fearful; miserable and greedy after gaine. If ♃ be Lord thereof, the Native will be inclineable to good manners, and to honesty and religion: when ♂, he will then be given to rapine and cruelty, strifes, quarrels and contentions. If the ☉, the Native will be sorrowful, yet severe and rigorous. If ♀ be governess of it, he will be given to wantonness and lasciviousness. If ☿, he will be inclineable to wisdom and study. If ☽ be Lady of the Revolution, the Native will go Journies, or travel in that year; will be unconstant, mutable, oft changing of his Opinions.

Si ascendit ♈ erit in timore mortis violentæ. Si ♉, ægrotabit ex libidine. Si ♊, sollicitabitur in secretis proquirendis. Si ♋, erit amator rerum publicarum, & studiosus vel laboriosus. Si ♌, tristis & superbus. Si ♍, erit amator honorum. Si ♎, erit in periculo ratione gulæ. Si ♏, erit infirmus ratione cogitationis & pervicax. Si ♐, sollicitabitur circa ædificationes. Si ♑, erit sollicitus pro pecuniis, &c. Si ♒, erit maledicus & malus. Si ♓, erit superbus valde; idem de virgine, sed non tantum.

31. When ♈ shall ascend in a Revolution, the Native will be in fear of a violent death that year. If ♉, sickness will invade him by reason of evil courses. If ♊, he will be sollicitous and curious in his search after secrets and occult knowledge. If ♋, he will then prove a lover of publick employments or matters, and will be laborious and studious. If ♌, he will be proud and pensive. If ♍, he aims at honour, and is ambitious. If ♎, he will endanger his life by reason of gluttony, and such like courses. If ♏, he will be obstinate and confident, whence weakness and trouble of Mind will follow. If ♐, he shall be sollicitous about buildings. If ♑, his sollicitations shall be chiefly for Monies, &c. If ♒, he will prove vile tongued, slanderous and malicious; and may meet with mischief thereby. If ♓, he will be very proud. The same of ♍, but not so much, saith Origanus, fol. 785.

And these are general Aphorisms to be heeded in Revolutions, and may give much light thereunto; but there are particular Aphorisms to be regarded also herein, and I will present you with them in the next Chapter.

CHAP. XXXIV.

Teaching more particularly how to judge of a Revolution.

TO follow the steps of the ancient Astrologers in the particular Judgments of a Revolution, I will divide this Chapter into two Sections, viz.

1. Of the twelve Houses, with things proper thereunto.
2. Of the seven Planets, their returns to their own, and the places of each Other.

SECT. I.

Of the twelve Houses, and things proper thereto.

This Section I shall divide into twelve Parts or Subsections, for methods sake; for things look best when they appear in order.

SUBSECT. I.

Of the first House in a Revolution.

As the Revolution is a second Radix, so you are to enquire of the state of the Natives Body and Mind here, as in the Radix it self; (i.e.) whether he shall be healthful, vigorous, and of a good Constitution both of Body and Mind, or not; which you may know, by carefully observing these following Aphorisms.

1. When in a Revolution there happens a good Direction of the Sun, Moon or Ascendent unto the beneficial Rays of ♃ or ♀, it demonstrates the Native to be healthful of Body, and sound of Mind in that year: and if the Revolution concurreth in judgment with them, the Native cannot sustain damage, loss or prejudice by sickness that year.

2. The Ascendent of the Revolution the same with that of the Radix, or in Sextile or Trine unto it, it denotes unto the Native in that year a pleasant and healthful Constitution both of Body and Mind. If the Lord of the Ascendent of the Revolution shall be well affected, in ☌, ✶ or △ of ♃ or ♀, and not Combust, Cadent or Peregrine, it argues the same.

Quando dominus ascendentis radicis in revolutione à malis aspicitur, significat malum, secundum naturam planetæ qui aspicit, &c. Schonerus.

3. When the Lord of the Ascendent of a Revolution shall be evilly beheld, it portends evil unto the Native, according to the nature of that Planet who aspects him; as if ♂ shall cast his □ or ☍ unto him, beware then of the evil of ♂.

4. The Lord of the Ascendent in the Radix well beheld in the Revolution, denotes a healthful Body; Si male, dic contrarium; if ill aspected, say the contrary. The Moon well beheld of ♃ or ♀, in a Revolution, and free from all impediments, denotes a good Constitution to the Native; if ill, the contrary.

5. The Lord of the Ascendent in the seventh well located, portends marriage, or aliquid tale, to the Native in that year; chiefly, if a good Direction concomitate it: if in the ninth, he voyages to Sea: in the sixth, eighth or twelfth, it denotes many sicknesses, danger of imprisonment, and much evil from private Enemies.

6. The Moon in a Revolution evilly placed, and afflicted of Saturn or Mars, or Combust of the Sun, without the help or assistance of Jupiter or Venus, portends an ill Constitution of Body; and this so much the more, if she were infortunate in the Nativity, and in the Revolution apply to her radical place.

☽ in revol. male disposita afflicta à malefi- cis ♄. vel ♂. vel combusta ☉. radiis sine auxilio ♃. aut ♀. mala adducit in corporis constitutione, &c. Ptol. parv. fol. 229.

7. the Moon infortunate in the Radix, and in the Revolution in the place of Mars or Saturn, in the Nativity, threatens much evil to the Native: if she be in Quartile or Opposition of Mars, it denotes hurts in the Eyes.

8. When the Moon is afflicted of the Malefiques by Body or Aspect, and in ☌ with ☊ Caput Draconis, it shews a surplussage of humours in the Natives Body: but if with the Tayl of the Dragon, it denotes Corruption or a Putrefaction of humours; if she be with the □'s or ☍'s of ♃ or ♀, or the ☌, □ or ☍ of ♂, it declares evil inflammations: with ♄, she signifies cold humours, and other Saturnine dangers; as by Falls, Water, Imprisonments, and such-like.

9. Mars or Saturn in the Ascendent of a Revolution, always portends sicknesses, or mischiefs of their Natures or Significations; chiefly, if either of them happen to be Lord of the Year: Luna in ♋, Sol in ♌, afflicted of ♄ or Mars, is always a presage of evil to the Native.

10. the Lord of the Ascendent in the Radix with ☋, Cauda Draconis, and in Opposition of the ☽, ♂ or ♄, portends a discomposure of Body, and a sickly year to the Native. Et Cauda Draconis in ascendente revolutione, significat Melancholiam. And the Tayl of the Dragon in the Ascendent of a Revolution, denotes Melancholy.

11. Saturn in ♌, afflicted of ♂; or ♂ afflicted of ♄ in ♐, in a Revolution, denotes danger by a fall from a Horse; chiefly, if ♂ be in the tenth: but if he be in the twelfth House, he will be in danger by some other four-footed Beast.

12. The Lord of the Ascendent and ☽, with Cauda, and the Lord of the eighth behold the ☽ (evilly) from the place of the Part of Fortune minatur pericula mortis, threatens danger of death in that year.

13. An Eclipse, &c. in the Ascendent, or in the same degree of the ☉ or ☽ in the Radix, demonstrates dangers to the Natives Life. Or if an Eclipse of the ☉ happen in the (radical) degree of Cauda Draconis, it threatens death; if not in the same degree, it portends much danger.

14. The Lord of the Ascendent of the Revolution well placed in the Ascendent, declares a healthful Constitution of Body, and Tranquillity of Mind. If in the second, it presages gaine. In the third, small Journies, &c. In the fourth, it portends building, repairing, or gain by inheritance. In the fifth, pleasure. In the sixth, dealing in small Cattle. In the seventh, he is inclineable to Womens Company; and if capable, marries. In the eighth, busied about Wills, and things left by dead Folks. In the ninth, he travels, or trades to Sea. In the tenth, he hath honour conferred on him, or obtains some Office. In the eleventh, an encrease of Friends. In the twelfth, he may trade in great Beasts, and shall not need to fear his Enemies. But if ill dignified in any of them, it portends the contrary.

How to know the inclination of the Native by the Revolution.

15. The Lord of the Ascendent, and Luna with ☿ Mercury well placed in the Revolution, inclines the Native to study, and to learn languages, &c. With Saturn, he is sober and austere. With Jupiter, just, honest, and of a good behavior. With ♂ Mars, confident, bold, sometimes rash and furious. With the Sun, he is imperious and lofty, yet prudent. With ♀ Venus, wanton and pleasant, and much frequenting VVomens Companies. This is to be understood as well in their Sextiles or Trines, as in their Conjunctions. But now on the contrary, if you finde the Lord of the Ascendent and Moon ill placed with the Quartile or Opposition of any of them, you may then judge the Contrary of the Natives inclination. And this shall suffice for Rules proper to the first House.

SUBSECT. 2.

Of the second House in a Revolution.

You are to consider the second House of the Native, for his Substance, and the goods of Fortune, as also the Part of Fortune, &c.

Pars fortunæ in bono loco figuræ, (i. e.) ubi fuerint in radice stellæ fortunantes, vel eorum boni aspectus, decernit nato augmentum & lucrum substantiæ. Schon. f. 198.

1. The Lord of the second House of the Revolution in the Ascendent, (well posited) denotes that the Native shall gaine much Substance in that year; and this without much labour. The Part of Fortune in a good place of the Figure, (i. e.) where fortunate Stars were in the Radix, or in their good Aspects, discerns an Augmentation of the Natives gaine in that year.

2. If the Lord of the second in the Revolution shall be impedited or hindred by the Lord of the Ascendent, the Native shall not encrease in riches that year, but will be peevish and conceited, by which means he shall obstruct his own gaine.

Pars fortunæ bene affecta in 8. pollicetur divitias causa mortuorum. Ptol. par. f. 236.

3. The Part of Fortune in the first or second House of a Revolution, declares the Native shall acquire gaine by his proper Labour, Actions and Industry. If well posited in the eighth House, it prenotes gaine, or an encrease of riches by reason of dead Folks, or by looking after Wills or Writings, &c.

4. The ☉ in a benevolent Aspect of his Dispositer (in a Revolution) always demonstrates a good state of the Natives fortune or riches. But if he shall be in evil Aspect of his Dispositer, that is to say, in □ or ☍ of him, it then denotes a diminution of his Estate, and that he shall go backward therein.

5. When ♀ is governess of the Part of Fortune, or the second House, and posited in the eighth, it denotes riches, and an encrease of gaine unto the Native by the means of a VVoman or VVomen: perhaps he may attain a good dowry with a VVife. If she be Lady of the seventh, and constituted in the second, it shews the same.

6. If ☿ do dispose of ☉ in a Revolution, or of the second House, and fortunately posited in the Ascendent, the Native in that year shall gaine riches by his proper industry; and may grow rich by multiplicity of business; chiefly, if he follow a publick Employment.

Infortunæ in secunda revolutionis, significat quod natus multa dispendia faciet secundum naturam infortunæ. Ut si ♂ ibi repertus fuerit, minatur dispendia propter Martiales homines ac res, Schoiterus. fol. 198.

7. When an unfortunate Planet shall be in the second House of a Revolution, (or shall afflict the Lord of the second or the Part of Fortune) it portends much loss and expence of the Natives Estate by such Men and things as the afflicting Planet hath Signification of; as if Mars shall be the Planet, he threatens unto the Native much loss by all sorts of Men and things by him signified.

Pars fortunæ ex trino Solis

8. If the Part of Fortune be in a Trine (or Sextile) Aspect of the Sun

Sun in the Figure of the Revolution or Radix, it indicates to the Native much gain in that year; and a commodious and happy time.

aspecta in radice vel revolutione, dat lucrum, & commodum.

9. The Lord of ☉, and of the second House in the Ascendent, (of a Revolution) denotes riches unto the Native by his own employment and industry: if the Native be a person of eminency, he will do some worthy act for which he shall be well rewarded, although he never expected it; if a Mechanique or Country-man, he thrives by his Trade or Husbandry.

Planeta peregrinus in secunda Nativitatis, repertus, in Ascendente revolutionis, divitias ex rebus speratis decernit. Si reperiatur in tertia, ex consanguineis, ineris, &c. In 4. ex Antenatis, Patre stabilibus. In 5. ex legationibus, negotiis commissis, scripturis, filiis; & sic in aliis domibus pro earum significatis. Argol.

10. When a Planet that was peregrine in the second House of the Radix, shall be found in the Ascendent of a Revolution, the Native shall in that year obtain riches, and the things he hopes for. If he be found in the third, his Kindred, &c. will be helpful to him; or he may gaine by other things of the nature of that House. If in the fourth, his gain comes from the Father, or Lands, &c. If in the fifth, from Negotiations, Messages, or his Children; and so in all the others according to their Significations.

11. The Sun in the second, denotes expence of Money, by reason of Honour, Magnanimity, and vain-Glory. Saturn ill dignified in the second, denotes loss by Clowns and vulgar Fellows. Mars in the second ill dignified, denotes loss by Theeves, by Strifes, Quarrels and Controversies, and all things Martial. Cauda Draconis in secunda, semper affert damna, & difficultates in divitiis. But the Dragons Tayl in the second, always denotes loss and damage, and many difficulties to the Native in his Estate. Probatum est.

12. Saturn in the eighth House of a Revolution well dignified, brings gaine to the Native from the will or Legacy of dead Folks; but if out of his essential Dignities there, he then denotes many Anxieties and Troubles about Hereditaments, &c. If Saturn be posited in the Mid-heaven, it shews loss and a vain expence of the Natives treasure; nay, my Author saith, He shall not profit that year.

13. When Saturn shall be Retrograde in the fourth House, the Native in that year will be troubled and molested about Hereditaments, or Lands and Inheritances, and such like things.

♄ retrogradus in quarta, utplurimum molestias ex causa rei Hæreditariæ.

14. The Lord of the second, & ☉ in the second House well dignified, denotes riches in that year to the Native by most things he trades or deales in.

15. In the third, it shews riches to come from Brethren, Kindred, Neighbors, short or inland Journies, &c.

16. In the fourth, by his Ancestors, his Father; or from Lands, Houses, or any kind of Inheritance.

17. In the fifth, by reason of his Children, by Plays, Messages, VVritings, Negotiations, and the like.

18. In the sixth, from Servants, and by dealing in Beasts of the smaller sort; from an Uncle or Aunt; sometimes by practising Physique.

19. In the seventh, by Wars, Contentions, Strifes, Law-suits, Controversies; his publick Enemies: by VVomen or Marriage.

20. In the eighth House, from Inheritances, the dowry or portion of the VVife; or from the VVills of persons deceased.

21. In the ninth, from Science, long Journies, the VVives Kindred; from Religion, and Men of the Church.

22. In the tenth, from his Magistery or Profession, from his Office, honor and dignity; many times from the Mother.

23. In the eleventh, from his Friends and Companions, by Stipends from Princes or great Persons, from his confidence and hopes.

24. In the twelfth, from his private Enemies; (and that's a wonder!) by dealing in great Beasts, as the Horse, Ox, Cow; sometimes he may gaine by imprisonment, or affliction and trouble.

25. But you must know, that if the Lord of the second, and ☉ be be evilly dignified in any of these Houses, or afflicted by the evil Planets there, (chiefly if the Planets afflicting be Lords of those Houses) the Native then shall be detrimented; and suffer loss in his estate by things and persons signified by those Houses where they are found.

26. If the Sun afflict the Significators of Substance, eminent persons will prove the Natives Enemies. If Saturn, ancient Men and Vulgar. If Mars, Souldiers, or Men Martially inclined. If Jupiter, (for the Fortunes may sometimes prove Infortunes to the Native) Lawyers, and Men religious. If Mercury, Informers, Catchpoles, Sollicitors, Clerks, sometimes Theeves, &c. If Venus, his VVife or VVomen then prove his Enemies. If Luna, the Native is then perplexed with the Rabble-rout of vulgar people. Astrologers have given many more Rules relating to this subject; but these are the choicest, and most to be credited, I shall therefore spare the rest.

SUBSECT. 3.

Of the third House in a Revolution.

From this House we enquire of the state and condition of the Natives Brethren and Sisters; his inland Journies; his prosperity and delight in travel; and his agreement or discord with his Brethren. And hereunto belong these Aphorisms, viz.

1. VVhen in a Revolution there shall be many Planets posited in the third House, the Native in that year shall go many Journies, and shall visit his Brethren and Kindred, &c. chiefly if they be in a moveable Signe there.

Dominus tertiæ radicis, si in aliquo anno fuerit in duodecima, vitæ periculum fratribus, cujus fuerit revolutio, inflatio Schoneus.

i si fuerit dominus 3. radicis in aliqua revolutione in decima morietur eo anno frater nati.

2. The Lord of the third in the Radix in the twelfth of the Revolution, denotes much loss and damage, and danger of life unto the Brethren of the Native in that year; and shews also that the Natives Journies shall prove unhappy to him: but if posited in the tenth, (which is the eighth from the third) a Brother or Sister of the Native in that year shall dye.

3. If the third House, or his Lord, shall be in the dignities of Jupiter or Venus, or they beholding either or both of them by good Aspect, without being impedited of the Malignant Planets, it denotes in that year the good state of the Natives Brethren.

4. Infortunæ in tertia mala semper afferunt fratribus, vel consanguineis; when the Infortunes shall be posited in the third House (of a Revolution) it always declares evil unto the Brethren and Kindred of the Native.

Cauda Draconis in tertia, mala semper minatur fratribus. Sic dominus tertiæ cum cauda. Ptol parv. fol.

5. When in a Revolution you finde the Tayl of the Dragon in the third House, it always threatens mischief to the Brethren of the Native; and if the Lord of the third House be with Cauda Draconis, it portends the same.

6. Luna Lady of the third in a Revolution, with Jupiter or Venus, or in Sextile or Trine with them, discerns a pleasant and healthful time to the Brethren and Sisters of the Native in that year; but if she be afflicted by the Bodies or Aspects of Saturn or Mars, it then portends evil to them.

7. The Lord of the third of a Revolution in an evil aspect of the Moon or Lord of the Ascendent, (chiefly from evil Houses) denotes hatred, strife, quarrels and contentions between the Native and his Brethren, &c.

8. Mars (as he is a general Significator of Brethren) evilly affected, denotes denotes evil to the Brethren of the Native; but if well constituted, it portends good unto them. Observe the same in the Moon, for the condition of the Sisters of the Native: according to the greatness of their fortunacy or infortunacy, shall the good or evil be.

9. Mercury Lord of the yeer, infortunated of Mars, threatens death to the Natives Brethren. Mars in evil Aspect of Mercury, declares much evil to them in that yeer, though not their death; and denotes also that the Native shall have many controversies and contentions with them.

g dominus anni infortunatus a ♂, minatur mortem fratris. Argol.

10. Jupiter, Venus and the Dragons Head, in the third House of a Revolution, declares great prosperity and happiness to the Brethren of the Native in that yeer; the same also to his Kindred. If the Lord of the third shall be with the Part of Fortune, the same.

11. The Lord of the third in the first of a Revolution well dignified, the Native and his Brethren and Kindred agree well in that yeer.

12. If he shall be posited in the second of a Revolution, the Native shall in that yeer gain much by his Brethren and Kindred, or by their means.

13. When posited in the third House, (strong as aforesaid) the Brethren of the Native will be in that yeer prosperous and successful; the like will the Native be in his travels.

14. The Lord of the third in the fourth House, in Sextile or Trine of Saturn, denotes Riches unto the Brethren of the Native, &c. and good from Inheritances, and the like.

15. When placed in the fifth House, it shews that the brethren and kindred of the Native shall enjoy much pleasure and delight in that year; and shall gain much by Messages, Negotiations, and Businesses they may undertake.

16. Dominus tertiæ in sexta, aliquando dat fratri ægritudinem: (i.e.) If the Lord of the third be posited in the sixth House, it sometimes shews Sickness to the Native's brethren.

17. If placed in the seventh House of a Revolution, the Brethren of the Native may be given to dalliance and wantonness, &c. in that yeer.

18. If placed in the eighth House, it denotes gain to the Natives Brethren by Inheritances and the things of the Dead. Malè positus, tribuit angustias & damna. But if evilly posited there, it shews loss and trouble unto them.

19. When located in the ninth House well, it shews they may gain by trading to Sea, by Study; sometimes some of them marry happily, in that yeer.

20. The Lord of the Third in the Tenth (unless he be very well qualified there) presages the death of a Brother, &c. of the Natives in that yeer.

21. If he shall be placed in the eleventh House, the Brethren of the Native may reap much profit and benefit in that yeer; and they may prove Friends unto the Native also; the Native then visits his Friends.

22. But when placed in the twelfth House, it denotes sometimes good and sometimes evil; as he shall be beheld of the fortunate or infortunate Planets.

And this is as much as is necessary for the discovery of things proper and pertinent to the third House of a Revolution.

SUBSECT. 4.

Of the fourth House in a Revolution.

Hence is known the state of the Father of the Native in a Revolution, &c. and you may discern it by observing this following Method.

1. If the Sun, Moon or part of Parents, in a Revolution, shall be in Conjunction, Quartile or Opposition of Mars, or their Dispositors infortunate, or in evil Aspect of Mars, the Father of the Native shall die in that yeer. Maximè si aliquod Luminarium fuerit in quarta: Chiefly, if either of the Luminaries shall be posited in the fourth House.

Si fuerint Luminaria in septima vel quarta in revolutione, aut pater aut mater nati morietur; maxime si ea loca in radice infortunata fuerint. Schon. de Revolut.

2. When the Luminaries in a Revolution shall be in the fourth or seventh House, either the Father or Mother of the Native shall die in that yeer; chiefly, if their radical places shall be unfortunate. The Sun signifies the Father; the Moon, the Mother.

3. If the Sun be significator of the Father, and posited in an Angle or succedent House, and free from the Malevolents; or in Conjunction, Sextile or Trine with Iupiter or Venus, or in any of their essential dignities, it denotes the good Estate and Condition of the Natives Father in that yeer. If Saturn be significator of him, and constituted as aforesaid, the same.

4. Mars or Saturn, or the Tayl of the Dragon in the fourth House, evilly placed, denotes great hurt to the Father of the Native in that yeer; and the Native also shall be entangled about Lands or Inheritances, to his damage and prejudice; and the end of the yeer will be evil to him.

☉ in 4. cum ♄ laminatur mortem Patris ---- life of the Mother in that yeer.

5. Sol in the fourth House with Saturn, threatens the death of the Father. Luna in the fourth with Mars or Saturn, presages much evil to the

☽ in quarta cum ♄, vel Marte, dat mala in vita Matris. Argol fol. 241.

6. Saturn and Sol in Angles, in Opposition to each other, denotes the death of the Natives Father in that yeer. If in Quartile to each other, it portends grievous distempers unto him. But if in Sextile or Trine (as sometimes they may be, and in Angles too) they then portend a pleasant life unto the Natives Father, and he may attain honour and preferment in that yeer.

7. when the Luminaries shall be afflicted of the Malefiques in a Revolution, it alwayes denotes hurt unto the Natives Parents in that yeer.

8. An Eclipse in the fourth House of a Revolution, or in the place of the Sun, or Lord of the Fourth in the Radix, denotes the death of the Natives Father in that yeer; and much harm unto the Native also.

9. The Lord of the Fourth of the Revolution, or of the Radix, in the Twelfth of the Revolution, the Natives Father in that yeer will die, or be troubled with heavy diseases.

10. The Sun and Saturn in Oppofition of the Lord of the eighth House, in the Revolution, denotes an ill yeer unto the Natives Father.

11. If the Lord of the fourth be afflicted by the Dragons Tayl in a fiery Sign, the Natives Father will be in danger of Poyson. If afflicted of Mars, he may die by a Fever, and sometimes of a stab. If of Saturn, and Saturn Lord of the third, which is the twelfth from the fourth, he may die in prison, or by the hands of his Enemies.

12. Mars and Mercury in Quartile or Opposition of the Lord of the fourth, or to the fourth House, portends much loss and damage, strife and controversie unto the Native, about Lands, Houses or Inheritances. Mars may denote danger by fire; Mercury, by false Titles, by cheating and cozening Clerks or Sollicitors.

13. The

13. The fortunate Planets well dignified in the fourth House, or in friendly configuration with the Lord of the fourth, denotes a happy and prosperous time to the Natives Father. And it will prove of good consequence to the Native also.

14. When the Lord of the Ascendent and fourth House shall be in □ or ☍ unto each other, the Native and his Father will contend much in that yeer. If the Lords of those two Houses in the Radix shall be so constituted, the same.

15. When the Lord of the eighth from the fourth, shall be in the fourth with ♄, ♂ or ☋, the Father of the Native may die in that yeer. But if the Lord of the eighth from the fourth shall be in Conjunction with the Lord of the fourth, in the seventh House, 'tis a miracle if the Father of the Native escape in that yeer.

16. When the Lord of the sixth from the fourth shall be in Quartile or Opposition of the Lord of the fourth from a fixed Signe, and he stronger then the Lord of the fourth, the Father of the Native shall die by a tedious sickness in that yeer. But if the Lord of the fourth be strongest, he may evade. And thus much for the fourth House of a Revolution.

SUBSECT. 5.

Of the fifth House in a Revolution.

From the fifth House we enquire of the Natives pleasure and delight, and of his Children, their Estate and Condition, &c. And these Aphorisms following are to be observed, &c.---------

1. When the Signe Ascending in a Revolution shall devolve to the place of ♃ or ♀ in the Radix, and ♃ or ♀ in or neer the Ascendent, the Native in that yeer shall have Children. If the Sun in a Revolution shall be in the fifth House, and the Part of Children fall neer unto the Lord of the fifth, or ♀, the Native shall in that yeer have Children.

♀, ♃, ☽, ☊, vel quilibet eorum in quinta, præcipue in Signis fæcundis, ♉, ♍, ♐, filios multoties demonstrat, sic dominus 5. ibidem. Argol fol. 245.

2. ♀, ♃, ☽, ☊, or either of them, in the fifth of a Revolution, chiefly, in fecund or fruitful Signes, as be ♉, ♍, ♐, demonstrate ostentimes Children unto the Native in that yeer. If they shall be with the Lord of the fifth, it denotes the same. It denotes a pleasant yeer otherwise also.

3. When ♀, ♃, or ☽, shall be posited in the tenth, eleventh, fourth or fifth Houses of a Revolution, and no wayes impedited of the Malefiques, the Native in that yeer shall have a Child or Children.

If ♃ in a Revolution shall come to the Part of Children, or behold the same with (good) Aspect, it denotes a Child or Children to the Native in that yeer, as saith Schoner; his words are these: Si ♃ ad partem filiorum pervenerit, vel eam aspexerit, dabit filium.

Dominus 5. absque noxa maleficorum cum ♀, vel ♃, vel eorum radiis Sextili, aut Trino, est propitius pro sobole. Argol in Ptol. paru. cap. 33. lib. 3.

5. The Lord of the fifth of the Revolution, in Conjunction, Sextile or Trine of ♃ or ♀, and no wayes afflicted of the benevolent Planets, denotes an apt and propitious time to the Native for issue.

6. ♄, ♂ or ☋, in the fifth House of a Revolution, oftentimes denotes the death of a Child or Children of the Natives in that yeer. If ♄ or ♂ afflict the fifth House, or his Lord, by ☌, □, or ☍, it portends the same; and also much loss and damage to the Native by voluptuous and unhandsome courses.

Dominus 5. in Ascendente, est etiam pro-

7. The Lord of the fifth in the Ascendent, is also very propitious unto the Native for Issue. But the Lord of the Fifth in the Twelfth House, it pitius profobolc. Sed Dominus 5. in 12. mala minatur filiis. Argol.

it being the eighth from the fifth, threatens much evil (many times death) unto the Natives Children.

8. The Lord of the Ascendent of the Radix in the fifth of a Revolution, having dignities there, alwayes portends issue unto the Native in that yeer.

9. When the Lord of the Ascendent, the Moon, and Lord of the fifth, shall be in good Houses of the Revolution, beholding each other friendly, the Native in that yeer shall enjoy much pleasure and delight, and may have a child also; and if he have any Children living, they prove dutiful and obedient unto him.

10. If Mercury be afflicted in a Revolution (he being the general significator of Children) the Children of the Native will be in that yeer much grieved and perplexed; and this so much the more, if he be Lord of the fifth in the Nativity.

11. When Venus in a Revolution shall be afflicted by Saturn, Mars or the Dragons Tayl, the Native in that yeer cannot have issue. Saturn by diseases of cold and the like, destroyes the conception. Mars by Abortion, The Dragons Tayl by Poyson, or some fright, &c. the Natives Delights are eclipsed also.

12. When all the significators of Children are in fruitful Signes, the Native may have more children then one in that yeer. If some happen in fruitful Signes, and others of them in sterile, the Native may have a Child, other Arguments concurring; but if they all fortune to be in barren Signes, the Native then cannot have issue in that yeer, unless a benevolent Direction be operating; rarely then.

13. Benevolent Stars in the Fifth, or friendly beholding the same, denotes pleasure and delight to the Native in that yeer. Malevolents there, or evilly beholding the same, destroyes his happiness and felicity.

14. Venus Lady of the fifth in Quartile or Opposition of Mars in the Revolution, declares the Native to be lascivious, and given to a voluptuous kind of life, haunting the Company of evil VVomen, thereby contracting hurtful Diseases, such as be the Gonorrhea, Morbus Gallicus, &c. chiefly, if Mars be in the Ascendent, or is found to have dignities there.

15. Violent fixed Stars afflicting the Cusp of the fifth House, the Lord thereof, and Venus, denote dangerous diseases to happen unto the Children of the Native in that year; chiefly, if the Constellation be great.

16. The Lord of the Ascendent, or the Moon afflicted by the Body, Quartile or Opposition of the Lord of the fifth, shews nothing but discord and brawling between the Native and his Children in that year; or that the Native shall receive much prejudice by reason of his Children; chiefly, if the Lord of the fifth be either Saturn or Mars.

SUBSECT. 6.

Of the sixth House in a Revolution.

Sexta domus significat, infirmitates, animalia parva, servos atq; servas, &c.

The Natives distempers of Body, are judged by the sixth House; as also the quality or Condition of his Servants; it takes notice also, of his small Cattle. The Aphorisms proper hereunto are these, viz.

1. Evil Planets posited in the sixth House of a Revolution, declares a dangerous year for infirmities unto the Native. If the Lord of the sixth be afflicted of them, either by Conjunction, Quartile or Opposition, the same.

2. The

2. The Lord of the Ascendent of the Revolution in Quartile or Opposition to the Lord of the sixth in the Radix, denotes an unfortunate year to the Native in respect of his health. The Luminaries in the sixth, in Opposition to the Lord of the sixth in the twelfth House, denotes the same.

3. The Lord of the Ascendent of the Radix with ♂ in the sixth, in Opposition to the Moon, ♂ or ♄, denotes many tedious and grievous infirmities in that year unto the Native; it will indeed be a year of evils to him.

4. Saturnus in Ascendente, vel 6. signif. agrotationem de sui natura. If ♄ in a Revolution shall be in the Ascendent or sixth House, it portends diseases to invade the Native, of the nature of ♄.

5. The Sun Lord of the sixth House, and posited in the Ascendent in ♂ of ♄, denotes a very sickly year unto the Native. If ♄ shall be in ♂ to the Sun from the seventh House, it denotes great danger unto the Natives life in that year; chiefly, if an evil Direction concurs in Signification.

6. The Luminaries in Opposition from Angles in a Revolution, bids the Native beware of hurts in his Eyes; chiefly, if Mars or the Dragons Tayl shall afflict either of them. If Mercury and Saturn be in Conjunction in the eighth, in Quartile to the Lord of the Ascendent or the Moon in the twelfth, the Native in that year will receive impediment in his hearing.

7. But when the Lord of the Ascendent, Luminaries, and Lord of the sixth House of the Revolution shall be strong, and in good Aspect to each other, it denotes a healthful year unto the Native, and sickness will not much hurt him.

8. When the Lord of the sixth is in the Ascendent strong, the Native and his Servants agree well in that year; or if the Moon be in good Aspect unto the Lord of the sixth, it denotes the same; and if the contrary happen, say the contrary.

9. If the Lord of the sixth shall be in the second House of a Revolution, or in a benevolent Aspect of the second House or his Lord, the Native in that year gaineth by his Servants; and if he deal in Cattle of the smaller sort, he encreaseth his stock thereby. And if at the same time the Lord of the Ascendent be in the sixth well posited, the Native respects his Servants, and they live and agree lovingly together.

10. The Lord of the sixth House in a Revolution afflicted by an evil Planet; and he Lord of the fifth, it portends many infirmities to happen to the Native by reason of drinking and haunting Taverns or Ale-houses; as Surfeits, Fevers, or the like. If the Lord of the seventh be the evil Planet afflicting, he contracts Diseases of a Venereous quality, by consorting with ill Women. If he be Lord of the twelfth, the privats Enemies of the Native conspire against him, and so subject him to infirmities, or imprisonments, banishments, &c. which may occasion much grief. If the Lord of the second be the ill Planet afflicting, the want of Money makes him despair.

11. The Figures of the Revolution and Radix differing, or Antipathetical each unto other, denotes an evil year to the Native.

12. Observe the Planet or Planets occasioning the sickness or infirmity, and so may you finde what distempers they are the Native is most subject unto in that year. I have in my Judgments of the sixth House of the Nativity inserted a Table of the Diseases appropriable to each Planet and Signe.

SUBSECT. 7.

Of the seventh House in a Revolution.

You may enquire from this House in a Revolution, of the Natives Marriage, of the Condition of his Wife, (or if it be a VVoman, her Husband) the Agreement or Disagreement between them, &c. And herein you may observe these Rules:

1. VVhen the Lord of the Ascendent shall be in ☌ with the Lord of the seventh, in the seventh, fifth, or eleventh Houses, the Native (if capable) may marry in that year. In ✶ or △ from good Houses, the same.

♀ in revolutione ad locum radicalem ♃, sæpe dat vxorem.

2. ♀ in the Radix in the dignities of ♃, and ♃ in the dignities of ♀ in the Revolution, discerns many pleasures and delights with VVomen, and sometimes it portends Matrimony in that year; and ♀ in the Revolution in the place of ♃ in the Radix, denotes the same.

Domini Nat. & Revolutionis in domo septima. Ascendens locus ♀ radicalis. Directio domini 7. ad dominum Ascendentis. Argol.

3. The Lord of the Radix, and Revolution in the seventh House, the Ascendent to the radical place of ♀, and the Lord of the seventh (by Direction) to the Lord of the Ascendent; all these are ample Testimonies of Marriage in that year unto the Native, if capable.

4. VVhen ♃, ♀ and ☽, or ⊕, shall be in the seventh House, it shews a propensity in the Native to marriage in that year. The Lord of the seventh with ♃, ♀ or Lord of the Ascendent, the same.

5. The Ascendent of the Revolution, the radical place of ♀; ♀ in a Revolution in her own dignities; ♀ in Conjunction of ☽ in the dignities of ♃; all these denote marriage, or a great propensity thereunto in the Native that year.

Si ♀, ☽, & Dominus domus septimæ fuerint liberi à maleficis, & potentes ratione loci Cœli, & ratione dignitatum essentialium; decernent bonum statum Uxoris.

6. If ♀ in a Revolutional Figure, the Moon, and Lord of the seventh House shall be free from the afflictions of the Infortunes, and strong and potent, by reason of their accidental and essential positions; it discerns the good state of the Natives VVife in that year.

♀ occidental of the Sun in the Revolution, and in ☌ of unfortunate Stars, or in their evil Aspect, threatens the death of the Natives VVife or Sweet-heart in that year.

8. Venere Conjuncta Cauda, uxor nati non recte habebit, &c. If in a Revolution ♀ shall be afflicted of the ☋, the VVife of the Native will be subject to many infirmities of Body and Mind; she may also prove Meretricious.

♀ ☌ in ☌ to the seventh House of a Revolution, signifies great danger of the Natives VVife in that year; and manifest mischief to the Natives publick Enemies.

The Moon and ♀, or Lord of the seventh House of a Revolution in evil Aspect of ♄ or ♂, denotes much evil to the VVife of the Native in that year.

♄ in septima Nativitatis repertus in septima etiam revolutionis, minatur mortem Uxoris.

11. If ♄ being in the seventh House of the Nativity, shall be found in the seventh of a Revolution, it threatens the death of the Natives VVife in that year. Mars and the Dragons Tayl so posited, doth denote littlenes.

12. Saturn or Mars evilly posited in the seventh or fourth Houses of a Revolution, threatens death to the Natives Wife. The Lord of the seventh unfortunated of Saturn or Mars, Sine auxilio Jovis, without the friendly Beams of Jove, denotes very much evil unto the Natives VVife; but not death.

♀ afflicta semper malat Uxori adducit, sic ☽.

13. Mercury afflicted of the Malevolents in the seventh House of a Revolution, portends much hurt to the Natives Wife. But Venus afflicted in in a Revolution, allways denotes evil unto the VVife. The like of ☽.

14. The Lord of the seventh Combust in the fourth, or any other way infortunated, denotes much danger unto the life of the Natives VVife. If Combust in the second or eighth, judge the same.

15. The Moon and Venus in the seventh House, in a watry Signe with Mars, or in Quartile or Opposition of him, denotes evil to befal the Mother or VVife of the Native in that year. Venus and the Moon in the Ascendent, in Opposition or Quartile of Saturn, denotes the same.

16. When Venus, the seventh House, and Lord of the seventh, and the Moon shall in a Revolution be free from the Malignity of the Infortunes, the VVife of the Native will live free from any of the before-named evils.

17. For the private Enemies of the Native, observe this general Rule: If the Lord of the Ascendent or Moon shall be afflicted by the Quartile or Opposition of the Lord of the seventh, the Native in that year shall be mischiefed by his private Enemies; chiefly if the Lord of the seventh be better fortified then the Lord of the Ascendent: but if the Lord of the Ascendent be strongest, the Native shall overcome his Enemies.

SUBSECT. 8.

Of the eighth House in a Revolution.

This House giveth Judgment of the death of the Native, and of the VVives Dowry, of his gain or loss by the Wills or Inheritances of Persons deceased: and hereunto pertain these following Aphorisms.

1. The Lord of the eighth House in Quartile or Opposition to the Lord of the Ascendent or Moon from evil places of the Figure, denotes great danger of death unto the Native in that year.

Dominus anni cadens ab Ascendente, & ☽, vacua cursu, signif. vacuitatem, & pigritiam Nati in omnibus rebus.

2. The Lord of the year Cadent from the Ascendent, and the Moon void of course, presages the Native in that year to be vain, idle and slothful in every thing that he shall undertake.

3. VVhen the Lord of the eighth House of the Nativity happens to be an Infortune, and posited in the Ascendent of a Revolution, it presages great danger of death unto the Native in that year.

Eclipsis ☉, in quovis loco ubi fuerit ☋, in radice, si fuerit in eodem gradu, eo anno natus ille morietur. Si autem prope gradum illum, venict in periculum Mortis. Schoner.

4. An Eclipse of the Sun in the place of ☋ in the Radix, happening in the very same degree, declares the Native shall die in that year: but if it happen to be near the same degree, he will be onely in great danger of death.

5. An Eclipse in any of the Angles of the Radix, chiefly in the Ascendent, in the very degree thereof, threatens great danger of death unto the Native.

6. VVhen ♄ in a Nativity shall be in a fiery Signe, and the Significator of life in a VVatry or Earthy, and both these in Opposition in a Revolution, it denotes in that year danger of death unto the Native.

7. The Lord of the Ascendent afflicted of evil Planets in the eighth House of a Revolution, denotes danger unto the Native in that year. If the Luminaries are in Opposition at the same time, or in Oppsition to the Lord of the Ascendent, it portends the death of the Native.

8. Good Planets in Conjunction with the Moon or Lord of the Ascendent in the eighth, denotes gain unto the Native by Inheritances, or by Wills and Legacies of persons deceased; sometimes a rich dowry with a VVife. If they be in ✶ or △ (from good parts of the Figure) with good Planets, chiefly if it happen that the Lord of the eighth be a good Planet, it then portends the same to the Native.

9. The Lord of the eighth and fourth in the Radix in ☌ or □ of the Lord of the Ascendent in the Revolution, portends unto the Native danger of death in that year; if they afflict the Lord of the second after the same manner, it denotes much loss of Substance to the Native in that year, by VVills, Legacies, &c.

10. When the Ascendent of the Revolution shall be the eighth in the Radix, it denotes great peril of death in that year: If the sixth of the Radix shall ascend in the Revolution, it will be a sickly year.

11. The Sun and Saturn in Opposition from the second and eighth Houses of a Revolution, denote unto the Native death in that year. And this was verified in the Nativity of Sir John Reynolds, who was the late English General in Flanders.

12. When the Significators of Life shall be corporally afflicted of the Malefiques in an Angle, chiefly in the seventh House, they denote great danger of death unto the Native in that year. If the Sun and Saturn shall be in Quartile from the fourth and first Houses, they portend the same. And this shall serve for the eighth House of a Revolutional Figure.

SUBSECT. 9.

Of the ninth House in a Revolution.

We are to take notie of this House for the Journies of the Native, his good Inclinations to Honesty and Religion, &c. And the Rules proper hereunto are these, viz.

1. The Sun, Moon, and Part of Fortune, or Dragons Head in the ninth of a Revolution, denotes Journies or Voyages to the Native in that year.

Pars fortunæ, dominus anni, vel Caput Draconis in nona, dant Utile iter. Argol.

2. The Part of Fortune, Lord of the year, or head of the Dragon in the ninth House, portends profitable Journies to the Native in that year.

3. The Lord of the Ascendent of the Radix, or of the Revolution in the third or ninth Houses, denotes in that year Journies to the Native. Many Planets in the third or ninth, presages the same; chiefly, in a moveable Signe there.

Dominus Ascendentis revolutionis in quarta, significat, quod Natus non faciet iter. Schoner.

4. The Lord of the Ascendent of the Revolution in the fourth House, declares that the Native shall not go many Journies in that year.

5. When in the Radix there shall be a Peregrine Planet in the Ascendent, and the same Planet shall be found in a Revolution in the ninth House, it portends Journies unto the Native in that year.

6. The Lord of the second of the Radix in the ninth of the Revolution, shews the Native shall undertake many Journies by reason of riches and gaine.

Dominus noniæ in duodecima, parvam utilitatem portendit in longis itineribus. Schonerus. fol. 202. de Rev.

7. When the Lord of the ninth shall be in the twelfth of a Revolution, it portends but small profit in that year unto the Native by long Journies.

8. If the Lord of the tenth shall be in the ninth House of a Revolution, it discerns Journies for great persons, or by reason of honour; or for some Office or Preferment.

9. The Lord of the eleventh in the ninth House of a Revolution, portends Voyages by reason of Friends, or sometimes to attain his own hopes or expectations.

10. The Ascendent of a Revolution to the radical place of the Moon, inclines the Native to go Journies in that year; According to Argol, who saith, Ascendens revolutionis ad locum Lunæ, inclinat ad itinera. lib. 3. fol. 246.

11. When Jupiter shall be Lord of a year, or Revolution, and Combust of the Sun, it portends much damage to the Native by Law or Lawyers; or by means of Religion, or religious Men. But if Jupiter be well dignified, he he then inclines the Native to follow honesty, and good moral Principles, and makes him honored in that year for his religions sake; say the same of the rest of the Planets, with regard had to their natures.

12. Jupiter in Opposition of Mars, or in Conjunction of the Dragons Tayl in the ninth, turns the Native to desperate Atheism and Blasphemy in that year: but if he be in Opposition of Saturn from the ninth, it makes him rigid and censorious, evil-minded; neither will he be fortunate in travel, if any of these happen.

13. Jupiter, Venus and Caput Draconis locally placed in the ninth House, fortunates the Native in his Journies that year; and propends him to honesty and religion, and to follow good and peaceable Actions.

14. When that Planet that was Lord of the ninth in the Radix, shall be Combust of the Sun, or afflicted of the unfortunate Planets, it portends that the Native in that year shall receive much loss by Journies, or Sea-Voyages.

15. Luna in the ninth or third Houses (of a Revolution) applying to the place of Jupiter, denotes Journies by Water unto the Native in that year. And this shall suffice for the Judgment of the ninth House of a Revolution.

SUBSECT. 10.

Of the tenth House of a Revolution.

The Magistery and Profession of the Native, as also his Honour, Dignity and Preferment, together with the state and condition of the Mother, is discovered by the tenth House of a Revolution. And the Aphorisms relating hereunto are these, viz.

Quando Ascendens revolutionis pervenerit ad signum 10. radicis, natus eo anno magisterium renovabit suum. Schon.

1. VVhen the Ascendent of a Revolution shall come to the Signe of the tenth in the Radix, the Native in that year shall renew his Magistery or Profession, (i. e.) he shall gaine new acquaintance, and (as it were) begin to thrive afresh on it.

2. Jupiter, Venus or the Dragons Head in the tenth House, makes the Native famous in his Profession, gives him great gaine therein, gives him some eminent Office or Preferment in the place wherein he lives in that year; it mightily augments unto his Credit or Reputation in all things.

3. If Mars shall be in Quartile or Opposition of the Ascendent of the Radix, or of his Lord, it portends many labours and difficulties, and loss of Trade, &c. If Mars shall be in the tenth of a Revolution, it portends dangers from Magistrates, or Men in Power, loss of Preferment or Office, &c.

Dominus M. C. in Ascendente revolutionis, significat nato annum honorificum. Schoner.

4. The Lord of the Mid-Heaven of a Revolution in the Ascendent, portends Honour and Preferment unto the Native in that year.

5. VVhen the Sun, Moon, Lord of the Ascendent, &c. shall be in good Aspect with the Lord of the tenth, or well dignified in the tenth House of a Revolution, the Native in that year shall attain unto a great degree of Preferment; and if he be a Mechanique, shall thrive well in his Trade or Profession.

In Ascendente, vel M. C. stella regia fixa, dat Honores extra Nati conditionem, præsertim cum auxilio Jovis, aut Veneris. Argol. lib. 3. cap. 29.

6. Kingly fixed Stars in the Ascendent or Mid-heaven, (of a Revolution) denotes Honours and Preferment unto the Native in that year beyond his Condition or Expectation; chiefly, when they shall be assisted with the friendly Rays of Jupiter or Venus.

4. Planetæ benefici in Medio Cœli, semper tribuunt honores. When in a Revolution the beneficial Planets are in the tenth House, they alwayes portend Honours unto the Native.

8. The Lord of the Tenth of a Revolution in the eighth House, presages fears and sorrows, &c. unto the Native from Princes and great Persons. Also danger to his Mother.

9. Mars, Mercury and Venus (being the proper significators of Trade) afflicted in a Revolution, denotes much labour, sorrow and difficulty unto the Native in his Profession or imployment in that yeer.

Malefici aspicientes quadrato aut opposito Solem, Jovem, vel M. C. vel dominum M. C. semper sunt obnoxii honoribus.

10. The Malevolent Planets beholding the Sun, Jove, the Lord of the Mid-heaven, or the Mid-heaven it self, by □ or ☍; such Configurations are alwayes found obnoxious to the Natives honour and Preferment. The like also to his Trade or Employment.

11. The Sun in Opposition of the Moon in a Revolutional Figure, denotes much prejudice to the Native in that yeer by reason of Women and vulgar People among whom he shall live.

Cometam in M. C. tam radicis quam revolutionis, si ☉ vel ☍ aspexerit, eo anno natus ad dominum, aut ad magnam dignitatem perveniet. Schoner.

12. A Comet (or an Eclipse) happening in the Mid-heaven, as well of the Radix as the Revolution, and Sol or Mars beholding the same, portends that the Native in that yeer shall come unto great Dignity and Preferment.

13. When the Lord of the Tenth shall be afflicted of the Lord of the Fifth in a Revolution, which is the Eighth from the Tenth, it portends the death of the Mother in that yeer; if of the Lord of the Third, she will be much subject unto sickness in that yeer. And Schoner saith: Mars & Saturnus in decimâ, mortem Matri minantur: Mars and Saturn in the tenth House (of a Revolution) threatens the death of the Mother.

14. The Moon in the Fourth with Saturn or Mars, declares evil to the Life of the Mother in that yeer. Always many (unhappy) misfortunes.

☽ & ♀ in 7. in □ aut ☍ ♄, mala Matri decernunt.

15. The Moon and Venus in the seventh House, in Quartile or Opposition of Saturn, denote evil to befal the Natives Mother in that yeer.

16. The Moon, Venus, and Lord of the Tenth well affected in a Revolution, shews the good state of the Mother in that yeer. Ill affected, the contrary.

17. The Agreement of the Native with his Mother, is known from the friendly configuration of the Lord of the Ascendent to the Lord of the tenth, or their Reception by House or Exaltation. And their disagreement, from their evil Aspects is discovered. And thus much for the Judgements belonging to the tenth House of a Revolution.

SUBSECT. 11.

Of the eleventh House of a Revolution.

Undecima domus significat amicos, & socios, &c.

The eleventh House signifies the Friends and Acquaintance of the Native, as also his hopes, &c. And by these Rules following, you may discover what is necessary to be known of or belonging to them.

1. If Jupiter or Venus shall be in the eleventh House of a Revolution, they portend many eminent new Friends unto the Native; and if they happen to be well dignified there, they will prove prosperous and happy Acquaintance unto him.

2. Mars Lord of the Ascendent of the Revolution, irradiating the Fifth or Eleventh with good Aspect, denotes the Native to have pleasure and and delight in his Friends and Acquaintance in that yeer; it declares them to be favourers of his good, and persons whom he may confide in. Venus domina undecimæ in utraq; Figura fortunata, idem significat, (i.e.) Venus Lady of the eleventh House, in both the Figure of the Radix, and the Nativity also, and fortunate, signifies the same.

Stellæ benefi-cæ in Undecima, vel aspicientes undecimam beneficio radio, bona pollicentur ab amicis, & speratarum rerum consequutionem. Argol.

3. Beneficial Stars in the eleventh House of a Revolution, or beholding the same with a friendly Ray, declares much good unto the Native from Friends, and an obtaining of those things he shall hope for.

4. The Lord of the eleventh House fortunated of the Benevolent Planets, and free from the unfortunate Beams of the Malefiques, denotes many Friends unto the Native in that yeer, and they shall be helpful unto him.

5. The Lord of the Ascendent in good Aspect of the Lord of the eleventh in a Revolution, gives the Native much joy and pleasure with his Friends in that yeer: if the Lord of the Ascendent behold the eleventh, or the Lord of the eleventh the Ascendent, it prenotes the same.

6. The Dragons Head in the eleventh House, and the Luminaries casting their Trines or Sextiles thereunto, declares many Friends unto the Native, and signifies he shall obtain the end of his hopes.

7. The Infortunes afflicting the eleventh House, either by Body or Aspect, declares the unstedfastess and falseness of Friends and shews the Native shall be frustrated in the end of his Hopes.

8. The Dragons Tayl found in the Eleventh of the Radix, or of the Revolution, portends perfidious Friends unto the Native in that yeer, and bids him beware whom he trusteth. Say the same, if you finde Cauda afflict the Lord of the Eleventh in a Revolution.

Qualitas amicorum habetur ex qualitate domini domus 11. & qualitate Planetarum qui fuerint in 11. &c. Argol.

9. The quality of Friends is known from the quality (and signification) of the Lord of the eleventh House, and of those Planets which shall be found therein, or have any good Aspect thereunto.

10. If Saturn be Lord of the Eleventh, &c. then will the Native be bettered by ancient Friends, &c. If Jupiter, by Church-men, Lawyers, Gentlemen, &c. If Mars, by Souldiers, and all kinde of Martial Men. If Sol, by Emperours, Kings, Princes, Governours, Magistrates, &c. If Venus, by VVomen generally. If Mercury, by Clerks, Atturneys and Scholars, &c. If Luna, by the Plebeians or vulgar People. And this may serve for the Judgement of the eleventh House.

SUBSECT. 12.

Of the twelfth House in a Revolution.

Duodecima domus significat inimicos occultos, &c.

Hence is known the private Enemies of the Native, their strength or weakness; The Natives danger of Imprisonment, or freedom from it: and you may judge thereof by these Rules.

1. Benevolent Planets in the twelfth House, shew powerful Enemies, and such as will prevail against the Native: Malevolent Planets there, declares Enemies of a more dejected or abject condition; and the Native (if other testimonies concur) may overcome them.

2. Capricorn or Aquary in the twelfth House of a Revolution, and Saturn (who is Lord thereof) in the seventh, declares the Natives private Enemies to be publickly known and discovered.

3. The Head of the Dragon in the twelfth, shews the Native to have powerful Enemies; the Tayl of the Dragon there, shews them to be weak, and such as may grin and shew their teeth, but dare not bite; chiefly, if the Tayl be with Mars.

4. All

Omnes Planetæ in duodecima, tribuunt inimicos, &c.

4. All the Planets in the twelfth House of a Revolution, declare Enemies; and you may judge of their strength and quality, according to their disposition and dignity.

5. Mercury or Mars Lord of the twelfth, in □ or ☌ to the Ascendent, denotes the Native in that yeer to be pestred with Knaves and Thieves.

6. The Lord of the Ascendent, and the Lord of the twelfth in □ or ☌, and the Lord of the twelfth ♄ or ♂, the Native in that yeer will alwayes be perplexed with knavish and treacherous Enemies.

7. When the Lord of the Ascendent shall be posited in the twelfth House, and Combust of the Sun; or in ☌ to the Lord of the twelfth in the sixth House, the Native shall hardly escape imprisonment or restraint in that yeer, by the meanes of his private Enemies.

8. The Lord of the twelfth and seventh Houses in ☌ to the ☉ and ☽, and Lord of the Ascendent in a Revolution, declares great danger unto the Native by reason of his private Enemies.

9. The Lord of the twelfth and of the tenth Houses afflicting (by Body or evil Aspect) the Lord of the Ascendent and ☽, denotes not onely danger of imprisonment, but banishment that yeer unto the Native.

10. The significators in ✶ or △ unto each other, from good Houses of the Figure, denotes an agreement between the Native and his Enemies in that yeer, and shews him not to be in any danger of them.

11. When the Lord of the Ascendent shall be stronger and a more ponderous Planet then the Lord of the twelfth, the Native shall in that yeer overcome his Enemies: But if the Lord of the twelfth be strongest, &c. the Enemies will overcome.

12. Although Benevolent Planets portend powerful Enemies by being placed in the twelfth, yet they denote good to the Native in great Beasts; And ill, the contrary. And thus much for the twelfth House of a Revolution, And for the first Section.

SECT. 2.

Of the seven Planets, their returns to their own, and the places of other Planets in a Revolution.

SUBSECT. 1.

Of Saturn's Return, &c.

1. When in a Revolution Saturn shall return to his radical place, and be well affected, he portends honour and dignity to the Native; and if he be Lord of the Ascendent or Mid-heaven in the Revolution, it will be the more excellent; he may also attain store of Substance by Land, or Inheritance, or by the means of some antient Man or Men.

2. If in a Revolution he come to the radical place of Iupiter, the Native will be fortunate both in health and Estate; he may attain honour and preferment, and the favour of great persons.

♄ ad locum ☌ bene affectus, ostendit bona à fratribus & amicis, &c. Argol.

3. When to the place of Mars, and well affected, it prenotes good from Brethren and Friends; but if ill dignified, the Native will be given to lying, will be plagued with Thieves, or turn Knave himself.

4. By coming to the place of the ☉, it denotes contentions with Magistrates, and great and eminent persons; damage to his body by sickness, weakness of sight; sometimes loss by Lands or Houses; his honour and credit is low.

5. To

5. To the place of Venus, it declares infelicity to the Wife or Mother, and makes the Native inclineable to wanton courses: he frequents evil Company; is weak (and yet fooliſh) in the exercises of Venus.

6. When to the radical place of Mercury, it denotes the Native acute and ingenious, and apt to try many inventions: but if ill dignified, the Native will then be troubled and crossed by writings, and by Mercurial Fellows.

7. If to the place of Luna, it declares much affliction of Body and Minde unto the Native; danger by Water; the Wife and Mother (if living) sustain much evil also upon such a return: and the Native is troubled with grievous Colds and Coughs, and melancholy humours: if well dignified, the contrary.

8. To the Dragons Head, it declares a time indifferent happy to the Native.

9. To the Dragons Tayl, it portends a most malicious time, and stirs up many Enemies against the Native; the whole frame of his Body is out of order; he may be in danger of poyson, or something equivalent.

10. To the Part of Fortune well dignified, it denotes encrease of gain by Saturnine Men and Things; if ill, the contrary.

SUBSECT. 2.

Of Jupiters return, &c.

1. Jupiter to the place of ♄ in the Radix, if well posited, demonstrates a Reconciliation and Peace with his Enemies, and good from his Friends; he will be fortunate in all his actions: but if they were both evilly disposed in the Radix, it shews impediments and difficulties in all things.

2. Jupiter to his own radical place, well affected, portends honour, wealth and estimation; gains the Native great acquaintance: he gets an Office, or some place of credit; sometimes, it denotes a childe.

3. When to the place of Mars, fortunately posited, the Native is fortunate with Princes, Souldiers, or all Martially disposed; good from his Brethren, and by publick negotiations and journies; if ill, the contrary.

4. If to the place of the Sun, it gives the Native honour and familiarity with Princes: but if combust or otherwise ill, it shews danger of death, or very many afflictions of body.

5. By devolving to the place of Venus in the Radix, the Native will be inclineable to mirth and pleasures, and shews an augmentation of honour and fame; he will gain both credit and profit in that yeer by women; and it denotes a prosperous and fortunate time to his children.

6. To the place of Mercury, the Native is sage and prudent, he doth all his business with discretion: he is religious, modest, and given to study: he keeps company with witty and ingenious men.

7. To the place of the Moon, it gives him health and tranquillity both of body and minde; gives him encrease of honour and wealth: he gains by vulgar people; hath a child (if capable:) his wife and he argee well.

♃ ad locum ☊, fausta adducet in honoribus, divitiis; & principum familiaritatibus, Argol.

8. Jupiter to the place of Caput Draconis, gives the Native honour, and riches, and familiarity with Princes and great persons.

9. To the Tail of the Dragon, it denotes unto the Native many difficulties and vexations in every thing.

10. To the Part of Fortune, it shews a happy and pleasant time, and gives him addition of honour and fortune.

SUBSECT. 3.
Of Mar's returns, &c.

1. The return of Mars to the place of Saturn, prenotes many impediments and hinderances to the Native; much slackness and sluggishness in his business; prejudice to him in his short and in-land journies, quarrellings, controversies, and sometimes wounds in the head or face: it also portends evil to the Father.

2. Mars coming to the place of Jove, denotes profit and gain from Kindred &c. from Lawyers, Clergy-men and Men in power; and all things usually change for the better.

3. When he is devolv'd unto his own place, it denotes profit, and sometimes preferment from Souldiers and men Martially inclined, and procures the favour of great persons to the Native: but if ill dignified, he then shews danger by Fire, and trouble and loss by Thieves.

4. When to the place of the Sun, it presages many afflictions, the anger of some Man or Men in power; sometimes restraint or captivity: the Native is much inclin'd to choler.

5. Mars unto the place of Venus, shews the Native to be lustful, and given to wantonness and a vain course of life, making himself infamous thereby: he will be troubled with the Squinancy, (chiefly, if Venus were in Taurus) apt to surfeit, and prone to Venereal exercises, whence come Diseases.

6. VVhen Mars comes to the place of Mercury, and well dignified, it shews the Native to be apt and ingenious, given to study, &c. but if ill, then is he given to lying and slandering, and to speak evil of every one: for which cause, he may suffer imprisonment and many persecutions.

7. Mars in a Revolution devolv'd to the Radical place of the Moon, inclines the Native to journies; employs him in many publick businesses for common People; chiefly, Women, &c. he will also be given to ill company and ill courses.

8. If to the Dragon's Head, it portends good to the Native by Martial Men and Things; strifes and controversies will be his pleasure and delight.

9. When to Cauda Draconis, it portends many eminent evils to befal the Native from Martial Men and Things.

10. If he come to the place of the Part of Fortune, then the Native gains by Souldiers, &c. or by dealing in Iron, Shot, Powder, or by any thing Martial.

SUBSECT. 4.
Of Venus's returns, &c.

1. Venus returning in a Revolution to the place of Saturn in the Radix, and well affected, makes the Native desirous of pleasures, and of Womens company: but he is sober and grave in his carriage and behaviour. If ill affected, he is much addicted to libidinous courses; keeps evil company, and incurs great damage thereby.

2. When to the radical place of Jupiter, the Native is vertuous, honest and religious; and yet may follow modest and lawful recreations and pleasures: he may gain by the dead, and will journey to visit his Friends and Kin-

Kindred. If Jupiter were potent in the Radix, he attains familiarity with Princes and great Persons.

3. To the place of Mars, it denotes a desire in the Native to follow Womens company: he is much prompt unto venereous exercises: he follows Taverns, Plays, Cards and Dice, and such sports; and if he be not careful, gets a surfeit.

4. Venus to the place of the Sun, gives honour, praise, delights and pleasures; as also, favours and riches from great persons, if she shall be fortunate: if unfortunate, it involves the Native in many cares and sorrows; brings to him the hate of Women and of great Persons.

5. To her own place, it shews a pleasant and happy time unto the Native, all things succeed well with him; he hath and enjoys tranquillity both of body and minde. If ill dignified, it denotes a rebatement of happiness.

6. To the place of Mercury, makes the Native to take pleasure and delight in Sciences, and in the companies of learned Men; and he may receive honor and profit thereby.

7. To the Moons place, it procures the Native favour and friendship from Women, and those of great rank and quality: it gains him the love of his Kindred, and many profitable and pleasant negotiations.

8. When to the Dragon 's Head, it denotes an encrease of delight, joy, pleasure and friendship, and makes the Native happy in all things.

9. Venus to the place of Cauda Draconis, denotes displeasure to the Native, and evil from voluptuous courses, and by following the company of lewd Women.

10. To the Part of Fortune, it declares much profit by all Venereal commodities, and from Women in general.

SUBSECT. 5.
Of Mercury's returns, &c.

1. Mercury to the place of Saturn, denotes good to the Native by Saturnine Men and Things, as by Lands, Inheritances, Edifices, &c. it procures him the love, favour and friendship of ancient persons: but if he be ill located, the Native is inclineable to knavery, baseness and lying.

2. To the radical place of Jupiter, it gives the Native encrease of knowledge, honour and profit in his Profession; sometimes, an Office, &c. makes him witty and ingenious, and gives him the favour of eminent Men.

3. When to the place of Mars, makes the Native both of evil minde and manners; inclines him to false VVritings, to Lying, Theft, Villany and Knavery; trouble in Journies, and vexation by Brethren and Kindred: but if well placed, there will be a great rebatement of those evils.

4. To the Sun 's place, and well located, it portends honour and preferment unto the Native, gains him the favour of eminent Persons: he sometimes goes of an Embassy or honourable Message: he hath great pleasure and delight in his Servants, and all belonging to his Family.

5. To the place of Venus, the Native is propense to Poesie, Musick, Eloquence, and the like; much addicted to pleasures, and to the keeping of Women company: he keeps good company, and delights to go neat.

6. Mercury to his own place, makes the Native famous by his own industry: he is honoured and preferred by the commendations of ingenious men: he gains much by Science, Merchandize; and lives friendly with his Brethren and Kindred. But if he be ill placed there, it portends the contrary.

7. To the Moons place, the Native is pestred with much business: he journeys often, and gains Friends, &c. but if ill affected, the Native loses by Women and vulgar People, and all his business goes cross and unhappily with him.

8. Mercury to the place of Caput Draconis, discerns good to the Native his Profession, and declares profit and honour unto him in all things that Mercury hath signification of.

9. Mercury to the radical place of Cauda Draconis, demonstrates many difficulties, oppositions and contentions to the Native with Mercurial Persons; loss of honour, office and preferment.

10. To the Part of Fortune, it denotes profit to the Native in Merchandizing, and in his Trade or Employment: it gains him wealth and reputation, and a great encrease of Mercurial Friends.

SUBSECT. 6.
Of Luna 's returns, &c.

1. The Moon to the place of Saturn, portends an ill habit of body, danger by water, and of Imprisonment; contention about the Estates of Persons deceased, trouble and vexation with ancient Men and Women. If well dignified, the contrary.

2. To the place of Jupiter, it presages health and tranquillity both of body and minde, fortunate Journies, the love and friendship of great ones, and encrease of riches, honour and esteem from them: if the Native be capable, he may in this yeer also have a childe.

3. To the place of Mars, it denotes a perturbation both of body and minde: it besets the Natives with wranglings, quarrels and controversies; and portends much prejudice by Martial Men and Things: he may receive injury by VVomen, and trouble from his Kindred, mischief in Travel and by Thieves. If the Moon and Mars be potent in the Revolution, it abates of the evil.

4. To the place of Sol, it threatens the displeasure and frowns of great Persons unto the Native: he will be subject to many hazards and dangers; he will be of an ill constitution of body: he will flit, and shift his Habitations; his Eye-sight will be impeded. But if the Sun be well constituted, the Native then attains honour and preferment, and is endued with a healthful body, and a tranquillous minde.

5. To the place of Venus, it demonstrates a healthful and pleasant time: he receives good from his Brethren and Kindred, and gains both pleasure and profit by negotiating for VVomen. But if Venus be ill dignified, the Native is subject to scandals, &c. by VVomens means; and he impairs the health of his body.

☽ ad locum ☿ inclinat ad itinera; si ☿ fuerit bene affectus, honores & utilia decernet ex actionibus, negotiis, &c. Argol.

6. To the place of Mercury, it inclines the Native to Journeys: and if Mercury shall be well placed, it portends honour and profit to the Native from his actions and employments, Merchandise, and the like. If ill dignified, it declares the contrary in all things.

7. The

7. The Moon to her own place in good Aspect of the Fortunes, and in an Angle, denotes a healthful body, and a quiet and peaceable minde, propitious and fortunate Journeys; but if she be ill disposed, she portends the contrary.

8. To the place of Caput Draconis, it denotes good to the Native in his credit and repute, and fortunates him among VVomen.

9. To the place of Cauda Draconis, it portends loss of Credit and Estate; and the Native will be vexed and perplexed by VVomens means.

10. To the Part of Fortune, it declares much good to the Native from VVomen, and that his Estate shall be augmented by their means.

And thus I have finished my second Section, which treats of the Returns of the Planets to their radical Places in a Revolution, and to the places of other Planets therein also.

If the Artist would be curious in finding out the particular Day of an Accident, let him draw his revolutional Figure into a Speculum, as he was taught to do that of the Radix, and take the Distance of the Significator and Promittor by the right or oblique Ascentions, and convert that into Time, by allowing a Day (or thereabout, it being the Diurnal Motion of the Sun) to a Degree of Distance, &c. by which means, with regard had to Transits, the Native may be informed of his propitious and disastrous Days, that may happen to him in the whole course of his Life. But alas! there are few Clyents so generous, as to pay an Artist for such serious pains; and few Artists there are that will attempt so noble an Enterprize, for the Honour of the Art they study and profess, unless a competent gain were annexed thereunto.

The Tables fitted for this purpose are these.

A Table

Note, when your Directions, either radical or revolutional (for this Table serveth for both in any Nativity, by converting the names of the Moneths, and making the day of the birth the first of the year) happen in a Bissextile year, you must then add one day more to February, and then your year will have 366 days in it. The Table needeth no Example; for he that can but read, may readily understand it.

The Use of these Tables.

Having drawn forth the Directions of the several Significators in your Revolution, enter with your Ark of difference into the former Table, and in the Columns of Degrees and Minutes seek the same, (but if you cannot find the same number exactly, take the next lesser, &c.) and in the common Area toward the left hand in the Colomn of Days, you have the number of Days adhering thereunto. Now, if so it should fall out, that you have more Minutes in the Ark of Direction then you finde in the Column of Minutes, &c. with the remainder enter this later Table, and that brings you to the Hours adhering unto them; which having obtained, add them unto your number of days before found, and that directs you to the hour of the day, when any Accident shall happen. Now with the number of dayes, &c. if you enter the first of these three Tables, that guides you to the day of the Month. Example.

In the Revolution for the Natives one and thirtyeth yeer currant, Chap. 43. I would know when the Ascendent came to the Sextile of Mercury by Direction

	Deg.	Min.
The Oblique Ascention of the Ascendent is----	339.	----29
The Oblique Ascention of the ✶ of ☿ ----------	356.	----18
Arke of difference	16.	49.

With 16 Deg. 49 Min. I enter the second Table; and the neereſt number unto it, is 16 Deg. 46 Min. against which, in Column of days, is 17 days. Now having 3 Minutes more, I enter the latter Table, and finde 2 Min. 40 Sec. which is neer 3 Min. and against that in the Column of Hours I finde one Hour; which tells me, that the Ascendent came to the ✶ of ☿ 17 days 1 hour after the Revolution. Now to know what day and Month it happened on, the first Table tells you (by entring with 17 days) that it was the seventeenth of Ianuary. Et sic in aliis.

And so I conclude the Doctrine of Revolutions in Nativities, and come next to the less useful (though much more magnified of many Astrologers) Judgements of Profections.

CHAP. XXXV.

Of Profections in Nativities.

SECT. 1.

What Profection is. PRofection is a moving, proceeding or going forward; and in the Doctrine of Nativities, ſignifies no more then a regular and orderly change of the Planets from one Sign to another, one yeer after another; and of the Cuſps of the Houſes (in your Nativity) out of one Sign into another, according to the ſucceſſion of Signs.

In Nativities it is threefold, viz. Annual, Menſurnal and Diurnal, (i.e.) Yearly, Monthly and Dayly.

Annual Profection. Annual Profection is by allowing one whole Signe of the Zodiack, conſiſting of thirty Degrees, to a Yeer, for your Aſcendent in the Nativity; As for Example: In the Nativity following, Scorpio aſcends, on the Eaſtern Finitor; now Sagittary ſucceeding Scorpio, ſhall be the Aſcendent of the Profectional Figure for the next yeer after the birth. And Capricorn following Sagittary, ſhall be the Aſcendent of the next yeer after that, &c.

Now as the Aſcendent is varyed, ſo are the Cuſps of the other Houſes: but you muſt remember to make their Degrees and Minutes alwayes the ſame: for you muſt know that Profections in Nativities onely vary in the Signs; as by and by ſhall appear more at large by the Table.

Menſurnal Profection. In Monthly Profections, we commonly give unto every Month after the Nativity one Sign for the Aſcendent, and ſo vary it. As in a Nativity Scorpio ariſing, that ſhall be the Aſcendent Profectional for the firſt Month after birth; and then Sagitary ſhall be the ſecond; Capricorn the third; and ſo until you have run round the twelve.

Diurnal Profection. In Dayly Profections one Signe is held to continue for the Aſcendent Profectional after birth, two dayes, three hours and fifty four Minutes; As if Scorpio (as before) ſhall aſcend at the birth, that ſhall remain the Aſcendent of the Diurnal Profection two dayes, three hours, and fifty four minutes after the birth; and then Sagittary ſhall be the Profectional Aſcendent, and ſhall remain ſo to the end of four dayes, ſeven hours, forty eighe minutes, &c. But this is a matter much more ſcrupulous then neceſſary; I ſhall therefore wave it, and come again to the Annual Profections. For there are divers Artiſts (although not of my opinion) which hold them as valid and effectual as Revolutions.

I ſhall therefore in the next place preſent you with a general Profectional Table, by which you may ſee the orderly Progreſſion and Change of the Planets, and the Cuſps of the Houſes, out of one Signe into another.

Here follows a general Table of Profections.

By this Table you may perceive, that after every twelve years the Profectional Figure is the ſame, both in reſpect of the Cuſps of the Houſes, and the places of the Planets as they are poſited therein.

For the Direction of the Significators in the Profectional Figure, it is very neceſſary you draw the Figure it ſelf into a Speculum, as you do that of the Radix; and then ſubſtracting the Significator from the Promittor, by the Right or Oblique Aſcentions, according to their diſtance in Signes, and the difference turned into time, ſhews the true time of the Significators coming to the Promittor by Profection. And for the meaſure of time herein, you muſt underſtand, that one Degree in this way of meaſure, gives 12 days, 4 hours, and 12 minutes, or thereabouts; which is the Thirtieth part of a year. But this Table expreſſeth it moſt plainly, ſo that to an indifferent capacity it needs no

Here

Here, by the first part of the Table, you are taught what Days, Hours and Minutes, the Degrees and Minutes of Distance betwixt your Significators and Promittors give; and the second part doth shew what Moneth & Day thereof the Accident thereby signified happens in. Those that have a desire, may frame a new Table of Moneths for every Nativity, and number there the days of the year more particularly, beginning with the Month and day thereof in which the Birth was; and let the day of the Moneth be the first of the Table, and so onward, until the whole year be numbred.

SECT. 2.

How to judge of Profections.

When Profections are the same with, or in Sextile or Trine to the Radix, they are the more friendly; when in Quartile or Opposition thereunto, the more inimical and dangerous, as Astrologers teach.

If the Profection (which is a lesser way of Directions) be Concordant with the Directions operating, they operate the more forcibly, be they either for good or evil; if Discordant unto them, the force of the Directions is much abated.

Profections do very neerly shew the time when a Direction initiates, or first begins to shew it self in the life of the Native, as Mr. Lilly observes: but to judge of Profections more particularly, observe the method following.

Christ. Astrol. p. 719.

SECT. 3.

What the Ascendent and Moon signifie by Profection to every House.

When to the first House, the Native is chearful; and it is a fit time to provide for all things necessary, &c.

To the second, the Native by his Industry in trading, or something equivalent, encreases his Estate.

To the third, he converses with his Kindred and religious Men, prospers in his short Journies.

To the fourth, obtains some Inheritance or Gift from his Parents; he is busied in terrene Affairs; is fearful, and in danger of Water; it bids him beware of long Journies.

To the fifth, it shews a pleasant time according to the capacity of the Native.

To the sixth, let him beware a Sickness, and the hatred of vulgar Persons; loss by ill Servants, small Cattle and Merchandise.

To the seventh, he is impatient, is injured by publick Enemies; vexed with Law-suits and Contentions; he follows VVomens Company; and sometimes is inclinable to marriage.

To the eighth, he is subject to Lies, Slanders and Treacheries; he suffers both in Body and Estate; 'tis an ill time.

To the ninth, good to Voyages and Study; it inclines him to many Curiosities.

To the tenth, he is ambitious, and attains Preferment; is conversant with eminent Persons; 'tis a gaineful time.

To the eleventh, the Native is chearful, and hath an encrease of Friends; it makes him prosperous and happy.

To the twelfth, danger of Imprisonment, troubled with private Enemies, loss by great Cattle; an ill time for dealing.

Sect.

SECT. 4.

What the Mid-heaven and Sun by Profection signifies in every House.

When the M. C. or place of Sol shall ascend in the Profectional Figure, it shews good by publique employments, by office, or attending on eminent persons, as Magistrates, &c.

To the second, the Native receives some profit or reward that was formerly promised, or he gains in his office.

To the third, the Native should now be wary and careful of malicious Neighbours, and Kindred; for this is the sixth from the tenth; and by such persons he may suffer in his reputation.

To the fourth, disagreement with Parents, his reputation is questioned, he receives affronts from lofty Neighbours.

To the fifth, he is jocund and merry, delights and rejoyces in his children, yet spends more then he gets.

To the sixth, this shews a good time for the Native to follow ordinary (but not honourable) affairs.

To the seventh, this gives honour and esteem, and brings him in favour with some worthy Woman or Women.

To the eighth, his good name is questioned, he is melancholy, subject to many Enemies and misfortunes.

To the ninth, it portends profit and honour by travel; he shall converse with Forreigners, and men of another Countrey.

To the tenth, it promiseth a successful and famous yeer, tending greatly to the Natives credit.

To the eleventh, he gains the Acquaintance of many, and obtains respect of Friends; lives credibly.

To the twelfth, detriment in reputation, loss of Friendship with persons of eminency, by backbiting-Slanders; he loses some of his Kindred.

SECT. 5.

What the Part of Fortune and second House by Profection portend in every House.

When either of these come to the first House, much wealth comes to the Native unexpectedly, and good succeis in his enterprises.

To the second, he obtains fortune long since expected, whereby he much augments his Patrimony.

To the third, by donations from his Kindred, his Estate is much bettered.

To the fourth, good from Parents, and increase by Houses, Inheritances and Buildings.

To the fifth, happiness from Friends, Negotiations, VVritings, Messages: he gains by voluptuous courses and company, by Drinking, playing at Cards and Dice.

To the sixth, gain by good Servants, and by small Cattel, as Hogs, Sheep, Coneys, Bees.

To the seventh, gain and profit by a Wife, or from VVomen of great yeers; by Suits in Law, by wrangling and opposing his publick Enemies.

To

To the eighth, profit by some person deceased, some Legacy or encrease of portion by the VVives Friends; 'tis an ill year to lend money.

To the ninth, gaine by long Journies, and by complying with religious Men and Lawyers.

To the tenth, it shews some Preferment, Office or Dignity, according to the capacity or condition of the Native.

To the eleventh, it procures the Native many good Friends, and gaine by dealing with them; as also by lending Money, his Estate will be encreased; 'tis a good time to recover debts, or to obtain any benefit from his superiours.

To the twelfth, the Native will be in danger of betraying, or committing base Acts; of loss in Estate by keeping or dealing in great Cattle.

And thus much may serve for the judging of Profections in Nativities.

Chap. XXXVI.

Of the Transits of the Planets.

THe Transit of a Planet, (so called from the Verb Transeo) is a passing or running by or over (for the word bears both) the place of another Planet in a Nativity; as also the several Angles or Aspects each Planet casteth to the several parts of the Zodiack, viz. the Sextile, Trine, Quartile and Opposition; together with the Antiscions and Contra-antiscions of them, and the several Cusps of the Figure. And these are by experience found to have great Signification in the Actions and Inclinations of each Native; and Astrologers have left these following Rules for to judge of their Operations and Effects.

1. VVhen the fortunate Planets shall transit their own places, or the places of the Luminaries, it portends good unto the Native according to their proper Significations. If in Sextile or Trine to their own, or the places of the Luminaries, it denotes good also: but coming to the Quartile or Opposition of their radical places, or of the Lights, they then signifie evil; and if those Fortunes shall be Lords of evil places of the Figure, the good they prenote will be lessened, and the evil augmented.

2. The unfortunate Planets transiting their own places, or the Places of the Luminaries, or the Quartile or Opposition of them, denotes infelicity unto the Native; trouble and perplexity in his undertakings, he is crossed in his expectations. But if they pass by the Sextiles or Trines of their own, or the places of the Luminaries, then they portend good to the Native according to their Significations.

3. The Malefical Planets transiting the places of the Benevolent, disturb and cross the Native in his business or affairs; to the Quartiles or Oppositions, the same: but to their Sextiles and Trines, (if they be dignified in those places) they are assistant to him in his undertakings.

4. The Benevolent Planets transiting the places of the Malevolents, and they Lords of good Houses in the Nativity, prenote good to the Native; to their Sextiles and Trines, he is fortunate in his Actions or undertakings; to their Quadrats and Oppositions, he meets with crosses from Persons or Things signified by those Planets.

5. Jupiter or Venus transiting the Ascendent at birth, or his Lord, portends health of Body, and peace of Mind; the same say of the Dragons Head. But Saturn or Mars passing by the same, impedites the Natives health, health, discomposes and disturbs him several dayes together. Saturn, by melancholy and trouble of minde; Mars, by Choler and Quarrels, &c.

6. The good Planets passing by the second House or his Lord, demonstrate gain and profit; and shew an apt time to receive Money, or to buy things without danger of being cheated. But the Infortunes denote loss, and vain expence of Money; and bid the Native beware whom he deals with then, and upon what tearms.

7. When the good Planets pass by the third House or his Lord, the Native may probably expect good from Brethren or Kindred, or by short Journies, &c. but the Infortunate ones, the contrary. And so of the rest of the Houses.

8. Jupiter or Venus transiting the Ascendent or his Lord by Sextile or Trine, shews the Native to be pleasant, affable and merry, and very healthful; by □ or ☍, it declares crosses and troubles with Jovial and Venerial persons. But if Saturn and Mars transit the Ascendent, or his Lord, by Sextile or Trine, it portends good to the Native: viz. Mars inclines to Generosity and freeness, to keep company with Noble-minded-Men, and such as are Martially disposed: But Saturn propends him to seriousness, Gravity and Sobriety; and he keeps company or acquaints himself with antient Men. But if they transit it by Quartile or Opposition, it presages evil and detriment to the Native. From Saturn, he is troubled with many perplexed thoughts and discontents, the Head-ach and other noxious melancholy distempers. From Mars, he is moved or stirred up to choler and passion, which apts him for Quarrels and Contentions: it sometimes declares restraint or wounds.

9. When the Benefiques transit the Mid-heaven, or his Lord, or the Part of honour and estimation, the Native receives honour, and (if the Revolution or a Direction promise it) preferment also; and gain by the favour and Friendship of great persons. The Malevolents transiting the same, denotes scandal and disgrace, and a Catastrophe of the Natives honour and preferment.

10. The Moon (being a general significator) is much to be considered in transits; if she come to the place of Saturn, or his Quartile or Opposition, the Native is melancholy, heavy and sorrowful; to his Sextile or Trine, he is grave and sober. To the place of Jupiter, or his Sextile or Trine, he is then religious, vertuous and honest, and inclinable to good thoughts and actions; to his Quartile or Opposition, the contrary. To Mars his place, or Sextile or Trine, the Native is violent, furious, rash & heady, &c. To his Quartile or Opposition, he receives much prejudice by his contentions and rashness. To the Body, Quartile or Opposition of Sol, it declares infortunacy from great persons, &c. To his Sextile or Trine, he is fortunate in his business, hath the favor of eminent persons. To the Body, Sextile or Trine of Venus, the Native is given to mirth and pleasure, to follow womens company, to haunt merry-meetings; given to Musique: but to the Quartile or Opposition, it inclines to Drunkenness, to idle and lascivious courses; and he may receive detriment by the means of women. To Mercury and to his Sextile or Trine, it makes the Native studious, gets into the knowledge and company of ingenious men; it fortunates him in his profession: to his Quartile or Opposition, he is negligent & careless of his business, averse to study, foolishly and fantastically bent; in all his matters he meets with difficulties. To the Dragons Head and Part of Fortune, it denotes good, and makes him honoured and esteemed: But to the Dragons Tayl, it signifies nothing but scandals, affronts, and disgraces.

And thus I have given a brief account of the Transits of the Planets: I might might have been more large, if I would have followed the steps of Gauricus, Schoner, Junctine, &c. But to any ingenious person, this is sufficient for to discover the fortunate from the unfortunate days in any Nativity, both in respect of Health, Estate, Friendship and Enmity, &c. And so I come to my promise in the next place, and that is, to insert a Nativity (calculated and judged by the method set down and taught in this Book) by way of Example.

CHAP. XXXVII.

How to set a Figure by the Tables of Direction following.

BEfore I come to the Nativity, I will shew here how to set a Figure by the Tables of Direction following; and it is thus: viz.

First, Get the true place of the Sun, (for he is the Basis of your work) and his Right Ascention to his true place.

Secondly, Gain the Right Ascention of Time, and add that unto the Right Ascention of the Sun; and the product (with substraction made of the Circle, if need be) gives you the Right Ascention of the Mid-Heaven.

Thirdly, Having obtained the Right Ascention of the Mid-Heaven, to gain the Oblique Ascention of the eleventh House, you are to add thirty Degrees unto it; and so by a continued addition of thirty Degrees (substracting the Circle still, if need require) you have the true Oblique Ascentions of the eleventh, twelfth, first, second, and third Houses.

Fourthly, When you have gained the Right Ascention of the Mid-Heaven, and the Oblique Ascention of the other Houses towards the Orient, you must observe the Elevation of Birth, which is the Pole of your Ascendent, and the Circles of Position of the eleventh, twelfth, second and third Houses, which agree to the Elevation of Birth; a Table of which I have inserted among the following Tables.

Fifthly, Under the Tables of Oblique Ascentions, agreeing to the several Circles of Position, you are to look for the Degrees and Minutes of the Ecliptique, answering to your Oblique Ascention of the several Houses; and then make use of the Sexagenary Table for to help you in your Equation.

Sixthly, Having so done, observe this general Rule, and you cannot fail in your operation: viz.

Take the Right and Oblique Ascentions of the next greater and lesser Ark, to the Oblique or Right Ascention of the House you seek for; and then substract the lesser Ark out of the greater; and take the difference betwixt the lesser Ark, and the Degrees of the Right or Oblique Ascention of the Cusp you look for; and work by this Analogy: As sixty (which must be your first number, if your work by the Sexagenary Table) is to the Difference of the greater and lesser Ark; so the Difference of the lesser Ark, and Right or Oblique Ascentions, is to the number or equation you seek or enquire for.

Seventhly, you must have regard to make addition and substraction of your Equation, as the Oblique Ascentions either increase or decrease; and then you cannot fail.

I will explain this, by inserting the several Operations at large, that belong to setting a Figure; and it shall be in the Example of the Nativity following. And I do it the rather, because I would Espouse the ingenious Artist to the best and most pleasant manner of calculating the Figure of Heaven for a Nativity. The Example follows. CHAP.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

A Nativity Astrologically handled.

IN the year of our Lord 1627. Decemb. 31. hor. 14. min. 26. P. M. was the Native born, neer the honourable University and Citie of Oxford, where the Pole-Arctick is elevated 51 deg. 42 min. But because no Ephemeredist-master (as ever I heard of) calculated for that place, I must reduce the Planets motions from the Equal time given by Origanus, into the Apparent; thus:

Tempus Astronomicum est die 31 Decemb. hor. 14. min. 26. P.M.
Æquat. temp. cum loc. ☉ ♍ 20 deg. circiter est 8 min. adde.
Tempus secundo modo æquat. 14 hor. 34 min.
Different. Merid. inter Francof. & Oxon. est 1 hor. 11 min. subtr.
Tempus ultimo correctum, 13 hor. 23 min. per motu ☉, ♄, ♃, ♂, ♀, ☿, & ☽ indagando.

Hence the true places of the Planets by Reduction are thus:

	Longit. Plan. deg.	min.		Lat. Plan. deg.	min.
☉	20	28	♍
♄	11	32	♎	♄ 2	9	S. A.
♃	20	23	♐	♃ 0	47	S. A.
♂	23	9	♑	♂ 1	27	S. A.
♀	28	15	♍	♀ 0	50	M. D.
☿	17	55	♍	☿ 2	20	S. A.
☊	29	4		☽ 3	31	M. D.
☽	10	52	♓

Now according to the former Rules, I set the Figure for the Nativity: viz.

	Deg.	Min.		Deg.	Min.
Ascent. Recta ☉ est	292	9
Ascent Recta Temp.	216	30
	508	39
Circul. subtr.	360	0
Ascent. Recta ☊ M. C.	148	39
adde	30
Ascent. Obliqua Dom. 11.	178	39	Lat.	32	20
adde	30
Ascent. Obliqua Dom. 12.	208	39	Lat.	47	39
adde	30
Ascent. Obliqua Ascend.	238	39	Lat.	51	42
adde	30
Ascent. Obliqua Dom. 2.	268	39	Lat.	47	39
adde	30
Ascent. Obliqua Dom. 3.	298	39	Lat.	32	20

Thus, you see, after the R. A. of the M.C. is gained, the Oblique Ascentions of the 11, 12, 1, 2, 3 Houses are obtained, by a continual Addition of 30 deg. Now to finde the several parts of the Ecliptique (according to the fifth Rule) answering hereunto, I observe this general Rule, which is the sixth before-going.

Take the Right and Oblique Ascentions of the next greater and lesser Arks to your Number; and then compute the Difference between them; and the Difference between the lesser Ark, and Right or Oblique Ascention of the Cusp you seek.

Then work by this Analogie: As 60 min. is, to the Difference of the greater and lesser Arks; so the Difference of the lesser Ark, and Right or Oblique Ascention is, to the Number you seek or enquire after: as by these Examples may more fully appear.

CHAP. XXXIX.

Of the Rectification of this Nativity.

SECT. 1.

By Accidents.

THis Nativity was Rectified by Accidents, as the most correct and certain way of all others. And those Accidents were many; but I will insert for Example two onely, and those shall be of the Ascendent, viz.

Aged { 19 yeers, in the Month August, the Native had a burning Fever and a Surfeit.
{ 24 yeers and eleven months, he married.

And these two remarkable Accidents were occasioned by the progress of the Ascendent (by Direction) to the Opposition of Mars and Sextile of Venus.

Their operations are thus.

Ascendent to the ☌ of ♂.	G.	M.	Ascend. ad ✶ Veneris.	D.	M.

Mens. August. Die 7. And then the Fever and Surfeit invaded the Native.

There are divers other Accidents that concur also with these (which I shall forbear to insert here by way of Example) as by the Collection of Directions following may appear, which verifie the Nativity fully as well as these.

Now having shewed how this Nativity agreeth with Accidents, I will in the next place examine it by----------

SECT. 2.

The Trutine of Hermes.

In this Nativity the Moon is distant from the East-Angle three Signes twenty nine Degrees fifty one Minutes; which being very neer four Signes, I enter the Table of the Mansion of the Moon with four Signes; against againſt which I finde 283, which Number informs me that the Native was ſo many dayes in his Mother's Womb. I look next in the Column of Months in the Common-yeer (becauſe the yeer of birth was ſuch) & againſt Decem. the month in which the birth was, I find 365, from which I ſubſtract 283, and the remainder is 82; with which Number, I enter the Table of months again; and againſt March I finde 90, which is 8 above my Number: I therefore ſubſtract 8 dayes from the end of March, and then the day of Conception will be found to be on March the 23 day 1625, on which day at Noon the Moon was in 0 Degrees 37 Minutes of Scorpio; which you ſee is not above ten Degrees diſtant from the Aſcendent at birth. Which proves the day of the Conception truly found.

See Chap 1. fol. 29. of this Book.

But for the hour and moment of Conception, you may (as I have in the firſt Chapter taught) find that by ſubſtracting the hours and minutes adhering to the place of the Sun in the tenth Houſe, the day of Conception, from the hours and minutes agreeing to the Moons place in the Aſcendent at birth. As for Example:

						deg.		hor. min.
The place of	☉	at	Conception	is	♈ 13	time	answering it	0 48
	☽		Birth		♓ 11		agreeing to it	17 29
							The difference is	16 41

Therefore the true moment of Conception was March the 24, 19 minutes before five a Clock in the morning; at which time the Moon was neer the Aſcendent at birth; which proves but ſmall difference between the Trutine of Hermes, and the rectification of this Nativity by Accidents.

SECT. 3.

By the Animodar of Ptolomy.

In the Ephemerides of David Origanus, on the twenty ſeventh day of December, viz. 4 days before the birth, I find there was a new ☽ celebrated in 15 Degrees of ♑. And (though ♄ be Lord of the Sign, yet) ♂ having more dignities (there) then he, will be admitted Lord of the Animodar. Now ♂ in the Nativity is in the ſeventh Houſe in 23 deg. 9 min. of ♉, and neerer the Mid-heaven then the Aſcendent; the Degrees (therefore) of the Mid-heaven ſhould be made the ſame as ♂'s are; which had been a matter very eaſie to perform. Thus you ſee alſo, that this way of Rectification cometh very neer the Truth; and indeed, theſe ways of the Animodar, and Trutine of Hermes are uſed in Childrens Nativities, and in others alſo, that have not had ſufficient Accidents to rectifie them by.

But if the Artiſt can procure Accidents from the Native, he may with greater confidence truſt unto his Rectification of the Nativity thereby, becauſe that Accidents are as ſo many knots in the Line of the Natives life, which happen unto him according to the true proportion and meaſure of time agreeing to the Ark of Direction, which is a certain diſtance between the ſignificator and Promittor cauſing it. And thus much for the Rectification of this Nativity, and for the Examples of the ſeveral wayes of rectifying any other.

BY Chap. 11. and Sect. 2. fol. 88. you are taught how to know the eſſential and accidental Dignities and Debilities of the Planets; according to which, I have drawn into this Table the Fortitudes and Debilities of the Planets in our Figure, viz.

Hence it appears, that ♄ is Almuten or Lord of the Figure, because he surmounts all the rest of the Planets in Fortitudes. Jupiter is next, he having twenty four Arguments of Strength. The Sun and Venus, and Luna are indifferently well posited. But Mercury is very weak in the Figure.

CHAP. XLI.

A brief Judgment on the twelve Houses of this Nativity.

SECT. 1.

Of the first House.

THis House giveth Judgment of the shape or description, the temperature and inclination of the Native, as is shewn in the sixth and twelfth Chapters of this Book.

The Description of the Native.

When Planets are not in the Ascendent, have regard to the fixed Stars therein, Vid. fol. 101. Aphor. 13.

First, for his shape or description; and that is discovered from the Ascendent, and the Martial and Saturnine Stars near the same; and as ♏ is the House of Mars, he is endued with a strong well-knit Body of a middle stature, somewhat Corpulent; a full broad Visage; a dark brown Hair, much much and curling; a piercing sharp Hazle Eye; a short and thick Neck; a confident Countenance, somewhat pale and swarthy. And this agrees exactly with the Description of ♏, and the Stars therein neer the Ascendent; together with ♂ his being in an earthy Signe, and Occidental.

Secondly, for his Temperature, observe these Testimonies, as you are taught in Chap. 12. Sect. 5. fol. 94. 95. His Temperature.

The Signe Ascending is	Cold and Moist.
Lord of the Ascendent	Hot and Dry.
He is posited in Taurus	Cold and Dry.
The Moon in Pisces	Cold and Moist.
In her first Quarter	Hot and Moist.
The Almuten of the Figure	Cold and Dry.
His Position in ♎	Hot and Moist.
The season of the Year	Cold and Moist.
☿ in △ to Mars from Capricorn	Cold and Dry.
♀ in △ to ♂ from ♍	Cold and Dry.
♓ in △ to ♂ from ♍	Cold and Dry.

By which Testimonies, you may perceive the Native to be melancholy Cholerique, and somewhat Phlegmatique. But to my best judgment, Choler in the Native doth much obscure his melancholy; and I conceive it is occasioned from Mars his great Dignities in the Ascendent, and the many violent fixed Stars therein; and Mars his Conjunction with the Pleiades, which are as so many Accidental Arguments, that do serve very well to help discover the Natives Temperature: yet as the Testimonies of cold (in the Collection) are the greatest, so the Native hath at some times his sufficient share of melancholy; yea, more then he cares for, as I have often heard him say.

Thirdly, his Inclination or Manners is next to be enquired after. Now, there being no Planet posited in the Ascendent, we must observe the Lord of the Ascendent, and Mercury and the Sun (because he is in Conjunction with Mercury) for the same, as is taught in Chap. 12. Sect. 6. Aphoris. 3. And according to their single and commixed Significations, the Native should be of Inclination and Manners harsh enough, and rashly resolute; yet too open and publick in his resolves, too quick and nimble in his determinations; and oftentimes by sudden and unpremeditated actions, he doth himself much prejudice: he pursues what he undertakes with boldness; cares not to receive injuries, but is very apt to revenge those that are heaped on him: he is a trusty Friend where he takes, and as real an Enemy if he have any occasion (as indeed, who is not, that hath Mars Dominus Ascendentis and Saturn Almuten of the Nativity?) offered him. His Inclination or Manners.

And certainly, were not the Moon in Trine to the Ascendent, and between the Sextiles of the Sun, Mercury and Mars, and Mars in Trine and Reception of Venus, and the Dragons Head in the House of the Moon and Exaltation of Jupiter in the ninth House, the Inclination and Manners of the Native would have been prodigiously evil; but these Testimonies declare the force of Education and Moral honesty to prevail against the fury of his natural inclination. They also incline him to company-keeping, and afford him great delight therein.

Fourthly, the life of the Native cannot be very short, because the Ascendent is not vitiated, neither is the light of the time afflicted; nor is the Moon in evil Aspect of the Infortunes, or in Conjunction of them in the sixth, eighth or twelfth Houses of the Figure: but she beholds the Ascendent with a △ from an Angle, and is going to a ✶ of the Lord of the same, Of the length of the Natives life.

who is posited in her Exaltation; the Native therefore may live past his infancy or younger years, according to the Canons of Astrologie; as you may read in Chap. 12. Sect. 1. of this Book: and indeed so he hath.

Who is Hylech, or giver of life?

Fifthly, the birth (you see) is Nocturnal, and the Moon is sub terra, and therefore cannot be in an Aphetical place, and so no ways qualified for being Hylech. The ☉ cannot be giver of Life, if he were (but here he is not) in an Aphetical place, because the Birth is Nocturnal. The Ascendent therefore, according to the twelfth Chapter, and the second Section, is to be admitted as the Hylech or giver of Life in this Nativity; and the Ascendent being no way afflicted, but friendly beheld by the Moon, declares the Native to be of no very short life, as before.

Who is Alchocoden in this Nativity?

Sixthly, Mars having most Dignities in the Ascendent, (who is Hylech) may by Chap. 12. Sect. 3. be admitted Alchocoden, or the giver of years in this Nativity. But ♂ Mars not being essentially dignified, yet in ♂ with Pleiades, and in an Angle, may and doth denote (according to the Arabick Doctrine) that our Native may live at the least his mean years, viz. 45. as is known by the Table, fol. 92.

Who is Almuten of the Figure.

Seventhly, by the Table beforegoing, you may finde ♄ to be Almuten of the Figure, as having most Dignities in the whole Scheme. But ♃ will share with him, because he hath neer as many Arguments of strength as he; therefore according to Chap. 12. Sect. 5. ♃ and ♄ bear the greatest share in the Natives inclination and temperature, as I have shewed in the third particular.

Of the Natives understanding.

Eighthly, Mercury being Combust, argues a mean understanding; but he being in ✶ of ☽, who is Lady of the ninth, and in △ of ♂ who is Lord of the Ascendent, according to Chap. 12. Sect. 9. argues the Native to have an indifferent quick and searching Fancy; and the rather, because ☿ is in the third House. And (according to Aphorisme 6. in the Chapter and Section aforesaid) by his position under the Earth, the Native is inclinable to Arts and Sciences: (and this the Native hath confessed to be true) therefore his Combustion of the Sun, shall rather impede his Speech and Memory, then any way shorten his understanding, or abate the strength of his Phancy; and this I know it doth do.

SECT. 2.
Of the second House.

Of the Natives Estate.

According to Chap. 13. and Sect. 2. the Native should have and possess an ample Fortune. And according to Sect. 4. Aphoris. 2. if the Lord of the second be in the second, it always declares riches to the Native: and according to the Natives own confession, he hath never been driven to an absolute want, nor as yet hath he abounded much in riches: and the reason for these Aphorisms not exactly taking place, I presume is this: Saturn is superior to Jupiter in the Figure, and is exalted above him, and therefore (for a time) abates his good Significations. Besides, I remember a Rule of Johannes Angelus, which saith; He who hath ♄ posited in the eleventh of his Nativity, shall not attain to any Dignity or Estate, until he have passed the thirtieth year of his Age. And ♃ and the Part of Fortune also are in the North part of the Figure; which denotes the height of the Natives felicity and happiness to happen unto him in the later part of his age. Thus you see the Adage made good: There is no General, but admits of Exception.

By what means may the Native thrive?

Jupiter and Part of Fortune in the second House, shews a good Patrimony, mony shall advance him, or some publick Office or Preferment. And the Moon being in □ to ♃, and he her Dispositor, and in a very small Reception with her, shews rather that the Native may advance himself by dealing for common or vulgar people, or by Arts and Sciences, because the ☽ is also in ✶ of ☿ under the Earth. Most certainly, by dealing in the later in his younger years, the Native may best thrive: But in his elder or later age, he will be advantaged by by some Inheritance, Office or Preferment, which will not prove inconsiderable: for, I should much wonder if the position of ♃ in ♐ in the second, should pass away without bringing some such thing to pass.

The Native hath confessed unto me, that in his younger years, (that is to say, betwen twenty five and thirty) he hath benefited himself by studying Arts, &c. and that he hath hopes also of better and more signal advantages every day more then other. And I am sure the Nativity (in a general way) promiseth no less.

SECT. 3.
Of the third House.

Three Planets in the third House, (viz. ☉, ☿ and ♀,) declares the various Dispositions and affections of the Brethren and Kindred of the Native toward him; and shews the Native propense to study, and to take short Journies, sometimes for pleasures sake. But the presence of the Dragons Tayl in the second House, denotes many quarrels and dissentions between the Native, and his Brethren and Kindred: for you must know, that Cauda Draconis infortunat domum ubi invenitur, the Tayl of the Dragon infortunates that House wheresoever he is found.

Of the Natives agreements and disagreement with his Brethren, Sisters & Kindred See Chap. 6. Sect. 3.

The Native confesseth that he hath had many unhappy differences with his Brethren, Sisters and Kindred; and hath been cheated and cozened by them to purpose; and that he doth many times take short Journies for his pleasure, and is also (as was hinted before) propense to study.

Of the condition of the Brethren and Sisters, &c.

By Chap. 14. Sect. 3. we seek after the knowledge of the condition of the Natives Brethren and Sisters. ♄ Lord of the third is essentially fortified, but the three Planets in the third House are not very potent; especially ☿, who is a general Significator of them: therefore we may conclude (finding some good Signification, and some bad) that the Condition and Estate of the Natives Brethren and Sisters will be moderate, that is, not very splendid, nor very poor. And this also the Native acknowledgeth to be so.

SECT. 4.
Of the fourth House.

Shall the Native agree with his Father? See Cap. 15. Sect. 2.

The Native and his Father may agree indifferently well, because the Lord of the Ascendent and the Sun (a general Significator of Fathers) are in △ unto each other, and the Moon is going to the ✶ of them both; and it is most true, that generally they agree well enough.

Shall the Native enjoy his Fathers Estate?

I must for the resolution of this Question look to the fifteenth Chapter, and the third Section; and really, by comparing it with the Figure, I cannot find any hopes thereof; for the fourth House is not fortified by the presence of any benevolent Planet, neither is the Lord of the Ascendent, and Lord of the Fourth in Reception or good Aspect: it is true, ♃ doth doth cast a ✶ to the Cusp of the Fourth; but ♂ Lord of the third from the fourth, casts a □ thereunto; which may intimate thus much: That the Native might be born to an Inheritance, but will hardly attain it; and if ever, with difficulty: for ♃ Lord of the third from the fourth, declares that a Brother of the Natives Father shall obstruct and hinder him, and do much prejudice to his Father also; for 'tis a □ from fixed Signes that he casts unto the Cusp of the fourth, viz. the most malicious of all other.

The Native hath seriously acknowledged that he was born to 80 l. per annum, which by a Trepan (too long to relate here) his Father was necessitated to part with; and this when the Native was a Child, and uncapable. And the Knavery was acted by a Brother of the Natives Father; as Mars, Lord of the third from the fourth, denotes; who holdeth part of the same to this day; so that there is no hopes of regaining it.

SECT. 5.
Of the Fifth House.

Shall the Native have children?

Here you see the Cusp of the Fifth is a Fruitful Signe, and so is the Ascendent; and the Moon is posited in Pisces, the Signe of the Fifth, beholding the Ascendent with a perfect Trine. Whence it results, That there is a possibility of the Natives having Children.

Shall they be long liv'd? See Chap. 16. Sect. 2.

The Lord of the Fifth is strong and potent enough, and might therefore denote long Life to the Natives Children; but the Moon being in Quartile unto him, and Venus afflicted corporally of the Dragons Tayl, and Mercury afflicted by Combustion, destroyes that hopes, and portends that the Natives Children shall live but a little while.

The Native hath confessed that (as yet) he hath had but one Child, and that was a son; and he lived but a yeer and a half, and then died.

SECT. 6.
Of the Sixth House.

What Diseases the Native is most subject to?

The Sun, Mercury and Venus cast a Quartile to the Cusp of the sixth House, which is Aries; and Saturn casts an Opposition thither (a place he much hates) which presages great pains in the head, that the Native should be most commonly afflicted with; but Jupiter casting a Trine to Aries, even to the Degree of the sixth House, doth much good, and thereby declares, that Nature may be assisted by Medicine, before the disease can do much harm; as also the Trine of the Lord of the sixth, with the Sun, Mercury and Venus: but as Mars is both Lord of the sixth, and the Ascendent, which is Scorpio, and in Taurus, the Native will be subject to surfeits, and the Stone in the Reines or Kidneyes, with wind and corruption of Blood, the Ptisique, &c. as may be seen by Chap. 17. Sect. 3. fol. 123 and 125. for the remedy whereof, let him use herbs of Jupiter, for [He] will prove the best Physician.

The Native acknowledgeth that he is much subject to the Head-ach, and to surfeits, and also to the Stone in the Reines, &c. and to windy and flatuous humours; and is many times afflicted with the Ptisique, but is easily recovered again.

What shall his servants prove?

Mercury, a general significator of Servants, is Retrograde and Combust, and (according to Chap. 17. Sect. 7.) presages the Servants of the Native to be theevish, and shews they shall deceive him; and Mars Lord of the sixth in Opposition to the Ascendent, denotes the same. But Jupiter casting a Trine to the sixth House, and the Moon in Sextile with Mars and Mercury, shews they cannot do him much injury before they be discover'd.

The Native confesseth he hath had several servants, and yet never had but one that was honest and true to him; but before they did him much harm, he still had the good fortune to discover them.

SECT. 7.
Of the Seventh House.

Of the Natives marriage, and agreement with his wife, &c.

The Lord of the Ascendent in the seventh, and in Trine to Venus Governes of the seventh, declares a propensity or desire in the Native to marry, and shews also that he will put that desire into act. According to Chap. 18. Sect. 1. Aphor. 5. And the Lord of the Ascendent and the Moon in Reception and her transferring the Light of the Lord of the Ascendent to the Lady of the seventh, presages the same.

The Lord of the Ascendent and seventh in Trine, and in reception also, declares a very friendly harmony and agreement, between the Native and his wife; and the Moon in the dignities of Venus, viz. her Exaltation, the same; as is to be learned from Chap. 18. Sect. 4.

The Native is marryed, as by the Direction of the Ascendent to the Sextile of Venus beforegoing, appeareth. And he informeth me that he and his wife agree very well indeed, and are rarely known to jar or fall at odds.

Of the Natives publique Enemies.

Mars locally in the seventh, denotes the Native to be pestered with publick Enemies; but the Lord of the Ascendent being in Trine with the Lady of the seventh, and by reception also, shews the malice of his Enemies will do him the lesser hurt: the chief Enemies he shall meet with, will be of his own Kindred and Relations, because Venus Lady of the seventh is in Conjunction with the Dragons Tayl in the third House. But because the Lord of the Ascendent is Angular, and Venus is Cadent, according to Sect. 6. Aphor. 4. the Native shall overcome his Adversaries, and they shall not prevail against him.

It is acknowledged by the Native, that he is disturbed by publique Enemies, and they are chiefly those of his own Relations; but he saith, they have injured themselves by endeavouring to prejudice him, and could never prevail against him [yet] in any of their enterprises.

SECT. 8.
Of the Eighth House.

What kind of death shall the Native die?

According to Chap. 19. Sect. 3. the Native should die a natural Death; because the Lord of the Ascendent and Lord of the Eighth are in Trine to each other, and the Moon is in good Aspect of them both. Venus her being in Trine by Reception with the Lord of the Ascendent, denotes the same.

The kinde of death he may be subject unto, may possibly prove a Fever, attended with a Ptisique, and some sharp inflammations; because Mercury is Lord of the Eighth, and Combust of the Sun, and Retrograde, in the Exaltation of Mars, who is Lord of the sixth and Ascendent. And this shall serve for the Judgement of the Eighth House.

SECT.

SECT. 9.
Of the ninth House.

Shall the Native travel?

The ninth House taketh notice of long Journies, or Voyages beyond Sea; and by barely looking upon the Cusp of the ninth, one might at first judge the Native would travel, that is to say, Voyage into another Country or Nation: but if obscure, the Moon who is Governess of the ninth, and in an Angle, in Trine of the Ascendent; and the Ascendent and his Lord both fixed, and the other two Angles also, I dare affirme the Native will not travel out of his own Country. The Native confesseth he hath oftentimes been importuned thereunto, but would never consent; neither doth he intend any such thing.

Of the Natives Religion.

It would be strange if the Native should not be religious, (or at least of as honest a principle, as any professing Religion) he having the Head of the Dragon in the ninth House, in the Exaltation of ♃, and the Moon who is Lady of the ninth beholds the Ascendent: but as the Moon is in □ to ♃, it denotes much mischief to happen to the Native by the means of religious Men, &c.

The Native confesseth that about the twenty second year of his age, he haunted the Congregations of the Presbyterians in London to purpose; and continued very zealous among them, until (by their preaching of that prodigious and uncomfortable Doctrine of Predestination unto eternal misery) they had made him (almost) mad, and driven him even to the very Gates of Desperation; insomuch, that he sometimes concluded himself damn'd, because he could not find in himself those signes and tokens of Gods Love and Favour, that they so often prated of. Now, in the Table of Directions following, you may observe, that the Native had in the twenty second year of his age, the Mid-heaven directed to the □ of ♃, which very well portends prejudice by religious Tenets, or at least, those that are presumed to be so, although they have nothing of true Religion in them.

Of the Natives Dreams.

The Dreams of the Native should prove most commonly true, by reason of the position of ☽ in the ninth House, and the Governess of the ninth beholding both the ninth and Ascendent with a △.

I have heard the Native to confess, that divers times he hath been forewarned in his sleep by Dreames, of both good and evil, that hath afterwards succeded unto him.

SECT. 10.
Of the tenth House.

Of the Natives honour and preferments.

Cor Leonis, the Heart of the Lyon, a kingly fixed Star culminating; and ♃ beholding the Mid-heaven with a △ from ♐ in the second House; and the Suns △ to ♂ Lord of the Ascendent, are all of them Testimonies of honour and preferment. But ♂ casting a □ to the tenth House, and ♄ Lord of the fourth in platique □ with ☉ Lord of the M. C. and ☿ Combust of ☉, and Retrograde, and the ☽ in □ of ♃, do plainly declare the Native to be an Enemy unto his own preferment; and shews him to be slack and remiss in seeking of honour. Indeed, the □ that ♂ casteth to the tenth from ♉, a rugged and fixed Signe, denotes him to be of the Satyrists Mind and Spirit: ——

He

He cannot bear't to run himself in Debt
To hire the Groom, to bid the Page intreat
Some favour'd Follower to vouchsafe his word
To get him some cold Comfort from his Lord!
He cannot sooth [though it his life should save]
Each Favorite, nor crouch to every Knave.

Geo. Withers.

He seriously protests, the great reason why he hath no more honour and preferment, according to the best of his judgment, is, because he hath always detested and hated the Art of Flattery and Dissimulation; the onely stairs, by which all persons ascend to places of honour and preferment.

SECT. 11.
Of the eleventh House.

Of the Natives Friends and hopes.

The Lord of the eleventh is Combust, Cadent and Retrograde; and ♄ in the eleventh, in □ to the Lord thereof, denotes the Friends of the Native to be but few; and those he hath, or may have, not much to be credited, or depended on; his hopes and expectations may be in danger of sinking also: but as ☿, Lord of the eleventh, is in △ to ♂, Lord of the Ascendent, he may obtain the friendship of some Persons, who shall rather desire it for their own advantage, then for any real respect or good meaning they shall have to him.

He confesseth he hath had divers pretended Friends, but never above one that was real to him, or that he might put confidence in, or depend on, or give credit to: and for his expectations and hopes, he remembreth not but he was always deceived or deluded therein. He saith also, That divers have pretended friendship and respect unto him; but he hath proved that their highest pretences have onely hung upon the Hinge of by-respect, or selfe-advantage, and not upon the Golden string of Love or Good-will towards him.

SECT. 12.
Of the twelfth House.

Of the Natives private Enemies and imprisonments.

The Lady of the twelfth House, and Lord of the Ascendent in △ by reception, denote no great danger of imprisonment to the Native; and shews also, that his private Enemies shall not much prevail against him: yet as ♀ is in ♂ of ☽ in the third, it discerns the Brethren, Kindred, &c. of the Native to be the most treacherous Enemies he can meet with: but the affliction of ♀ verifies the Proverb, Curst Cows have short Horns: so although they have a great desire and will to injure and prejudice the Native, yet they have but small power, so that he need not fear them. I need not speak of other Significations of this House, because the Native is not concerned herein.

He acknowledgeth that he hath been very free from imprisonment, and never suffered above three days restraint (setting aside the time of his minority) in his life; and for his private Enemies, he never could yet come to discover any but those of his Kindred and familiar Acquaintance: but he saith also, They never prevailed against him. And thus much for a brief judgment of the twelve Houses of this Nativity: I could have been far larger; but the Native would not give consent thereunto; and I dare not publish any thing more belonging to the twelve Houses, without his leave or license. I come in the next place to the Directions of the five Hileglacals; but shall first present you with a Speculum for the Nativity, as followeth.

CHAP. XLII.

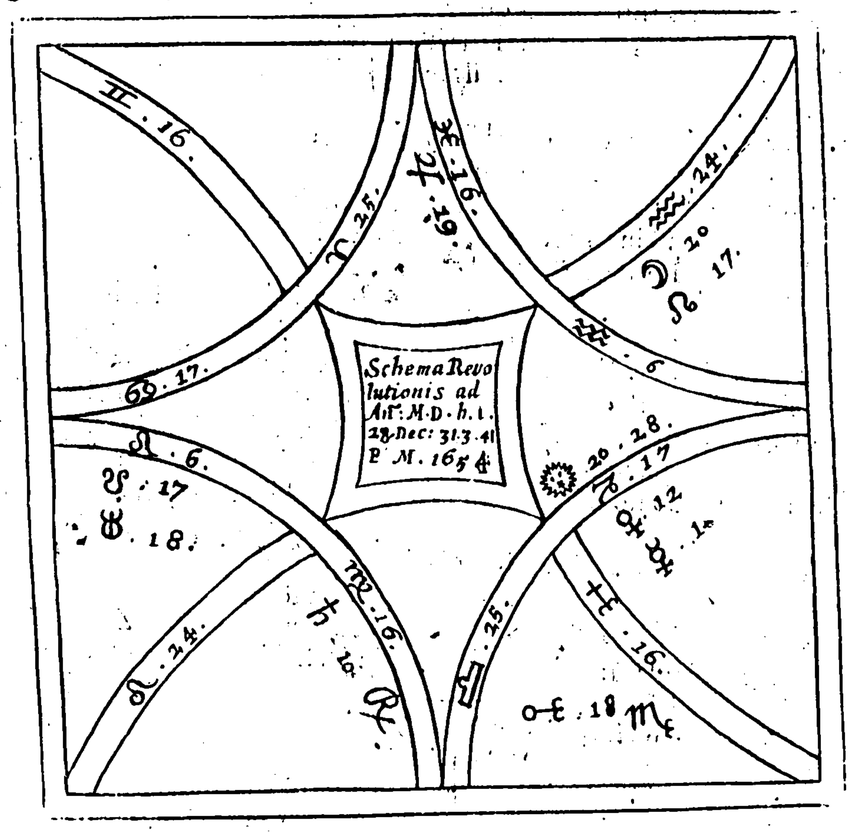

An Example of a Revolution.

IN Chap. 32. I have inserted a Table of Revolutions serving for Nativities. By which Table I would know the Revolutional Figure for the Natives eight and thirtyeth Currant; and I obtain it thus: Under Capricorn (the Sign ☉ possesses at birth) against twenty seven in the Column of yeers (for you must know, that the twenty seventh Revolution serveth for the twenty eighth yeer, because the Radix serveth for the first) I find

	hou.	min.
	13.	15.
hours and minutes of birth add	14.	26.
Summe	27.	41.
Day natural substract	24.	0.
Remainder	3.	41.

Whence it appears, the Sun comes to his Radical place (by this Table) on December the 31. 3 hou. 41 min. P. M. 1654.

The Figure is attainable as others are, as is demonstrated by the following Scheam.

A particular Judgement on this Yeer of the Natives Age.

There is no Direction operating this yeer, save the Part of Fortune ad Cauda Draconis; as you may perceive by the Speculum beforegoing. Now to know the true time of the yeer when it begins, according to Naybods measure of time, I turn the Direction into time, thus:

	deg.	min.
Ark of Direction	27.	51.
	yea.	da. ho.
Twenty seven degrees give	27.	144. 13.
Fifty one minutes give	0.	315. 0.
	27.	459. 13.
Circle substract	0.	365. 0.
	Y.	D. H.
Then the Aggregate is	28.	94. 13.

Which 94 dayes being numbred from December 31. denotes the Direction to initiate on April the fourth, 1655.

1. The Direction portends a very unsuccessful time unto the Native in his Estate and Goods of Fortune especially; and presages, many vain and idle expences make him subject to thefts, and to lose much by Martial men and things; it also denotes quarrels and controversies between the Native and his Kindred, for that it falls in the third House; chiefly, with the Female sort of them, because it falls in a Fœminine Signe, and neer the Body of Venus.

2. The Revolution concurreth in Judgement herewith; for ☽ there is afflicting the ⊕ in the second House, and ♄ Lord of the third and fourth of the Radix; but seventh, eighth, ninth, in the Revolution, opposes ♅ Lord of the second in the Radix. And the Lord of the second is in the seventh, and the Lord of the seventh in the third House ℞.

But the chief occasion from whence the mischief shall arise unto the Native, is discovered by ☽, as she is Governess of the Ascendent, and locally in the eighth, in □ to ♂ Lord of the Ascendent of the Radix in the fifth; which denotes the Native to be inquisitious after the Wills, Legacies, &c. of some persons deceased: But he will certainly lose his hopes and expectations, and spend his money, and all in a vain and frivolous manner; for the Heavens do no wayes favour or befriend him in any such thing or things this yeer.

3. But as ♅ is Lord of the Revolution, and from the Heart of Heaven beholds the Ascendent with a △, and the Sun Lord of the tenth in the Radix, with a ✶ dexter, and ♂ Lord of the Ascendent, with a △ also; the Native shall (in this yeer) notwithstanding all his losses and vexatious crosses, gain a great many eminent Acquaintance, by whose means he shall gain Reputation and Credit, and a convenient esteem in the place where he lives; by whose means he may withstand many troubles, &c.

4. And as the ninth of the Radix is the Ascendent of the Revolution, it denotes the Native to be inclinable to Study Arts and Sciences; and it may possibly put him upon some Journy, and that North-West; for the Ascendent it self is North; and ♂ Lord of the Ascendent of the Radix, is in a Northerly Sign; but the Moon in a Sign Westernly: but he will get little or nothing by it; for ♂ Quartiles the ninth.

5. Yet let him be very careful that he neither drink nor ryot to excess, (for

(for he will this year be inclinable to such courses) for the Moon is neer the Cusp of the fourth in the eighth of the Revolution, in □ to ♂ in the fifth, and that from fixed Signes; it doth indeed threaten a Surfeit or Fever, which nothing but moderation can prevent.

I shall forbear to insert a Table of the good and unfortunate days here, because the year is past; I will onely add a Verification of the Judgment of this year, because it was a year (in the Natives thoughts and opinion) very prodigious and remarkable: viz.

To the first, the Native confesseth that he was subject to many Quarrels and Controversies with his Kindred; he saith, he was at odds the same year with his Mother, went to Law with an Uncle and Sister; and was cozened and cheated by a Captain, who, for want of other employment, was his Sollicitour; and the same year, was troubled with two theevish Servants.

To the second, he acknowledgeth the occasion of his going to Law was a pretended Legacy; but he spent much Money therein, and to no purpose.

To the the third, he saith, That he came into favour that year with many eminent acquaintance, and did gaine reputation and credit by them.

To the fourth, he saith, He was much addicted to study, and that not onely to one Knowledge or Science, but many; and saith also, That he did go a Journey of fifty or sixty Miles exactly Northwest; but he confesseth he got nothing at all by it, but his labour for his pains.

To the fifth, he saith and confesseth, his health was impeded, and that by a Surfeit which he got by drinking, and he was in a diseasie condition seven weeks by reason thereof.

But the principal thing which I admire at, is this: As you see the Part of Fortunes Direction to happen on April the fourth, 1655. the same day did the Native, as he professeth to me, entertain both his Counsel and Sollicitour; which was the foundation to all the mischief and loss he underwent; and had his Nativity been calculated, it might have been prevented. Sapiens dominabitur astris.

The time of Commencement	30.	165.	0.

And that happens in the year 1658. on June the fourteenth day, just about noon. The M. C. ad △ ♀, portends great pleasure, profit and delight to the Native, abundance of new acquaintance, and makes him ambitious of honour and esteem: he hath health of Body, and peace of Mind; and all things succeed prosperously with him; and ere the Direction be over, he may have a Child. But----

The ☉ ad T. ♂, somewhat contradicts the good presignified by ♀, and adviseth the Native to beware of rash and head-strong Actions, and bids him be very cautious in his affairs. This is indeed as a cloud before the other Sun-like Direction, and may a little dim, but cannot wholly darken it: and so I come to examine the Revolution.

In the Revolution, we have the fourth of the Radix ascend, and the Lord thereof in △ to the same, from the eighth of the Figure wherein he is exalted; which intimates thus much: That the Native shall have or possess some Land or Estate, or aliquid tale, as a Gift or Legacy of some Person or Persons deceased; the return of ♀ to the radical place of ♃, Idem; and the position of ♌ in the tenth, will augment his reputation; and ♀ in the eleventh, his hopes, and procure him many Feminine Friends; and as she is Dominatrix of the third House, she portends much peace and quietness between him and his Neighbours, &c.

But here we have the ☽ and ♂ in ♂ in the second in ♈, and in ☌ to ♄, and □ to ☉ and ☿, which denotes not onely some loss of Estate, but also Controversies and Contentions with Elderly clownish People and Strangers; and possibly some diminutive trouble and cross in a Law-suit, or some Controversie; but ♀ her ✶ to ♄, and △ to ♂ and ☽, will suddenly appease appease the fury portended; as also her semi-Sextile to ☉ and ☿. Howbeit, the □ of ☉ and ♄, and ☌ of ♄ and ♂ will afflict the body of the Native with cholerick-melancholy humours, which he may enervate by good Medicine and moderate courses, as ♀ Aspects well denote.

The Return of ☿ to his place, argues some preferment; but because ☿ suffers a double evil in his Return, viz. his Combustion; and being in the twelfth House, it will be the less, and perhaps the longer deferred.

To conclude, the yeer will have much more good then evil in it, and it will be wisdom for the Native to take hold of opportunity by the fore-top; for post est occasio calva, 'tis bald behinde. And there is a storm coming, which will (in some measure) darken the Sun-shine of this (I may comparatively call it) golden yeer that glitters with so many glorious days in it; as by the following Synopsis appears.

This having done, I seek the right Ascention of the Mid-Heaven, and the Oblique Ascentions of the ☉, ☽, ⊕ and Ascendent, and direct them to their several Promittors, as is taught in the Figure of the Radix: the terms of the Planets excepted. *Morinus teaches, That we ought to direct the several Significators of the Revolution, to the Promittors of the Radix: but I have not followed him herein, because I cannot understand why the Promittors of the Radix should have any more priviledge then their Significators: for if the Significators of the Revolution ought to be directed to the Promittors of the Radix, why should not the Significators of the Radix (by the same rule) be directed to the Promittors of the Revolution?

De Planet. Revol fol. 114. and in 116. he teaches how to direct the significators of the Moons Revolution; but that I have not made use of here, deeming the Direction of the five Hylegs in the Sun's Revolution, and the Planet's Transits, sufficient to be considered in any Nativity. Those that have a minde, may try the other; 'tis done easily: but they seem to me equally useless and unnecessary.*

The first ten days of October, ♄ transits the 12 House; and all December, the □ of ♀.

Thus you may behold, as in a Glass, the fortunate, indifferent and unhappy dayes in the whole yeer. Those dayes are termed fortunate on which doth fall either a good Direction or Transit, or both; and no unlucky one to happen then; as on January the first: And on the contrary, those may be aspected as unhappy, when there doth fall evil Tansits and Directions, and no good one to qualifie their mischief; as upon Ianuary the sixth. And those are reputed indifferent, when either no Direction or Transit happens, or when good and unfortunate ones happen on the same day; as on Ianuary the ninth and tenth.

Saturnine Transits and Directions are good or unfortunate to the Native in Saturnine men or things, or both. Et sic de cæteris.

The Table it self needs no explanation, for it is easily understood; for those which are Transits are known by the letter T. following them; and Directions by the letter D and to know whether they be good or bad, the the Titles over head (if you should mistake the Characters) tell you.

Thus by observing the Revolutional Figure (and directing the Significators thereof) together with the several Transits of the Planets by the principal points of the Radix, may the good and unhappy Accidents of the Native with much facility and certainty be found out; which hitherto have layn confusedly scattered among the obsolete Opinions of the Arabian Doctors of this Learning; as,

First, In their Degrees of Division and Divisors.
Secondly, Their Annual and Mensurnal Profections.
Thirdly, Their Alfrydaries, by day and night.
Fourthly, Their Chronocraters.
Fifthly, Their Lord of the Orb, &c. Cum multis aliis.

But all the while a more certain way was wanting, these were found worthy, and of good use; and therefore are the Authors of them (yet) to be had in esteem with us; whose care, Industry and pains, have been as Stairs for us to ascend unto that pitch of perfection we now possess and enjoy in this Art.

This one Example being thus enlarged, may serve sufficiently for the instruction of any Learner; I shall therefore reserve my Judgements of succeeding yeers for the Natives private inspection; and here conclude the Nativity inserted by way of Example; And the first Part (also) of this Book.

The End of the first Part.

The Use of the following Tables.

1. Of the Sexagenary Table.

THis Sexagenary Table is continued to 1000, and serveth for Multiplication and Division, (as by inspection doth appear) and for finding the part proportional; the chief of which for our purpose is the later; which is of so excellent use, that it is serviceable to the working of all Astronomical Questions. The use of which is plainly thus: Your first Number you must ever remember, is 60: enter with either Degrees, Minutes, or Seconds; and if you enter with Degrees, then Degrees must answer your desire; if Minutes, then Minutes, &c. I shall refer you for Examples hereof, to the Explanation of the other Tables.

2. Of Ascentional Differences.

The Ascentional Difference is a certain Ark of Distance between the Right and Oblique Ascentions of any Star or Planet in any Degree of the Ecliptique; and to finde it by the following Table of Differences, you do thus:

Enter with your Degrees of Declination on the left hand of the Table, and under your Circle of position in the Head, in the common Angle of meeting (with Equation) is your Ascentional Difference you seek after.

Example:

Suppose a Planet to have 10 deg. of Declination, and his Circle of position 51 deg. 42 min. I enter with 10 deg. on the left hand under the Circle of 51 deg. and there I finde 12 deg. 35 min. but having 42 min. more, I take the part proportional, between 51 deg. and 52 deg.

	deg.	deg.	min.
Decl. 10 deg. Lat. {	51.	12.	35.
	52.	13.	3.
Difference		0.	28.

Then I say, by the Sexagenary Table, If 60 give 28; what shall 42 the odd odd minutes of the Circle of position give? Facit 20. ferè; which added to 12 deg. 35 min. gives the true Ascentional Difference, 12 deg. 55 min. of your point sought.

Having obtained the Ascentional Difference, your use of it in the Art of Directions, is thus: viz.

1. If your Declination be North, substract the Ascentional Difference from the Right Ascention, and the remainder will be the Oblique Ascention; but if you add it to the Right Ascention, the sum will be the Oblique Descention.

2. When your Declination is South, add the Ascentional Difference to the Right Ascention, and the sum will be the Oblique Ascention; but if you substract it from the Right Ascention, the remainder will be the Oblique Descention. Note, that the Ascentional Difference is onely serviceable to you, when your Planet or Star hath Latitude.

3. Of the Declinations.

Having the Longitude of a Star given, enter the Table of Declinations therewith on the left hand; and in the Column of Longitude, against the degree of Longitude, is your Declination sought. Note, that if your Star have Latitude, either North or South, then you must enter for your Declination under the Latitude, as the Titles direct you; always remembring, that if your Star be in ♋, ♌, ♍, ♎, ♏, ♐, then the degrees of Longitude to the left hand, beginning at the top of the Table, serve your turn: but if your Star be in ♑, ♒, ♓, ♈, ♉, ♊, the degrees of Longitude to the right hand, beginning at the foot of the Table, must guide you.

Example:

Suppose a Star in 10 deg. of ♍, with 1 deg. 27 min. North Latitude; I enter the Table of Declinations, finding ♍ in the head of the Table; and against 10 deg. under 1 deg. of Lat. I finde

	deg.	min.
	8.	47.
And against 10 deg. under 2 deg. of Lat. I finde	9.	42.
Difference	0.	55.

Then for the part proportional agreeing to the odd Minutes of Latitude, I work by the Sexagenary Table, thus: If 60 gives 55; what shall 27 give? Facit 25. which added to 8 deg. 47 min. leaves the Declination of your point sought, 9 deg. 12 min.

Now if your Star had been in 20 deg. of ♈, you must have entred the foot of the Table; and having the same Latitude, the same Declination would emerge.

4. Of the Right Ascentions.

The Longitude of a Star being given, enter the left hand Column of the Table of Right Ascentions therewith; and under the Signe and Latitude in the head of the Table, in the Angle of meeting, is the Right Ascention desired.

Example:

Suppose a Planet in 10 deg. of ♈ to have 2 deg. North Latitude; I enter the Table of Right Ascentions with 10 deg. of ♈ in the left hand Column, and and in the Angle of meeting, under 2 deg. of North Latitude, I finde the Right Ascention thereof, 8 deg. 23 min.

5. Of the Oblique Ascentions.

Enter the Table of Oblique Ascentions for the Latitude of your place, with the degrees of Longitude in the left hand Column: and in the common Area, under the Signe in the head, is your true Oblique Ascention.

Example:

Let your Star be supposed to be in 10 deg. of ♈, and the Latitude of your place 51 deg. 32 min. and against 10 deg. in the side Column under ♈ in the head, I find the Oblique Ascention to be 4 deg. 10 min. of the point sought: do so in all others.

For the Oblique Descentions by these Tables, you must do thus: Take the opposite Signe and Degree, and if it fall in any of the six Northern Signes, add 180 deg. to the Oblique Ascention found, and you have the Oblique Descention of your point sought; but in the six Southern Signes, you must make Substraction, and the Oblique Descention remains.

Example:

In the Lat. of 51 deg. 32 min. I would know the Oblique Descention of 10 deg. of ♎. Now, I take the opposite point ♈, which is Northern, and add thereto 180 deg. thus:

	deg.	deg.	min.
O. A.	10. ♈, is,	4.	10.
add		180.	0.
Sum		184.	10.

Thus the Oblique Descention of 10 deg. of ♎, is 184 deg. 10 min. but for the Oblique Descention of 10 deg. of ♈, here I take the Oblique Ascention of the opposite point ♎, which is Southern, and substract 180 deg. from it, thus:

	deg.	deg.	min.
O. A.	10. ♎, is	194.	12.
Substract		180.	0.
		14.	12.

Thus the Oblique Descention of 10 deg. of ♈, is 14 deg. 12 min. Observe this Example in your Operations, and you need not fail of finding the true Oblique Descentions of any point sought whatsoever.

6. Of the Circle of Position.

For to gain the Circle of Position, you must get the Declination of your Star or Planet, either North or South, above the Earth, or under it: then get the distance of your Star from the Mid-heaven or fourth House; and enter your Table of Positions (under the Lat. of Birth) with the Declination on the left hand, and guide your Eye along until you come to the Number of the distance of the Star from the Mid-heaven or fourth House; and over that, in the head of the Table, is the Circle of position.

Example:

The Declination of the Moon (in the foregoing Nativity) is 10 deg. 57 min. South, under the Earth; her distance from the fourth House, is, 15 deg. 6 min. with which I enter the Tables of the Circle of position (for 51 deg. 32 min.) with South Declination under the Earth; and under the Latitude of 15 deg. I finde in the common Area, her distance from the fourth House, which tells me, that 15 deg. is the Circle of position which I enquire after.

When once your Circle of position is obtained, you are to direct by the Oblique Ascentions onely, if your Promittor have no Latitude; as if it be to the □, ✶ or △ of a Planet, &c. it will not: but to the Body or ☌, it may have Latitude; and then you must make use of the Ascentional Difference, and as you were taught before, either add or substract it, to or from Right Ascention, and that gives the Oblique Ascention or Descention of your Promittor; from which if you deduct the Oblique Ascention or Descention of your Significator, the remainder is the Ark of Direction. Thus you see this way is every whit as compleat as Argol's, and to a small matter (viz. not above six Operations in a Nativity) is as soon performed.

I will insert here a practique Example with the Operations at large, that no one need to mistake this (once known) most easie and familiar way of calculating and directing of Nativities; and that shall be of the Moons being directed to the Sextile of Venus, in the foregoing Nativity.

Example of the Moon to the ✶ of ♀.

	deg.	min.
Longitude of the Moon	10.	52.	♓.
Latitude of the Moon	3.	31.	South.
Declination of the Moon, South, sub terra	10.	57.
Right Ascention of the Moon	343.	43.
Distance from the fourth House	15.	6.
The Circle of Position	15.	0.
The Ascentional Difference	2.	58.
The Oblique Descention	340.	45.
The Longitude of the Sextile of Venus	28.	15.	♓.
The Oblique Descention of the Sextile of Venus	358.	13.
The Ark of Direction is	17.	28.

As is to be seen by the Speculum of Directions in the Nativity beforegoing.

Some Astrologers are of opinion, that we ought to direct to the Sextiles and Trines of Planets with Latitude. I confess, I have ever neglected it, because I could never finde any verity therein: those that have a desire to make use thereof, may repair unto Harigill's Tables of the fixed Stars, lately reduced to this age, where, in fol. 180. they may find a Table fitted for the Equation of the Sextiles and Trines of Planets as well as Stars, having Latitude more or less.

Moreover, the directing of Significators to Promittors in the Equator, is preferred by many learned Men, for an excellent way of Direction: the learned Mr. Breedon made use thereof; and so hath my honoured Friend Mr. Lilly, in several Nativities as I have seen. Those that have a desire to make tryal of it, may take notice, that the Declination of a Planet from the Equator, is as his Latitude from the Ecliptique; and whereas we equate and direct by Latitude in the Ecliptique, so we equate and direct by Declination in the Equator: but Maginus is very Copious in the manner of Direction in his Primum Mobile, unto whom I refer all ingenious Readers.

Thus much I thought necessary to add by way of Explanation of the following Tables: I might, I confess, have been more Copious herein, but not more plain. And that person who reads this, and cannot understand the use of the Tables, I may very well rank among the disingenious, as a man unfit to intermeddle with things of this Nature. And so I come to the Tables themselves.

This Table is easily understood, and (for our purpose) chiefly serves to convert the Hours and Minutes of a Nativity into Degrees and Minutes of the Equator. Example: Suppose one born on Jan. 1658. three hours thirty five minutes afternoon; three hours in the first Column to the left hand, hath (in the second Column) against it forty five degrees of the Equator: and thirty five minutes in the fifth Column, hath (in the sixth Column) against it, eight hours forty five minutes; which added together, makes fifty three degrees forty five minutes of the Equator.

He that would have the Circles of Position belonging to any of these Houses for any intermediate Latitudes, let him æquate between the next greater and lesser degrees of Position, and his work is done. Example: Suppose it were required to know the Circles of Position belonging to the eleventh, twelfth, second and third Houses, &c. under the Elevation of 51 deg. 42 min. I æquate between 51 deg. and 52 deg. for them, thus:

	deg.	For the Eleventh and Third Houses.	deg. mi.
Against	51	under the eleventh and third Houses, is	31 41
	52		32 37
		Difference	0 56

Then I say, If 60 give 56 min. what 42 min? facit 39 min. which added to 31 deg. 41 mi. makes the Circles of Position of the eleventh and third Houses 32 deg. 20 mi.

	deg.	For the twelfth and second Houses.	deg. mi.
Against	51	under the twelfth and second Houses, is,	46 56
	52		47 57
		Difference	1 1

Then I say, If 60 give 61 min. what 42 min? facit 43 min. which added to 46 deg. 56 mi. makes the Circle of Position of the twelfth and second Houses 47 deg 39 min. Et sic de cæteris.

Enter this Table with the Degrees of the ☉ in the left-hand-Column; and in the Angle of Meeting, under the Sign the ☉ is in, you have the Equation of Time, which must be added to or abstracted from the time given, and the Remainder is the equal time. Example. If the time given be 10 h. 20 m. P. M. and the ☉ in ♐, 10 d. against 10 d. under ♐, I find 8 m. 43 s. S. which substracted from 10 h. 20 m. leaves the equal Time, 10 h. 11 m. 17 s. But if the equal Time be to be reduced to the Apparent, you must use the contrary Titles in the Equations.

Chap. I.

The Use of the Tables.

IN the composing Astronomical Tables for the Middle Motions of the Stars and Planets, Astronomers respect a certain Meridian, unto which they refer the Radix or Epochæ thereof.

The Reader may therefore take notice, that the Tables following are fitted to the Meridian of the famous City of London: and will serve all other places that lie under the same Meridian, without Reduction. And for the reducing the Middle Motions of the Planets, &c. unto different Meridians, I have added one Geographical Table of the principal Cities in most Regions of the World; and another, of the most Eminent Places in England, &c. shewing the Elevation of the Pole in each Place, and their temporary distances from London; so that by adding to, or substracting from the time given (as is there shewn) the true Places of the Planets may be found with much facility and certainty, in any of them.

SECT. I.

How to Calculate the true Place of the Sun.

You must, first, compute the Middle Motions of the Sun and his Apogæon, and add into one sum the Numbers pertaining to the Yeer, Month, Day, &c. given. Secondly, substract the Apogæon from the Middle Longitude, and the residue will be the Anomalie of the Sun. Thirdly, with the Anomalie enter the Table of the Æquations of the Sun's Eccentrique, finding the Sign on the head of the Table, and the Degree in the first Column on the left hand, when the Anomalie is less then six Signes, and in the Common Area (with observing the proportional Part) is the absolute Æquation of the Sun to be added unto, or substracted from the mean Longitude; as the Titles direct: but if the Anomalie be above six Signs, you are to be directed by the foot of the Table, and the first Column on the right hand. EXAMPLE:

Suppose it were required to know the Sun's true place on Jan. 10 day. 2 hou. P. M. 1659.

Time given.		Long. ☉.	Apog. ☉.

The Longitude thus found, is the ☉'s true place; and so in the ☽, at the change and full: but in the other five Planets, the Eccentrique place onely.

SECT.

SECT. 2.

How Time may generally be Æquated.

Albeit you will finde among the Tables, a Table for the Æquation of Time, &c. yet here it is necessary I shew how Time may be Æquated universally without a Table; and it is thus:

Having obtained the mean Longitude of the ☉, and the Æquation thereto belonging, apply unto the mean Longitude the one half of the said Æquation, either by Addition or Substraction, as the Titles direct; and you have the place of the ☉ Æquated. Then if you take the difference between the Right Ascention, and the Mean Motion, and convert it into Time; that gives you the Æquation of Time, to be added to the Equal Time, if the Mean Motion exceed the Æquated Motion; or Substracted from the Equal Time, if the Æquated Motion exceed the Mean. But if you would convert the apparent Time into the Equal, the contrary Title must be used.

EXAMPLE:

	deg. mi. sec.
In the foregoing Calculation, the ☉'s Mean Motion is	300 40 21
The Æquation of the ☉ added	0 49 26
The half thereof is	0 24 43
The ☉'s place Æquated is	301 5 4
The Right Ascention of the place Æquated	303 19 4
Difference between Mean Motion and the Right Ascention	2 39 43
Converted into Time, the Æquation to be added is	0 10 36

But those Persons that desire to quit themselves of this trouble, may make use of the Table fitted for the Æquation of Time, which will perform the work (almost) by inspection.

CHAP. II.

To find the true places of Saturn, Jupiter, Mars, Venus, Mercury.

SECT. 1.

HEre you are (first) to observe, that as you operate for the true place of the ☉, so you must for to gain the Eccentrique places of these five Planets; and not otherwise.

Then having found the Eccentrique place of the Planet, Substract his Node therefrom, and the remainder is his Argument of Latitude; with which you are to enter the Table of Latitude, &c. and there (by taking the Part Proportional) you have your Planets Reduction and Curtation. The Reduction is to be Added to, or Substracted from the Eccentrique place, according to the Title; and so you have the Eccentrique reduced ced to the Ecliptique. The Curtation is always to be substracted from the Logarithm of your Planet; and so you have his Logarithm curtated.

Which done, substract the Sun's place from the Eccentrique place of your Planet reduced, or that from the Sun's place, so that less then six Signes may remain, and the remainder thereof is the Anomalie of the Orb; the half of which must be reserved.

Then substract the greater Logarithm of the Sun, and your Planet curtated from the less (the Radius being first added Mentally, or otherwise) and the remainder will be the Tangent of an Arch, which must be added to forty five degrees. And to the Tangent Complement of the Sum, add the Tangent of halfe the Anomalie of the Orb, before reserved (substracting the Radius from the Sum always) and that produces you the Tangent of an Arch, which in the three superiour Planets must be added to half the Anomalie of the Orb; but in the two Inferiours, substracted from it; and so the sum or remainder shall be their Elongation from the Sun, and will claim the Title of Addition (if by the former Rule, the Sun were substracted from the Planet; or of substraction, if the Planet were substracted from the Sun.

Then, according to the Title, add or substract the Elongation to or from the Sun's place, and you obtain the Planets true place.

Example in the Planet Saturn, for the year 1959. Jan. 10 day, 2 hour. P. M.

SECT. 3.

How the Latitudes of the five Planets are attained.

For the Latitudes of the Planets, you must have recourse to the Table of Latitude, &c. where you will find (in the Head thereof) the Tangent of the Planets greatest Inclination, unto which you are to add the Sine of Elongation, and the Sine of the Argument of Latitude, and the Arithmetical complement of the Sine of the Anomalie of the Orb: which done, substract from the sum the double Radius, and there will remain the Tangent of your Planets Latitude; which is North, when when the Argument of Latitude is less then six Signes; but South, when more then six Signes.

EXAMPLE in the Planet Saturn.

Tangent of the greatest Inclination	864009
Sine of Elongation 3 sig. 0 deg. 31 min. 9 sec.	999998

CHAP. III.

How to Calculate the Moon's true Place.

SECT. 1.

AS in the Sun and the other Planets, you must gather the Mean Motions of the Moon's Longitude, Anomalie, and Argument of Latitude; and by her Anomalie, you shall finde the Æquation of her Eccentrique, which applied to the Mean Longitude (according to its Title) brings you to the Eccentrique place of the Moon.

SECT. 2.

Having gained the Æquation of the Eccentrique, you are to apply it (according to its Title, whether add or substract) unto the Mean Anomalie, and also to the Motion or Argument of Latitude; and so you have the Anomalie Co-æquated, and the Motion of Latitude first æquated.

SECT. 3.

This done, from the Moon's Eccentrique place, you are to substract the Sun's true place, and with the remainder enter the Table of the Moon's Secondary Equations, finding the same either in the head or foot; and the Co-æquated Anomalie in the side-Columns; and in the Common Area, or Angle of meeting (by using the part proportional, if need require) you have the Moon's Secondary Equation; which, according to the Title next beneath it, in Ascending; or above it, in Descending, is to be added to, or substracted from the Eccentrique place; and so you have the Moon's place in her Orb.

SECT. 4.

Then You are to add to, or substract from the motion of Latitude, the Moon's Secondarie Equation; and so You have the second Equation of Latitude. After this, to the distance of ☉ and ☽ before found, You must either add or substract the Moon's Secondarie Equation, and that gives You the true distance of the Sun and Moon; with which distance enter the Table of the Equation of the Nodes, and thence gain their Equation; which is to be added to, or substracted from the Latitude last æquared, and that gives You the true and absolute motion of Latitude. Then at the same entrance, take out the Scruples of proportion, and reserve them until anon.

SECT. 5.

With the true Motion of Latitude, enter the Table of Latitude, and take thence the Latitude and the Excess; then multiplie the Excess by the Scruples of proportion before reserved; and the product being added to the Latitude found in the Table, the sum shall be the true Latitude of the Moon; which is North, when the true motion of Latitude is less then six Signes; but South, when it exceeds six Signes.

SECT. 6.

If the true Motion of Latitude be substracted from the Moons true place in her Orb, there rests the Node ascending. Then with the true Motion of Latitude, if you enter the Table of Reduction, and take thence the Reduction, and apply (according to its Title) to the Moons place in her Orb, you have her true place in the Ecliptick.

Example of the Moon for the time before given.

It may be expected (by some) that I should here have taught how to calculate Eclipses, and so have inserted Tables of the Mean Lunations, Parallaxes, Semidiameters, &c. but that is altogether irrelative to my present Task; for my inserting these Tables of Calculation, was onely to assist the Artist that would be exact and curious in a Nativity, and such as are afraid to give credit or trust unto the VVriters of Ephemerides.

The Doctrine of Horarie Questions.

HAving treated largely of the Doctrine of Nativities, (that nothing may be wanting unto the Reader of this Book) I shall in the next place, speak somewhat of the judgement of Horary Questions.

It is an Axiome most true, that all people endued with Reason, are sollicitous and desirous to know their future Estate and Condition. Now, we know that for some persons to obtain their Nativities, is as impossible, as for a man to stop the Course of the Planets. Astrologers, therefore, have made use of the Doctrine of Horary Questions, to supply the defect. From a Question seriously propounded, the Artist may give such satisfaction unto the Querent, as if his Nativity were known. For as the Nativity is the time of the Birth of the Body, the Horary Question is the time of the Birth of the Minde; And as there are hardly any persons living upon the face of the Earth, but are in one kinde or other subject to Horary Doubts; so no Question may they have Horary resolves thereunto, from a Horary Question, soberly, and with a cleer intention propounded. But I will pretermit all further proof of the truth hereof in this place, having sufficiently done that in another Work formerly emitted into the VVorld: and so come to the subject matter in hand. Cœlest. Legat. part. 2. fol. 54, 55, 56.

Chap. I.

Of several Considerations to be observed, before Judgement be given on a Horary Question.

THe wisdome of the Antients hath been such, that (the better to bring Art to maturity) they have considered of several things [Considerable] in an Horary Question, fit for the Artist to be acquainted with, &c. The Principal of which are these, viz.——

1. Of the several Significators belonging to the Querent, and the person or thing enquired after.
2. Of the Radicalness of the Figure, and fitness of the Matter to be judged.
3. Of the Possibility or impossibility of the Matter propounded.
4. Of the Person or Matter impeding or furthering the business.
5. Of the Time in which it may be performed.

SECT.

Of the Significators of the Querent, and Quesited.

The Querent is that Person (be it man or woman) that propounds the Doubt or Question to the Artist; and the Ascendent and the Lord thereof, are properly the Significators of the Querent. The Quesited, is the Person (or thing) enquired after, and the seventh House (generally) and his Lord, are the Significators thereof. And then the ☽, she is a general Significator in all Questions, as well to the Person Quesited, as to the Person enquiring, because she conveys the Influences of all the Planets, to all Persons promiscuously upon this Earthy Globe.

And as in the Doctrine of Nativities, the Ascendent, and Planet or Planets posited therein, do signifie the Corporature and stature of the body; And the Lord of the Ascendent, the ☽ and the Planet or Planets they are in Configuration with, the Quality and condition of the minde, &c. so they do also in a Horary Question.

Now, for to judge of a Question truly, it is requisite that the Artist be well versed in Nativities; for it is impossible for any man to judge a Question well, that doth not first skill the Doctrine of Genitures; for that is the Root and Father of Questions. And in particular, let him sufficiently acquaint himself with the sixth Chapter of the first part of this Book, for that instructs him in the significations of every of the twelve Houses.

Errare contingit peritum Astrologum, quando de significator ejus cui eligit, est ignarus. Hermes. Aph. 44.

Being well versed therein, observe the Nature of your Question propounded, and give the ☽, the Ascendent, and his Lord, &c. to the Querent; then consider, unto what House the person or thing enquired after belongs, and give the ☽, the Cusp of that House, and his Lord, unto the Person or thing enquired after. As for Example: suppose a Person should enquire concerning Riches; the first House signifies his Person; and from the second House, and the position of the Lord thereof, you shall know the condition of his Estate: Or if one shall enquire concerning Brethren, &c. then we must take the third House and his Lord, because they have signification thereof. But if a Question be made of or concerning a Father, or Land, or Houses, &c. the fourth House hath signification thereof; if of Children, &c. the Fifth; if of servants, or small Cattle, &c. the Sixth; if of a Husband, a Wife, or Sweet-heart, or of Partnership, Theft, Law, or Controversie, the Seventh; if of the Portion of a Wife, or Estate of a Husband, or Death, &c. the Eighth; if of the Husbands or Wives kindred, or of a Church-man, or Lawyer, or Dreams, &c. the Ninth; if of a King, Prince, Protector, Earl, Lord, or Magistrate, or of the Mother, the Tenth; if of Friends, or of any thing one shall hope for, &c. the Eleventh; if of private Enemies, or sorrow and imprisonment, or of Prisoners, or of great Cattle, the twelfth House: Thus according to the true propounding of any Question, may the ingenious Artist give a sober and a certain resolve. And this shall serve for the Discovery of the Significators, both of the Querent, and the person or thing Quesited.

Cum interrogatus fuerit de patre, aspice quartum, de fratre tertium, de filio quintum, de uxore septimum, &c. Hermes. Aph. 17.

SECT.

SECT. 2.

When a Figure is Radical, and fit to be judged.

The Astrologer before he adventureth to judge a Question, ought first to consider, whether it be proper and fit to be judged: For many times, Persons propound impertinent Questions, with an intention to disgrace Art; in doing which, they do nothing but create shame to themselves. Then, the Artist shall sometimes meet with Persons that know not how to propound their desires aright, it's an Argument when such Queries are made, that (although they may be asked with a good intent, yet) they are not ripe for a resolve; and the Astrologer in such Cases ought to defer judgement until another time.

Non desinias antequam liquid scias intentionem quærentis: multi quidem interrogare nescium, nec possunt exprimere quod intendunt. Hermes Aph. 16.

Now, for the discovery of the knavery of the one, and the unfitness or unpreparedness of the other, you may observe these following Rules and Aphorisms — viz.

1. When the Sign Ascending, and Planet in the Ascendent, &c. shall describe the person of the Querent exactly, you may conclude that figure Radical, and the Question propounded fit to be judged.

2. When either the very beginning of a Sign ascends, or the very later end thereof, it is not safe to give judgement; for the Querent hath been tampering with others about the business propounded, or else the Question is forged, and therefore not fit to be answered.

3. When the Moon is voyd of Course, or in via Combusta, the Combust way; All Matters or businesses propounded, go unluckily on: therefore the Astrologer ought to understand the Matter propounded perfectly, or else he will give but poor content to the Querent therein.

4. If the ☽ go to a □, or ☌ of the Lord of the Seventh; or the Lord of the Ascendent afflict him so; the Artist may conclude his Querent a knave, for he then cometh to abuse him.

5. If the seventh House be hindred, or his Lord be Retrograde, Combust, or otherways afflicted, let not the Astrologer judge any thing: for by how much the more he shall adventure to judge at such a time, by so much the more shall he disgrace himself, and disparage the Art he professeth. And that's the meaning of Ptolomie's words — Quantis in erroribus versatur Astrologus cum locus septimus ac ejus Dominus afflicti erunt. Centiloq. Aphor. 14.

6. When ♄ is the Ascendent of a Question, and infortunate, the Matter propounded is either false, and without ground, or else 'tis past all hope: And if at the same time, the Lord of the Ascendent be Combust or Retrograde, the Querent is either a knave or a fool.

7. When the Testimonies in your Figure are equal, the Matter propounded ought not to be judged; for the Artist knows not which way the Balance may yeild, wherefore he ought to defer judgement, until a more convenient time.

8. Some Astrologers hold the Question to be Radical, when the Lord of the Ascendent, and Lord of the hour, are of one nature and Triplicity; which is easily known: suppose ♌ ascend the Horoscope at the Querents Interrogation, and ♂ happen to be Lord of the hour; here the Question will be found Radical, because the ☉, who is Lord of the Horoscope, and ♂, are of one Nature, viz. Hot and Dry; Or if at the same time, ♃ fortune to be Lord of the hour, the Question will then quoddam gubernaculum rei quæsitæ, velut qui dux magis potens, & factis figuræ est. Lud. de Reg. Aph. 7.

Dominus horæ in omnibus formis figurisque considerandus est, ac Dominus loci conjunctionis Anauba dicitur, sunt

To finde the length of the Planetary hour, and the Planet governing it, you must first gain the hour and minute of the Sun-rising: Then secondly, observe what hours and minutes are elapsed between your time proposed, and the Sun-rising, and multiply those hours by 60. and to the product add your minutes, (if you have any) and the total divided by the length of your Planetary hour, the Quotient gives your desire. Example: On January the first, 1659. the ☉ riseth at eight of the clock; I would know what Planet reigneth at ten a clock and 20 min. past, that morning; my time is 2 ho. 20 min. distant from the Sun-rising; and the length of the Planetary hour by day against eight in this Table, is 40 min. which multiplyed and divided, leaves in the Quotient three, unto which I add the 20 min. and that tels me there is 20 min. of the fourth Planetary hour gone at the time proposed. Now to know what Planet governeth that hour, observe the day of the week, (and that is Saturday) enter therewith in the head of this next Table, and finde the hour of the day underneath; against which, in the first Column toward the left hand, you have your desire. Example. I finde Saturday in the ninth Column, and guide my eye downward until I finde four; and against it in the first Column to the left hand, I finde Sol; which informs me that the Sun rules the hour enquired after. Note, if you would know the Planet ruling the hour of the Night, then against your Number found in the Column to the right hand, as the Title directs you, you have your desire.

SECT. 3.

Of the possibility or impossibility of the Matter propounded.

Whatsoever is propounded, carryeth in the face of it, both a Negative, and an Affirmative; That is to say, it may either be brought to a wished Conclusion, or not: For all things under the Sun are Contingent. And it is as honourable, for an Artist to give a judgement in the Negative, (if he see reason so to do) as in the Affirmative; although not so pleasant to the proponent. But the possibility or impossibility of bringing to pass the Matter propounded, may be known by these following Aphorisms.

By what ways things are brought to pass.

1. Businesses are brought to pass divers ways, according to the opinion of the Antient Astrologers, viz. When the Planets signifying the Person propounding, and the Person or thing propounded, are going to Conjunction in good places of the Figure; Or, when they are applying by ✶, or △, unto each other. Sometimes, things are brought to pass by Translation, or Collection of light, or by the dwelling in Houses or Dignities, &c.

2. VVhen the Significators of the Matter enquired, are going to ☌ in a good House of Heaven, chiefly in an Angle, the business may be brought to pass. If the Significator of the thing promised be essentially Dignified, and doth apply to the Lord of the Ascendent; the Matter will be brought to perfection before 'tis expected.

3. If the Lords of the Matter propounded, &c. apply to each other by a ✶ or △, from Signs and Houses they delight in, the thing sought after will be brought to pass.

4. VVhen the Significators are not beholding, yet, if a good Planet do Translate, or Collect, and gather their light, it prenotes good in the Matter enquired after, and shews it's possibility.

5. VVhen Planets dwell in Houses proper and convenient, the Matter by that means may be brought to pass; chiefly, if the Moon have a good Defluxion and Application. Now, as I have shewed the possibility of bringing things to pass, it is requisite I shew the impossibility; which is known from these following Aphorisms.

When things are impossible to be brought to pass.

1. If the Significators of the Querent, and Quesited, &c. are non-beholding, it is an ill sign of ever bringing the thing enquired after to perfection.

2. When the Significators shall behold each other by □, or ☍, from hateful places of the Figure; or shall be in □, or ☍ of the Infortunes, It is seldom known that upon such positions any thing is brought to pass.

3. When the Significators are voyd of reception, or are Combust, Cadent, &c. it is a Miracle, if they perform any thing.

When the Infortunes or Cauda Draconis shall be in the House signifying the thing enquired after, or afflicting the Significators, the business propounded will come to a poor end.

SECT. 4.

Of the Person, or Matter, furthering or impeding the busines.

1. When you have set your Figure, and finde an obstruction in or a furtherance of your business, observe the Planet impediting, or Adjuvant juvant, and the Houſes he or ſhe Governs, and ſay, the Let or Furtherance ſhall come from ſuch a Perſon or Thing ſignifyed by the Houſe or Houſes he or ſhe doth Govern.

2. If Venus be the aſſiſting or impeding Planet, and be Lady of the Third, ſay a Siſter, Kinſwoman, or Neighbour, will be the occaſion of the good or evil portended by the buſineſs. If ſhe ſhould be Lady of the Second, tell the Querent, that Money muſt be his only Advocate in the Thing he enquires after; or for want of Money, the Matter or buſineſs will be ſtarved: he that underſtands this Rule (and it is eaſily underſtood) cannot be to ſeek in the reſolution of any Queſtion whatſoever: he that underſtands it not, is unfit (in my opinion) to enter into judgement with any Thing or Matter of this Nature. And thus much for this Section.

SECT. 5.

Of the time wherein a buſineſs may be performed.

1. Being deſirous to know, when or in what time a Thing may come to paſs, after you ſee a poſſibility thereof, you muſt take the true diſtance of the Significators, let it be either by body or Aſpect, and turn the diſtance found into time.

2. If the Significators are in moveable Signs, look how many Degrees of diſtance you have, for ſo many Weeks or Days it will be, before the buſineſs be perfected. If in common Signs, it will be ſo many Moneths or Weeks. If in fixed Signs, then ſo many Yeers or Moneths, as you have Degrees of diſtance.

3. Angles are equivalent to moveable Signs; ſuccedents to common or bi-corporeal; Cadent, to fixed. Wherefore, when you finde the diſtance of the Significators in moveable Signs, and in Angles, you may be the more poſitive, and ſay, that the Thing ſhall be performed with ſpeed.

4. When you ſee a very great probability of the performance of a buſineſs, and no let or hinderance thereto, and the Significators immediately applying unto the ☌, or good Aſpect of each other; then for the time of performance, obſerve the time of the ☌ or Aſpect; and this I have often proved true.

CHAP. II.

Of Moles, Marks, and Skars, of the Querent and Queſited.

THe knowledge of the Marks, Moles, &c. of each Querent by Art, is a good way for to verifie your Figure, and prove it Radical, as I before ſhewed: For if the Moles, &c. of the Perſon enquiring, correſpond exactly with the Scheam erected, the Artiſt may ſafely proceed to judgement. Now the Rules obſervable herein, are theſe following.

In what part the Querent is marked.

1. Having erected your Figure, conſider the Sign Aſcending, and what part or Member in Mans body it Rules; for the Querent hath a Mole, Mark, or Skar in that part of his body. Example: if the Sign aſcending aſcending be ♈, it is on his belly; if ♎, the reins; if ♏, the Secrets, &c.

2. Then conſider in the next place, in what Sign of the Twelve the Lord of the Aſcendent is poſited, and ſay the Querent hath a Mole, &c. in that Member or part of his body repreſented thereby.

3. Obſerve the place of the ☽, and tell the Querent that he hath another Mole, or Scar, &c. in that part of his body that is repreſented by that Sign ſhe poſſeſſes.

4. Conſider the Sign of the Sixth, and the Sign wherein the Lord of the Sixth is Located; for, uſually in thoſe Members repreſented by theſe Signs, the Querent is alſo marked.

Nature or Colour of the Mark, &c.

5. VVhen ♄ ſhall ſignifie the Mark, &c. it is generally an Excreſcence of a darkiſh obſcure or black colour. If ♃, it is uſually a purple or blewiſh Mole, &c. If ♂, 'tis commonly ſome ſcar, ſlaſh, or cut, chiefly in a fierie Sign; and ſometimes a reddiſh Mole, or ſpots of Gun-powder. If the ☉, generally of an olive or cheſnut colour. If ♀, of a honey-colour. If ☿, it is ſometimes whitiſh, and other times of a pale lead-colour. If the ☽, 'tis often white, yet many times participates of the colour of that Planet ſhe is in aſpect with.

The Marks viſible or not viſible.

6. If the Planet and Sign repreſenting the Mark, Mole, or Scar be Maſculine, the Mark, &c. is then on the right ſide of the body; if feminine, judge the contrary.

7. If the Significator of the Mole, &c. be above the Earth, the Mark, Mole, &c. is then viſible to the eye, and on the forepart of the body; but, if he be under the Earth, it is then not to be ſeen, but is on the back part of the body.

In what part of the Member.

8. If few Degrees of a Sign aſcend on the Horoſcope, or deſcend on the ſixth Houſe; or if the Lord of the Aſcendent, Lord of the Sixth, and the ☽ be in the beginning of Signs, then ſay the Mole, Scar, &c. is in the upper part of the Member thereby repreſented. If they, or any of them ſhall be in the middle of Signs, then judge the Moles, &c. to be about the middle of the Member. But if they be in later Degrees of the Signs, &c. you may be confident that the Mark, &c. is on the lower part of the Member.

9. Obſerve, if an infortune be in the Aſcendent of any Queſtion, the face of the Querent is uſually blemiſhed; for the face is ſignifyed by the Horoſcope, let what Sign ſoever aſcend.

10. Theſe Rules will hold true alſo upon the body of the Queſited, mutatis mutandis; As, ſuppoſe one ſhall enquire of a ſweet-heart, or wife, &c. the ſeventh Houſe will be her firſt, and the twelfth her ſixth, &c. and in the Members, thoſe Signs ſignifie ſhe ſhall have Marks or Moles. And thus much for this Chapter.

Here follows the Judgements belonging to the twelve Houſes of Heaven, with the reſolutions of the moſt material Queſtions thereupon.

CHAP.

CHAP. III.

Judgements, and Interrogatories proper to the first House.

THe first House (as you are informed in Cap. 6. fol. 45. of the first part) signifies the life of each Person, his Temperature and Corporature; and in Horarie Questions hath these Questions proper unto it, viz.

1. Of the length of the Querents life.
2. Of the good or evil attending life.
3. When, or in what time shall the Native undergo a change?
4. What part of the Querent's life is like to be best?
5. Toward what part of the World may he direct his affairs to prosper in them?
6. A Person having a minde to speak with another, shall he finde him at home?
7. Of an absent party, if dead or alive.
8. Of a Ship at Sea, her safety or prejudice.

These particulars being explained, will give light sufficient unto the Astrologian, whereby he may judge of any other demand proper unto this House.

SECT. 1.

Of the length of the Querents Life.

1. In the resolution of this Question, you must observe the Sign ascending, the Lord thereof, and the ☽. And if you finde them free from the malignant Beams of the infortunes, or the Lords of the fourth, sixth, eighth and twelfth Houses, and from Combustion, you may safely judge the Querents life will not be short.

2. VVhen the aforesaid Significators are not afflicted by the presence of violent fixed Stars, the Native may live long.

3. If the Lord of the Ascendent be Combust and Retrograde, &c. and this in an evil House of Heaven, you may safely judge, that the Querent is not long-liv'd.

4. VVhen the Significators, &c. shall be evilly aspected from good places of the Figure; or the Benevolent Planets interpose their Rayes, the Malevolency threatned will be abated; but if it be from evil Houses in the Scheam, and the Benevolents afford no help, much danger of a short life is to be feared. I shall speak of the time thereof, when I come to the eighth House.

SECT. 2.

Of the Good or Evil attending Life.

1. The Good and Evil that attends each Person, is known from the fortunate and infortunate Radiations in the Figure.

2. VVhen Benevolent Planets possess the Ascendent, or the principal places places of the Figure, they prognosticate much good unto the Querent in the whole course of his Life.

3. If the Lord of the Ascendent and the ☽ be befriended by the Beams of the Fortunes, although from bad places of the Scheam, yet it presages good unto the Native in the course of his Life; in as much as an accidental evil cannot rebate or withstand an Essential good.

4. But when the Infortunes shall possess the places aforesaid, or by Aspect afflict the Significators aforesaid, the Person interrogating will be subject to a troublesome Life.

5. If ♄ possesseth the ascendent, the Querent will be melancholy and pensive, and subject to perplexities from aged men, &c. If ♂, he will be Cholerick, and lie liable to oppression by Knaves and Thieves; and sometimes by the villany and Treachery of kindred he may suffer: if ♌, he is never free from scandals and disgraces, &c.

6. When the afflicting Planets are Lords of evil Houses, the evil will be the longer durable: But when the assisting Planets are Lords of good Houses, the good will be the more Permanent. Have great regard also to the Houses those Planets govern; for from thence is known by what means the Querent shall be fortunate, or unhappy.

7. You must observe, that as the malignant Beams of the evil Planets prevent or Eclipse the good that is signifyed; so, the Benevolent Rayes of the fortunate Stars, reverberate much of the mischief portended: by considering of which, according to the strength of the Planets assisting or afflicting, the Artist may finde the Magnitude, Smalness, or Mediocrity of the Good or Evil that attends each Querents Life.

SECT. 3.

In what time the Native may expect a change.

1. Contrary to the opinion of some Astrologers now living, upon the propounding of a serious Question, when the Nativity of the Proponent is not attainable (for if the Nativity be to be had, I adjudge Horary Questions useless) I erect my Figure, and (as a Nativity) draw it into a Speculum, and direct the several Significators to their Promittors.

2. Having the true distance of each Significator from his Promittor, I turn it into time, as in a Nativity, and according to the effects of Directions, I judge thereof. But this pains is to be taken only when Questions of weighty concernment are propounded, and not upon any trivial or ordinary business.

3. In matters of indifferency or light concernment, you may observe the Degrees of distance between the Significators, either of their bodies or Aspects, and judge thereof certain enough.

4. VVhen fixed Stars of a violent nature, occupie the principal parts of the Figure, chiefly the Ascendent, Mid-Heaven, and place of ☽, they presage sudden and unexpected mischiefs. VVhen fixed Stars of a noble nature possess the before-mentioned places, they demonstrate sudden good unto the Querent. And this shall serve for the time, &c.

SECT. 4.

what part of the Querents Life is like to be best.

1. For the resolution of this Question, you are to observe in what part of the Figure the fortunate Stars are, and according to their position judge thereof.

2. If the propitious Planets be in the Ascendent, the twelfth or eleventh Houses, the Native will be most happy in his infancy. If in the tenth, ninth, eighth, in the second part of his Age. If in the seventh, sixth, or fifth, after his middle age. If in the fourth, third, second, his later years will be most happy.

3. Some Astrologers hold, that in this manner of Judgement, we ought to allow to every House the fortunate Planets are distant from the Ascendant five years; and thence predict the time of the Querents happy and fortunate estate.

Mr. Lilly Christ. Astrol. fol. 134.

4. VVhen the Significators of life are strong, and signifie long life, you may add one year to every House (that is, whereas we give but five generally, we may allow six) for it's then possible the Querent may live more then sixty years, &c.

SECT. 5.

Toward what part of World may the Querent direct his course to prosper?

We know it to be an evil epidemical, for Persons to undertake voyages, and other weighty matters, &c. much to their prejudice and disadvantage; and although all places are alike to him that made the Earth, yet they are not so to men that possess it; therefore it will be requisite for those who judge Questions of this kinde, to observe these following Rules, or at least as many of them as he shall have use for.

1. The whole Heaven is divided into four Quarters; East, VVest, North, and South: And these four Quarters are again subdivided, viz. the first House is full East, and the twelfth House being in Ascention next unto it, is East and by South; the eleventh next unto that, is South-East; and the mid-Heaven is South, &c.

3. According to the Quarters of Heaven, thus divided and subdivided, you are to look in which of those places you finde the promising Planets, &c. viz. ♄, ♀, ☽, ☉, or the most of them, and direct the Querent in his affairs thither.

4. VVhen the aforesaid Planets shall be in the Mid-Heaven, that being South, direct the Querent Southward; if they be in the ninth, tell him 'tis his best way to go South-west. If in the VVest, it is for his good to go full VVest: understand the same of the rest.

5. Consider seriously the Nature of the Querents desire, whether it be for Health, Riches, Honor, Friends, &c. that he hopeth to enjoy, by his undertaking; for by rightly understanding the Question, you shall answer the Querents desire more readily.

6. If it be for Health he would remove his habitation, observe where, or in what Quarter the Lord of the Ascendent and ☽ are posited, and direct him that way. If for Riches, take notice of the Lord of the Second and ☉: If for Honor, consider ☉, and the Lord of the Tenth: if for Friends, observe the Lord of the Eleventh; and so may you answer the Question safely.

SECT. 6.

A Person having a minde to speak with another, if he shall finde him at home?

The verity that I found in this very thing, did principally engage my thoughts to this study at the first; for with prejudice have I often made made proof hereof, and (if I were true to my Rule) it never failed me; which caused me to conclude, that if there were so great certainty to be found in so mean a Question, there might be found much more in things of greater worth. Without further Anticipation, the Rules are these following.

1. When you would speak with a Person that you have familiar and constant dealing with, and he no ways related unto you; take the seventh House and his Lord to signifie him, (i. e.) the seventh from the Ascendent; for the Ascendent always signifies the Querent.

2. If the Lord of the Seventh be in any of the four Angles, viz. The first, fourth, seventh, or tenth Houses, the Person you would speak withall is at home.

3. If the Lord of the Seventh be in any of the succedent Houses, viz. The Second, Fifth, Eighth, Eleventh, he is not then at home, but he is neer home, and may with a little diligence be spoken withall.

4. VVhen the Lord of the Seventh is in any one of the Cadent Houses, viz. The Third, Sixth, Ninth, or Twelfth, the party is then far from home, and consequently cannot be spoken withall.

5. If the Lord of the Ascendent apply to the Lord of the Seventh by a friendly Aspect at the time of the enquiry, you may tell the Querent he may meet the Quesited as he is going, or accidentally hear of him by the way. Or, if the ☽, or any other Planet transfer the light of the Lord of the Seventh to the Lord of the Ascendent, it signifies the same.

6. The Nature and sex of the Planet transferring the light thus as aforesaid, informs you what manner of Person shall give notice to the Querent of the Person he enquires after, with regard had to the Sign and Quarter he is posited in.

7. Note, that if the Person you would speak with be a relation, then you are not to take the Lord of the Seventh, but the Lord of that House which signifies such relation: as, if he be a Brother, then the Lord of the Third you must look unto; if a Father, you must have regard to the Lord of the Fourth; if a Son or Daughter, observe the Lord of the Fifth, &c. And according to their Positions judge, as before you were taught.

SECT. 7.

If an absent Party be dead or alive?

1. Herein you are to consider what relation the Querent hath to the Party Quesited, and take your Significator accordingly, as is formerly shewed. But if there be no relation between them, take the Ascendent, his Lord and the ☽ to signifie the Party that is absent; and you may thus judge.

2. If the Lord of the Ascendent, or ☽, be in ☌ with the Lord of the Eighth, or a Planet in the Eighth, and no benevolent testimonies concurring, the absent Party is dead.

3. When the ☽, and Lord of the Ascendent, shall be in ☍ to the Lord of the Eighth, from the Second and Eighth, or from the Sixth and Twelfth Houses, the absent party is dead.

4. If the Lord of the Ascendent be in the Fourth, and the ☽ in the seventh, in Quartile to him there, it shews great danger to the Quesited, if not death.

5. When an evil Planet shall translate the light of the Lord of the Eighth unto the Lord of the Ascendent, or of the Lord of the Ascendent to the Lord of the Eighth, 'tis forty to one, but the absent Party is dead.

6. —— Aspice dominum Ascendentis & ☽, & si eos inveneris in Quarta ab ascendente, vel in domo Mortis, aut combustos, vel in suis casibus, aut junctos, cum domino domus Mortis, dic quod est Mortuus. Haly de judic. Astrol. part. 3. Chap. 2. Behold the Lord of the Ascendent and ☽, and if you finde them in the Fourth from the Ascendent, or in the House of Death, and either Combust, or in their falls, or joyn'd with the Lord of the Eighth, say the Party Quesited is Dead.

7. If none of these happen, but on the contrary, you finde the ☽ and Ascendent, and his Lord fortified, you may conclude that the absent Party is alive, and very well.

8. If the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, separate from the Lord of the Sixth, the absent party hath been sick lately; if from the Lord of the Eighth, he hath been in danger of Death; if from the Lord of the Twelfth, he hath been in Prison, and hath had much trouble of minde. And by varying your Rule, his condition according to the Significators application and separation will be found.

SECT. 8.

Of a Ship at Sea, her safety or prejudice.

This Question, although by the Antient Arabian and Latine Astrologers it is attributed to the ninth House, because it relates unto Voyages; yet (as the Learned Mr. Lilly saith) the judgements hereof being chiefly relating to the Ascendent, I shall (with him) refer it thereunto.

1. The parts of the Ship are thus divided according to the Signs of the Zodiack.

---Da Signum ♈. pectoribus Navis, ♉. ei quod est sub pectoribus modicum versus aquam, ♊. gubernaculo navis, ♋. fundo navis, ♌. summitati navis quæ stat super aquam, ♍. ventri navis, ♎. ei quod sublevatur & deprimit de pectoribus Navis in aqua, ♏. loco ubi morant Nauta, ♐. ipsi Nautæ, ♑. finibus existentibus in Nave, ♒ Magistro Navis, ♓. remis. Haly de Judic. Astrol. pars. tertia, Cap. 14. fol. 115.

♉ Under the breast toward the water.	♏ Where the Mariners abide.
♊ The Rudder or Stern.	♐ The Mariners.
♋ The Bottom or Floor.	♑ The ends of the Ship.
♌ The Top above the Water.	♒ The Governour or Captain.
♍ The Belly of the Ship.	♓ The Oars.

2. After observation made of this Division, you are to consider what Signs are fortunate and what unfortunate, at the time of your Question propounded; for the persons or parts of the Ship thereby signified, are either well, or in danger, according to their fortunacy or unhappiness.

☽. & Ascendens generaliter sunt Significatores totius Navis & suorum statuum; & dominus Ascendentis est Significator Navigantium in ea. Haly par. 3. Chap. 14.

3. The Ascendent and the ☽ are (generally) Significators of the Ship, and the burthen she bears; But the Lord of the Ascendent, of the Persons that sayl therein. And if in a Question propounded, you finde all these fortunate, you may judge prosperity to the Ship: But if on the contrary, you finde them all afflicted, you may conclude the Vessel and all in her to be in eminent danger, if not lost.

4. When a Malevolent having Diguities in the Eighth House, shall be placed in the Ascendent, or the Lord of the Ascendent in the Eighth, in evil Aspect with the Lord of the Eighth, Twelfth, Sixth, or Fourth; or, if the ☽ be Combust under the Earth, all these are accounted dangers, and presage the Ship either to be lost, or in a very desperate condition.

5. But

5. But if all the Significators are free, and no ways impedited, you may then judge the Ship to be in a very good condition, and all the Persons and things in her also.

At si ascendens & ☽. infortunata fuerint, & dominus Ascendentis fortunatus, submint Navis, & salvantur navigantes in ea.

6. If you finde the Ascendent and the ☽ unfortunate, and the Lord of the Ascendent strong, and in a good condition, you may judge the Ship to be in an ill condition; but the men, &c. that are in her are likely to do well, and come off without prejudice.

Præterea, si ascendens & ☽. ambo fuerint fortunata, & dominus Ascendentis infortunatus, salvant navis, & destruunt Navigantes in ea. Haly.

7. But if the Ascendent and ☽ shall be fortunate, and the Lord of the Ascendent unfortunate, you may then judge that the Vessel shall do well, or that it is in safety; but the men in her are in great danger of being destroyed.

8. If any shall enquire of the success a Ship shall have in her Voyage upon her setting forth, you must then behold the Angles of the Figure; and if you finde the Fortunate Planets and the ☽ (for she is Lady of the Seas) therein, and the unfortunate Planets Cadent, or in an abject condition, you may conclude the Ship and her lading will go very safely unto the intended Haven.

9. But if the infortunes be in Angles, or succedent Houses, she will meet with some prejudice in her Voyage; and the misfortune will fall upon that part of the Ship, or Person or Thing in the same, signified by the Sign where the infortune is posited.

Et si idem fuerit ♄. frangetur navis & submergetur. Etiam si ♂. & fuerit in aliqua dignitatum suarum, vel aspiciat dignitatem suam, aut fuerit in signo terreo, Significat idem quod Significavit ♄ de magnis impedimentis & molestiis. Haly.

10. And if the infortune threatning danger shall be ♄, the Vessel will either be split or sunk, and the men therein either drowned, or subject to much prejudice. But if the infortune be ♂, and he in any of his essential Dignities, or aspecting a place where he hath strength, or posited in an Earthy Sign, he portends the same mischief that ♄ did, and very great impediments, and troubles.

11. But if the Fortunes cast their friendly Beams unto either of the aforesaid Places, and the Lords of the Angles, chiefly the Ascendent, and the Dispositor of the ☽ be free, it denotes, although the Ship shall undergo much prejudice, yet the major part of the men and goods shall be preserved.

At si ♂ damnaverit dominus angulorum & dominum ☽. habebunt Navigantes metum ex inimicis, & vehementer trepidabunt.

12. But if ♂ do afflict the Lords of the Angles, and the Dispositor of the ☽, the Saylors or men in the Ship will mightily fear their Enemies; and this in so great a manner, that they shall tremble (saith my Author) by reason of them.

13. He saith also further —— Et si ad hoc malum habuerit aliud damnum in signis, accident inter eos interfectiones, percussiones, vulnera, furta, & prædationes in substantiis & rebus quas ferunt, &c. And if to add unto this evil, there happen any other evil in the Signs, there will be quarrelling, controversies, wounds and thefts among the men in the Ship; they shall cozen and cheat one another. And this will chiefly happen when the infortunes happen to be located in those Signs which dispose of the parts in the upper division of the Ship.

Sed si ♄ adfuerit in hac ratione cum Marte nocens, & infortunet Significatores prædictos, accident eis furta & spoliationes sine interfectione. Haly.

14. But if ♄ do afflict after the same manner as before we said of ♂, there will be many thefts committed in the Ship, and most of the fore-mentioned mischiefes, but no bloodshed.

15. And if the infortunate Signs signifie the Bottome or Lower part part of the Ship, it presages drowning or breaking, or some dangerous Leak.

16. If the Signs unfortunated be in the Mid-Heaven, and ♂ prove the afflicting Planet, the Ship will be burnt, either by fire within her, or by Thunder and Lightning without her, or by some other unhappy Meteor falling out of the Ayr. Mr. Lilly saith, This Aphorism will take place but when the Signs are fierie, and neer violent fixed Stars.

Christ. Astrol. fol. 159.

17. If ♂ shall be in an humane Sign, the burning of the Ship shall be occasioned by some conflict with the Enemies, who shall tear and despoyl her by grapling with her. And the danger shall begin in that part of the Ship signified by the Sign wherein the infortune was placed in the Figure.

Sed si ♄. fuerit ibi vice ♂. & in medio cœli, erit impedimentum per motus ventorum, & per fractionum mali navis, & ex causu & fractione velorum; quod damnum & impedimentum erit secundum potentiam infortunii, & remotionum fortunarum.

18. But if ♄ shall be the threatning Planet in the stead of ♂, and he posited in the mid-Heaven, the Vessel will be prejudiced by the motion of violent winds, or by reason of Leaks, or using bad Sayls; and the impediment will be either greater or lesser, according to the dignity or power of the infortune, and his remotion from the Beams of the good Planets.

19. Etiamsi dominus Ascendentis in hoc fuerit fortunatus, erit reditus cum salutem ac bono successu; at si infortunatus, cum malo & damno. If the Lord of the Ascendent in your Figure shall be fortunate, the Ship shall return with safety and good success; but if he shall be infortunate, she will suffer loss and damage.

20. If the Lord of the Eighth shall infortunate the Lord of the Ascendent; chiefly, if the Lord of the Ascendent be in the Eighth, the danger and impediment that will happen to the Ship, shall be of the nature of the Lord of the Eighth; As, if the Lord of the Eighth shall infortunate the Lord of the Ascendent, the ☽, and her Dispositor, it denotes the death of the Master of the Ship, or some of the principal Officers belonging thereunto.

In Chapter the 24. of the first part, I have treated of all the parts that belong to the 12. Houses.

21. And if the part of fortune and part of substance, and their Lords, shall be infortunate, it denotes loss in the Sale of the goods that are in the Ship. But if in the stead of their infortunacy, they shall be fortunate, it prenotes much gain, and a profitable Voyage.

22. When the Lord of the Ascendent, and the Dispositor of the ☽ shall be slow of course, the Ship in all likelihood will make a long and tedious Voyage of it; chiefly, if the Lords of those places be slow also.

23. But if the aforesaid Significators be quick in motion, the Ship will then sayl nimbly, and make a shorter cut or return of her Voyage then may be expected.

24. And if it shall so fall out that there be enmity between the Lord of the Ascendent, and the Dispositor of the ☽, and no reception happen between them, nor any assistance from the benevolents; the Mariners or Sea-men will contend and strive one with another, and there will be discord also between the Captain, or Master, and them. But he whose Significator is strongest, shall prevail, or overcome: (i.e.) If the Lord of the Ascendent be most powerful, the Mariners and Sea-men; But if the Dispositor of the ☽ be best fortifyed, the Master or Captain overcomes.

Et si dominus 2d. remotus fuerit à sua 2d. & Dominus 2d. remotus à 2d. à ☽. & Dominus ⊕ remotus à ⊕; significat quod habebunt victus indigentiam: & si hoc fuerit insignis aquaticis, erit hæc indigentia maximè in aqua: si in terreis vel aëriis, erit in cibariis quæ fiunt per ignem. Haly. fol. 117.

25. If the Lord of the Second shall be remote from his own Second, and from the Second House from the ☽, and the Lord of the part of fortune fortune removed from the part of fortune, (i.e. Cadent from them, or in □ or ☍ to them,) It then presages want of Victuals, and things necessary: and if they shall be found in Aquatical Signs, there will be a paucity of fresh water, or water that is fit for use. If in Earthy or Ayrie Signs, they will be put to it for want of Victuals, and fire, by reason of which they will be much discontented.

And thus much may serve sufficiciently for the judging of any thing proper and convenient belonging to a Ship; and indeed, for the judgements pertaining to the first House.

Chap. IV.

Questions belonging to the Second House.

The second House is the House of substance (as in Chap. 6. of the first part I have shewed;) and these Questions following are appropriable thereunto, viz.

1. Shall the Querent be rich or poor?
2. By what means shall he attain riches?
3. The time when?
4. Shall he obtain the Goods or Moneys Lent?
5. If he shall obtain the wages or stipend due?

Of these in their Order; which being explained, will lead the Artist the ready way to judge any Question of this kinde whatsoever.

SECT. 1.

Shall the Querent be rich or poor?

1. In resolving this Question, you must observe the Sign of the second and his Lord, the Planet or Planets located therein, and casting rayes either to the Cusp or the Lord thereof; the ⊕ also, and his position.

2. When you finde all the Significators free, and assisted by the bodies or Aspects of the Benevolent Planets, you may conclude the Querent will attain unto a very convenient degree of fortune, and shall escape Poverty.

3. When (on the contrary) you finde all the Significators afflicted, and the fortunate Stars afford them no assistance, you need not fear to say, The person interrogating will be poor, and that in a manner continually.

4. If the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, shall be joyned to the Lord of the House of substance; or the Lord of the second, to the Lord of the Ascendent; or if the Lord of the House of substance shall be posited in the Ascendent; or if the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, shall be in the House of substance; or if the ☽, or any other Planet, shall transfer the light of the Lord of the second, to the Lord of the Ascendent, or of the Lord of the Ascendent, to the Lord of the second; the Querent then shall attain Riches, and live in good esteem, according to his capacity of birth.

Si jungitur dominus ascendentis vel ☽ domino domus substantiæ; vel dominus domus substantiæ, domino Ascendentis; vel fuerit dominus domus substantiæ in Ascendente; vel fuerit dominus ascendentis vel ☽. in domo substantiæ, &c. Guido. part. 2. cap. 1. fol. 231.

5. If

5. If none of these things happen, see to ♄ the naturall Significator of substance; or ♀, who is a fortune; or ☌☋, which always portends good: For if they be free from the ill Beams of the infortunes, or happen to be posited in the House of substance, the Querent will most certainly be Rich, and will bear great sway in the place he lives.

6. VVhen ♄, ♂, or Cauda Draconis shall be in the second House, or afflict the Lord of the Second, ♃, ♀ or ☊, It is an Argument the Querent shall not attain Riches; or if ever he were in a good capacity, he will be reduced to beggery, or to a very mean Estate.

7. The Significators of substance swift in Motion, and in good parts of the Figure, and free from affliction, the Querent will be rich of a sudden: but if they be slow in Motion (although they are not afflicted) the Querent will attain Riches but slowly; chiefly if the Planets signifying Riches, are ponderous and in fixed Signs.

SECT. 2.

By what meanes shall the Querent attain Riches?

1. Having acquainted your self well with the Significators of substance, observe their several Locations, and the Houses they Govern; for from thence is known by what meanes Riches come.

2. If the Lord of the second, or the other Significators of substance be fortunately placed in the Ascendent, the Querent shall attain to great Riches without much labour, in a manner unexpectedly: But if the Lord of the second, &c. be in the second, it shewes the Querent shall obtain an estate by his proper industry.

---Si fuerit in Ascendente, vel fuerit dominus Ascendentis, acquiret interrogator substatiam de labore manuum suarum, & cum persona sua. Si autem fuerit in Secundo, vel fuerit dominus secundi, acquiret eam cum substantia sua, sicut ex mercantiis & similibus, Guido pars. 2. Cap. 2.

3. The Adjuvant Planets being either in the Ascendent or Lord thereof, the Querent by his industry advanceth himself. If Lord of the second, or in the second, he acquires wealth by Merchandizing, and managing his stock, &c. If in the third, or Lord of the third, he gains by Brethren, Kindred, or Neighbours, &c. Et sic de cæteris.

Mr. Lilly Chrst. Astrol. chap. 27. fol. 172.

4. The most assured testimony in Astrologie, upon a Question propounded, whether the Querent shall be rich, and continue so, is this: If the Lord of the first and second, and ♃, be in conjunction either in the second, first, tenth, fourth, seventh, or eleventh Houses; but if they be not in ♂, yet if they apply by ✶ or △ to each other with mutual reception; nay, although they apply by □ or ☍; but if it be with reception, the party will thrive, or have an estate, though with much labour, and many intervening difficulties: yet he will ever more abound then want.

SECT. 3.

The time when a man may attain Riches.

1. Consider seriously the application of the ☽, or Lord of the Ascendent, unto the Planet or Planets signifying the substance of the Querent; and so judge of the time when the Querent may expect Riches.

2. For if you observe the Degrees of distance between the Significators, and (as you are taught in Sect. 5. of Chap. 1.) turn them into time, you have the true distance of time in which Riches, or the Goods of fortune are attainable by the Querent.

3. Fixed Signs prolong the business; bi-corporeal, shew an indifferency, or the time to be neither too long or too sudden. Moveable or Cardinal Signs hasten the matter.

4. I

4. I always observe in things of this Nature, the surest way (as I have mentioned in Cap. 3. Sect. 3.) is, to take the right or oblique Ascentions of your Significators, and direct them to their several Promittors, as in a Nativity, for that way alone is the time of a mans obtaining riches known; chiefly, when the Question is general: but if it be made of a particular sum of money, or the like, observe the Degrees of distance; and according to the Signs they are in, so measure out your time in Yeers, Moneths, VVeeks, or Days, as I have plainly directed you before.

SECT. 4.

Shall he obtain the Goods or Moneys Lent?

1. In this Question (as in others) you must observe, that the Lord of the Ascendent, and the ☽, are Significators of the Querent; and the Lord of the second denotes his substance. But the seventh House and his Lord represents the Person of whom you enquire; and the eighth House, and the Lord thereof, his substance.

---Aspice Dominum Ascendentis & ☽, qui sunt Significatores interrogantis, & secunda erit domus substantiæ suæ. Septima vero & ejus dominus erunt Significatores illius à quo quæritur, & octava & ejus dominus erunt Significatores substantiæ illius à quo quæritur substantia. Guido p. 2. cap. 4.

2. See if the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, be joyned to the Lord of the eighth, who is Significator of the substance of the Party whom you enquire after; Or, see if either of them be joyned to, or in good Aspect with a Planet in the eighth House, and the Planet therein happen to be a fortune, the Querent shall then obtain the Goods or Moneys enquired after.

3. And if it shall so happen, that an infortune be either in the eighth House, or Lord of the Eighth, and he receive either the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, the Person enquiring shall obtain what he expects. But without reception it will hardly be; And if it should so happen that he do obtain it, it will be with so much difficulty, vexation, and trouble, that he might have been better without it.

Si vero fuerit malus & receperit dominum Ascendentis vel ☽. similiter acquiret substantiam de qua interrogat. Si vero non receperit, vix aut nunquam recuperabit eam: & si habuerit, vix aut nunquam habebit eam totam, & cum gravitate atque duritia & instantia habebit quod habebit inde. Guido.

4. When the Lord of the Eighth shall be in the First, or in the Second, and the Lord of the Second shall receive him, it denotes the perfection of the business enquired after.

5. But, if the Lord of the Seventh, or Eighth, shall be posited in the First or Second, and not received of the Lord of the Ascendent, the Moon, or Lord of the Second, it shews the Querent shall not only go without his desire, but if he pursue the business, he shall come off with much loss and detriment.

6. If the Lord of the Ascendent or the ☽ shall be joyned to one of the fortunes which shall have dignity in the Sign Ascending, it denotes the dispatch of the business enquired after; or if either of them shall be joyned to an infortune, having dignities in the Ascendent, and shall receive the Lord of the Ascendent, or ☽, it denotes the accomplishment of the matter or business enquired after.

Si autem Dominus Ascendentis vel ☽ juncti fuerint fortunæ quæ habeat dignitatem in Ascendente fiet res illa, vel si fuerit aliquis eorum junctus malo qui habeat dignitatem in Ascendente, & recipiat dominum Ascendentis vel ☽. fiet res illa de qua interrogat quærens. Guid. part. 2. cap. 4.

7. And, if the Fortunes being in powerful places of the Figure, shall be joyned to the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, the matter or business Interrogated may be accomplished, although there be no reception.

8. Hæc autem omnia supradicta intellige de rebus quæ tractantur, vel sint inter minores & etiam inter communes personas, sicut sunt habitatores civi- civitatum, castrorum, villarum, & similium, quæ non sunt inter personas quarum una excedat aliam multum, &c. saith Guido Bonatus. Mr. Lilly very aptly renders it thus: The judgements of this Chapter (saith he) shall then have place, and prove true, whenas the matter in Question is amongst ordinary persons, or with such people with whom there is a Community (or dealing) as Citizens with Citizens, Countrey-men with Countrey-men, one Tradesman with another. From this judgement exempt Kings, Princes, Noble-men, and such who pay debts slowly, and of whom the Law takes little notice.

Christ. Astrologie, part. 1. chap. 27. fol. 170.

SECT. 5.

If the Querent shall obtain his Wages or Stipend, that is due from the King or any Noble-man, &c.

1. Behold the Ascendent, the Lord of the same, and the ☽, for they have signification of the Querent; and the second from the Ascendent, which is the Querents House of substance, and his Lord. And behold the tenth House and his Lord, which are the proper Significators of the King or Noble-man, &c. And the eleventh House, and his Lord, shall signifie the substance of him or them.

2. If in your Figure, you finde the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽ joyned to the Lord of the Eleventh, or unto a Fortunate Planet in the Eleventh House, without let or impediment; the Querent then shall obtain the wages or stipend due, of the King or Noble-person, &c.

Si Dominus Ascendentis vel ☽ junkti fuerint Domino undecimæ, vel fuerit aliquis eorum junctus Planetæ existenti in undecima, qui sit fortuna, nec si impeditus, nec male dispositus, acquiret ille interrogator illud quod quærit de substantia Regis, &c. Guido. p. 2. cap. 5.

3. Now, if it shall happen, that the ☽ or Lord of the Ascendent shall be joyned to an unfortunate Planet, and the unfortunate Planet receive them, the Querent shall obtain his desire, although it be with long waiting and many sollicitations, and after many fears.

4. But if there be no reception between the Lord of the Ascendent, ☽, and the aforesaid infortune, notwithstanding, any application between them, yet the Querent will rarely obtain his money or wages enquired after.

I observe, if the aforesaid Significators from good Houses of Heaven behold each other friendly, and this without impediment or hinderance, the Querent will gain his money, &c. with facility. But if any Planet, chiefly an infortune, impedite the Significator of the Querents good, consider what House he is Lord of, and that informs you of the Person or Thing that obstructs: as, suppose he should be Lord of the Third, tell the Querent, that a little expedition-money to the Kings or Noble-mans Servant would not do amiss, that being the sixth from the tenth: I have in my practice several times proved this true. And thus much for Judgements of the second House.

CHP.

CHAP. V.

Judgements pertaining to the third House.

THis House judgeth of Brethren, Sisters, Kindred and Neighbours, &c. and of Inland Journeys and Rumors; and these Questions particularly are proper thereunto.

1. Shall the Querent, and his Brethren, &c. and Neighbours accord?
2. Of the condition and estate of an absent Brother?
3. Shall the Querents Inland Journeys be prosperous?
4. If reports and rumors noys'd about, be true or false?
5. Of the Advice of a friend, &c. if good, or bad?

Divers other Questions may be propounded, that properly pertain to this House; but he that understands the manner of judging these, will with ease respond to any other that shall be propounded.

SECT. 1.

Shall the Querent and his Brethren, &c. and Neighbours accord?

1. You are to give the ☽, the Ascendent and his Lord, unto him that enquires, for his Significators; the third House, and the Lord thereof, unto the persons Quesited; and then resolve the Question thus ——— viz.

2. If the Lord of the Third be a benevolent Planet, and in the Ascendent, or the ☽ be in good Aspect with a fortunate Planet in the Third, the Querent and his Brethren and Neighbours will agree well.

3. When the Lord of the Ascendent and Lord of the Third shall be in ✶ or △ of each other, and in mutual reception; or the Lord of the Third cast a ✶ or △ to the Cusp of the Ascendent; and the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, cast the same to the Cusp of the third House, it is an Argument of great unity, love and concord between them.

4. When a fortunate Planet is in the Ascendent, and the Lord of the Ascendent behold the Cusp of the Third, or apply friendly to the Lord of the Third, it is an Argument of a good disposition in the Querent, and speaks him willing to accord with his Brethren, Kindred and Neighbours. And if a Fortune be in the Third, and the Lord of the Third apply lovingly to the Lord of the Ascendent, the Brethren, Kindred, or Neighbours, &c. are most indulging.

5. Those Persons whose Significators do not apply, are most imperious, stout, and apt to disagree; and those whose Significators make application, are flexible, willing and yeilding, and mightily desirous of an agreement and concord.

6. When ♄, ♂, or ☊, in such a Question, shall be in the Ascendent, it denotes the Person enquiring to be an obstinate fellow, evil conditioned, and averse to a friendly agreement; But if they, or either of them, are posited in the Third, the Brethren, Neighbours, and Kindred are of a poysonous and malicious disposition. And if it fortune that ♄ or ♂ shall be Peregrine, Retrograde, or Combust, the malice and mischief they threaten will be the more malicious and mischievous.

7. When ♄ or ♂ is in the Third, the Neighbours are Clowns, the Kindred covetous and sparing; If ♂, the Kindred are Treacherous, the Neighbours thievish. And this is certain, when they are out of their Essential dignities, saith Mr. Lilly.

Christ. Astrol. par. 1. cap. 29. fol. 188.

SECT. 2.

Of the condition and estate of an absent Brother.

--Si quærit de fratre absente, aspice tunc dominum 3m. domus, qui habet significare fratrem; & vide ubi fuerit inventus dominus domus fratris, quia status ejus, & dispositio sua debebit esse secundum quod signif. dominus illius domus in qua fuerit, &c. Guid part. 2. fol. 238.

1. For the resolution of this Question, you must consider the Lord of the third House, for that hath signification of Brethren; and the House where he is posited, because that shews the state and condition of the Quesited. For if the Lord of the third be in ☌, □ or ☍ of the infortunes, or in evil Aspect of the Lords of obscure Houses, the condition of the Brother is sorrowful; but if on the contrary, he be in good Aspect with the fortunes, and in propitious places of the Figure, you may judge his condition to be splendid and glorious.

2. If the Lord of Third shall be posited in the Fourth, in no evil Aspect of the Malevolents, the Brother, &c. which is absent, hath an intention to enrich himself in the place where he is; for the fourth House is the second from the third.

3. Si vero fuerit in quinta, & fuerit junctus cum domino quintæ cum receptione, &c. (i.e.) If the Lord of the third shall be posited in the fifth, or shall be in ☌ with the Lord of the fifth, with or without the reception of the fortunes; for if the Lord of the fifth be not afflicted, it shews the absent Brother to be in health, jocund and merry, and very well pleased with the society of the Persons he lives among.

4. But if the Lord of the Third shall be in the Fifth voyd of course, or in corporal conjunction, or malicious Aspect of the infortunes, and this without reception, and the unfortunate Planets themselves impedited, it declares the absent Brother in a discrasie condition, indisposed in health, and not contented in the place where he is. Bonatus renders this reason of it, Quoniam quinta est tertia à domo fratrum.

5. But, if he shall be found in any of the obscure parts of the Figure, which are naturally evil, as are the sixth, eighth, twelfth Houses, you may conclude the Brother that is absent, is not well in the place where he is, nor is his condition delightfull.

--Si autem inveniris cum octava junctum fortunis à △ vel ✶ aspectu, dic quod frater ejus non sit bene sanus, nec sit ita infirmus quod oporteat eum dubitare: est tamen discrasiatus. Gui. Bon. f. 239.

6. When the Lord of the third is found in the eighth, either in ☌, ✶, or △ of one of the Fortunes, you may conclude the absent Brother not well; but you may also judge him not so ill, as that his recovery should be doubted: nevertheless, he is in a discrasie condition, and of body indisposed.

7. But, if the Lord of the Third shall be joyned to evil Planets in the sixth House, or in ☌ with the Lord of the sixth, the absent Brother is not well, but in an infirm and sickly condition. If the Lord of the sixth be in the Third, except the Lord of the Third shall be well disposed, it denotes the same.

8. Behold (if you finde the Brother of the Querent to be ill and infirm) whether the Lord of the Third be in ☌ with the Lord of the eighth, or entring Combustion; for such a configuration declares he shall shall die of the infirmity afflicting. But if you finde the Lord of the Third in the Seventh, the Brother is in the same Countrey he went unto at first, and continues there; and his condition is neither well nor ill.

Deinde aspice si inveneris fratrem quærentis infirmari; & vide si dominus 3. jungitur domino 8. domus, vel ingrediatur in combustionem, significat quòd morietur ex illa infirmitate. Si vero inveneris eum in 7. &c. Guid. Bonat.

9. If the Significator be in the Eighth, the absent Brother is afraid he shall die; chiefly, if he shall be combust, or in ☌ with the Lord of the Eighth, in the Eighth, in ☌ or Aspect of the infortunes; For these are Arguments of death.

10. When the Lord of the Third is in the Ninth, it is an Argument that the absent Brother is removed from the place he went first unto, and gone into a more remote Countrey; or may possibly have sequestred himself from the world, and betaken himself to some Religious Order; or else may be employed by Religious Persons, &c.

11. But, if he shall be in the Tenth, in ☌, or good Aspect of the fortunate Planets, chiefly, with reception, it denotes him to have acquired some honour, office, or preferment in the place where he lives. But if he shall be in ☌, □, or ☍ of the infortunes, Combust, or any other way infortunated, it is to be feared the absent brother is dead.

Si vero fuerit in 10 & fuerit junctus fortunis à △ vel ✶ Aspectu, & maxime receptione, signif. quod acquisiverit officium seu honorem aliquem, vel dignitatem in terra in qua est. Si vero junctus malis à □ Aspectu, vel ab ☍, vel alio modo im. edientibus eum, vel fuerit combustus in 10. dubitabitur de ipsius morte.

12. If the Lord of the Third be in the Eleventh House, in ☌, ✶ or △ of the fortunes, or in ☌ with the Lord of the Eleventh, it denotes the absent Brother to be at the House or place of some friend that repects him well; and there he is very delightful, jocund, and merry. Si vero fuerint mali aspicientes eum, signif. quod non gaudet in his quæ habet, nec videtur sibi quod ipse sit in bono esse. But if he shall be maliciously beheld of the unfortunate Planets, he is not delighted or pleased with the condition he is in, but is grieved and perplexed, &c.

13. The Significator of the absent party, in the twelfth House, in ☌ or good Aspect of the fortunes with reception, and the fortunes themselves no wayes impedited, Signif. quod habeat aliquod magisterium, vel gerit mercationem equorum & bovum, unde lucratur, &c. it protends that he shall Merchandise and deal in Cattle of the greater sort, as Horses, Oxen, &c. whence he will gain Riches.

14. But, if he shall be unfortunated in the twelfth House, either by the bad Aspects of the Malevolents, or Lord of the Eighth, or in Combustion, &c. It shews the absent Brother to be discontented, troubled and perplexed, and he is afraid he shall never see the Land of his Nativity again; and indeed, it is possible he may die there.

15. When you finde the Lord of the Third in the First, you may conclude the absent Brother is joyful and merry, and very well pleased and delighted in the place where he is; and is in a very good condition.

Si fuerit in prime, gaudet & lætabitur eum diligentibus eum, & est bene dispositus.

16. If the Lord of the Third be in the Second (it being the twelfth from the third) the absent Brother is in no very good condition; he would willingly remove from the place where he is, but cannot, for he hath committed some unhandsome act, or the like, whereby his liberty is restrained. Si quidem fuerit retrogradus, nititur reverti ad propria quandoque potuerit. But if his significator shall be found retrograde, it is forty to one, but when those who have the charge of him least think of it, he will finde some trick or opportunity whereby to make his escape. And thus much may serve for the resolution of this Question.

SECT.

SECT. 3.

Shall the Querents Inland Journeys be prosperous?

1. Persons that travel much in the Countrey where they live, and have not their Nativities to direct them, may have occasion to make use of the Astrologer in this Question; for we know certainly, that those who travel much, do not always travel safe, but sometimes are in danger either of theeves, sickness, or falls in their Journeys, that may occasion them to repent the undertaking thereof. Now, for the prevention of such accidents, and enabling the Astrologer for the judging a Question of this Nature, I shall lay down these following Rules or Aphorisms.

2. Give the Ascendent and his Lord, and ☽, to the Querent; the third House and Lord thereof, to signifie the Journey; And see if the Significators be swift in Motion, or in the Essential Dignities of each other, or in ☌, ✶, or △ each to other, in good places of the Figure; for if such things appear, do not dishearten the Querent, but tell him 'twill be a good Journey to him.

3. If the ☽ be in the Third, in ✶ to the Ascendent, or the Lord of the third cast a ✶ or △ to the Ascendent, or be in the same; and the Lord of the Ascendent so aspecting the Third, or in the Third, these portend a pleasant Journey to the Querent.

4. If the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽ apply to any Planet in the third House, or the Lord of the Third to a Planet in the Ascendent, it denotes the Journey enquired after to be pleasant.

5. Jupiter or Venus in the third, shews a profitable and delightful Journey; chiefly, if they cast a ✶ to the Ascendent: the ☊ in the third House, shews the same.

6. When ♄ or ♂, or ☋, shall be posited in the third house, or shall afflict the Lord thereof, or the ☽, it shews but an unluckly Journey to the Querent, and very ill success therein.

7. Saturn shews the Querent to be Melancholy and pensive in his Journey; ♂ and ☋, shews him to be in danger of Theeves and Robbers; and if they shall be in humane Signs, or fierie, it denotes him to be cut and wounded in his Journey.

8. When the Lord of the Ascendent, &c. shall be Retrograde, the Querent will return again before he hath gone to the place he intended: if the Significators be slow, he makes but little haste or speed in his Journey.

9. If the Lord of the sixth afflict the Significators, tell the Querent, he will go neer to fall sick by the way; If the Lord of the twelfth, he will be kept Prisoner, or hindred by malicious people; if the Lord of the eighth be the afflicting Planet, he shews danger of Death; chiefly, if the Significators be neer violent fixed Stars.

SECT. 4.

If Reports or Rumors noys'd about, be true or false?

This Question (as others) comes within the compass of the judgments of Astrologie, and may be answered thus.

1. Observe the Lord of the Ascendent and ☽, and the Dispositor of the ☽, and see if either of them be in an Angle or succedent House in a fixed Sign, or in good Aspect with ♃, ☉, or ☿; for usually upon such configurations, the Reports and rumors are true.

2. But

2. But, if the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, be afflicted of ♄, or ♂, or Cadent from an Angle, although they be strong in the Sign where they are, yet the Rumor is false.

3. Rumors are also true and good, when the Angles of the Figure are fixed Signs, and the ☽ and ☿ in fixed Signs, separating from the Infortunes, and applying to a Fortune posited in any of the Angles of the Figure.

Etiam Rumores erunt veri & boni quando in Angulis fuerint signa fixa; & ☿ & ☽ in signis fixis, & separantes, sc. ab infortuniis, & quod sit in aliquo angulorum fortuna. Haly, pars. 1. chap. 30.

4. VVhen the Angles of the tenth and fourth Houses are fixed, and the ☽ shall be received in either of them, although the Rumors and Reports be ill, yet they will hold true.

5. If the Fortunate Planets, viz. ♃ and ♀, shall be in the Ascendent, and the ☽ at the same time unfortunate, let the Rumors or Reports be never so mischievous and unlucky, &c. they will be sure to prove false, and come to nothing.

6. Mercury being Retrograde or otherways afflicted, declares ill Rumors to be false; the like doth the affliction of that Planet, to whom ☿ or the ☽ doth apply.

Retrogradatio ☿, aut planetæ cui applicat ☿, & illius cui applicat ☽, &c. Haly.

7. If the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽ shall be under the Suns Beames, the truth of the Rumor is kept secret in the Brests of great Ones, and few shall know the truth thereof.

8. If the ☽ be voyd of Course, or in □ or ☍ of ☿, and neither of them cast their ✶ or △ Aspects to the Ascendent, the news or Rumor is meerly vain and false, and may suddenly be contradicted; and this Mr. Lilly saith, he hath proved true. And thus much may serve for the judging of Rumors.

Christ. Astrol. part. 2. cap. 29. fol. 192.

SECT. 5.

Of the advice of a friend, &c. whether good or evil.

Many times Neighbors or Friends, &c. seeing a Person in a strait, or in a troubled condition, will advise and perswade with him what he had best to do in such or such a case, &c. Now if you would know whether he or they intend faithfully, or perfidiously, erect your Figure to the moment of time they first drop their counsel or advice into your ears, and judge as followeth:

1. Behold the Mid-Heaven (that being the House signifying advice) and see if there be any fortunate Star or Planet posited therein; for then the counsel or advice is serious and good, and will not be amiss for you to follow.

2. But if an Infortune shall be found in the tenth House, the friends that pretend Counsel intend knavishly, and are Lyars and vain deceitful fellows.

--Aspice in medio Cæli, & si inveniant fortuna, ejus consilium est bonum & verum. At si Infortunium ibi fuerit, est deceptor & mendax. Haly pars. 1. cap. 29.

3. Mr. Lilly saith, If the ☽ be applying to the Lord of the Ascendent (with good Aspect) we may then judge the Persons advising, come with an honest heart; and the advice they give is intended for your good, &c.

Christ. Astrol. part. 1. fol. fol. 194.

4. Haly averreth, When any one shall come to consult with a man, and the Ascendent of the Question, &c. shall happen to be a Bi-corporeal, or double-bodied Sign, and the Lord of the Ascendent

Quod ego aut expertus confirmo & dico si consultor ad te veniat, & Ascendens fuerit ex signis communibus, aut dominus ascendentis, & ☽, fuerit in signis communibus, quod deceptor est, & te vult decipere. Ne ergo auscultes ei. Haly de jud. Astr. par. 1. fol. 31.

cendent

cendent and ☽, shall be found in Signs common also; he is then a Deceiver, and comes on purpose to ensnare thee. Listen not therefore, or give ear unto him.

CHAP. VI.

Judgements of the fourth House.

THe fourth House giveth judgement of Possessions, Inheritances, Lands, or Houses, and of things hid and mislay'd; of the Father, &c. and hath these Questions proper unto it, viz.

1. Shall the Querent purchase the House or Land, &c.
2. Of the Quality thereof, and shall the Querent do well to take it?
3. If it be good for one to remove, or abide where he is?
4. Of Treasure hid, if attainable?
5. Is there Treasure in the place supposed?
6. Shall the Querent enjoy the Estate of his Father?
7. Of a thing mislay'd, how, or where to finde it?

These Questions being once resolv'd, will lead the Artist to the understanding of any thing of the like Nature.

SECT. 1.

Shall the Querent purchase the House or Land, &c.

--Aspice Ascendens & dominum ejus, & ☽, qui habeat significare interrogantem; & aspice signum quartum, & dominum ejus, quæ sunt Significatores rei quæsitæ. Guido. fol.241.

1. In the resolution of this Question, you are (according to the opinion of the Ancients) to give the Ascendent and his Lord, and the ☽, to signifie him that enquires; the Sign of the fourth House, and Lord thereof, to signifie the thing Quesited.

2. If the Lord of the Ascendent, or the ☽, shall be in the fourth House, or the Lord of the Fourth in the First, or if either of them shall be in ☌ with the Lord of the Fourth, or in ✶ or △ unto him with reception, it declares the accomplishment of the thing without impediment, let, or hinderance. But if they shall be joyned without reception, or shall be in □, or ☍ with perfect reception, Guido saith the Querent shall have his desire.

3. But if the Significators shall not be joyned together, neither by Body or Aspect, yet if there be a Translation of light between them, either by the ☽, or another Planet, it shews a possibility of the Thing, although with much difficulty and trouble.

--Da Ascendens & ejus dominum, & planetam a quo ☽ separant, querenti vel emptori, & 7. & ejus dominum, & planetam cui se applicat ☽, ei à quo petit vel venditur; & 4. domum & ejus dominum, & planetam qui fuerit in ea, & ☽. rei emptæ vel petitæ; & medium Cæli pratio. Haly de jud. Astror. pars. 1. chap. 32.

4. Haly adviseth us to judge of this Question after this manner: Give the Sign ascending, and the Lord thereof, and the Planet from whom the ☽ is separated, to the Querent or Purchaser. The seventh House and his Lord, and the Planet to whom the ☽ applies, to the Seller.

5. Give the fourth House and his Lord, the Planet or Planets posited therein, and the ☽, to signifie the Thing to be bought or purchased; and the Mid-Heaven to signifie the price thereof.

6. When you finde in your Figure the Lord of the Ascendent behold the Lord of Seventh, and the Lord of the Seventh apply to the Lord of the Ascendent, say that the Seller hath a great desire to deal with the Buyer; and if they Fortune to be in each others dignities, or any good translation of light happen between them, or if they apply to a Corporal ☌, the Querent will agree with the Seller, without much difficulty or trouble.

7. But if the application or translation of light be by Quartile or Opposition, the Buyer and Seller will at the last agree; but it will be with much labour and expence of time, and after many probabilities of a breaking off.

8. See if the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽ shall apply to the Lord of the Fourth; or if the Lord of the Fourth, or ☽, shall apply to the Lord of the Ascendent; or, if the Lord of the Fourth alone shall apply to the Lord of the Ascendent, and there be a reception between them, &c. Or, if the Lord of the Ascendent, or ☽, shall be in the Fourth, or Lord of the Fourth in the Ascendent, all these portend the party enquiring shall buy or purchase the Land or inheritance enquired after.

Sed si hoc non fuerit, & ☽. detulerit lumen unius eorum ad alium, denotat quod res illa fiet, tamen per mediatores & manus legatorum. Haly.

9. But if neither of these happen, yet if the ☽ shall transfer the light of one Significator to the other, it denotes that the thing shall be perfected but by Mediation of friends, or by Messengers.

10. But if there be no application, or translation of light between them, nor dwelling in Houses, &c. then it is impossible that any thing shall be concluded between them.

SECT. 2.

Of the Quality thereof; And shall the Querent do well to take it?

1. Look to the fourth House for to resolve this Interrogatory; and if you finde the two Infortunate Planets therein, either Potent or Perigrine, the Thing enquired after will be spoyled and wasted by the Buyer; and at the present 'tis in no good Condition.

2. If you finde the Lord of the Fourth unfortunated, either by Retrogradation, Detriment, Fall, or Peregrination, it denotes the House or Land, &c. to be but bad, or else so encumbred, that it will never continue long with the Purchaser.

3. If the Fortunate Planets shall be in the Fourth House, or the ☊ there, it shews the business enquired after to be good; and the Buyer or Purchaser shall be a gainer thereby.

4. When the Fortunate Planets shall cast their Benevolent Rayes unto the fourth House; and the Lord of the Fourth shall be posited in a good House, in ✶ or △ to the second House or his Lord, it is then an Argument that the Land, &c. is good, and the Purchaser shall be a gainer thereby.

--☿ vel ejus triplicitas, dicere possis terram esse montosam, duram & aridam; si sit ♉, ♍, ♑, terram esse planam; si ♊, ♎, ♒, quod sit mixta, scilicet, quod in ea sit mons & planities; si ♋, ♏, ♓, quod sit uliginosa & circa aquam. Haly, part. 1. fol. 33.

5. If ♈, ♌, or ♐ shall be upon the Cuspe of the fourth House, you may then say the Ground (if Ground be to be purchased) is Mountanous, Hilly, Hard and Dry. If ♉, ♍, or ♑, the ground is a Plain, and very good. If ♊, ♎, ♒, the ground is mixt, (i.e.) some part high, and some low; and is in Quality neither very good nor very bad. If ♋, ♏, or ♓, the Ground is moyst, and over-burdened with much water.

6. An unfortunate Planet in the fourth Retrograde, shews the Land or House, &c. to be very evil, and not worth the taking, 'twill be accompanied companied with so many infelicities: if a Fortunate Planet be there strong, the Land is good, and may well invite the Querent to go on, for he will have a good bargain.

SECT. 3.

If good for one to remove, or abide where he is?

1. In this Question (as in all others) you must give the Ascendent, and the Lord thereof, to signifie the Querent; the seventh House and Lord thereof, to signifie the place unto which he would go; the fourth House and his Lord, the House or Land, &c. of the Querent; the tenth House and his Lord, the profit of removal.

2. The Lord of the Ascendent or fourth in the Seventh, and the Lord of the Ascendent and seventh, fortunate Planets, swift in Motion, strong and potent where they are, the Querent then may do well to remain where he is, and not remove.

3. But if the Lord of the Seventh be with a good Planet, and the Lords of the Ascendent or fourth with an evil one, you may tell the Querent, it is his best way to remove, for he will get little by continuing where he is.

4. Fortunate Planets in the Ascendent or Fourth, may invite the Querent to stay in the place where he is: If the Lords of those Houses are in ☌, or good Aspects with fortunate Stars, it denotes the same.

5. Unfortunate Planets in the Ascendent or Fourth, tell the Querent 'tis good to remove from the place where he is: and if the Lords of the Ascendent and fourth be afflicted by the malignants, either by Body or Aspect, the same.

6. Observe the afflicting Planet or Planets, and the House or Houses he or they govern, for from thence the occasion of the mischief that the Querent sustains, is known; the like observe of the assisting or friendly Planets, &c. And you cannot fail in giving a rational Answer to the Proponent.

SECT. 4.

Of Treasure hid, if attainable?

1. Common it is for Persons to hide Treasure, and as common for those that hide a great deal, to forget where some part of it may be; therefore after erection of your Figure, consider what application, reception, translation, &c. there may be between the Lords of the Ascendent and fourth House.

2. If there be a friendly application and reception, the Person enquiring shall obtain the Treasure he looketh for. But if there be a □ or ☍ between the Significators, without reception, the Treasure hid will very hardly be found.

3. When the Significators apply to each other Corporally in a fixed Sign, there is much hopes of finding and obtaining the same suddenly; chiefly, if the application be in a good House.

4. Both or either of the lights in the Ascendent no way unfortunated, or else friendly beholding the same, argues a speedy recovery of the Treasure hid: But if instead hereof they happen to be Cadent, or in □ or ☍ thereto, it denotes small hopes.

5. If the part of fortune shall be in the Ascendent, and there beheld by by the fortunate Planets, or the Luminaries, the Querent will then be in good hopes of acquiring the Treasure hid.

6. But, if the ⊕ and the Luminaries be Cadent, chiefly the ☽; and neither of the lights cast a friendly Aspect to the ⊕, or the Ascendent; Nor the Lord of the Ascendent behold the Ascendent, it is an argument the Querent cannot obtain the Treasure hid.

7. I always observe in Questions of this nature, if Fortunate Planets be in the Fourth, or govern the Fourth, that there is Treasure: and if the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽ be in good Aspect with those Planets, the Querent doth attain unto it by search.

8. On the contrary, if Infortunes be in the fourth House, or the Luminaries weak there, it is an Argument of irrecovery; or shews (sometimes) that it is taken away before. I remember about five or six years since, a Captain who had a Patent to search for hidden Treasure, asked my opinion concerning a business he was about in Chick-Lane London; I erected a Scheam upon his proposal, and found the ☽ in ♏ in the fourth, in □ to ♄: I told him I conceived there was no Treasure, or if there were, it was removed, and advised him to forbear his scrutinie, for fear of gaining prejudice instead of Treasure, in his going on. He enquired of me what prejudice? I answered (considering the Moons position in a moyst Sign, in □ to ♄ in the twelfth House) that either some malicious people would put some trick upon him, or else some Vault might break in upon him and his Company, &c. the later of which I most feared, and not the former. The Captain was perswaded at present to break off, and went from me so resolved: But an itch of covetousness over-prevailed with him, and caused him straight-way to change purpose, and to digging he goes again (the same night he had been with me) and reaped what he well deserved, (for his mutability of minde) and was for all his pains, appayd with the breaking in of a Jakes upon him and his Company.

SECT. 5.

Is there Treasure in the place supposed?

1. A Question being thus in a general way propounded, give the Lord of the Ascendent and the ☽ to the Querent for his Significators; the fourth House, and the Planet or Planets posited therein, shall signifie the Treasure enquired after.

2. When ♃, ♀, or ☌ ☊ is in the fourth House, they declare Treasure to be in the place supposed; and, if they be in their essential Dignities, it is very certain that there is a great deal there.

3. If you finde any of the other Planets in their own Houses, in the fourth House without impediment, &c. you may conclude that there is Treasure in the place supposed; and it is of the Nature of the Planet signifying it.

4. If the Planet signifying the Treasure be ☉, you may say, there is Gold, or Jewels, &c. If the ☽, 'tis Silver. If ♄, Lead, Coles, or a quarry of Stone; according to the place supposed. If ♂, there is Brass or Iron, or such like. If ♃, Tin. If ♀, womens Ornaments. If ☿, Pictures, Medals, Books, or such like.

4. If the fourth House be unfortunated (i. e. if the ☌ ☋, or ♄, or ♂, be there, and no ways essentially dignified; or, if ♄, or ♂, cast a □ or ☍ thereunto) you may safely judge there is no Treasure at all.

6. The Lord of the fourth, or ☽ separated from good Planets, shews that that there hath been some Treasure in the place supposed, but it is gone: But if he or she separate ill, tell your Querent there was never any Treasure in the place supposed.

7. Some conclude the Lord of the seventh ought to shew the Nature and Quality of the Treasure. Those who have a desire, may make tryal of that way: but for my part, I confess I understand no reason for it.

SECT. 6.

Shall the Querent enjoy the Estate of his Father?

Many there are (whose Fathers bridle them in too close) that have occasion to ask this Question; and the Astrologer may resolve it according to these following Rules:

As the second House signifies the substance of the Querent, so the fifth house hath signification of his Fathers substance, it being the second from the fourth.

1. If in your Figure, you finde the Lord of the Second, and Lord of the fifth, in the mutual Dignities of each other; or the Lord of the Second in the fifth, or Lord of the fifth in the Second; if any of these happen, the Querent will enjoy the Estate of his Father.

2. If the Lord of the fifth House be Retrograde, or afflicted by some Malevolent Planet, it presages that much of the Estate which the Querents Father intended for him, will be wasted, or else it will be otherways disposed of.

3. When you finde the Lord of the Fifth dispose of the ⊕ in the Ascendent, or second House of the Figure, there is no fear but the Querent shall enjoy what he expects from his Father.

4. The Lord of the Ascendent, or second House, disposing of the Lord of the fifth, shews the Thing enquired after to be so assured to the Querent, that he cannot be hindred thereof.

5. The ☽ transferring the Light of the Lord of the Fifth by ☌ or △, to the Lord of the Second, or Lord of the Ascendent, declares the Question enquired after to come to good. If ♃ or ♀ in the fifth, shall friendly behold the Lord of the Second, or a Planet in the Second, it signifies the same.

6. If the Lord of the Second and Fifth apply unto a good Aspect, or a corporal ☌ by Retrogradation, the Querent will receive some of his Fathers Estate suddenly.

7. The Lord of the Fourth an Infortune, or an Infortune in the Fourth, declares the Father to be so close-fisted, that he cares not to part with any thing: say the same, if the Significators of each are Non-beholding.

SECT. 7.

Of a Thing mislaid, how, or where to finde it.

Having erected your Figure, and rightly considered of your Ascendent, &c. you may proceed to judgement after this manner, viz.

1. If the Lord of the Second be in an Angle, the Thing missing is within the House of the Querent; But if the Lord of the Second, or ☽ be in the Ascendent, or in the Sign the Lord of the Ascendent is in, or disposed of by him, the thing missing is in that part of the House, which the Querent himself most frequents.

2. The Lord of the Second or ☽, in the tenth House, declares the Thing hid or mislaid to be in the Hall or Dining-room, if a Gentleman ask ask the Question; If a Tradesman, 'tis in his Shop, or Counting-House.

3. But, if the Lord of the Second, or ☽, be in the Seventh, the Thing is in that part of the House where the Querents Wife or Mayd-Servants use most to be. If in the sixth, where his Servants alone have most to do, &c.

4. To judge of the Nature or Quality of the place, you must observe the Nature and Quality of the Signs the Significators are in; which, if they be Aiery, the Thing wanting is in the upper part of the House; If fiery, 'tis neer a Chimney, or where Iron is layd; If earthy, it is neer some Pavement or Floor, or in some low place: If watry, then it is neer to some Sink or Wash-House, or in some Mooriſh moyst place, &c.

5. You must also observe the Quarters the Signs govern, for that directs you to the right Angle or part of the House where the Thing is hid or mislaid; and in this judgement, Mr. Lilly saith, The Signs are thus to be observed in their Government. Christ. Astrol. chap. 32. fol. 204.

♈, East. ♉, East and by North. ♊, East and by South.
♋, North. ♌, North and by East. ♍, North and by West.
♎, West. ♏, VVest and by North. ♐, VVest and by South.
♑, South. ♒, South and by East. ♓, South and by VVest.

Those that make tryal of these Rules in this manner of Judgement, will finde a great deal of pleasure and profit therein: But I would not have an Artist prostitute his Art to every Vulgar or Mechanical desire; for by such means, he will beslave himself, and render his Art contemptible. The Art it self is too sacred to be made common: and did I not hope to pleasure some worthy and deserving Persons with these my Labours, it would repent me that I have taken the pains to publish so much of Art, to the other sort of people in the VVorld.

For an Artist to respond to every trifle, or endeavor to satisfie the curiosity of every Beef-brain'd Questionist, is every whit as dishonourable, as for an intelligent Lawyer to Moot with a Bear, or for a Divine to Preach to a Herd of Hoggs. Let it therefore be the Artist's Prudence, to judge only of Questions considerable, and such as are serious and fit to be propounded. For, although the Question of this last Section (suddenly considered) savoureth of Levity; yet, excellent use may be made thereof, as I have often proved: therefore, I would not have any, to an idle end, wrest the Rules of Art.

CHAP. VII.

Of Judgements belonging to the fifth House.

THis House giveth judgement of children, Messengers, Plays and delights, &c. and hath these Questions belonging unto it.

1. Whether a woman shall have children?
2. In what time may she conceive?
3. If a Woman enquiring be with child?
4. If she be impregnated of a Boy or Girle?
5. Shall she have Twins?
6. When will the birth be?

7. Of

7. Of a Messenger sent of a Message?
8. Shall the Querent gain or lose by play?

He that knows how to resolve these Questions, cannot be to seek to resolve any that belongs unto this House. I will deliver the Rules and Aphorisms that are pertinent to each Question, in a Section by it self, that the Artist may the more readily understand them.

SECT. 1.

Whether a woman shall have Children?

---Aspice Asc. tendens & dominum ejus & ☽, & si videris dominum Ascendentis & ☽, vel aliquem eorum, junctum domino quintæ, quæ est domus filiorum, &c. Guido.

1. In the resolution of this Question, behold the Ascendent, and his Lord, and ☽, and see if either of them be joyned to the Lord of the fifth, (which is the House of children) for if they be, the Querent shall have children. And if neither of these be joyned together, see if some other Planet transfer the light of the Lord of the Ascendent to the Lord of the Fifth; For that is an Argument, that the Querent may have children.

2. Consider also, if the Sign of the Fifth be fruitful, and if the Lord of the Fifth, the ☽, the Ascendent, and his Lord, be in prolifical Signs also, it is an assured Argument that the Querent shall have Issue.

---Vide si dominus Ascendentis vel ☽, fuerint in domo 5. dic quod sit habiturus filios; similiter si dominus 5. fuerit in Ascendente, &c.

3. If the Lord of the Ascendent, or ☽, shall be posited in the fifth House, say the Querent shall have children; And if the Lord of the fifth House shall be in the Ascendent, it declares the same.

4. But, if neither the Lord of the Ascendent, or ☽, apply to the Lord of the Fifth, yet if there be a translation of light and vertue between them, the Querent need not to doubt of having children.

5. If all the Significators be in sterile Signs, and defective degrees of those Signs, the Querent will rarely have Issue.

6. If ♀ the general Significator of children or issue be afflicted, either by the presence of ♄, ♂, or ☋, or Combust of the Sun, the Querent will hardly have children.

7. Saturn, or ☋ in the Fifth or afflicting the Lord of the Fifth, generally denies Issue; if ♄ or ♂ shall be in □ or ☍ to the fifth House, or his Lord, it portends the same.

8. Moreover, behold ♃, which hath naturally signification of children; if you finde him in the fifth, third, first, ninth, or eleventh Houses, free from all the abovesaid impediments, say that the Querent may have children. If ♀ be in the same condition, you may judge the same.

SECT. 2.

In what time may the woman conceive?

1. Having before found a possibility of Issue, you may judge in what time it may be, thus: observe in what Sign you finde the Lord of the fifth House, and what Planet or Planets you finde him in configuration with; for, if you finde him in the Ascendent, fifth, or eleventh Houses, in fruitful Signs, and with fruitful Planets, the Querent may suddenly conceive.

2. Some hold, that if the Lord of the fifth be in the first, the Querent may conceive in the first year. If in the second, the second year. If in the tenth, the third year. If in the seventh, the fourth year. If in the fourth House, the fifth year.

3. Ha-

3. Having considered the capacity and condition of the Querent for conception, I observe the distance between the friendly Aspects of the ☽, or Lord of the Ascendent, with the Lord of the Fifth, and ♃ or ♀, and so judge of the time.

4. If they shall be in moveable Signs, their Degrees of distance shews VVeeks or Days; in common Signs, Moneths or VVeeks; in fixed Signs, Yeers or Moneths.

SECT. 3.

If a woman enquiring be with child?

Mr. Culpeper in his Directory for Midwives, averreth, That it is as easie for a woman to be cozened a Moneth, &c. in her time of being with child at the first, as for to mistake one shooe for another in the dark. If a woman therefore, suspecting her self with child, propound the Question, whether she be or not? answer according to these Rules:

1. If the Lord of the Ascendent, or ☽, behold the Lord of the fifth with any good Aspect or translation; or they, or either of them fortune to be posited in the fifth House; the woman enquiring is with child.

2. VVhen the Significators apply friendly, or are posited in fruitful Signs, and if they be in fruitful Houses also, as are the Fifth, Eleventh, and Seventh; the party enquiring is with child.

3. The Lord of the Ascendent, or Lord of the fifth, aspecting a Planet with reception in an Angle, and the ☽ in reception with a Planet essentially fortified in an Angle also, shews the Querent to be with child.

4. Jupiter, the natural significator of children, in the Ascendent, fifth, seventh, or eleventh Houses, no ways afflicted of the Infortunes, denotes the Querent to be with child. But if ♃ be afflicted of the Infortunes, or shall be Cadent, or sub radiis, significat quod non prægnans; the woman enquiring then is not with child.

5. Haly saith, If the Lord of the Tenth, and ☉, shall be in good places of the Figure, and in friendly configuration with the Fortunes, the woman then enquiring is with child.

---Sed si dominus M C & ☉. in bonis locis, & fortunæ Aspexerint eos, significat quòd est prægnans. fol. 39.

6. Likewise, if the Moon, and the Lords of the triplicity she is in, shall be well located in Signs of many children, as are ♋, ♏, ♓; the woman then enquiring is with child.

Si ☽ & domini triplicitatis suæ fuerint in signis multorum filiorum, significat quod est prægnans.

7. Sed si duæ fortunæ fuerint in Angulis & liberæ ab Infortuniis, signif. quod est prægnans. If ♃, and ♀, shall be posited in Angles, free from the malicious Beams of the Infortunes; the woman enquiring is with child.

8. VVhen you finde the Significators afflicted of ♄, or ♂, or ☋, you have then ground to judge that the woman enquiring is not with child, but is troubled with some distemper, &c. whence she conceits her self to be with child.

9. The position of ♄, ♂, or ☋ in the Fifth, shews a Non-conception: but if it so happen, that the testimonies for her being with child are the greater in number, they then threaten abortion. The like when they afflict either ♀, ☽, or the Lords of the fifth or Ascendent.

SECT.

SECT. 4.

Is the woman impregnated of a Boy or Girle?

1. For the resolution of this Question, you must observe the Ascendent, and his Lord, the fifth House and Lord thereof, and the ☽, and Planet to whom she applies; for if they, or the most of them, be in Masculine Signs, the Querent is with child of a Boy. If in Feminine Signs, she then goeth with a Girl.

2. The aforesaid Significators being the most of them in Feminine Signs, yet if they are in Aspects with Planets Masculine, and in Houses Masculine, and with Stars of a Masculine nature and disposition, the woman will have a Male-child.

☿ vero quando est orientalis in mundo, quod oritur in mane ante ☉, dicitur masculinus: quando fuerit occidentalis in mundo, quod occidit post ☉ iacero, dicitur femininus. Guido.

3. Masculine Planets are ♄, ♃, ♂, ☉; Feminine are ♀, and ☽: ☿ is in his nature convertible, and is either Masculine or Feminine, according to the Planet or Planets he is in Aspect with: Yet some conclude him in his Orientality, Masculine; but occidental, Feminine.

4. Signs of a Masculine disposition or Nature, are ♈, ♊, ♌, ♎, ♐, ♒. And Feminine Signs, are ♉, ♋, ♍, ♏, ♑, ♓: these being heeded, the Sex is easily discovered.

SECT. 5.

Shall she have Twins, or more then one?

1. Consider what Sign is Ascending, and where the Lord thereof is, and what Sign is upon the Cusp of the Fifth, &c. For, if the Significators be in Bi-corporeal or double-bodyed Signs, the Querent may very probably have two children.

2. If ♃, ♀, or ☊, shall be in a fruitful Sign, either in the Fifth, or Ascendent, it is possible for the Querent to have three children; chiefly, if the Moon lend her assistance.

Et si non fuerint planetæ in Ascendente, neque in 5. vidi si aliquis planetarum aspiciat Ascendens vel 5. gradu per gradum, &c. Guido. Christ. Astrol. part 1. fol. 230.

3. But if these Planets be not posited in the Ascendent, or fifth House; yet, if they cast their friendly Rayes to either of them, it is an Argument the Querent hath Twins within her.

4. Mr. Lilly saith, If fixed Signs or moveable, possess the Cusps of the Ascendent or Fifth, and the ☉ or ☽ be posited therein, 'tis a certain Argument the woman is with child but of one.

SECT. 6.

When, or in what time will the birth be?

You are taught in part 1. chap. 24. of this Book, how to take the part of children.

1. In resolving this Question, you are seriously to consider the significators as well of the child, as the Person enquiring; and observe the part of children also (as Mr. Lilly directs:) and having truly taken it, and directed it by the oblique Ascentions, &c. unto the Degree or the fifth House or his Lord, or to ♃, or his good Aspects; and by allowing a day to each Degree of distance, you will come very neer the time of Birth.

2. Together with this, you ought to take notice of the time she hath to go: for it would be a meer madness in any man, to judge a woman shall be delivered at the end of a Moneth, two or three, although the part of children should at that time be directed to the place of ♃, or the Cusp of the fifth House, &c.

3. Observe therefore how long she may naturally go, and then consider what direction or transit there may be either to the fifth House, ♃, ♀, or ☽, &c. and say at that time the woman may be delivered; and you will not fail; chiefly, if the true transit or Direction shall fall in the Fifth, Eleventh, or Ascendent; and this is the way that I observe in such a Question. And so I end with womens businesses in this Chapter.

SECT. 7.

Of a Messenger sent of an errand, &c.

Si quando interrogatus fueris super statu nuncii, da Ascendens & ejus dominum, ei qui mittit nuncium; & septimam domum, & ejus dominum, ei ad quem mittitur, &c. Haly.

1. If when any one enquires of you concerning a Message, &c. give the Ascendent and his Lord to him that sent the Messenger; the seventh House and his Lord to signifie him to whom the Messenger is sent; and let the ☽ signifie the Message it self: and the Lord of the Fifth the Messenger, and his management or ordering of the businesse.

2. When the Lord of the fifth House shall separate from the Lord of the seventh, and apply to the Lord of the Ascendent, you may then judge the Messenger hath effected his business, and is returning again.

3. If he shall separate from the Lord of the second (I understand the Quesited's Second, which is the Eighth;) dic quod defert substantiam, sive sit significator fortuna, sive infortunium; he then brings money with him, let the Significator of that House be either a Fortune or Infortune.

4. If you finde the Significator of the Messenger separate well; 'tis an Argument he hath been honest, and he will bring you good tidings of your business: But, if he separate from the Malevolents, it shews the Messenger hath done his business lamely, or else hath been hindred in the performance of the Thing, or hath not done it at all.

Sed si ille significator nuncii applicuerit de 4. vel opposito infortunii ante quem à domino 7. separent, dic quod nuncius habuit impedimentum in legatione ab eo ad quem fuit missus. Haly.

5. But, if the Significator of the Messenger do apply to an Infortune by □ or ☍, and this before he can separate from the Lord of the seventh, it signifies that the Messenger hath had some let or impediment in the business he went about, by the party to whom he was sent.

6. But if the Significator of the Messenger shall go to the □ or ☍ of either of the Infortunes, after he is separated from the Lord of the seventh; the Messenger will receive some prejudice or impediment in his returning home again.

7. If there shall be found an Infortune in the ninth, dic quòd iter est minus tutum propter latrones; you may then judge that the Messenger will not travel safe, but will be in danger of prejudice by Theeves. At si contrarium hujus invenias, contrarium judica. But if on the contrary, you finde a Fortune in the Ninth, judge the contrary.

8. I observe, if the Lord of the Ascendent and Lord of the Fifth are in reception, or in good Aspect from good places of the Figure, that the Messenger is faithful, just, and honest; chiefly, if he shall be either a Fortune, or in good Aspect with a Fortune. But if there be no reception or Aspect, and he in configuration with, or in the Dignities of an Infortune, the contrary.

9. If there happen a reception between the Lord of the seventh, and the Lord of the Fifth, you may safely judge the Messenger will be received; and if at the same time the Lord of the Fifth or ☿ translate the vertue of the Lord of the seventh to the Lord of the Ascendent, the Querent obtains whatsoever he hoped for by the Message; and this I have often proved true: and thus much may serve for the resolution of this Question.

SECT. 8.

Shall the Querent gain or lose by Play?

Divers Persons being much addicted to play, do oftentimes run many dangerous hazards, as every days experience testifies: Now, for a sober Astrological Advice unto all Persons troubled with the Gamesters Itch, I shall lay down these following Rules; which, if carefully observed, may prevent many prodigious mischiefs, that are commonly caused by Play.

1. The Lord of the Ascendent and Sign Ascending, shall signifie the Querent; the Lord of the Fifth, and fifth House, the Play or Game; the seventh House and his Lord, the Persons you are to play or Game withal.

2. If the Lord of the Fifth be in reception with the Lord of the Ascendent, and in good Aspect, viz. a ✶, or △, the Person enquiring may advantage himself by his Play.

3. If the Lord of the Fifth, or ☽, shall translate the light and vertue of the Lord of the Eighth to the Lord of the Second, or the Ascendent, the Querent will gain much of his Adversaries moneys by Play; or if ♀, being a natural Significator of Play, shall be in ✶ or △ to the Lord of the Ascendent, or Second, or unto the Cuspes of the Ascendent or Second, it signifies the same.

4. Venus in the Ascendent, or second House, in ✶ or △ to a Planet in the Fifth, or to the Lord of the Fifth, declares the Querent to be a gainer by his play; ♃ so posited, the same.

5. The Lord of the Fifth, in the Dignities of ♃ or ☿, thence casting a good Aspect to the Part of Fortune, or transferring the Light of the Dispositor of the Part of Play to the Lord of the Ascendent or second House, shews gain by play.

6. But if none of these happen, but both the Lord of the Ascendent and second House be afflicted by the position of the Infortunes, or the □ or ☍ of ♀, or the Lord of the Fifth, the Querent will then lose by his Gaming. If ♂ afflict the second House at the same time, and ☿ happen to be Lord of the Seventh, although he be in ✶ or △ to the Ascendent or Lord thereof, yet the Querent will be cheated and abused in his Play. And this may serve for the judgements of the fifth House

CHAP.

CHAP. VIII.

Judgements belonging to the sixth House.

THe sixth House giveth judgement of sickness, Servants, and small Cattel, &c. and these Questions following are commonly attributed thereunto:——

1. What part of the body is afflicted?
2. Is the disease in the body or minde, or both?
3. Shall the distemper be Cronique, or acute?
4. What is the cause of the distemper?
5. Shall the sick party recover, or die of the disease?
6. Of Servants, shall they prove just or knavish?
7. Of small Cattel, shall the Querent thrive by them or not?

In the seventeenth Chapter of the first part of this Book, I have shewed what diseases are attributed to each Planet, House, and Sign; unto which I refer the Reader that hath occasion to make use thereof: and having been somewhat large there, in the judgments of the sixth House, I shall be the more brief in my answers to these Questions.---viz.

SECT. 1.

What part of the body is afflicted?

Having erected your Figure, you must observe the Ascendent, the sixth House and place of the ☽, for they are natural Significators of the disease; and then judge as followeth:——

1. The Horoscope afflicted by the presence of an evil Planet, or by the position of ♄ there, the distemper lies chiefly in the head; (for the Ascendent always signifies the head, it being the first of Houses, as ♈ is of Signs) but the sick party is afflicted also in that member or part of his body, represented by the Sign Ascending, &c. Ascendens est significator capitis, &c. Haly, fol. 54.

2. If the ☽ be afflicted by the Infortunes, say the sick party is grieved in that part of the body the Planet afflicting governs from his own House: The same understand of the Lord of the Sixth. In Chapter 17. of the first Part, I have inserted a Table by which you may know what Member each Planet governeth in every of the twelve Signs from his own House or Houses.

3. If the Ascendent be ♏, and ♂ and ♀ in the Ascendent, or sixth House, you may conclude the disease lies in the head, bowels and secrets, because ♂ governs those Members in either place; you may understand the like of the rest.

SECT. 2.

Is the Disease in the body or minde, or both?

1. The Ascendent, the Dispositors of the ☉ and ☽, hath signification of the spirit or minde; the Lord of the Ascendent and ☽, the body. Now, if you finde the Ascendent, his Lord, the ☉ and ☽ afflicted, you may conclude the distemper hath seized the whole body, and minde also, of the sick party. At si omnes infortunati fuerint, & infortunia communia omnibus, judica quod infirmitas est in ambobus, scilicet, spiritu & corpore:

2. If the Ascendent and the Dispositors of ☉ and ☽, shall be afflicted, the disease afflicts the minde; If the Lord of the Ascendent and Moon be afflicted, the disease keeps court in the body, and the minde is free.

3. If Saturn afflict the Ascendent, and the Dispositors of the Luminaries, and the ☽ at the same time in □, or ☌ of him, or in □ or ☌ of the Lord of the Ascendent, the sick party is afflicted in minde; chiefly, about the things of the world, and about losses and crosses in Estate.

4. If ♃ being Lord of evil Houses, afflict the aforesaid Significators, (for you must know ♃, as he may be disposed, may be an Infortune and do mischief even as ♄, or ♂,) the Querent is troubled in minde about Religious Tenets, &c. If ♀, it is about love toyes. If ♂, or ☿, 'tis twenty to one but the sick party is Phrenetique: and this well understood, is sufficient for to finde where the disease is resident.

SECT. 3.

Shall the Disease be Chronique or Acute?

In the resolution of this, you are to consider the complexion of the Person, his age, and the time of the year; for the knowledge of these conduce much to the discovery of the certainty of the matter propounded. Diseases in Autumn and Winter, are usually reputed Chronical or long; but more long in Winter then in Autumn. In Spring and Summer, acute or short, but more acute in Spring then in Summer. So infirmities afflicting young Persons or those in the first half of their age, are shorter or less dangerous, then those in elderly Persons, or those that are in the last part of their age. Likewise, Melancholy and Phlegmatique Persons are subject to Chronical diseases; But Sanguine and Cholerique Persons to acute. I shall not stand to give reasons of these things, because they are to be found very commonly in the writings of Physitians; but shall come to speak of those necessary Rules in Astrology proper hereunto.

1. Saturnine diseases which are cold and dry, are usually long and tedious; the Moon and Venus are protracters of the infirmity; Jupiter, Mars, Sol, and Mercury, signifie diseases of no long continuance (singly, and of themselves) but such as return speedily; but by being Lords of evil places, or otherwise afflicted, they may have signification of Chronical Diseases.

2. The Signs possessing the Ascendent, sixth House, or place of the ☽, being fixed, declare a Chronique disease; common Signs shew diseases not very long, neither very short; moveable Signs denote the disease to terminate quickly, either one way or other.

3. An Infortune being Lord of the Sixth, and in the Sixth, presages a lasting sickness: But if a Fortune be Lord of the Sixth, and in the Sixth, the disease will admit of a sudden cure.

4. The Lord of the Ascendent, the ☽ or Lord of the Sixth in ♂, ✶, or △ of the Lord of the Tenth, denotes the disease to be speedily cured by good medicine; and shews it to be of no long continuance. If they shall be in ♂, ✶, or △, of the Fortunes the same.

5. But if the aforesaid Significators or any of them shall be in ♂, □, or ☍, of the Infortunes, the disease will be both long and tedious; and if this shall happen in fixed Signs, it argues the duration or continuance to be the longer. And this shall serve for the discovery of the length or shortness of a disease.

SECT.

SECT. 4.

What is the cause of the Distemper?

1. The cause of the distemper is known from the position of the Significators of sickness (before described) in either of the four Trigons, or Triplicities; for therein they shew the predominant humor that is peccant.

2. If in your Figure, they, or the most of them are in fierie Signs, they declare the distemper to have its original from Choler; whence Fevors and all such like diseases proceed.

3. But if the Significators be in Aierie Signs, Blood is then predominant in the body, and the disease is thence caused; as Gouts, Leprosies, &c.

4. When in your Figure you finde the Signficators of sickness in Earthy Signs, they declare the cause of the disease to have its original from Melancholy, and those diseases are usually long and tedious, as Consumptions, Agues, &c.

5. The Significators of diseases in watery Signs, denote the infirmity to proceed from Cold and Moyst causes, as Flegme; and the diseases principally, are Coughs, Ptisique, and all noxious diseases of the Stomack.

6. When the positions of the Significators cannot throughly inform you of the nature of the distemper, make use of the fixed Stars in your judgement, for they much assist in the discovery of the cause of a disease.

SECT. 5.

Shall the sick party recover or die of the infirmity afflicting?

Testimonies of the recovery of the sick.

1. If in your Figure, the ☽ deflux from the Infortunes, and apply to the Benevolents, without frustration, prohibition, or refrenation, there is great hopes the infirm party will recover.

2. The Significators of sickness no ways afflicted, but free from the ill Beames of the Malevolents, declare great hopes of the recovery of the sick. If they are in ✶, or △ of the Luminaries, or in any friendly reception with them, or either of them, the same.

3. The Moon encreasing in light and motion, and being posited in good Houses of Heaven, in ✶ or △, of the Lord of the Ascendent, denotes great hopes of life; if the Lord of the Ascendent be an Infortune, (in this judgement) it will no ways hinder the sick.

4. When the ☽ shall either be found in the Ascendent, in any of her own Dignities, or shall cast a Sextile or Trine thereunto, it is a great Argument the sick shall not die of the disease afflicting.

Arguments that the sick will die.

5. The Lord of the Ascendent, and the Moon Combust of the Sun, doth denote death, unless there be some reception between the ☉ and them; and if they shall be in conjunction with the Lord of the eighth, (except ♃, or ♀ interpose their friendly Beames) it shews the same.

Dominus Ascendentis & ☽ combustus mortem minatur. Argol. de dieb. Crit. part. 2.

6. The Lord of the Eighth in an Angle, and the ☽ and Lord of the Ascendent Cadent, or afflicted of the Infortunes, presage Mortality; the application of the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽ unto the Lord of the Dominus 8. in Angulo & Luna, & Dominus Ascendentis incadentibus, vel afflicti à malefi cis, mortis signum præbent. de dieb. Crit. lib. 2. cap. 3.

Eighth

Eighth by evil Aspect, shews the same: and if he be an Infortune, it puts the matter past all doubt. Hermes, Aphor. 71.

Dominus Ascendentis in 4, 6, 7. à maleficis oppressus, & dominus octavæ in medio Cœli, mortis signum præbet.

7. The Lord of the Ascendent in the Eighth, or Lord of the Eighth in the Ascendent, declares the irrecovery of the sick. If the Lord of the Eighth shall be in the Tenth, and the Lord of the Ascendent in the fourth, sixth, or seventh Houses, any way afflicted, portends death to the sick party.

8. The Lord of the Ascendent and Moon with violent fixed Stars, (chiefly according to Latitude) as are Cor ♌, Cor ♏, Caput Medusæ; The Serpent, the Vulture, the Pleiades, &c. denote death unto the sick. And thus much for this particular.

SECT. 6.

Of Servants, shall they prove just or knavish?

The tenth House is generally the House of the Master or Lord, &c. but if the Master himself enquire, then the Ascendent shall signifie him, be he either lofty or low.

1. VVhen this Question is by a Master propounded unto you, give the Lord of the Ascendent, and the Ascendent it self, to signifie the Querent; the sixth House and his Lord, to signifie the Servant. And if you finde the Lord of the sixth commit his Disposition by any friendly ray to the Lord of the Ascendent, say the Servant shall prove just and honest.

2. If the Moon shall transfer the Light of the Lord of the Sixth to the Lord of the Ascendent, chiefly by a good Aspect, it speaks the honesty of the Servant.

3. The Lord of the Sixth in the Dignities of the Fortunes in ✶ or △ to the Ascendent, pleads for the honesty of the Servant. If he be neer fixed Stars of a Benevolent nature, the same.

4. But if the Lord of the Sixth shall be in ♂ of the Infortunes, and in □ or ☍ to the Ascendent or Lord thereof, the Servant will not prove very honest. Probatum est.

5. The Moon in the sixth, in Quartile to the Lord of the sixth in the Second, shews the Servant to be a pilfering cozening knave, and such a one as the Querent shall never grow rich by.

6. If the principal Significators are voyd of all reception, and there be neither good application or translation of light to be found among them, the Servant is not to be trusted.

7. VVhen ☿, the natural Significator of Servants, shall be in the Dignities of ♄ or Mars, and in □ or ☍ to the Ascendent or second House, or either of their Lords, it gives great cause to suspect the Servant. If the ☋ be in the sixth, or doth afflict the Lord of the sixth, the same.

SECT. 7.

Of small Cattle, shall the Querent thrive by them or not?

1. By small Cattle, I intend Hoggs, Sheep, Goats, Coneys, &c. and if the Lord of the sixth and the Lord of the second are in ♂, in a good House of Heaven, the Querent may thrive by them; if they shall be in ✶ or △, the same.

2. The Lord of the sixth casting a friendly Aspect to the ⊕, or being in good configuration with the Dispositor thereof, prenotes much good to the Querent by dealing in small Cattle.

3. The Lord of the sixth in the second, in the Dignities of ♃ or ♀, and and Jupiter or Venus casting a ✶ or △ to the second, or in the second in ♂ with him, argues great gain to the Querent by dealing in small Cattle.

4. But if on the contrary, the Lord of the sixth shall be unfortunate, and shall be in evil Aspect with the Lord of the Ascendent or second, or cast malignant Rayes to either of their Cusps, the Querent will lose by dealing in small Cattle.

5. If the Lord of the sixth shall be in □ or ☍ to the Dispositor of the part of Fortune, or the Moon, the Querent cannot thrive by dealing in small Cattle. The same, if the Lord of the sixth be afflicted, either by ♄, ♂, or ☋, or shall be found either Retrograde, Combust, Cadent, or Peregrine.

6. The Tail and Mars shews much loss therein by Knaves and Thieves, and ill bargains, &c. And Saturn denotes much damage therein by a Rot or Murrain. And so I conclude the judgements of the sixth House.

Some may expect I should have here treated of the Decumbiture and Cœlestis Legacy Christis, &c. But having largely treated thereof in another work, Vide Part the Second, I hold it altogether unnecessary to do that over again, which I have already done; but shall refer the ingenious Reader thereunto.

CHAP. IX.

Interrogatories and judgements belonging to the seventh House.

Astrologers from this House enquire of Marriages, &c. Partnership, Law-Suits, publike Enemies, War, &c. of Thefts, Fugitives and Strays, &c. which because they are of several Complexions and Natures, I shall treat of them in three distinct Parts, the first of which shall be——

Part. 1.

Of Marriage.

This Part, for the better advantage of the Reader, I shall divide into these following Sections:

1. Shall the Querent Marry?
2. If Marry, how long before?
3. Shall the Querent Marry more then once?
4. What manner of Person shall the Querent Marry?
5. Shall they accord after Marriage?
6. Shall the Marriage be effected, or broke off?

SECT. 1.

Shall the Querent Marry?

1. Herein you are to consider the position of the Lord of the Ascendent, the Moon and Venus, and the Part of Marriage, and their position; for they all have signification of the Party enquiring in this case.

2. If

See Guido Bonatus, pars 2. fol. 264. and forward. And Mr. Lilly, part the second, and p. 303. &c. both which have treated largely of this subject.

2. If either all, or the major part of them shall be in prolifical or fruitful Signs; It is a very great Argument that the Party enquiring shall Marry.

3. If the Moon or Lord of the Ascendent shall be in good Aspect with the Sun, or either of the Fortunes, or neer fixed Stars of their Natures, the Party enquiring may Marry.

4. When the Lord of the Ascendent, the ☽ or ♀, shall be in the seventh House, or in the Dignities of the Lord of the seventh, and the Lord of the seventh either in the Ascendent, or in ☌, or △ to the aforesaid Significators, the Querent no question will Marry.

5. If none of these Arguments appear, but on the contrary, all the Significators of Marriage are in Sterile Signs, and in □ ☍ ♂ to the Lord of the seventh, or seventh House, you may conclude the Party enquiring is averse to Marriage; and in plain terms, he or she will not Marry.

SECT. 2.

If the Querent Marry, how long will it be first?

1. Finding the Significators of Marriage applying to each other by a friendly Aspect, or by ♂ in the Oriental or Meridional parts of Heaven, you may judge that the Querent will be marryed suddenly; If in the Occidental part of Heaven, or Septentrional, it will be much prolonged, and a great while before accomplished.

2. All the Significators above the Earth, and swift in Motion, do very much accelerate or hasten the matter; chiefly, if they shall be in moveable Signs. But if they shall be under the Earth, and slow in motion, the Marriage will be retarded.

Vide Haly de judic. Astr. pars 2. chap. 19. fol 68. who confirms this judgement very fully.

3. I principally observe the Degrees of Distance either in body or Aspect, between the Lord of the Ascendent, and the Lord of the seventh, the Sun, or Venus; and according to their position in fixed, Bi-corporal, or moveable Signs, I judge of the time of Marriage; chiefly, if at the same time there happen a good transit to bring on the business.

4. In this judgement, moveable Signs give VVeeks or Days; Bi-corporeal Signs, give Moneths or VVeeks; fixed Signs, Yeers or Moneths. The meaning whereof is this; If the Significators shall be slow in Motion, and in fixed Signs, the Degrees of their Distance will be so many yeers; if swift in Motion, then they give so many Moneths. Et sic de cæteris.

SECT. 3.

Shall the Querent Marry more then once?

1. All the Significators of Marriage in Bi-corporeal or double-bodied Signs, declare the Querent (be it either man or woman) to marry more then once.

2. The Significators of Marriage in Conjunction, Sextile, or Trine, with many Planets, portends Marriage to the Querent more then once; chiefly, from the fifth, seventh, or eleventh Houses.

3. Many Planets in the seventh House, in ☌ or △ to the Luminaries, or Lord of the Ascendent, denotes unto the Querent Marriage more then once.

4. But if you finde all the Significators of Marriage in fixed Signs, and in Aspect with not above one Planet, you may tell the Querent (let it be either a he or she) that it presages Marriage no more then once.

SECT.

SECT. 4.

What manner of Person shall the Querent Marry, and how Qualified?

1. See to that Planet the Lord of the Ascendent, or Moon, is neerest in Aspect with, and observe the Sign he is in, and describe the Person (either man or woman) accordingly; for it will be such a one the Querent shall Marry.

In the 8, 9. and 10th chapters of the first part of this Book, you are informed of the Descriptions of the Planets at large; so that it will be unnecessary to repeat them here again.

2. If the Lord of the Ascendent or Moon be in conjunction or Aspect with Venus, say the Person is pleasant and affable; If with the Sun, the Person is noble, of a great Spirit, and imperious; If with Mars, the Person is many times rash, and furious, and subject to choler and passion; If with ♄, the Person is inclinable to Melancholy, yet prudent and gravely wise; If with ♃, you may say the Person is just, honest, and religious; If with ☿, the Person is subtil and cunning, &c. Mix the fixed Stars in your judgement that are neer the Significators, and the quality is known the better.

3. By considering the Dignities and Debilities of the Planet or Planets aforesaid, the Shape, Qualifications and Temperature of the Person whom the Querent shall Marry will be the better known and discovered.

SECT. 5.

Shall they accord after Marriage?

1. The Lord of the Ascendent, or Moon, in ♂, ☌, or △ of the Lord of the seventh or Venus, argues much pleasure and delight after Marriage, and shews they shall agree well, and not quarrel at all.

At si Aspectus significatorum qui significaverunt copulam conjugii, per suas applicationes sint de △, vel ☌, signif. quòd erit amor inter eos, nec rixabuntur. Haly de judic. Astr. part. 2. ch. 16. fol. 67.

2. But if they shall be in Quartile or ☍ each unto other, it shews much quarrelling and contention to happen after Marriage: and if they shall be in □, ♂, or ☍ of the Infortunes, chiefly in all places of the Figure, the same.

3. Saturn, Mars, or Cauda Draconis in the Ascendent, shews the Querent to be imperious after Marriage, and by his or her obstinacie will occasion much discontent and trouble. But if they or either of them be in the seventh House, the Person whom the Querent Marries, will be the occasion of the trouble and discontent.

4. Benevolent Planets possessing the seventh House, and a friendly reception between the Lord of the seventh, and Lord of the Ascendent, notes a good agreement after Marriage. If there happen to be a reception, though they are in Quartile, it signifies the same.

SECT. 6.

Shall the Marriage be effected, or broken off?

1. To any one enquiring concerning the concluding or breaking off an intended Marriage, you must give the Lord of the Ascendent and Moon for Significators; and to the Person Quesited, the Lord of the seventh, and Planet from whom the Moon is separated.

2. If the Lord of the Ascendent or Moon be joyned to the Lord of the seventh, or in ☌ or △ of him, in any of his essential dignities, the Marriage

If a Father shall enquire concerning the Marriage of a Son or Daughter; or a Person for a Kinsman or Brother, &c. you must not forget to take the proper Ascendent relating to the business in Question, as in the first Chapter you are taught.

intended shall be brought to perfection; chiefly, if it shall be from good Houses of Heaven.

3. If there happen a Quartile or Opposition between the Significators, and no manner of reception, you may conclude that the Marriage intended shall be broken off, and come to nothing.

4. When there is no Aspect between the Significators, see if there be any good translation of Light between them, and this by a benevolent Planet, and say that the Marriage may be effected by a Person represented by the House that Planet is Lord or Governour of.

5. Finding the Significators of both Parties applying to a friendly Aspect, and before the Aspect be, an Infortune interposeth his malicious Rayes, you may conclude that the Marriage will be obstructed by a Person signifyed by the House the interposing Planet is Lord of.

6. If the interposing Planet be Lord of the third, say that a Kinsman of the Querents, or a Neighbour or Brother shall break off the business; if he shall be Lord of the tenth or fourth Houses, say the Father or Mother of the Querent will obstruct the Marriage intended, &c.

I might have added divers questions more, relating to Marriages: but he that understands these, cannot be to seek in judging any others of this Nature. The Antient Astrologers have been more large herein: But I labour chiefly to shew the substance of Art, not the circumstance.

Part. 2.

Of Partnership, Publique Enemies, Law-Suits, of Warr, &c.

The Complexion of this Part will look much the better, by being digested into these following particulars.

1. Shall two Partners agree in their Partnership?
2. Shall the Querent or his Adversary overcome in a Law-Suit?
3. Shall a Person return safe from the Wars?
4. Shall the Castle or strong Hold besieged be taken?
5. Shall the Querent have Publique Enemies?

SECT. 1.

Shall two Partners agree in their Partnership?

1. The Lord of the Ascendent and seventh, being friends according to Nature, and in reception or good Aspect each with other, declare that the Partners shall agree in their Partnership, and gain well by their undertaking the same.

2. If they shall be Enemies by Nature, and voyd of all good Rays toward one another, and in no reception, it is an Argument that they will never agree, but will be perpetually jangling, wrangling, and cozening each other.

3. The Lord of the Ascendent a more weighty Planet then the Lord of the seventh, and better dignified, signifies the Querent to thrive best in the Partnership: But the Lord of the seventh the more ponderous, &c. the Quesited gains most.

4. Mars or Mercury, Lord of the Second, afflicting the Lord of the Eighth,

Eighth, the Querent will cheat and cozen his Partner; but if either of them shall be Lord of the Eighth, and shall afflict the Lord of the Second, the Partner shall cheat and cozen the Querent.

5. He whose Significators are strongest, and in good places of Heaven, shall thrive best in the Partnership; but he whose Significators are weak and in evil places of the Figure, shall do worst in the Partnership.

SECT. 2.

Shall the Querent or his Adversarie overcome in a Law-Suit?

1. If the Lord of the Ascendent be more potent then the Lord of the seventh, or the Ascendent better fortified then the seventh House (e.i.) either by the good Aspects, or the presence of the fortunate Planets; there is great hopes the Querent will overcome in the Suit of Law, and worst his Adversarie.

2. But if the Lord of the Seventh be more powerful in Dignities then the Lord of the Ascendent, and the seventh House better guarded by the presence or Rayes of the Fortunate Stars then the Ascendent, the Adversarie will overcome.

Haly de judic Astrol. part. 2 cap. 35. and Bonatus pars 2. fol. 273. &c. are very large in the judgement of this Question; unto which I refer those Readers that shall be dissatisfied with my brevity.

3. If the Lords of the Ascendent and seventh shall be afflicted by the Infortunes, neither Party shall overcome, but they shall be both ruined if they go onward with the Suit. But if they shall be both assisted by the fortunate Planets, possibly some friend will make up the breach between them.

4. Both Significators in their essential dignities, and in Angles, shew both Persons to be too high to hear of a reconcilement. If they apply friendly to each other, the matter will be taken up among themselves: he whose Significator doth apply, shall seek peace, and prove himself the better Christian.

SECT. 3.

Shall a Person return safe from the Wars?

1. The Lord of the Ascendent strong and potent, free from the evil Beams of the Infortunes, is an Argument of great security to the Querent, and that he shall return safe from the Wars. If he shall be with a good Planet, in a good House of Heaven, it shews the same.

2. If the Lord of the Ascendent be Combust or Cadent, or in his Peregrination, admonish the Querent not to go to the Wars: if Mars (the general Patron of Wars) be weak in the Figure of the Question, the Querent will gain no honour or reputation by the VVars.

He that would go to the Wars, had need have Mars well fortified; for if he be potent and a friend, he will prove better then both the Fortunes.

3. If the Lord of the Ascendent shall be with a good Planet, and at the same time the Lord of the seventh be with an evil one, he may return home again; but he shall suffer great prejudice before his return.

4. Saturn being in the First, or with the Lord of the First, presageth much loss and damage to the Querent if he go to the Wars: If ♂ shall be with the Lord of the First, either by ☌, □, or ☍, and weak, &c. and ♄ locally in the Ascendent, the Querent will be wounded. But if ♂ or ☿ shall be ill dignified in the Ascendent, the Querent shall be wounded to death; chiefly, if the Lord of the Ascendent and ☽ shall suffer affliction at the same time.

SECT. 4.

Shall the Castle or strong Hold besieged be taken?

1. The Ascendent and Lord thereof are for the Besiegers; the fourth House, for the Castle, &c. besieged; The Lord of the fourth, for the Governour; The fifth House and his Lord, &c. for the Ammunition, Souldiery, and the Assistance they either have or may expect.

2. If the Lord of the Ascendent be strong and fortunate, and joyned to the Lord of the fourth in the Ascendent, or with the Moon or Lord of the tenth House, chiefly if any reception be; It is then an Argument that the Besiegers shall take the Castle, &c.

3. Or, if the Lord of the fourth be in Houses not beholding the Fourth, or impedited of the Infortunes, it is an Argument the Castle, &c. will be taken, and the Governour thereof subject to danger.

4. If the Infortunate Planets or the Tayl of the Dragon happen to be in the fourth House, and the Fortunate Planets interpose not their benevolent Rayes, the Castle, &c. will be taken by treachery and baseness, and that in a short time.

5. If the Lord of the fourth commit his disposition and vertue to the Lords of the Ascendent, or Tenth, the Governor no doubt hath received a good round sum of Money for the delivery of the Castle, &c. and in short time will surrender it.

6. But if none of these Aspects happen, but on the contrary, the fourth House and his Lord shall be Fortunate, and free from all manner of impediments, and that the Lord of the fourth shall be in no reception with the Lord of the First, the Castle, &c. then besieged, shall not be taken by the Army besieging it.

SECT. 5.

Shall the Querent have Publique Enemies?

Although there are but few Persons in the world but have Publique Enemies, yet I presume there may be some (although they are rare to be found) that have none. But to finde whether a Person have any or not, these Rules following shew. ——

I dissent from most Authors in this judgement: but the Reasons that appear in my Rules, will justifie me for so doing.

1. If the Lord of the Ascendent, or ☽, be in ☐ or ☍ to the Lord of the seventh, the Querent hath publique Enemies, or there are such Persons living in the world, that would do him a mischief, if opportunity were offered.

2. When the Lord of the Ascendent is in ☐ or ☍ of many Planets, the Querent hath many Enemies; or if many shall be in ☐ or ☍ to the Ascendent, the same.

3. Many Planets in the seventh House, portends many Publique Enemies: their relation, quality, or condition, is known by the Houses they are Lords of; as, if Lord of the Third, they are Brethren and Kindred, &c. do so in the rest, and you cannot fail.

4. To know whether the Querent or his publique Enemies shall overcome, observe the Rules of the second Section in this part, and judge according to them.

Part. 3.

Part. 3.

Of Thefts, Fugitives, and Stays, &c.

This Part will admit of these several Sections following:

1. Of Fugitives or Strays, shall they be found or not?
2. Which way are they gone? what distance?
3. Things lost, if recoverable, or not?
4. Who is the Thief? of the Age and Sex of the Thief.
5. Are there more Thieves then one?
6. Be they Strangers, or Familiars?
7. In what time shall the Thing stolen be recovered?

Of these in their order, and so I'll conclude the Judgements belonging to the seventh House.

SECT. 1.

Of Fugitives or Strays, shall they be found or not?

1. The Moon and Mercury are naturally the Significators of Fugitives and Strays: But the seventh House and his Lord particularly are Significators thereof; unless the Thing strayed be a Beast, &c.

2. If the Lord of the seventh therefore shall be Retrograde, the Fugitive, &c. shall return again of his own accord, before he goeth very far from the Querents House, or from the place whence he went.

3. The Lord of the Ascendent or Moon, in good Aspect with the Lord of the Seventh, and the Lord of the Seventh apply, it declares the Fugitive, &c. to be coming home again. If he do not apply, the Querent may finde him by enquiry.

4. But if the aforesaid Significators behold each other by ☐ or ☍, or shall be in no Aspect at all; it denotes the Fugitive unwilling to return again, and an unlikelihood of the Querents having him again: If the Lord of the seventh be in the Third or Ninth, you may say the Fugitive is gone a journey, and will not suddenly be found again.

5. If a Horse, Ox, or Cow, &c. be strayed, observe the Lord of the Twelfth; and if he be found Retrograde, you may judge the Stray will return of its own accord; and observe the same Rules as before, onely with the change of the Lord of your House.

6. If the ☽ shall transfer the Light of the Lord of the Fugitive or Stray to the Lord of the Ascendent, it argues hopes of recovering them again. If she transfer ☿'s Light or vertue, &c. it signifies the same.

7. The ☽ in good configuration with Jupiter or Venus, or either of them, casting a good Aspect to the Ascendent or his Lord, from good Houses of the Figure, shews hopes of a recovery.

8. The Lord of the Seventh, either in the twelfth House of the Figure or Question, denotes the Figure to be under the Bonds of restraint, perhaps in a Prison: ☿ posited so, argues the same. Fugitive

9. When in the Figure you finde any Planet separating from the House of the Moon, the Beast, &c. strayed, is taken into custody, and driven away and sold: if any Planet shall be found to separate from the Lord of the Second, the same.

10. If the ☽ or Significator of the Stray, &c. shall apply to the Lord of the Eighth from his Ascendent, or shall be in the Eighth, it is then dead.

dead. If the Dispositor of the ☽, or Significator of the Beast shall be posited in the Eighth House, applying to the ☐ or ☌ of an Infortune in the Fourth, the same.

11. The Lord of the Sixth or Twelfth, in the Sixth or Twelfth, or in the Ninth or Tenth, argues the Beasts strayed to be either in the Pound, or under the Command of some Officer.

12. The Lord of the Seventh, Twelfth, or Sixth, fortunated by the good Beams of Jupiter or Venus, in the Second, Fifth, or Eleventh Houses, or the ☉ casting a △ unto them there, they are very likely to be found again.

SECT. 2.

Which way are they gone? what distance?

1. The Moon or Significator of the Fugitive or Stray, &c. in the Tenth House, they are South; in the Seventh, VVest; in the Fourth, North; in the Ascendent, East.

2. If the Significator of the Strays be in watry Signs, they are Northward, and in some moyst Moorish places. If in Aiery Signs, they are VVestward, and in Mountainous and high places. If in Earthy Signs, they are Southward, and in Melancholy Desert places, as VVoods, &c. If in Fierie Signs, they are Eastward; and in open Places, where ground hath been newly digged up: you must always prefer the Sign before the Quarter.

3. The Moon in the same Quarter with the Lord of the Ascendent, there being not above one Sign distance between them, they are then neer the place whence they went at first. But if they are distant above ninety Degrees, then they are gone far from the Querent.

4. If the ☽ be distant from the Significator of the Fugitive or Stray, either by body or Aspect, one Degree in a moveable Sign, they are distant seventeen furlongs, &c. from the Owner; if in common Signs, they are five furlongs distant from the Owner; if in fixed Signs, they are one furlong distant from the Owner: when there is a greater distance in Degrees, proportion your distance of place according to this Rule.

SECT. 3.

Of things lost, if recoverable or not?

1. Fortunate Planets in ✶ or △ to the Lords of the Ascendent or second House, and Dispositor of the part of Fortune, and posited in the Ascendent or second House, declare a recovery of the goods lost.

2. Either of the Fortunes in the Ascendent, having Dignities in the second House, or the Moon in the seventh, in ✶ or △ to the Lord of the Ascendent; both these are very certain Arguments of a recovery of the Thing or Things lost.

3. The Moon in the Tenth, in △ to a Planet in the Second; or in the second, in △ to the Lord of the second; or the Dispositor of the ⊕ part of Fortune, the Lord of the Ascendent in the Second; the lights in △ to each other, or in △ to the Cusp of the second House; or the Lord of the second in the eleventh or fourth Houses; all these are Arguments of recovery.

4. The Lord of the Eighth in the Ascendent, or with the Lord of the the Ascendent, denotes a recovery of the Goods lost: Jupiter, Venus, or ☊ in the Eleventh House, give great hopes of the same also; and this I have often proved true.

5. The Moon, ⊕ part of Fortune, or his Dispositor, or Lord of the second in the eighth House, is a great Argument that the Goods lost cannot be recovered.

6. VVhen both Luminaries are under the Earth, the Thing lost is hard to be recovered: If the Second House or his Lord be any way hindred, it denotes the same.

7. But the greatest Arguments of an irrecovery, are the position of ♄, ♂, or ☋, out of their essential Dignities in the second House; or the Lord of the second being either in Combustion, or in the eighth House; or if the Lord of the second be in ☐, or ☌ with the Lord of the eighth.

8. Mr. Lilly saith, If the Lord of the Seventh shall be in ☌ with the Lord of the Eighth; or if the Lord of the second behold not the first House, or Lord thereof; or the ☉ and ☽ not aspecting each other or ⊕; or when they are both under the Earth; there can be no restitution of the Goods lost. Christ. Astrol. lib. 2. fol. 366.

SECT. 4.

Who is the Thief? and of his Age and Sex.

1. Astrologers account a Peregrine Planet in an Angle, the Significator of the Thief; chiefly, if the Peregrine Planet have Dignities in the seventh House, or fortune to be Lord thereof: Because (say they) he being out of all his essential Dignities, may be well supposed to be in a condition necessitous, and consequently shall prove the Thief: The inference doth not naturally follow the premises; for a man may be poor and honest; and although the Planet in an Angle be Peregrine; yet, if he neither afflict the substance, or his Lord; the ⊕ part of Fortune, or his Lord, &c. I shall take him to signifie a poor honest man in his place; but cannot admit him as Significator of a Thief.

2. VVhen no Planet maliciously Aspects the aforesaid Significators, you may admit the Lord of the Seventh to signifie the Thief, because he hath natural signification of theft and Thieves.

3. Let the Planet afflicting the substance, or part of Fortune, or their Lords, be Peregrine, or essentially dignified, he shall signifie the Thief. And whereas some exempt a Planet essentially dignified, from participating in any thing of this nature, I do not; for such a Planet, as he is strong, he is able to do the more mischief.

4. If the Planet afflicting the substance, &c. be Masculine, and in a Masculine Sign and Quarter, it denotes the Thief to be a man. If the Planet be feminine, and in feminine parts of the Figure, you may conclude that the Thief is feminine, or a woman.

5. Saturn Significator of the Thief, shews the Thief to be old, except in the beginning of Signs: The Sun, Mars, and Jupiter, about thirty, or somewhat more; Venus and Mercury, youthful; the ☽, according to her age; in the first Quarter, she signifies young; in her second, between twenty and thirty; in her third, between thirty and forty five; in her fourth, between forty five and sixty.

6. A Planet being in his Orientality, denotes the Thief more young; But in his Occidentality, the Thief is more aged. And thus much may serve for the Significator of the Thief, and for the discovery of the Age and Sex thereof.

SECT.

SECT. 5.
Are there more Thieves then one?

1. Many Planets afflicting the Significators of substance, (it matters not whether they be Peregrine or not) shew many Thieves, or more Thieves then one.

2. If the Significator of the Thief be in ✶ or △ with other Planets, chiefly in double-bodied Signs, there are more Thieves then one, although but one be found to afflict the Significators of substance.

3. The Angles of the Figure fixed, and the Significator of the Thief fixed, in no Aspect with any Planet save the Lord of substance, or Dispositor of the ☉, whom he afflicts; these denote but one Thief only, in the theft or knavery committed.

SECT. 6.
Be they Strangers, or Familiars?

1. The Luminaries beholding the Ascendent (or his Lord) or the Lord of the First in the first, in conjunction with the Lord of the Seventh; denotes the Thief to be a familiar, or one known to the Loser.

2. When the Lights are in their proper Houses, or in the Houses of the Lord of the Ascendent, or in the Triplicity of the Lord of the Ascendent, it denotes the Thief well known to the Querent or Loser.

3. The Significator of the Thief strong in the Ascendent, noreth a Brother or Kinsman, chiefly if he chance to be Lord of the Third: The Lord of the Seventh in the Seventh, he is of the houshold.

4. The Lord of the Ascendent in the third or fourth House (saith Mr. Lilly) accuseth thine own Houshold Servant. And this (saith he) I have oft proved true by experience.

5. The Significator of the Thief, in the Third or Ninth from his own House, shews the Thief to be a Stranger. If the Lord of the Ascendent, and the seventh, or significator of the Thief, be not of one Triplicity, it denotes the same.

6. Mars or Mercury Significator of the Thief, presages him to be a common profest knave; unless they govern a House of relation: which if they do, then they tell you who it is.

7. If the Thief be Domestical, Mr. Lilly teacheth us to know him thus: —— ☉, signifies Father or Master; ☽, the Mother or Mistris; ♀, the Wife, or a Woman; ♄, a Servant, or a Stranger lying there by chance; ♂, a Son, Brother, or Kinsman; ☿, a youth, Familiar or friend. And so I conclude this Section.

SECT. 7.
In what time shall the Thing stolen be recovered?

1. Seeing Testimonies of recovery in your Figure, you may discover the time thus. —— Observe the application of the two Planets signifying recovery, and consider the Degrees of distance between their body or Aspect, and so turn the distance into time.

2. If they happen to be in moveable Signs, then give so many VVeeks or Dayes as you have Degrees of distance, for the space or time in which it may be recovered. If in common Signs, give Moneths or VVeeks: If fixed Signs, Years or Moneths.

3. VVhen the Sun and ☽ together behold the Ascendent, the Thing lost lost shall suddenly be recovered; for they suffer nothing to lie long hid, or obscured: And if at the same time, the Lord of the Second be in the Ascendent, it will be had again very speedily.

4. The Significators increasing in light and motion, and posited in fortunate places of the Figure, presage a sudden recovery of the Goods lost or missing.

I could have been more large in each particular of this Chapter; but my intent was to furnish the ingenious, with the best and most approved Rules, and not with impertinent flourishes: besides, should I have added each trivial circumstance, I should have obstructed the active fancie of some, and blunted the edge of the quick genius of others; both which sins I have avoyded, by contracting my matter in this short (yet I presume sufficient) compass.

CHAP. X.

Judgements proper to the Eighth House.

THis is the House of Death; and hence we enquire of the Death of each Querent, the manner thereof, &c. it is also the Significator of the Dowrie of the VVife, it being the Second from the Eighth: the Questions proper unto it, are these: ——

1. Of the time of the Death of the Querent.
2. What manner of Death may he die?
3. Shall the Querent obtain the Wives Portion?
4. Shall the Querent or his Wife die first?

Of each of these in a Section by it self. ——

SECT. 1.
Of the time of the Death of the Querent.

1. In the resolution of this Question, you are to consider the Lord of the Ascendent, the Ascendent it self, and the ☽, for the Querent; the eighth House, and Lord thereof, and the part of Death, together with the Planet or Planets in the Eighth, to signifie the Death of the Querent.

2. If the Lord of the Ascendent, and the ☽, be free from the evil Beams of the Infortunes; or if no Infortune or ♑ be posited in the Ascendent; these argue no danger to the Querent, but shew him to be of an indifferent long life.

3. If the aforesaid Significators, or either of them, shall be in conjunction or good Aspect of the Fortunes, or the Fortunes posited in the Ascendent, and the part of life free; all these presage the Querent according to Nature may live to a considerable Age.

4. Finding all the Significators free, as in the fore-mentioned Aphorisms, you may conclude the Querent will live so many years, as there are Degrees between the ☌, □, or ☍ of the Lord of the eighth House, and the Lord of the Ascendent.

5. Or if (before the Lord of the Ascendent receive this affliction from the Lord of the Eighth,) he happen to be Combust of the Sun; chiefly, in the fourth, eighth, twelfth, or sixth Houses, the Degrees of distance between the Sun and he, shall shew the years the Querent may live, before he shall conclude his life.

6. But if you finde the aforesaid Significators afflicted, either by the Infortunes, or by the Lords of the fourth, sixth, eighth, or twelfth Houses, you may then conclude the Parties life to be of no very long continuance. And in your measure of time, you may give for Degrees of distance, &c. in moveable Signs, VVeeks; in common Signs, Moneths; in fixed Signs, Yeers; and so may you discover the length (according to Natural causes) of the Querents life.

7. I always (when a Question of this Nature is propounded to me) draw my figure into a speculum, and direct the Significators as in a Nativity; and when the Ascendent or Hylech shall come to any malicious direction (according to Naybod's measure of time, as I have taught in the first Part) I adjudge the person enquiring may be cut off from the Land of the living.

But this is to be understood, when the Nativity of a Person is not to be had; for Horary Questions are onely substituted in the room or place of a Nativity: But, if the Nativity be once discovered, the Question must give place unto it.

SECT. 2.

What manner of Death may the Querent die?

1. Either the Lord of the Eighth, or Planet posited in the eighth, shall shew the manner or kinde of Death the Querent shall be subject unto, together with the Planets beholding him or them.

2. If the aforesaid Significators shall be Jupiter or Venus, and they in their essential Dignities, they portend a gentle death unto the Querent, except violent fixed Stars be neer them.

3. Saturn being Significator, prenotes Death by some violent Tertian, or some Ague, Dropsie, or Consumption; Mars, by Fevers or wounds; the ☉, by Pleuresies, or by some obstructions of the Vitals; ☿, by the Ptisique, Frenzie, Madness, Lethargie, &c. ☽, by drowning, or by Diseases proceeding from cold and moysture.

4. VVhosoever judges of the kinde of the Death of any Querent, I would advise to make use of those Rules and Aphorisms layd down in the judgements belonging to the eighth House in the Doctrine of Nativities, for therein he may much advantage himself in that particular.

SECT. 3.

Shall the Querent obtain his Wives Portion?

1. Every Querent is signified by the Ascendent, and the second House doth signifie his substance; The Quesited is signified by the seventh House, and the eighth House hath signification of the Quesited's substance, in this Question.

2. The Lord of the Eighth in the Eighth, no ways impedited or hindred by the unfortunate Planets, declares the Querent shall have a good Estate with his VVife, and shall have it without trouble.

3. Jupiter or Venus, or the Dragons Head posited in the eighth House, or the Cusp of the eighth in the terms of the Fortunes, the Lord of the eighth being no ways impedited, argues the Querent shall have his VVives Portion without any manner of trouble.

4. The ⊕ part of Fortune in the eighth House, in the Dignities of ♃ or ♀, they casting their Sextile or Trine Aspects thither, argues not only only that the Querent shall have the Dowry of his VVife, but shews it to be considerable also.

5. If there happen a friendly Aspect between the Lord of the Second and Eighth, with reception; or if the Lord of the Eighth be in the Second, or Lord of the Second in the Eighth; these argue the Querent to obtain his VVives Dowry without difficulty.

6. But if there be □ or ☍ between the Significators, and no reception or translation of light; or if the Lord of the Eighth shall be Combust or Retrograde, the Querent will not obtain the Portion of his Wife without trouble and Difficulty.

7. If ♄ or ♂ shall be in the Eighth, and Peregrine, very little of the Wives Portion will be obtained; if any, there will be so much contention about it, that it were better for him to be without it. The Dragons Tayl in the Eighth, portends the same.

A Woman enquiring concerning the Estate of a Man she is to Marry, these Rules will serve sufficiently: for the Ascendent is all one for the woman as it is for the man, if a woman enquire; and the Seventh House must then be for the man, and the Eighth for his Estate.

SECT. 4.

Shall the Man or Wife die first?

1. In this Question, behold the Lord of the Ascendent and Lord of the Seventh, and see which of them goeth to ☌, □, or ☍ of the Lord of the eighth House, or to Combustion of the Sun, or to the evil Aspects of the unfortunate Planets, and so judge. The second House is the Eighth of the Party Quesited, and shall therefore be his House of Death.

2. If it be the Lord of the Ascendent that first suffereth this affliction, say the Man (if a Man be Querent) shall die first; if the Lord of the Seventh goeth first to those afflictions, the Woman will die first.

3. Which of the Significators is strongest and most powerful in the Figure, the Party signified thereby shall live the longest. And thus much may serve for the judgements belonging to the eighth House.

CHAP. XI.

Interrogatories pertaining to the ninth House.

VVE judge of Voyages to Sea, their prosperity or infelicity; of Science, &c. and of Persons and Things Religious, by the Ninth House: and these Questions are the most common hereunto——

1. Shall the Voyage be prosperous or not?
2. Will it be long or short?
3. May the Querent profit by the Science intended?
4. Shall a Parson obtain the Benefice he enquires after?

These Questions explained and resolved, will give light sufficient to any Thing proper unto this House.

SECT. 1.

Shall the Voyage be prosperous or not?

1. When the ninth House, or his Lord shall be unfortunate, it denotes many hazards and dangers to attend the Voyage. If Saturn be the afflicting Planet, the Person enquiring will be subject to sickness, and loss of Goods, &c. But if ♂ or ☋ afflict either the ninth House or his Lord, they declare danger by Thieves or Pirats: sometimes it portends cozening and deceit in the Ship, one among another.

2. If the ninth House or his Lord shall be fortunate and strong, much good, and great success, is promised to the Querent in the Voyage, and that he shall make a happy and a safe return.

3. The Lord of the Ascendent, and Lord of the Ninth in ☌, ✶, or △ with each other; chiefly, if there be any reception between them, or a dwelling in each others Houses, argues an admirable Voyage, and a propitious and safe return home again.

4. But if they shall be in □ or ☍, voyd of all reception; or if there happen no good translation between them, you may judge the Querent will have an inauspicious Voyage of it; and before he return home again, will wish he had let it alone.

5. If the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, shall be in ☌ with a fortunate Planet in the tenth House, (that being the Second from the Ninth) you may tell the Querent that he shall gain great store of VVealth by the Voyage he undertakes, and also shall have health of body.

☽. tempore inceptionis itineris cum fuerit in via Combusta ægrotabit Peregrinus in Peregrinatione sua, vel aliquas graves molestias patietur. Herm. Aphor. 54.

6. But if the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽ shall be in abject places of the Figure, or with the Lords of abject Houses, or in □ or ☍ to them, either Peregrine or Combust of the Sun, the Person will fall sick in the Journey, and the Voyage will be most unfortunate. If they shall be with violent fixed Stars of the first magnitude, the same.

SECT. 2.

Will the Voyage be long or short?

1. The Significators of the Person enquiring, and of the Voyage; swift in Motion, Oriental, and in moveable Signs, denotes the Voyage to be short, and quick; but they being Occidental, shews some obstruction.

2. When the Lord of the Ascendent applies to the Lord of the ninth, or the Lord of the ninth to the Lord of the Ascendent; or if a fortunate Planet transfer the light of the one to the other; These are good Arguments of a safe return, and a short, considering the length of the Voyage.

3. The Lord of the Ninth in a fixed Sign, and the Lord of the Ascendent and Moon in fixed Signs, prenote a very long Voyage unto the Querent; If in common Signs, the Voyage will not be very long, but indifferent; If in moveable Signs, he returns speedily.

4. If the Lord of the Ascendent be Retrograde, or if either he, or the Moon, apply to a Planet Retrograde, it signifies the Person that goes the Voyage, will come home in short time, perhaps before he goes to his place intended.

SECT. 3.

May the Querent profit by the Science intended?

1. You are to give the Ascendent, his Lord, and the Moon, to signifie the Querent; the Ninth House, the Lord thereof, and Planet posited therein, to signifie the Science enquired after; and according to their positions and configurations, you are to judge of this Question.

2. The Lord of the Ascendent, and Lord of the Ninth, in ☌, or in ✶, or △ unto each other, either in, or from Angles, or succedent Houses, gives gives great hopes to the Querent, that he shall gain or profit by the Art or Science he enquires after.

3. If Fortunate Planets shall possess the Ascendent or ninth House, and thence shall friendly behold either the Cusps of each House, or the Lords of them, it is an Argument that the Querent shall profit by the Art or Science intended.

4. If the ☽ shall be posited in the Ninth, in ✶ to the Lord of the Ascendent or ninth House, in the eleventh; chiefly if a reception happen, there is no question but the Querent shall gain by the Science intended, and shall prove a good Artist therein also.

5. But if none of these things appear in your Figure, but on the contrary there happen a □ or ☍ between the Significators, you may then conclude the Party enquiring will not profit by the Art or Science intended.

6. When the unfortunate Planets, or ☋ Cauda Draconis, shall be in the Ascendent or ninth House, or afflicting their Lords, or the Moon; or if an unfortunate Planet happen to be Lord of the Ninth, and he posited in an evil place of the Figure, you may conclude the Person enquiring will not gain much by Science.

SECT. 4.

Shall a Parson obtain the Benefice, &c.

It is notoriously known, that the Clergie are not more Sanctimonious then other Persons, but subject to the same passions, &c. and therefore may be benefited by the Art of Astrologie even as others. If therefore any of them shall stand in need of a resolution of the above-stated Question, the Artist may respond according to these following Rules:

1. Give the Ascendent and his Lord to signifie the Parson, or Clergieman (because he is Querent) together with the ☽; and let the ninth House signifie the Parsonage, or other Ecclesiastical preferment sought after.

2. The Lord of the Ascendent or Moon joyned unto the Lord of the Ninth by body or by good Aspect, gives great hopes that the Minister or Querent may obtain the Parsonage or Benefice sought after.

See Guido Bonatus pars 2. fol. 345. and forward.

3. If the Moon or Lord of the Ascendent be in the Ninth, or Lord of the Ninth in the Ascendent, or in reception each with other; they are very good Arguments, that the Querent or Minister shall obtain the Parsonage or Church-preferment desired.

4. When the Lord of the Ascendent, or the Moon, shall be joyned to the Sun or Jupiter; or in Sextile or Trine of either of them, chiefly in the Ascendent or ninth House; it doth denote that the Querent shall obtain the Benefice enquired after.

5. If the principal Significators be in ✶ or △ with reception, the preferment or Benefice comes with little trouble; if they be in □, yet if they are in reception, the Benefice may be attained unto, but it will be with great trouble, and many delayes.

6. The business may be also brought to pass by translation of Light; for if a Planet separate immediately from the good Aspect of the Lord of the Ninth, and apply to the Lord of the Ascendent; or if he separate from the Lord of the Ascendent, and apply to the Lord of the Ninth, the Benefice or preferment will be obtained; and it shall be by the means of a person signified by the Planet that thus transfers the Light of the Significators each to other.

7. But

7. But if none of these Testimonies happen, it will be a very difficult matter to obtain the Parsonage desired.

8. The Lord of the Ascendent Retrograde, Combust, or Cadent, and he or ☽ in □, or ☌ of the Infortunes, or of the Lord of the Ninth without reception, declares the destruction of the matter enquired after, and shews that it shall come to nothing.

9. Infortunes in the Ninth or the Ascendent, or afflicting the Lord of the Ascendent or ninth House, or the Moon, shews much trouble and vexation to the Person enquiring after the Benefice; and indeed, an impossibility of obtaining the business at last.

10. Observe that Planet who casts a □ or ☌ either to the Lord of the Ascendent or Moon, and take notice of the House he is Lord of: for by that means, you may discover what, or who will be the occasion of hindring the business from taking effect.

11. The afflicting Planet being Lord of the Third, denotes a Neighbour, &c. to be the impeditor of the Thing; If of the Eleventh, some pretended friend plays the Knave with him; If of the Tenth, the Patron hath no good liking to him; If of the Seventh or Fifth, he is noted for a contentious and scandalous Person, &c.

12. Fortunate Planets in fortunate Places of the Figure, befriending the Significators, give hopes of the business enquired after: If infortunate Planets being in unfortunate Places of the Figure, shall afflict the Significators of the business, it will not come to any thing. And thus much may serve for the judgements of the ninth House.

CHAP. XII.

Judgements pertaining to the Tenth House.

THe Honour, Office, or Dignity, Profession or Magistery of each Querent, is known from the tenth House; And these Interrogations following, are commonly propounded—viz.

1. Shall the Querent obtain the Office or Dignity desired?
2. Shall he remain in the employment he possesses?
3. What Magistery or profession will be best for any one to follow?

These Questions thus propounded, being answered in order, will instruct the ingenious Tyro, how to judge of any other of the like nature.

SECT. 1.

Shall the Querent obtain the Office or Dignity desired?

1. Still you must remember to give the Ascendent, his Lord and the Moon, for to signifie the Querent, let him be a Person either of high or low degree; and the tenth House and the Lord thereof, and the ☉ (because he is a natural Significator of Honour and Dignity) shall represent the Office, Honour, or Dignity enquired after.

2. If therefore the Lord of the Ascendent or Moon, shall be joyned to the Sun, or the Lord of the Tenth, or shall friendly behold the Tenth by a ✶ or △, the Querent shall obtain the Dignity sought after, by his industry, and the means he shall use.

3. If the Lord of the Ascendent or Moon shall be in the Tenth, or the Lord of the Tenth or the Sun shall be posited in the Ascendent, and neither neither of them impedited, the Querent shall obtain the Honour and Office, &c. that he seeks after.

4. When with this dwelling in Houses, the Significators shall be in ✶ or △ to each other, or a fortunate Planet shall translate the friendly Beams of one to the other; these give assured hopes to the Querent, that he shall obtain the Honour or Preferment desired.

5. Fortunate Planets in the Tenth, or in ☌, ✶, or △ of the Lord of the Tenth, having Dignities in the Ascendent; declare the Querent shall obtain the Office or Dignity desired.

6. If Saturn or Mars shall be strong in the Ascendent, and joyned to the Lord of the Tenth, either by body or good Aspect; it presages good hopes of the Preferment sought after, and that it will be gained, although after much seeking.

7. A fortunate Planet transferring the Light of the Lord of the Tenth to the Lord of the Ascendent, the Querent shall obtain the Dignity or Honour sought after, by the means of the Person represented by that Planet who thus transfers the Light of the Lord of the Tenth. If the ☉'s Light be so transfer'd, it portends the same.

8. But, if none of the aforesaid configurations, dwelling in Houses, or Translations, happen among the Significators aforesaid, you may conclude the Honour and Preferment sought after by the Querent will not be obtained; no, although he have the greatest promises, and most probable hopes that is possible a person can have of any thing.

SECT. 2.

Shall a Person remain in the employment he possesses?

1. VVhen a Person is in an Employment, Office, &c. and is jealous of being turned out of the same; see if the Lord of the Ascendent or Moon, and the Lord of the Tenth, are going to Conjunction, or to any friendly Aspect; viz. a ✶, or △; or if there be any reception between the two chief Significators, you may conclude that the Querent shall hold and keep the Employment he at the present possesses; or makes enquiry after.

2. If the Lord of the Ascendent shall be in ✶ or △ to either of the two Fortunes in the tenth House, and no affliction happen unto him from the Infortunes, you may conclude the Querent shall enjoy the place he at present possesses.

3. The Lord of the Ascendent in the Tenth, or Lord of the Tenth in the Ascendent, prenotes the Querent to keep and remain in the place he at present possesses.

4. But if the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽ shall be in □ or ☌ with any Planet or Planets, and the same Planets in ☌, ✶, or △ with the Lord of the Tenth, or the ☉; you may conclude that the Querent will lose the Employment he possesses; and tell him that such and such Persons, that are signified by the Planets in ☌, ✶, or △ with the Lord of the Tenth, or the ☉, are endeavouring his prejudice in the business.

5. The Lord of the Ascendent Retrograde, and Combust of the Sun, shews the Querent to have incurr'd the displeasure of those that have power over him, and that they will take away the Office or Employment he holds from him therefore.

6. If the ☽ or Lord of the Ascendent, shall be in □, or ☌, (and voyd of all manner of reception) with the Lord of the Tenth or the Sun, it portends the Querent in danger to lose the Office or Employment he holds or possesses.

7. The

7. The Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, separating from the Lord of the Tenth or the Sun, declares the Querent in danger of losing the Office or Employment he holds; chiefly, if from their separation they apply to the malicious Aspects of the Infortunes.

SECT. 3.

What Magistery or Profession will be best for any one to follow?

This Question is only fit to be propounded by such Persons that are capable of a Profession, &c. and not by those that live and move in a higher sphere: and when a Person convenient and proper propounds the Question, either for himself or friends, &c. you may answer him according to these following Rules and Aphorisms.

1. You are to consider the Lord of the Ascendent, and the ☽, for the Person enquiring; and the Lord of the tenth House, and the Planets ♂ and ♀, for the Trade and Profession of the Querent, &c. and consider the Aspects between the significators according to the Signs you finde them posited in, and so judge of the Profession of the Querent.

2. If the Significators or the major part of them shall happen in fiery Signs, you may judge the Querent will do well in any Profession that relates thereunto, according to his capacity of birth; as, if he be of quality suitable, let him turn Chymist, Physitian, Chirurgeon, Goldsmith, Silversmith, Jeweller, or Apothecary: If of a mean condition, he may make a good Armorer, Cutler, Smith, Baker, Glass-maker, or the like.

3. The significators in Aereal Signs, if the birth of the Querent be not mean, he may make a good Lawyer, Arithmetician Accomptant, Geometrician or Surveyor, Scrivener, Clerk, Astronomer, &c. But if he be of mean Parentage, he may make a good Haberdasher of small Wares, a Millianor, a Painter, Draper, or one that may deal in all retail Commodities.

4. But if the significators shall be in earthy Signs, the Querent may make a good Farmer, or Husbandman, Gardner, Groom, Grasier, Farrier or Coach-maker, Butcher or Brick-maker, Joyner, or Carpenter, Turner, or Shoo-maker, Collier, Carter, Shepherd, Neatherd, Day-labourer; and indeed, any kinde of a servile work or Employment.

5. The significators of the Trade or Profession, in watry Signs, may denote the Querent to do well in Brewing, Malting, in selling Wines, in Victualling, in turning a Fish-monger or Saylor: he may make a good VVater-man, or do well in any thing that belongeth to the watry Element.

6. VVhen the Lord of the Ascendent shall be in ✶ or △ to either all or the most of the Significators of Trade, and they posited in Angles or other good Houses of the Figure, you may say the Querent shall do very well in the Trade or Profession he shall follow. If the ☽ shall be in the like good configuration with any of them, it portends the same.

7. But if the Significators of Trade shall be afflicted in Cadent places of the Figure, and the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽ in □ or ☍ unto them or either of them, you may then say that the Querent will not thrive by his Trade or Profession he may follow.

Astrologers have given many more Rules for the understanding of the Profession of the Querent, as Guido, and Haly, &c. but in my Practise, I always found these I have here inserted the most certain and efficacious, and do unto the Reader commend them for such.

CHAP.

CHAP. XIII.

Judgements belonging to the eleventh House.

THis House giveth judgement of the friends of each Querent, their Falsness or Fidelity, and of his hopes, &c. The Questions that are most common unto it, be these:— viz.

1. Shall the Friends of the Querent prove faithful to him?
2. Shall the Querent obtain what he hopeth for?

All other things relating particularly to this House, are comprehended under these two Heads; therefore I shall not use any further Division.

SECT. I.

Shall the Friends of the Querent prove faithful? &c.

1. The Ascendent and his Lord are for the Querent, and the eleventh House and Lord thereof for the friend of the Querent. Now if there happen any benevolent Aspect between the Lords of the Ascendent and eleventh, or any friendly reception or translation of light between them, you may judge the friend of the Querent is not to be suspected, but he will prove faithful.

2. If the Moon shall aspect the Lord of the eleventh friendly, or there happen any good translation of light or reception between them, and this in good places of heaven; the friend proves just and faithful.

3. The Dispositor of the part of friends, in ☌, ✶, or △, or in good reception with the Lord of the Ascendent in good Houses of heaven, and neer Stars of a benevolent nature, argues the Querents friend to be just and faithful unto him.

4. The Lord of the Ascendent or ☽ in the eleventh House, and the Lord of the eleventh in the Ascendent, shews a reciprocal affection between the Querent and his friend. If either of the Fortunes cast their friendly beams unto them both at the same time, it argues the same.

5. On the contrary, if you finde the Lord of the Ascendent or Moon in □ or ☍ of the Infortunes in the eleventh, or of the Lord of the eleventh, you may safely judge the friends of the Querent are not faithful unto him. If there be no reception between them, you may be the more confident of your Judgement.

6. The Dragons Tayl afflicting the eleventh House, or the Lord thereof, shews the friends of the Querent to be very deceitful, let them pretend never so fair. The same, if the Lord of the eleventh shall be neer violent fixed Stars, as are Caput Algol, Oculus Tauri, Serpentarius, the Chale, &c. And if any of these happen to be in the eleventh House, neer the Cusp, they poyson the faith of friends.

In my Reduction of Hartgill's Tables, you may finde all the fixed Stars upon the Cusps of every house, both in the ascending or descending part of heaven, ready set to your hand.

7. If the Significators of the Querent and his friends shall be in □ or ☍ from fixed Sighes, and in Angles, it declares the friends (or at least such as pretend themselves to be so) faithless; and that not for a little season, but perpetually.

8. If the natural Significators of friendship (which are ♃ and ♀) shall be posited in the Ascendent, or cast a friendly Aspect thereunto, or to the Lord thereof, or ☽; the friends of the Querent may prove faithful. But if they cast a □ or ☍ to the ☽, or Lord of the Ascendent, or Ascendent it self; it bids the Querent beware of pretended friends.

SECT. 12.

Shall the Querent obtain what he hopeth for?

1. When a person hath hopes of a thing, and is unwilling to declare what it is, yet would be resolved what the effect thereof may be, and accordingly propounds the Question aforesaid, you are to give the Ascendent and his Lord to signifie him, and the eleventh House and his Lord, together with the fortunate Planets, to signifie the matter of Thing hoped for.

2. And if you finde the Significators in reception, or in good Aspect with each other, you may conclude the business or matter hoped for, is possible to be attained; or if there be any good Translation of Light, or dwelling in Houses, it argues the performance of the Thing.

3. If the Lord of the Ascendent, and Lord of the Eleventh, shall receive each other in Angles, or shall be received of the fortunate Planets in Angles or succedents, you may conclude, the Thing that the Querent hopeth for, shall be accomplished.

4. Either the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, received in fixed Signs, do shew the Querent shall obtain the business that he hopeth for, and that compleatly; If in moveable Signs, he shall either have nothing of what he hopes for, or else so little, that he had even as good have been without it: If in Bi-corporeal Signs, he shall then have onely a part of what he hopeth to obtain.

5. But if on the contrary, you finde the Significators in □ or ☍ and voyd of all manner of reception, having no good translation of Light between them; or if they shall be Combust, Cadent, Peregrine or Retrograde, or with fixed Stars of an evil influence, you may then judge the matter hoped for, will hardly be brought to perfection; or if it be, the Querent will have so many incumbrances and perplexities with it, that he will be willing to shake it off again, for the evils sake that attends it.

6. But if in the propounding the question, the Querent telleth you the particular Thing he hopeth for, you must then take your signification thereof from its proper place, and so vary your aboveſaid Rules in your judgement. And thus much may serve for the judgements of the eleventh House.

CHAP. XIV.

Judgements belonging to the Twelfth House.

WEe judge by this House, of private Enemies, Captivities and Imprisonments: and the Questions hereuhto belonging are---

1. Hath the Querent private Enemies?
2. Who are they, or how may he know them?
3. Of a Prisoner or Captive, when may he be freed?

These Questions being resolved, I shall conclude the judgements, not only of this House, but of the Doctrine of Horarie Questions; and so put a period to this more prolix discourse of Astrologie then I at first intended.

SECT.

SECT. 1.

Hath the Querent private Enemies?

1. This Question being proposed indifferently, observe what Aspect there may be between the Lord of the Ascendent and twelfth House, and from what House of Heaven it happens; and so judge of the Querents private Enemies.

2. If the Aspect be by □ or ☍, and out of malignant Houses of the Figure, you may conclude the Querent hath private Enemies; and if the Lord of the Twelfth be a Superiour Planet, as ♄, ♃, or ♂, and any way dignifyed, the Enemies are the more to be feared: But if he be any of the inferiors, they are not so dangerous: the more powerful the Significators of the Enemies are, the more detriment will the Querent sustain by them; the less powerful, the less evil and mischief will they be able to do.

3. Generally in my Practise, I finde, if the Lord of any other House besides the Twelfth, be in □ or ☍ to the Lord of Ascendent or ☽, or to the Ascendent it self, from obscure places of the Figure, the Querent hath private Enemies.

4. The Ascendent, the Lord thereof, and the ☽, voyd of the evil Aspects of any Planet or Planets, and befriended by the good Rayes of the Fortunes, and the Lord of the Ascendent and ☽ in fortunate places of the Figure, you may conclude the Querent hath no private Enemies.

SECT. 2.

Who are his private Enemies? how may he know them?

1. For to resolve this Question truly, you must observe the Position of the Lord of the Ascendent and twelfth House; for, if the Lord of the Twelfth shall afflict the Lord of the Ascendent, or the Ascendent from the third House, the Lord of the Third assisting, tell the Querent his chiefest private Enemies are those that live neer him, or are neerly related to him; that is to say, either a Brother, Kinsman, Neighbour, &c. describe the person by the Planet afflicting, and the Sign in which he is posited.

2. If the Lord of the Twelfth afflict the Ascendent or his Lord from the fourth House, &c. the Father of the Querent is his Enemy; if in the Fifth, his children, (if he have any) or some Messenger, &c. will prove his private prejudicers; If in the sixth House, his Servants, or an Unkle will maligne him; If in the seventh House, &c. the Wife, or Partner shall prove secretly mischievous unto him. Et sic de cæteris.

3. You shall finde the Person or Persons signified by that House, where the ☋ Dragons Tail is posited, to be malicious and prejudicial to the Querent; chiefly, if the Lord thereof afflict the Lord of the Ascendent, the Ascendent it self, or the Moon, at the same time.

SECT. 3.

Of a Prisoner or Captive, when may he be freed?

1. The Lord of the Ascendent or Moon swift in Motion, denotes freedome from imprisonment in a short time; If either of them commit their vertues or dispositions to any Planet or Planets in the Third or Ninth, or unto either of the Lords of them, not being posited in Angles, argues a release from imprisonment in a short time.

2. If the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, shall be more potent in the Figure then the Lord of the Twelfth, or shall be separating from the ill Aspects of the Lord of the Twelfth, or the Dispositor of the part of imprisonment, chiefly in moveable Signs, and thence immediately applying to the friendly Beams of the Fortunate Planets, viz. ♃, or ♀; you may then judge the Prisoner or Captive cannot remain long in the Prison where he is, but will be released.

3. The Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, in the Fourth, Sixth, Eighth, or Twelfth, or under the Suns Beams, or Retrograde, or unhappily afflicted of the Infortunes, viz. ♄ or ♂; the Person under restraint will not be released from his bonds in a long time. And if the Infortune happen to be Lord of the Eighth, he will die in Prison.

4. If the Lord of the Ascendent or ☽, shall separate from the Lord of the Fourth, and immediately apply to ♃ or ♀; or if the Lord of the Fourth shall separate from the Lord of the Ascendent; these argue good hopes that the Captive or Prisoner shall escape, and shall not be enforced to lie in Prison long.

5. A fixed Sign ascending at the time of the Question, and the Lord thereof a ponderous Planet, and in an Angle, it portends a tedious time of imprisonment. If common Signes, the affliction will not be so long; If moveable, it will be very short: If the Lord of the Ascendent be Cadent from his House or Exaltation, and the Moon happen to be in ♏ or ♒, it presages long imprisonment.

6. If the Lord of the hour in which the Prisoner was taken, be an unfortunate Planet, and unfortunately placed in the Heavens, it declares a tedious imprisonment, and very long Captivity: But if he shall be a Fortune, the imprisonment cannot be long.

7. The only way for the discovery of the time in which a Prisoner or Captive shall be released, is, by observing the Degrees of distance between the Significators and the Fortunate Planets or the Sun; and according to the Signs they shall be found in, be they either fixed, common or moveable, (as I have taught in several Places before) you may measure the Days, the VVeeks, the Months, or Yeers of the Prisoners or Captives slavery.

And thus much shall serve for the judgements belonging to this Chapter, and for the Doctrine of Horarie Questions. I might have enlarged this Treatise very much; but I hold it convenient to Acquiesce here, and observe narrowly the Fate of this First; which if it be good, I may hereafter (God assisting) engage my thoughts to some further Disquisitions herein. But if I should fail, I doubt not but the God of Knowledge will stir up some more able Pen and Brain to endeavour the perfection of this worthy, but (as yet) much despised Learning. For there is (herein) an America of Knowledge yet unfound, discoverable by the Endeavours of some wiser Columbus, and the hoped-for fertility of succeeding Ages.

How to take the Part of fortune

It is taken by Substracting ☽ Signs Degrees & minutes of ☿ from those of ☽ then adding to this number add ☽ Signs Degrees & minutes of ☌ Ascendent or ☞ first house & what number that makes is ☽ Sign & Degree ⊗ Part of fortune falls in but if ☽ Sign & Degrees & minuts of ☽ be more than ☿ ☽ you are to add ☽ whole Circle or 12 Signs to ☽ then

FINIS.

As for Example in the folowing part.

The ☌ being 21 degrees & 2 minuts in ♊ & ☽ but 5 degrees & 3 minuts in ☽ same Sign in so much that substraction cannot be made without adding ☽ 12 Signs ☽ ☞ place which is 2 Signs 5 degrees & 3 minuts to which I add 12 Signs ☽ which in all makes 14 Signs 5 degrees & 3 minuts

thus sayeth	14 : 5 : 3
☽ ☌ place in ♊	2 : 21 : 2
☽ remainder	11 : 14 : 01
to which add ☽ Asen	6 : 13 : 15
& it makes	17 : 27 : 46
Substract ☽ first house	12 : 00 : 00
so that ☽ ⊗ is	5 : 27 : 46
that is	11 : 27 : 46
